VETERANS' DAY AT ALEDO FAIR

Soldiers and Sailors Guests of the Management and Hear Wayman Speak.

THOUSANDS VISIT GROUNDS

Exhibits This Year More Complete Than Ever Before, Showing of Swine Being Leader.

Aledo, Ill., Sept. 21.—(Special).—This is soldiers' and sailors' day at the Mercer county fair, and practically every veteran in either branch of the service in Mercer county, with many from outside, is in the city. The feature of the day was the address at 10 o'clock this morning by State's Attorney Wayman of Chicago on "Soldiers in Time of War and in Time of Peace."

Music by the Oquawka martial band helped recall to the soldiers of the 60's the stirring times of those days, the old tunes familiar in camp and on the march being played again and again. The veterans are guests of the management of the fair, being admitted to the grounds and the various attractions there free of charge.

Thousands of visitors from the surrounding country are here for the fair. The Burlington ran special trains from the east and west and the Rock Island Southern brought in hundreds over its new line completed only last week. Trains are being run to meet these on the main line each way at Gilchrist, and the service has enabled many to attend the fair who would not otherwise have been present. The main part of the crowd, however, drove here by horse and auto.

Best Ever Held.
The fair is without doubt the most complete ever held in the county. The swine exhibit, in which the local fair always excels, is larger than in the past, while there is a noticeable increase in the number of other farm animals, particularly horses, on exhibition. In the farm produce department the fertility of Mercer county fields is well exemplified in the showing of grains, vegetables, etc.

Outside of the exhibits the races are the biggest attraction and an unusually promising list of entries has been secured. Tomorrow will be the big day of the week, and it is expected that the attendance record will be broken.

RAILROAD NEWS

It is probable that the Illinois railroad and warehouse commission may order 75 per cent of cars on every train in the state to be equipped with air brakes. In addition to the national law, there is a statute in Illinois which requires all railroad trains, freight as well as passenger, to be equipped with air brakes and automatic couplers. The act merely says that there shall be sufficient cars equipped to control the train, the actual percentage being left to the commission. Railroad men, it is said, that is, those in the train service, have asked the commission to increase the percentage required, making it as high as 75 per cent equipped. It is said that 50 per cent air brakes on a long freight train is not sufficient for absolute control, and that there must be considerable manual work on the part of the brakemen. There is a counter opinion among railroad men that 25 or 30 per cent of the cars in any freight train equipped with air brakes is enough to control. The question comes up in long trains, where the momentum attained will not allow a strong grip on the speed with only 25 to 50 per cent air equipment, it is stated. The railroad and warehouse commission has sent circular letters to the heads of the different roads in the state, calling their attention to a hearing that the commission will have in Springfield Oct. 4. Under the provisions of the act, more fully to carry it into effect, the railroad and warehouse commission is authorized from time to time, after a full hearing, to increase the percentage of cars in any train required to be operated as above stated, failure on the part of the railroad companies to comply with the requirements of the board will subject them to the penalties prescribed in the act.
