FORECAST FOR ROCK ISLAND, DAVENPORT, MOLINE AND VICINITY.

Snow or rain tonight; Wednesday, generally fair, not much change in temperature. The temperature tonight will be near the freezing point.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. The storm center that was vesterday over Lake Michigan has moved to Maine, attended by precipitation and high winds in the lake region and on the Atlantic coast. The northwestern area of low pressure this morning shows separate centers over Saskatchewap and eastern Kansas. It has caused cloudy skies, occasional precipitation and higher temperatures in the Canadian northwest, on the eastern Rocky mountain stope and in the Missouri valley. The north Pacific area of high pressure and lower temperature is overspreading the northern Rocky mountain states. Owing to the eastward movement of these conditions, snow or rain is indicated for
