Farmers' Congress Passes Resolution Regarding Them

Asks Prohibition of Transmission of Quotations by Mail-Ames is Elected Treasurer.

The boards of trade and various stock brokers will be put out of business if the Farmer's National congress has anything to say about it, according to a resolution passed at the Watch Tower. Other important features of the meeting were the appointment of a new legislative committee, a call for voluntary contributions to by to help secure desired legislation. the election of W. L. Ames, of Wiscon-Dows, Iowa, first assistant secretary, as a member of the executive board, both selections meeting with popular approval.

The session was opened by Joshua Strange of Indiana, and as there were few delegates in attendance the wo men took charge and Miss Margaret Mather, of the Kansas Agricultural college, who delivered an address on "Domestic Science" yesterday morning, was called to the chair. A brief discussion on that subject started but before it waxed warm the ladies gave way to the men and departed for the Rock Risland club where they were entertained from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Would Prohibit Transmission.

A resolution was presented which de clares against the practice of dealing in futures, puts and calls, and asks that stock quotations and such other board of trade matter antagonistic to the farmers be prohibited from the mails and telegraph companies. This elicit. ed much discussion, the paramount question being whether or not such matter should properly come before the congress. A majority of the members thought it proper and the resolution was passed

The resolutions of the session just closed will be printed in pamphlet form and distributed to all the mem bers of the organization and to the members of both branches of congress

Will Send Representatives.

Voluntary contributions of one dollar will be asked until $10,000 has been r acked, with which to sand represen atives to Washington, to see that prop er attention is given the measures ask ed by the congress at the Rock Island meeting. It is believed effective legisfation will result and that little difficuity will be experienced in securing the desired amount.

Sincere thanks was extended to all who took part in the program during the week, particular mention being made of the fact that all who came here did so at their own expense,

W. L. Ames, who was unanimously chosen treasurer, was called to the platform by popular demand, and made a tew remarks declaring he would fill his office faithfully, and if not, asked the executive committee to throw him out unceremoniously.

New Committees Named.

The legislative committee was upon motion discharged and the following new members selected: Joshua Strange, Indiana: Colonel Wickey, Mississippi; Dr. Widder, Ohio; Mr. Sanford, California; and Mr. Creasy of Pennsylvania.

President Stahl also announced the committee to investigate the advisability of the federation of the various associations in the country. It is composed of Messrs, Butterfield of Massachusetts; Searle of Nebraska; Colonel Cameron of North Carolina: George M. Whitaker of Washington, D. C., and Filcher of California.

Mayor McCaskrin's prizes, as previonsly announced, were awarded as follows: $50 for 12 best ears of corn to John Beck, Milan; $5 for largest pumpkin to William Miers of Taylor Ridge; $5 for largest apple to B. C. Durman of
