

MINES OF STATE ALL TO BE CLOSED

Hoisting Engineers in 240 Work ings Quit at 12 O'clock Tonight.

FIFTY THOUSAND AFFECTED

Shutdown May Be Only Temporary Pending Settlement of Wage Scale.

THE IMPENDING MINE STRIKE.
Time set for strike, 12 o'clock tonight.
Men directly affected, 800.
Men indirectly affected, 50,000.
Mines involved, 240.
Demands of engineers, same contract as last year.
Offer of operators, reduction of 5.55 per cent.
Present wages of coal hoisting engineers, $75, $20, $85 and $90 a month.

A strike of 800 hoisting engineers in 240 coal mines in Illinois is scheduled to go into effect at 12 o'clock tonight.
The walkout will affect about 50,000 other workmen, and is expected to result in cessation of operations for a short time at least. Refusal of the engineers to accept a reduction in wages or to arbitrate the pending dispute, is the cause of the pending strike.
National President Mack Taylor, of the Engineers' union, has issued an order to every union in the state directing a walkout of all men employed on night shifts at midnight and prohibiting the day shifts from returning to work Tuesday morning.

Big Majority for Strike.
In a statement made at Danville yesterday, President Taylor said:
"Out of about 800 hoisting engineers in this state only about forty voted to consider the proposition made by the operators. I have sent out an order to every union in the state to call out its men who are on the night shift at 12 o'clock Monday night and not allow the day shift to go to work Tuesday morning unless I order otherwise. This will be only after the operators have granted our demands."

T. E. Jenkins, national secretary of the engineers, said:
"The referendum vote of the engineers settled the matter. It means that the operators must pay the engineers the scale that was in effect last year or there will be a strike."

Refused a Reduction.
The engineers were asked to accept a cut of 5.55 per cent in wages, but refused. Arbitration then was offered by the operators, but it likewise was rejected.

Arrangements have been made for an extra coach to and from Coal Valley for the accommodation of those who go from this city. There will be two opportunities for returning, on the Tribby at 9:45 or on the special coach at midnight.

To Arbitrate Sherrard Trouble.

The difficulties of the mine workers at the Sherrard mines are to be settled by arbitration, and the mine was again in operation today. The men will probably be out again tomorrow, as the differences with the hoisting engineers remain unsettled, and with the hoisting engineers on strike the mines will have to close. The Coal Valley Mining company, which controls the Sherrard mines, is a member of the Illinois Operators' association.

Rock Island Passenger Meets With Misadventure in Fog at Colona Bridge.

The engine and three cars of the Rock Island west bound passenger train No. 5, were derailed this morning at the Colona bridge. In the heavy fog which hung over the lowlands, the engineer could not distinguish the signals, and the train was thrown onto the derailing switch before the target was noticed by the engineer or fireman.
The engine and coaches were but slightly damaged, and none of the crew or passengers was injured. The west bound track was tied up for nearly two hours, and the later trains were switched onto the east bound track to Rock Island.

The remains were escorted from the church and thence to the grave in Calvary cemetery by a squad of soldiers from Rock Island arsenal who fired the military salute of three volleys over the open grave. The

MRS. THOMASSON SHOPLIFTER Valuable Merchandise Found in Home of Victim of Peoria Mystery.

The mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Thomasson, who died at Lacon a few days ago after having been terribly injured, has been deepened by the discovery that the woman has concealed in her home a great amount of silks, satins, laces, pearls and jewelry of every description, including diamonds.

It will be remembered that Mrs.
Thomasson was a few evenings since at the railway depot in Peoria to meet a Mr. Higgins, with whom it is asserted she was enamored, and that while there she was attacked by the son of the man whom she had come to meet, later going to her home, where she died two days later.
It now develops that Mrs. Thomasson was what is termed a professional shoplifter, great quantities of goods being found in her home, the agreeable worth of which is estimated by Chicago detectives at $18,000. Young Higgins is still in jail.

SHERIFF MAKES MIDNIGHT RAID

Five Disorderly Houses Invaded and Women and Men Arrested.

POLICE HAD BEEN INACTIVE

Sequel to Snyder Divorce Case—All Are Fined the Limit.

In a raid by the forces of Sheriff Heider last Saturday night five houses of prostitution were "pulled" and 14 women and six men were brought before Justices J. F. Witter and D. R. Mc-Farlane and fined. Part paid and a number are now in jail with the prospect of serving out their fines in their entirety.

The raid was the outcome of the showing made in the circuit court in the Snyder divorce suit and the scathing arraignment of the city's moral atmosphere by Judge Gest in that connection, and certain other information that had been brought out recently.
The police, whom it is but reasonable to suppose were in full knowledge of the facts, having shown no disposition to act, information was filed before Justices Witter and McFarlane and the warrants were given to the sheriff to serve.

Two weeks ago a house kept by Nellie Hill on Twenty-first street between Second and Third avenues, was raided by the sheriff and two men and two women were taken and fined. The facts were suppressed at the time so that there might be no running to cover in anticipation of a more general prosecution.

Was to Have a "Permit."

Nellie Hill had just come to this city from Davenport and she stated that she intended bringing a number of inmates from Davenport to her place as soon as she had a "permit" from he police. Asked when she expected to have one she said in two or three days. This evidence of collusion between the police and the resort keepers was largely instrumental in spurring the county authorities on to make a general roundup.

Saturday night's raid began at 10 o'clock. Sheriff Heider divided his force up into squads and the places of Lou Bishop on Seventeenth street; Lulu Fairchild, Sixteenth street, between First and Second avenues; Dot Ferns, Twenty-first street between Second and Third avenues; "Swede Mandy" Johnson, Second avenue between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, and Jack McFarland, on Third avenue opposite the Industrial Home building, were quickly gone through. The prisoners were at once arraigned in the offices of the justices and all pleaded guilty with the exception of McFarland, who gave surety for appearance this afternoon announcing a determination to fight the charge of being a keeper.

Fined the Limit.

The women charged with being keepers were fined $200 each and the following as inmates were fined $50 apiece: Violet Smith, Pauline Stewart, Clara Cole, May Jones, Grace Allen, Bessie White, Nellie Warner, Blanche Wilson, Bertha Wright and Alice Reed. The men, who were fined $10 each, registered as Edward L.
Perry, James Smith, Harry Kennedy, Frank Benjamin and Axel Anderson.

The men and the women charged with being keepers either paid cash or arranged to do so and were released.
The others were taken to jail, where yesterday Pauline Stewart and Blanche Wilson paid up.

Some comment has been caused by the fact that there were so few men found in the resorts. Undoubtedly more would have been secured had not some sort of a tip been given out, whether from official sources or otherwise it is not known. In one place a crowd of men had gone out but a few minutes before the sheriff's force entered.

Justice Witter gave the bunch that was assembled in his office a lecture and Sheriff Heider assured them that so long as he remained in office he proposed to do his duty, from which it is
