As a consequence, Mr. Ellmann has taken charge of Albert Stockey, a bright little 9-year-old lad, and is endeavoring to find him a suitable home. The cruel parents, after mistreating the lad, have turned him out of home and frankly admit they do not want him and will not provide for him. The parents formerly resided at 2980 Eddy street, but recently removed to Esplanade avenue, where they erected a shanty. The couple are Bohemians and have been in this country but about three years.

Tell of Sinking of Boat.—Rev. J. P. Miller and wife have returned from their vacation which was cut short by their unpleasant experience when the Quincy, on which they were passengers, sank near Winona. Mr. Miller lost his grip containing the clothing which he had taken with him, and after the harrowing experience which they passed through, they did not feel that the remainder of their vacation would be very greatly enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are at their home today, happy that they escaped and glad to be back in Moline again. Professor Peterson and wife were moving to the north, and on board the boat was all their household goods including a piano worth several hundred dollars, besides Mr. Peterson's music which cannot be replaced, and all of this will be almost a total loss. The furniture and piano of course will be removed when the boat is raised, but it will be greatly damaged. The loss to Rev. Miller consists of a large amount of clothing and some valuable papers. Mr. Miller was taking with him several written lectures and sermons which he valued very highly and as these were in his suitcase, they are all gone.

If You Knew

What we know you would always say
 "Schlitz beer" when you order. If you could visit our brewery—as thousands have done—you would insist on the beer that is brewed here.

You would want a beer clean—as ours is.
 You would want it filtered and aged as we do it. You would want to know that every bottle is sterilized—that it is pure—as is every bottle of Schlitz.

Ask for the Brewery Bottling.
 Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz.
 To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded

PROMISES FINE SPECTACLE

The Field of the Cloth of Gold Regally Depicted by Ringling Brothers.

Ringling Brothers' world's greatest shows lead their huge program this year with a magnificent dramatic spectacle, "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," involving a cast of 1,200 characters, a ballet of 300 and a singing chorus of 200. More than 2,500 costumes, designed and made by Parisian artists of world-wide fame, are worn, and the music, composed especially for this grand production, is rendered by a selected band of 50 soloists. The musical embellishment is peculiarly effective and permeates the entire action. Never in the history of the circus has there been offered to the public a spectacle of the magnitude, originality and fascinating feature of this stupendous performance. No circus in existence could afford the fabulous expenditure of money invested in the Ringling Brothers in this radiant and massive spectacle. Bejeweled and emporied royalty; obsequious servitors gaily garbed; ecclesiastics, sparkling with precious ensigns of rank; mounted knights, with shields and helmets inlaid with gold and precious stones; monks, seminarians and other lowly children of church devotion and worldly court ladies in daintily fashioned fabrics of glistening sheen; nobles of blue-blooded bearing and dress; soldiers, grim and glittering in armor of steel; singing maidens, dancing girls, with garlands, pilgrims, vassals, pages, sword, shield and helmet bearers, and countless other pictorial types of the period intermingled kaleidoscopically in this massive and entrancing scene of charming splendors. The most exciting of ancient sports, including jousting tilts, sword combats, spear-throwing, equestrian exploits, athletic competitions and other thrilling pastimes are reproduced in the splendid tournament. A horse ballet is introduced to illustrate the wonderful equine education of three squadrons of the highest bred animals in the world. The marching pageant is the most magnificent and bewilderingly beautiful processional display ever seen under canvas. The voluptuous luxury of medieval times is depicted in a ballet of diversification in which 300 girl dancers appear. The enormous scope of stage room is taxed to the utmost by the brilliant gathering. Dancing girls flood the stage and gracefully glide through bewitching conceits of terpsichorean invention. The costumes are creations of art, fashioned by Parisian masters, and models of exquisite elegance and taste. No spectacle of modern times has been staged with the lavish disregard of expense, and with such overwhelming success, as this production by Ringling Brothers, of "The Field of the Cloth of Gold."

The marvelous shows will exhibit at Davenport, Monday July 30 and give two performances, afternoon at 2 o'clock and night at 8 o'clock. Reserved seats and admission tickets may be bought show day at Ringling Brothers' downtown ticket office at the same price charged at the wagon on the circus grounds.
