OPENING IS MILD

Little Excitement Results: From Meeting of the Baseball Magnates at Chicago.

NO REPORT ON BRIBERY

National League Adopts a Schedule—Chicago Cubs and White Sox Buy Players.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—The opening sessions of both the National and American baseball leagues developed little in the way of sensational developments, notwithstanding the rumors that have gained credence during the past week. The business transacted was not sufficiently complete to cause the baseball enthusiasts to pay more than passing attention to the councils of the magnates.

At the sessions of the National league the schedule was adopted without change and it was decided that in the future the annual meetings would be held in New York on the second Tuesday in December. Special meetings of the league will be decided upon by the directors whenever emergency arises.

Bribe Case Holds Over.
The alleged attempt at bribing Umpires Klem and Johnstone during the closing games in New York, between the Chicago and New York teams was not discussed.

The two complete moves of the session were made by Presidents Comiskey and Murphy of the American and National Chicago teams respectively. The former announced that he had secured C. C. Cravath, the Boston American pitcher, and President Murphy congratulated himself upon the fact that he had annexed George Browne to his fielding staff.

WANNER DEFEATS HAMPTON

Wins From Scratch Man at Billiards by Score of 60 to 47.

Hampton (100) was defeated last evening in his billiard game at the Bijou with Wanner (60) by a decisive score of 60 to 47. Hampton seemed to be in unusually poor form and was unable to get the balls together for runs of any length. Wanner played a careful game, secured several billiards every inning, and left no set ups for his opponent.

In the series of games in the handicap pool tournament at the A. & O. pool hall last evening Ohlweiler (75) defeated Paulsen (100), 75 to 92, and Ainsworth (80) defeated MacManus (80) by the score of 80 to 47. Both games were exciting. This evening Larson (90) plays Ohlweiler (75), and Broedel (100) plays MacManus (80).

FORMER ROCKISLANDER WINS

W. H. Nevins Awarded $3,000 in Action Against Sterling.

W. H. Nevins, formerly of this city and who has been connected with construction work in Rock Island, was yesterday afternoon awarded $3,000 in a suit against the city of Sterling, in the circuit court at Morrison. Mr. Nevins sued for $10,000, claiming damages as well as compensation for work done. The case is the outgrowth of a contract for macadamizing streets in which the city council decided that the work did not come up to specifications and refused to pay Mr. Nevins, whose claim was for something over $2,000.

A Cockney Announcement.

Last winter a gentleman was advertised to sing at a charity concert in an English provincial town, presided over by a local city councilor, a self made man. The first song was "The Owl" (Stephen Adams). On rising to announce the chairman was informed that the singer had not arrived, a fact that he duly notified to the audience.

A little later the missing baritone made his appearance and was observed by the worthy chairman, who rose with evident pleasure and innocently announced with marked confidence:

"Mr. Ampton will now favor us with the longest for 'Howl'!"—London Answers.

Not Quite.

"I sleep with your letters under my pillow," the modern lover wrote. Then he yawned and muttered to himself:

Needn't Hurry.
An old Kansas citizen who had been henpecked all his life was about to die. His wife felt it her duty to offer him such consolation as she might and said, "John, you are about to go, but I will follow you." "I suppose so, Ma," said the old man weakly, "but so far as I am concerned you don't need to be in any blamed hurry about it."—Argonaut.

Angell's Resignation In.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 17.—President Angell of the University of Michigan, resigned today.

SAW LINCOLN KILLED

Joseph G. Sholes, 1529 Fifteenth and a-half street, Moline, in connection with the celebrations of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln in this city, gave a very interesting account of the assassination of the great emancipator. Mr. Sholes was in Ford's theater the night of the historical event and was one of those who witnessed the shooting by J. Wilkes Booth. Mr. Sholes at the time was serving in Company C of the 8th Illinois cavalry, which was stationed at Washington. He enlisted at Morrison on the second mustering in of the regiment after it had returned from service in the army of the Potomac. He had an elder brother, Rollin, who lost his life on the Potomac. Following the second recruiting of the regiment, it was sent to Washington, where it acted as an escort and guard for Lincoln. On the day of the assassination, Mr. Sholes, in company with a half dozen others of the regiment, had acted as the personal guard for Lincoln and his wife when they took a short trip from the White house out to the Soldiers' home. It happened that Mr. Sholes was off duty that evening, and he accordingly went to Ford's theater to see the play, with the result that he was an eye-witness to the tragedy. Some three months later the 8th regiment was mustered out of service at St. Louis, and Mr. Sholes returned to his home. At the time of his enlistment he was 21 years old.

IN EXISTENCE NOW

Plan to Organize Humane Society in Moline Changed Because of 1895 Charter.

WILL REVIVE OLD EFFORT

Authority of State Given 12 Years Ago is Exhibited at Social Service Club's Session.

The February supper and meeting of the Tri-City Social Service club was held last evening at the First Baptist church, Moline, supper being served at 6:45 by the Young People's association to 50 members and friends. The club met in conjunction with a committee from the W. C. T. U. of Moline with the object of forming a humane society in Moline. However, no humane society was organized last evening for the very reason that there is theoretically such an organization existing there now, as was brought out by J. B. Oakleaf exhibiting a charter dated Sept. 19, 1895, authorizing the formation of a Moline humane society. On the board of directors at that time were members who are now pushing the organization of such a society. The committee composed of Rev. Robert J. Henry, Rev. J. W. Edwards, Rev. D. S. Andrewarthe and J. H. Haudberg, who had drafted a constitution for adoption at this time was dissolved and the board of directors of the former organization was instructed to meet and elect new officers.

Discuss Humane Work.

The general theme of the meeting last evening was the work of the humane society. Rev. R. K. Atkinson, president of the club, presided and the first speaker of the evening was B. B. Jackson, superintendent of the Moline public schools, who spoke on the work of the humane society as viewed from the schools' standpoint. He said that the "three r's" had been displaced by the "three h's," the head, heart and hand. He spoke of the development of the heart along with the development of the head and hands. Mrs. Harry Ainsworth of Moline spoke of the humane society work in the home and said that in every household where there are children there should be pets of dogs, cats or horses, that the child's humanity towards dumb animals might be insisted upon and the child educated and trained in the kind treatment of such animals. Ed Osborn spoke of the work from a Christian's viewpoint, saying that no one can be a Christian and at the same time be unkind to dumb animals. J. B. Oakleaf and Clarence Trevor spoke of the financial and economic standpoint of the humane society and George Ellman, humane officer of Davenport, gave a very instructive talk on the work being accomplished in Davenport. He gave a report of the actual workings and good being done in Davenport, and also spoke of the support afforded the work in that city.

U. S. TO HUNT MACKEREL.

Fish Yearly Going Farther From the Atlantic Coast.

In response to an appeal recently made by the fishermen of New England, Uncle Sam is fitting out an expedition in Gloucester, Mass., which will attempt to solve the mystery of the rapidly disappearing mackerel along the eastern coast.

This novel expedition in the Grampus will be in charge of Captain Jerry Cook, an expert mackerel catcher. Its chief aim will be to find the new route or routes of this elusive fish in its annual journeys from southern waters to the north. In the last quarter century the courses traversed by the mackerel have tended more and more offshore until in the last five years the New England mackerel fishing fleet has been greatly depleted because of inability to trace the fish.

Captain Benjamin F. McGray of the schooner Oriole, one of Boston's old time sailors, says:

"If the Grampus fails to find the unknown course the mackerel now take in going north and south we probably shall have to go without our mackerel soon. These fish, coming from where no one knows, usually appear in April
