

LORIMER FUTURE PLANS A SECRET

Friends Say Ousted Senator Will be Re-elected to Congress in Two Years.

HE IS TO BEGIN ALL OVER

Probably Will Follow Physician's Advice and Seek Complete Rest on Farm.

The Lorimer Case

May 20, 1900—Lorimer elected to senate after four months' deadlock.
April 30, 1910—Confession of Charles A. White made public.
June 18—Senate orders an inquiry.
Sept. 26—Senate committee begins inquiry.
Feb. 22, 1911—Lorimer defends himself on floor of senate.
March 1—Senate votes 46 to 40 in favor of Lorimer.
April 5—Punk story disclosed.
June 1—Senate orders new inquiry.
June 26—Hearing is begun.
March 28, 1912—Committee votes 5 to 3 in favor of Lorimer.
May 20—Senate gets formal report.
July 13—Lorimer's election declared invalid by senate.

Washington, July 15.—Forty-eight hours after his expulsion from the senate, Mr. Lorimer was found at his hotel this afternoon extremely reticent and unwilling to outline his political plans.

"I have no program for the immediate future which I desire to announce, but I will go to Chicago in a few days," he said.

While Mr. Lorimer will not talk, his friends declare for him that he has not been removed as a factor from Illinois politics, and they predict that his defeat of Saturday will only spur him on to fight the harder to regain the ground he has lost.

Illinois congressmen expect Mr. Lorimer to become a candidate for the house two years hence and his friends in the delegation confidently predict he will be elected notwithstanding the district is now represented by a democrat.

TO REBUILD FROM BEGINNING.

Mr. Lorimer will work to cast off the stigma which has been cast upon him by the vote in the senate and will not be content until he again has entered the senate with credentials which cannot be questioned. His friends say he fully realizes that the time is not propitious for him to announce his candidacy for the senate, and they represent him as conceding that the legislature which meets in January to elect two United States senators will be so constituted that he would have no chance of success. He must begin to build from the ground up, they say, and he therefore will attempt to return to public

TEXAS HERO'S NIECE PRAISES PLANT JUICE

Mrs. M. Bowie Burns, niece of General James Bowie, hero of the Alamo, a lady honored throughout Texas and who resides at 1209 Peak avenue, Dallas, writes as follows regarding Plant Juice:

"Dallas, Texas, April 20, 1912.—Until Dec. 11, 1911, I enjoyed perfect health, and on that fatal day I had a fall which resulted in a very aggravated nervous trouble, accompanied with persistent and severe stomach disorders, which continued to grow worse until I could eat nothing without distress. The slightest noise shocked my entire nervous system. I could no longer rest at night and had awful pains in the region of my kidneys and the gases arising from my stomach were awful. My condition frightened me and I had given up all hope when I read of so many people being healed by Plant Juice. I immediately purchased a bottle. I have been treated by many physicians and have taken many other remedies without the slightest benefit, but I must candidly tell you that the first half bottle gave me such relief and relief. And so phenomenal was it that I did not have one single ache or pain. I can eat heartily of anything I care for, sleep soundly and am rapidly returning to my former healthy condition. I truly take pleasure in recommending Plant Juice to my friends as a medicine of great merit.

"MRS. M. BOWIE BURNS."

No article that has not in itself intrinsic value, that is not wholly meritorious, could awaken the enthusiastic and truthful utterances that have been made daily through the press by Rock Island people about "Plant Juice."

It is the greatest remedy of the century for nervous debility and stomach troubles. Fagged out, dejected, half-sick people with indigestion, gas, bloating, waterbrash, heart palpitation, falling sight, who have bilious yellow skins, coated tongues, blotches, boils, pimples, who are irritable, melancholy, half-hearted, and as they express it themselves, "all run down and no account," may be immediately toned up, infused with new life, renewed energy, buoyancy and happiness by the use of "Plant Juice." Hundreds of others have been and are being. Why not you? Visit the New Harper House pharmacy, corner Second avenue and Nineteenth street today, witness the "Plant Juice" demonstration there in daily progress. And then decide for yourself. Donahala speaks both English and German.

WM. BARNES TO HELP TAFT RUN CAMPAIGN

Wm. F. Barnes.

Washington, July 15.—If President Taft has his way and he probably will, William F. Barnes, republican leader of New York, will play a prominent part in the presidential campaign of 1912. Mr. Barnes has done yeoman's service for Taft during the past few months and the president appreciates it. He realizes that the New Yorker is a politician of long experience and of no mean ability. With the active help of Barnes, Mr. Taft feels that New York state will be swung back into the republican column this fall. Mr. Barnes is not averse to taking a hand in the campaign. He despises Mr. Roosevelt with a hatred which knows no bounds, and nothing would delight him more than an opportunity to get a few good whacks at the ex-president. Therefore, in all likelihood Mr. Barnes will figure very prominently in the councils of the president until the end of the campaign in November. He will be assisted by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, and Senator Crane, of Massachusetts. Thus the president's campaign will be pushed by three of the most able and experienced political generals in the republican party. For these things president Taft is truly grateful.

life through the house rather than the senate.

It is the intention of Mr. Lorimer to attempt vindication in accordance with the statement he made toward the close of his speech, when he declared that if expelled he would keep in the fight and would drive his defamers and detractors into exile.

TO SEEK REST ON FARM.

Mr. Lorimer's physical condition is a source of worry to his physicians. His three-day speech was a severe tax upon his vitality, and he must take complete rest to recuperate. His heart action is not good, but his physicians say they are not apprehensive provided Mr. Lorimer will give some consideration to his health. It is probable he will follow the advice of his physicians when he returns to Chicago and go to his farm as soon as possible for complete rest.

Friends of Mr. Lorimer in the senate soon will introduce a resolution providing for an appropriation of $25,000 to reimburse him for expenses incurred in his defense. At the close of the first case last year, a resolution was introduced to reimburse him, but Mr. Lorimer said he would not accept the money. There will be strong opposition at this time to an appropriation of any amount of money out of the public treasury for Mr. Lorimer based on the ground that his right to a seat having been found defective, he is not entitled to any assistance from the government.

CULLOM NOT CANDIDATE.

Senator Cullom authorizes the statement that he will not be a candidate for the next senate by the vote in the senate. He says he has reached the unalterable decision to retire from public life at the close of his present term and that no consideration can induce him to change his position. He explains that it would have been a pleasure to have continued to serve in the senate as long as he was the choice of the people of Illinois, and he had built up the hope that he would die in harness, but the people at the last primary having chosen another to be the candidate of his party, Mr. Cullom feels relieved from all further responsibility.

"I am now looking forward to the time when I can lay down my burdens and rest," said Mr. Cullom. "I feel that I have earned a rest and nothing can induce me to remain in the senate after the 4th of next March."

Indignant protests come from the friends of Mr. Cullom because of the intimation that he attempted to restore himself in the esteem of the people of Illinois by voting against Mr. Lorimer with an eye upon the senatorship. When Mr. Cullom cast his vote for Mr. Lorimer last year he did it with the knowledge that it would cost him heavily.

APPOINTEES ARE UNAFFECTED.

The relations between Mr. Cullom and Mr. Lorimer have not been close and their meetings, even upon the floor of the senate, have been few. It was with the greatest difficulty that Mr. Cullom prevailed upon Mr. Lorimer to enter conferences over patronage and other matters which were to be jointly decided by them.

Mr. Lorimer realized that his recommendations in the matter of federal appointments had little or no weight at the White house and therefore did not feel that it was of much consequence whether he made any. In one or two cases appointments were made in the state without consulting Mr. Lorimer.

Under the circumstances the removal of Mr. Lorimer will not make any material change in the federal officeholders' slate. Len Small, assistant United States treasurer, is the station in Chicago, where he had been awaiting her arrival. He recognized her the moment he entered the morgue.

ALL INJURED IN COLLISION WILL SURVIVE

When the jewelry of the dead was examined it was found that settings of 10 rings were missing. Whether or not this was the work of vandals or merely a freak of the wreck is not known.

Appearances indicate that some of the settings were large, and the loss may reach a considerable sum. The absence of any money on the people was another indication that some one had gone through the clothes. Barclay, the young man who had insignia from Notre Dame university on him, had transportation to Buffalo, but only 10 cents in his purse.

A man who gave the name of Edward Swanson and who said he lived in Congress park, was arrested by the chief of police of Western Springs shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he was seen to take an umbrella from the wreckage. He was taken to the village hall, but escaped a short time later by picking the lock on the door. The police are also looking for a man known as "Swede" Larson, who is said to have taken a gold watch from the wreckage.

FATALITIES IN FAMILY

Brother and Father of Engineer's Widow Were Also Slain.

Galesburg, Ill., July 15.—A singular fatality seems to attach to relatives of Mrs. E. H. Bronson, wife of the engineer killed in the wreck near Chicago on the Burlington yesterday. Previous to that, her father, Hewitt Bone, who was an engineer, was killed by a projecting crane and her brother, George Bone, also an engineer, was killed in a wreck.

Old Fashioned Remedies.

Science in surgery and electricity has advanced much in the past 30 years, but the treatment of disease by the old fashioned remedies made from roots and herbs, has never been improved upon.

This may be seen by the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, and known today as the great remedy for female ills.

No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine.

Sioux City Favored.
Sioux City, Iowa, July 15.—A cool wave hit this section last night, the temperature falling from 98, the season's record, to 52. Rain accompanied the drop.

To Conclude at Spencer.

Long View park with its additional attraction of a band concert was visited by many hundred people yesterday afternoon. Bluer's band rendered a concert consisting of sacred and secular selections. The concert was the third in the memorial series in memory of the late Mrs. Julia Rosenfeld. Another concert will be held at the popular park and the series of the season will probably be concluded with a program in Spencer square.

Small Boy Hung in a Swing.

New York, July 15.—Herbert Petrie, 12 years old, known by schoolmates as "Scotty," was playing alone in the cellar of his home at 276 Hoyt street, Brooklyn, when his neck became entangled in the twisted ropes of a swing he had improvised. He hung helpless and unable to make an outcry until discovered and cut down by his mother. Death followed.

Jefferson Hayes Davis, Jr., Dies.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 15.—Jefferson Hayes Davis, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Hayes Davis of this city and great grandson of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, died Saturday after a short illness. The body will be cremated and the ashes taken to Richmond, Va., for interment in the family plot.

Madison, Wis., July 15.—The mine royalties are taxable in Wisconsin as income after allowance for depreciation. This was the decision of the state tax commission today.
