IN REGARD TO THE BRIDGE

Business Men of Rock Island and Mo line Invited to Accompany Officials and Express Views,

Tomorrow the special committee of the Rock Island county supervisors which was appointed to investigate the project for a bridge at Colona will go to Colona to meet the Henry county supervisors and examine the different locations for the proposed bridge. The supervisors will leave Rock Island at 8:30 in the morning. At Moline they will be joined by business men of that city who are interested in the bridge proposition. The interurban will be taken to Silvis, where conveyances will be on hand to take the delegation to Colona. All business men of the city are invited to accompany the officials and express their views on the matter. The bridge will be of considerable benefit to Rock Island and Moline The Special Committee.

The special committee will reporits recommendations to the board of supervisors at the September meeting, The committee is composed of Supervisors Charles Oswald of this city, C.

MODERN METHODS.

There is a class of people. mighty good folks too, who through force of habit hedge attention to modern methods.

The secret of the business world is the faculty of grasping an enterprise at every vital point-the elimination of old methods to comply with new conditions.

Ingalls' methods have attracted attention all over the county. People discuss them favorably or otherwise according to their standards.

And it assumes no tangible form but is material, silent and powin its appeal to the senses.

Oldest Minister Heard. Sunday morning Rev. A. K. Tuilis of Viola, one of the oldest ministers or the ground, about forty-seven years in the ministry, preached from these words, "He staggered not through unbelief but was strong in the faith, giv ing glory to God." He said: "Great results are achieved in the realm o aith. What a scene-that of a mortal mind, whose heart was made ship Faith is the greatest thing of which we are informed, the one thing upon which we form our belief. One star done would be enough to direct the mariner into the harbor of safety. In the soul into the haven of eternal rest: that is faith in the infinite God. The s given to His people through the study of His word."

Moline Pastor Preaches. At 3 o'clock Rev. J. W. Edwards of Moline took for his text, "Blessed i he man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful; but whose delight i in the law of the Lord." He said: God might place upon each soul the imprint of that word, 'blessed.' The highest type of Caristian character is here given to us; a character noted for and introduced themselves as canvas its repudiations. It repudiates every form of unrighteousness. #### For Appearance Sake

You may really need this or that, even though it is not an absolute necessity. For the lady of the house, a new gown or a new hat; for a man, a new suit or a new rig-this may help to "make an impression" at a time or place where it will mean dollars and cents to you. In such cases it really pays one to "go beyond his income." The question may be how to be able to go beyond it. Not only how to go beyong but how to do it safely.

It's no longer a question with many in this community, as they have found they can borrow the necessary money here and repay us a little at a time and hardly miss the money.
