

GOSSIPS LINK THE NAME OF ELIZABETH SANDS WITH THAT OF VINCENT ASTOR; HIS MOTHER SAID TO FAVOR NOTED BEAUTY

Newport, R. I., Aug. 26.—Since the arrival at Newport of Mrs. Ava Willing Astor the gossips have been busy with a new name which they have linked with that of her son Vincent, who is now head of the Astor family and chancellor of its exchequer. The rumor now is that Miss Elizabeth Sands, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. Frederick Sande, and Vincent are engaged.

However that may be, certain it is that young Astor has been seen much with Miss Sands during the past few weeks, and Mrs. Astor is known to look with great favor upon the young woman. Miss Sands not only is a noted beauty, but she is a great social favorite both in Newport and New York.

SHOW PRODUCER IS ARRAIGNED

Refuses Back Wages to Chorus Girl and Drags Her Off a Trunk at Theatre.

"It never rains but it pours." Following several attachments against the Murphy Musical Comedy company, Joel Murphy, the producer, and his wife were last night arraigned in Justice Kuehl's court on complaint of one of the chorus girls, Mabelle Parker. The warrants were the outcome of a dispute over back wages on Labor day, when Miss Parker engaged in a lively controversy with Mr. and Mrs. Murphy. The man was fined $5 and costs on an assault and battery charge while his wife, Mrs. Agnes Murphy, was assessed $1 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge. The fines were remitted and the costs paid.

The girls claim that they asked for a week's back salary and were refused. Miss Parker became insistent, and Murphy, so it is alleged, seized the chorus maid by the shoulder and dragged her down from a dressing room trunk, with unnecessary violence. The argument became warm and Mrs. Murphy is alleged to have called Miss Parker "names which no lady would use," according to Mabelle's version. Just what the future holds in store for the ill-fated theatrical venture, remains to be seen.

ROOT AND LEWIS CLASH OVER TAX

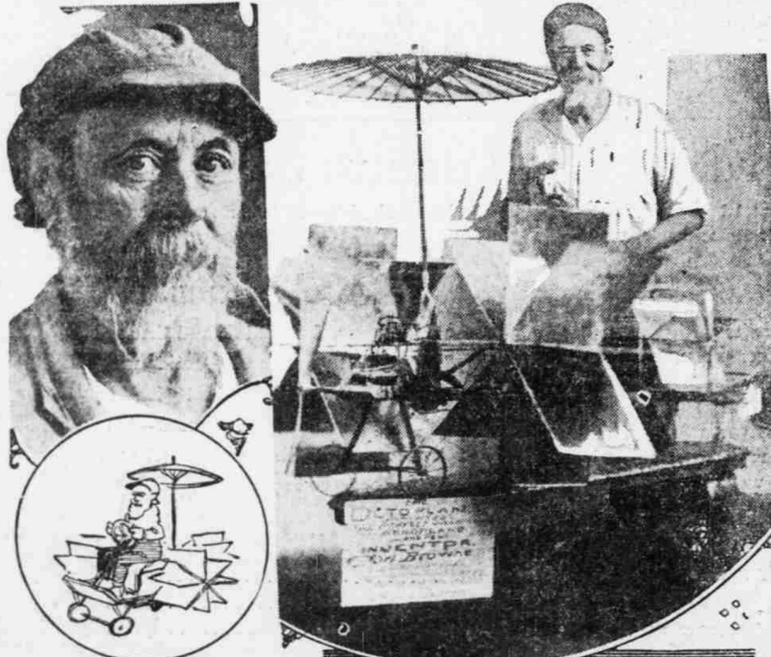

Eastern Man Says Income Levy Would Be Unjust to People of New York.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—An appeal by Senator Root for justice to the people of New York in the levying of the income tax and a reply by Senator Lewis of Illinois, who said the chosen few of wealth should be made to pay for the benefits of government, marked yesterday's tariff debate in the senate.

Senator Root said his state, which paid so large a proportion of the civil war income tax, had voluntarily surrendered its constitutional protection against unfair taxation on the conviction that the wisdom of self-control and moderation would stay the other states from combining to heap upon it the burden of taxation.

He said that the men on whom the income tax would fall were those on whom New York depended as the source for meeting its great yearly expenses. He attacked the $3,000 exemption as relieving the agricultural states from the burden of taxation, and advocated a $1,000 exemption. Senator Lewis said New York had failed notably to make its rich men bear their share of the burden of government and that in accordance with

CALIFORNIAN INVENTS FREAK AEROPLANE WHICH HE SAYS WILL MAKE AERIAL TRAVEL QUITE SAFE; INTERESTS A CONGRESSMAN

Carl Browne and his "octoplane."

Washington, Sept. 3.—Carl Browne of California has appeared again in Washington. This time he did not arrive at the head of a contingent of Coxe's army, as he did years ago, but has invaded the capital with a new kind of aeroplane, which he says will make aerial travel perfectly safe. He has succeeded in interesting Congressman William Kent of California in his project and Mr. Kent is said to be backing the enterprise. Carl has a working model equipped with a small gasoline engine and is experimenting with his invention in the backyard of Congressman Kent's home in Washington.

Browne calls his machine the "octoplane." It is built on the principle of the monoplane, but instead of having one fixed plane at the forward end has eight revolving ones, four on each side. Any two of these will act as the fixed plane of the monoplane. When the aviator encounters strong cross currents of air Browne claims that instead of the machine being overturned, the planes will merely revolve and the "octoplane" will proceed on an even keel.

Another feature claimed for the invention is that the blast of air from the propeller will be conserved by the slanting planes and will provide a "river of air" on which the machine will ride. Browne's parachute attachment he says will open and allow the octoplane to gently descend to earth from a height as low as a hundred feet.

To have a beautiful figure

The woman who possesses an ambition to have a beautiful figure should look to the corset for the secret. Fashion more strongly than ever favors the natural figure.

Bien Jolie Grecian-Treco Corsets

Produce in the most skillful manner the natural, graceful lines. These corsets are frequently termed the "athletic," but the increasing vogue of the so-called corsetless figure has brought them into year-around prominence. They are chiefly of soft net with a few bones at the front sides and back. They mold the figure into graceful curves, holding it erect without the slightest sense of strain. They are in a word the highest expression of comfort.

These new models are low in the bust, and the skirt extends to the thigh. Wearing one of these, you will be well corseted, yet have all the freedom of the uncorseted figure.

the growing idea that where the states had failed to act the federal government must act for them, he was ready to make the rich pay. He said Senator Root himself had preached this doctrine when secretary of state.

"Who are the people of New York for whom the senator is so solicitous?" the Illinois senator inquired. "Are they those who breed around Wall street and flock to the Waldorf-Astoria? Are they those whose names are seldom found on the assessors' lists but who hover around the Mediterranean in the summer and the islands of the Caribbean in the winter? Are there no poor and humble in his state? Why should the senator ask that 'my people' should be exempt from the burden of government?"

"The object of democracy is not to make illegal war on legal wealth, but legal war on illegal wealth. We hear talk of war with Mexico. Who would be the first to hasten to this capital to have the army and navy sent out? It would be 'my people,' who would want the farmer's son sacrificed to protect their property and to prevent invasion of the country. Let them pay for the great benefits of government which they enjoy, and let not all the burden be placed on the helpless that they may become hopeless, too."

Several items passed over on the first reading of the bill were agreed to during the closing hours of yesterday's session. The Norris amendment to free list substitutes for coffee, and one by Senator Jones to remove the duty from jute bags for grain exports, were defeated.

Paint Saves Money.

Why not use a little paint occasionally? It prolongs the life of the buildings, adds value to the price of the farm and helps to make a "home beautiful." Buildings last 25 to 50 per cent longer if painted. That means that a building which would last fifty to seventy-five years unpainted would last 75 to 125 years if painted. It is the same with fences and farm implements. It is easy to see that paint saves money.—Kansas Farmer.
