

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Do you consider it an engagement when a girl lets a boy wear her society pin? (2) Do you consider it proper for a girl to allow a boy to "rough-house" and be slushy with her? Some of the boys think we are still because we won't allow them to and we want your opinion. (3) How many dances should a girl give her partner at a dance?

Mrs. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Fried Spring Chicken
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Creamed Peas
Egg and Lettuce Salad
Soft Boiled Custard with Chopped Nuts
Coffee

JUST US.
(1) It is not an engagement, but she should not let him wear it unless she is engaged to him. (2) One can be jolly and have a good time with the boys and still respect one's self. But a girl who lets a boy get "slushy" and "rough-house" with her will soon earn the boy's disrespect and in time will lose her self-respect. No boy really likes a cheap girl. (3) I presume you mean your escort. He should have more than anybody else.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am 15 years old and about five feet tall. Am I tall and old enough to wear long trousers? (2) I am to be confirmed soon. I will invite my relatives to dinner. What would you advise my mother to serve? PUZZLED.
(1) Yes, my boy. (2) For a regular dinner the following menu would be reasonable:
Cream of Asparagus Soup

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I met a fellow the other night. He and his friend asked my friend and me to go for a walk. This was the first time we were with them. As we got a ways they insulted us and because we rebuked them they got sore and walked away without saying goodbye or anything. Now, Mrs. Thompson, as we like them, how can we get them to speak, as we are very much in love with them? Do you think they had much respect for us? We are decent girls.
BETTY AND LOUISE.
It is hard for me to believe that you are decent girls when you say that you love these men who have insulted you—men you have met only very recently. Of course you can get these men to be your friends if you wish to be bad. That's the only kind of girl they want anything to do with. They would insult you again the first chance they had. Show that you really are decent girls by scornful to have anything to do with indecent men. There are plenty of nice good boys to know.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a college graduate and a teacher, but I don't like teaching. Isn't there something else I can do to earn a living?

Would it be possible to secure a position as private secretary in some private family and how should I go about to procure such a position?

COLLEGE GIRL

Teaching is a noble profession. There are other professions and business positions, of course, but you will have to begin at the bottom of each to educate yourself for a good salary, just as you had to be educated to become a teacher.

Private families do not have secretaries, as a rule, unless the family is very wealthy and holding a high social position. You would, in such a case, need to know how to handle all of your employer's affairs and the duties of a social secretary are more arduous than you imagine. Her day is long and her responsibilities heavy. If you feel yourself capable of holding such a position, ask your college president to give you the names of likely people. If you have an acquaintance with the society editor of a large newspaper, she may be able to help you.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

MR. AND MRS. FRANKLIN BAUM, living a mile south of Milan, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary May 21 at the home, many friends helping them observe the day appropriately. They were married May 21, 1865, at Cambridge, Ill., settling a little later on the Baum homestead near Green River. Mr. Baum, born in New York in 1836, came to Henry county when 12 years of age. After his marriage to Emily Holden, who was born in South Wallingford, Vt., in 1842—coming from a well known New England family of revolutionary stock—they lived on the farm until the civil war broke out, when Mr. Baum joined the Fourth Illinois cavalry and served during the entire war. He is a member of John Buford post, No. 243, G. A. R. of this city. Mrs. Baum's great-grandfather was a veteran of the revolutionary war. They are the parents of six children: Ida Oary of Hitterman, Ia., John Baum of Colona, Olive West of this city, Ira R. Baum, Milan, Eunice Tuery and Jonas Baum, both of this city. All these and many friends helped celebrate the day. Gifts to the honorees were numerous.

PRENUPTIAL DINNER.

MR. AND MRS. C. H. TRUEDSON entertained informally at a very pretty appointed dinner at 7 o'clock last evening at their apartments in the Jensen flats in Davenport, as a pre-nuptial attention for Miss Julia Salzman and M. H. Romig of this city, whose marriage will take place in the early part of June.

The decorations were pink and white carnations and sweet peas, pink and white hearts being festooned from the chandeliers, carrying out very effectively the bride's colors. A three course dinner was served in the dining room, the table decorations being in pink and white, the centerpieces a cut glass vase containing pink carnations and ferns. Ferns were strewn on the board and at each place were tiny candle holders containing pink and white tapers. Covers were laid for 12. At the conclusion of the dinner pretty toasts tied with pink satin ribbons were read by the guests, causing much merriment. The chairs of honor were placed for Miss Salzman and Mr. Romig at the head of the table which had been very prettily decorated with pink and white. The evening was spent in games and music, the prize in the guessing contest going to Mrs. C. Nutting of Davenport.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

A PRETTY DOUBLE WEDDING occurred Wednesday evening in Davenport when Miss Frances Sampson was united in marriage to James A. Taylor, and her sister, Miss Lillian Sampson, became the bride of Fay George. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Dr. L. M. Coffman at the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church. Each couple acted as bridesmaid and best man for the other. Dr. Coffman first pronounced the ceremony uniting Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and then Mr. and Mrs. George. At 6:30 o'clock a wedding supper was served at the home of the two brides, 2010 West Second street. Only the immediate relatives, about 25 in number, were present. The rooms were decorated in pink and white, roses and carnations being used to carry out the color scheme, with bridal wreath. The brides were both dressed in white. Mr. Taylor and his bride will go to housekeeping at once at 1524 Ripley street and Mr. and Mrs. George will make their home for the present on East Ninth street. Mr. George is employed by the Iowa Telephone company and met his bride when she was an operator. Mr. Taylor works for the People's Light company.
