Opportunity for Investment Which Looks Better Than Holes in the Ground is Overlooked.

Reference made in The Argus to building in the business section for 1812 Second avenue. office suites has brought a dozen or more inquiries to this paper as to what building is to be so constructed. This is an indication of the demand for suitable rooms for offices. The most desirable office rooms in the city have long since been filled to overflowing and many are compelled to utilize undesirable quarters because better ones are not avallable.

Much Favorable Comment

has been passed on the exquiente evening costumes and waists that have been on display in our Second Avenue windows from time to time during the past few weeks, These beautiful garments are copies of Paris models, but improved both as to style and finish by American skill. On State Street, Chicago, or in New York, these costumes and waists cost from 25 to 50 per cent more than the modest prices we have placed on them. Handsome evening dresses of Taffeta, Crape de Chene, Chiffon Taffeta, Messaline, Radium silk and fancy net, after models by Paquin, Schroeder, Worth and others, all ready to wear on short notice.

Beautiful evening waisns, of all over lace, or of much sought for silks, made in new and original styles and on the same low scale of prices. A saving here of not less than 25 per cent, and often of one-half.
