

The War In the East

Looks Like 30 Kopecks

Compared to the present internal troubles in Russia, all of which is interesting to the average person; but the thing that is of greatest importance to the housewives of this vicinity is where to get the biggest dollar's worth of groceries, without sacrificing quality. If you have never watched this space for low prices, it isn't too late to begin now.

Just Prior to the Arrival of Spring Goods

THIS HOUSE ALWAYS CLEANS UP ALL BROKEN LINES AND SIZES OF SUITS AND OVERCOATS. FOR TWO REASONS THIS YEAR IT IS MORE ESSENTIAL THAN EVER. ONE, TO MAKE ROOM FOR SPRING GOODS. THE OTHER, TO CLEAN UP EVERYTHING BEARING THE SAX & RICE LABEL.

All Suits and Overcoats where there are one and two of a kind, regardless of what they formerly sold at, have been reduced to the uniform price of

AT THIS PRICE THEY SHOULD MOVE RAPIDLY, AND WOULD ADVISE AN EARLY INSPECTION. THESE SUITS AND OVERCOATS RANGE IN PRICES FROM $15 TO $25.

MILLER MOURNED

Burlington Freight Traffic Manager Had Many Friends in City.

LOVED BY HIS SUBORDINATES

Honor in Business Transactions Wins Esteem of His Competitors.

H. W. Crawford, division freight agent of the Burlington, leaves tomorrow morning for Chicago, where he serves as one of the pallbearers at the funeral of Thomas Miller, freight traffic manager of the Burlington system.

"Mr. Miller was one of the most lovable men I ever knew," said Mr. Crawford, referring to his late chief. "I speak not only of him as a superior, but in a personal sense. Regardless of the relative stations in railroad employment, he was always the same. Humble as is my own position compared with what his was, he never failed to receive me with the utmost cordiality and to make me welcome to his home."

"Master as he was of his own sphere in the railroad world, he would not stoop to anything small in order to gain business from a rival. It was not his way to seek to interrupt associations of long standing that had their origin in the ties of personal friendship and association. He believed in loyalty. He expected this trait in his subordinates, and he did not fail to treat them in the same spirit."

Avoided Public Attention. "He was democratic through and through. I speak of this not only in a political sense, but as it pertains to the character of the man. There was no ostentation about him or his office. On the contrary, he was as modest as a girl. He shrank from any position that might draw public attention. I think there are people in Rock Island who will recall the incident that has been related to me by Mr. Mack, of his declination to attend the banquet commemorative of the opening of the Burlington's new station here four years ago through fear that he might be called upon to make a speech. He wanted to be here, but he could not bear even the thought of being obliged to make a few remarks."

"He was the soul of honor in all his transactions, and all his relations to the world and his fellow men. I recall when on one of my visits to Chicago he remarked that he had found out he was the richest man on Grand boulevard. And when I asked him how he had discovered the fact, he showed me the published statement of the tax collector's returns, showing him to be the heaviest taxpayer on the boulevard. And that was Tom Miller for you. He would have shirked no responsibility, though it took his last pair of shoes. He was as thoroughly contented with the reputation of fulfilling his obligation to the state, as he would have been had he in fact been the richest man on Grand boulevard."

"It was because of these conspicuous traits in his character, his unflinching honesty at all times, that his subordinates all loved him and that he was so immensely popular with all who knew him. I do not think there has been a death in the western railroad world that has occasioned so much genuine sorrow since the passing of Tom Potter."

Mr. Mack, long time friend. H. D. Mack, former division agent of the Burlington and now with the Santa Fe, also feels in the demise of Mr. Miller a personal loss. He was Mr. Mack's chief for many years, and the relations between the two were all those of the closest friendship. "He was one of the best men I ever knew," said Mr. Mack this morning. "Honesty was his preeminent trait. What he said you could rely upon."

Many expressions of grief over Mr. Miller's death are heard among Rock Island's leading shippers. The deceased traffic manager had few warmer friends or admirers than A. C. Dart, whose ghost he had frequently been when in Rock Island, and who now, in common with so many others, is able to pay a heart tribute to the memory of Honest Tom Miller of the Burlington.

GROCERIES ARE CLOSED

MISS PLUMMER LONG A SCHOOL TEACHER

Daughter of Late Pioneer Physician—Her Funeral to Be Held Saturday.

The funeral of Miss Clara E. Plummer will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the home of her aunt, Mrs. Helen M. Mills, 606 Twenty-third street. The services are to be conducted by Rev. W. S. Marquis, D. D., pastor of Broadway Presbyterian church, of which Miss Plummer was a charter member. Miss Plummer died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Mercy hospital, in Davenport. Death was the result of anemia, which developed about six months ago. For some time Miss Plummer was cared for at a sanitarium at Palmyra, Wis., but was removed to the Mercy hospital in November. She had been a patient at the hospital since that time.

Miss Plummer was born in Greenville, Pa., June 26, 1848, and was a daughter of the late Dr. Samuel C. Plummer. She had been a resident of this city since 1853, when she removed here with her parents. Her mother died in 1872, and Dr. Plummer's death occurred in 1900. After graduating from the local high school, Miss Plummer took up school teaching and followed this profession for many years. She taught in a number of schools in this county, and in Nebraska and Minnesota for a short time. Since the death of her father, Miss Plummer has made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Helen M. Mills. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. George M. Looney, of Moline, and two brothers, Fred H. Plummer, of Beatrice, Neb., and Dr. Samuel C. Plummer, of Chicago. Mrs. Emma P. Darrow, whose death occurred about a year ago, was also a sister of Miss Plummer's.

Dr. and Mrs. Plummer and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Plummer are expected to arrive in the city tomorrow to attend the funeral. Miss Plummer was a member of the Broadway Presbyterian church since its organization in 1874, and was active in the work of the church. She was one of the leading members of the Ruth's Mission band, and belonged to other church societies.

STECKMAN GIVEN VERDICT FOR $3,000

Jury Reports This Afternoon in the Third Trial of the Case.

A verdict giving the plaintiff $3,000 was returned in the circuit court this afternoon by the jury in the suit to recover $20,000 damages for personal injuries of J. W. Steckman against the Rock Island Railroad company. The jury had been out since yesterday afternoon. It was the third trial of the case. Steckman alleged that a locomotive caused his team to run away on Fifth avenue; that he was thrown to the pavement, and his wagon passed over his body.

Blake & Murphy are suing to recover $1,300 from the Sisters of the Visitation Order, claiming it as a balance due on a plumbing contract that they carried out at the Villa de Chantal, on Twentieth street. The jury to try the case was completed this morning. The sisters refuse payment on the grounds that the stipulations of the contract were not fulfilled, and they offer an offset that covers the amount claimed by the plumbing firm. S. R. Kenworthy appears for the plaintiffs and Searle & Marshall for the sisters.

Mrs. Harriet McBurney, of Moline, has filed an answer to the suit for divorce of her husband, denying his charge that she has been unfaithful to him. The couple separated last June after living together 30 years. Mrs. McBurney has retained G. A. Shalberg as her attorney and will fight her husband's suit.

FROZEN TO RAILS

Rock Island Passenger Train Stalled Two Hours at Geneseo.

WATER TANK OUT OF ORDER

Two Inches of Ice Form Around the Wheels of the Locomotive.

An accident probably without precedent in railroad history occurred early yesterday morning at Geneseo, where Rock Island passenger train east-bound, leaving here at midnight, was frozen to the track, where it remained two hours before released.

At Geneseo there is a water tank, and the train stopped there to replenish its supply. When the boiler had received its fill the operator attempted to shut off the flow from the tank, but he found to his amazement that he was unable to do so. No more could be taken on by the boiler, so that it was necessary to allow the water to pour on the ground.

These tanks put forth a stream of considerable size, as the watering of the train must be made a rapid operation in order that no time be sacrificed, and it was only a few moments until there was a pond surrounding the locomotive and the baggage car.

Wheels in Two Inches of Ice.

The temperature was below zero, and no sooner did the water touch the ground than it turned to ice. The engineer tried to move his train, but he discovered that the wheels refused to turn. An investigation showed that the wheels were buried in two inches of ice. The tank was allowed to run itself dry, and after laboring two hours, the crew managed to get the engine loose and proceed on the journey toward Chicago.

THE CRALLE-BADE WEDDING

Ceremony Takes Place at Parsonage of First Methodist Church.

Arthur B. Cralle and Mrs. Freda Bade were married last evening at the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Rev. R. B. Williams, the pastor, performing the ceremony at 7 o'clock. Chester Cralle and Miss Hilma Nelson attended the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Cralle have taken up house-keeping at 827 Fourteenth-and-a-half street. The groom is a son of ex-Sheriff L. F. Cralle.

Rev. D. L. McNary last evening at the parsonage of the United Presbyterian church officiated at the marriage of James H. Wreath, of Hillsdale, and Miss Maud M. Wynes, of this city. Mr. Wreath is a prosperous young farmer, and will take his bride to his place near the village of Hillsdale. His bride is popularly known in this city.

PERSONAL POINTS.

L. S. McCabe and R. P. Scott are in Chicago attending the annual furniture exhibit.

State Secretary A. M. Bruner and General Secretary J. H. Keyser departed this morning for Chicago, where they will represent the local Y. M. C. A. at the annual state executive committee dinner. The dinner is to be given at Kingsley's at 6 o'clock, being preceded by a reception. The after dinner program includes addresses by some of the best known men in the middle west.

S. S. Bunn, of Bloomington, and E. S. Faulkner, of East St. Louis, respectively president and secretary of the state lodge of Elks, were in the city today. They came to confer as to the arrangements of the state convention of Elks to be held in Moline May 22-24. It has been decided to invite the lodges of Iowa to participate in the meeting. The second day there is to be a big parade, and the third day there will be a ride on the river and a ball at Campbell's island.
