RAIN DURING NIGHT. The battle for supremacy in the baseball world between the champions of the National and American leagues shifted today to Shibe park in this city.

SPECULATORS BUSY. Ticket speculators were much in evidence today and a number of coupons were disposed of at many times their face value.

Merkle limped perceptibly during practice on the field and apparently suffered much pain. He wore a heavy ankle brace.

When play began the mist had cleared, but the air was dark, and it was difficult to follow long flies.

BAD NEGROES CAUSE RIOT; LEADER DEAD

Race Feud Impends at Romeo, Ill., After Black is Killed.

OPEN JAIL; FREE WOMAN

Automobile Posse, Called from Joliet, Interrupts Attack on Town Hall.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 8.—One negro was killed, the village jail was wrecked, and a serious race riot narrowly averted yesterday at Romeo, eight miles north of Joliet.

One hundred blacks had armed themselves and were threatening to butcher all the whites when the deputies whirled into town in automobiles, carrying rifles and revolvers.

ARRESTED BY NEGRESS' ARREST. The negroes had been aroused to a state of frenzy following the arrest of Lulu Gibson, a notorious negress who ended an all night drunken orgy in a Romeo saloon by running through the town and threatening to kill the first white man or woman she saw.

THE WOMAN, who is a former inmate of the woman's state penitentiary in Joliet, where she was imprisoned for murder after she had killed a negro several years ago, was arrested by Constable Richard Farrell of Romeo in the morning and locked up in the town hall with her 2 year old child.

JOHN WINFIELD, a negro porter in a Joliet saloon, who is said to be the father of the child, tried to prevent the arrest of the woman, and said he would "get" the constable. In the afternoon he returned with two negro companions. The three, armed with railroad ties and heavy iron bars, beat down the doors and the front wall of the town hall and released the Gibson woman and the child.

CONSTABLE FARRELL tried to arrest Winfield, and was engaged in a hand to hand fight with the negro, in which he would probably have been beaten to death, when he was saved by Deputy Constable Louis Hansen, who grappled with the assailants.

INSTANTLY KILLS WINFIELD. In a desperate struggle which ensued between the two white men and the three infuriated negroes Hansen shot and instantly killed Winfield. The negro was shot through the lung when he tried to seize Hansen's revolver.

TWO NEGRO COMPANIONS of Winfield fled to the colored settlement of Romeo, and in less than an hour every negro in the village had armed himself. At 2:30 o'clock Sheriff Thomas Stevenson of Joliet received frantic calls for assistance from Mayor Swanson of Romeo.

"FOR GOD'S sake send us help," was the last message received. "The negroes will kill every white man in the town."

A SQUAD of deputies was rushed to Romeo in autos and immediately dispersed, a shouting mob of negroes who had assembled near the town hall. All were disarmed and sent to their homes. The village jail was too small to hold any number and the town hall, which is used in emergencies, had been broken open by Winfield and his companions.

LATE AT NIGHT danger of disorder was past and the deputies, who are on guard in Romeo, say the negroes will make no further attempts to mob the whites.

FEELING RUNNING HIGH

Supreme Court Orders Renewal of Injunction Against Picketing at Properties.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 8.—James Pollock, 31, a deputy sheriff, was killed this morning by 10 copper mine strikers at the Royal Isle mine near Houghton. He was shot in the head, attacked with clubs and his brains exposed. There is much excitement and feeling is high.

At the Baltic mine this morning beating of workmen by strikers prevented the Baltic workers going to work. Joseph Marinich, shot in the stomach and taken to a hospital, claims he was shot by Pollock. Ten arrests, including Marinich, were made.

Pollock is said to have recently defeated six strikers in a fist fight. The sympathetic strike of school children is practically at an end. Joseph Marinich will die. A woman living near the scene of the shooting declared the first shot was fired by strikers. When Pollock fell he was kicked and beaten.

INJUNCTION RENEWED. Lansing, Mich., Oct. 8.—The state supreme court issued an order today requiring Circuit Judge O'Brien of Houghton county to immediately renew and place in force his injunction of Sept. 29, restraining copper strikers from picketing, which he recently dissolved at the request of the strikers. The strikers, however, will be allowed to hold peaceful parades and meetings. The injunction restraining picketing will be in force until after a hearing is held on the supreme court's order for O'Brien to show cause. The action was taken at the request of General Counsel Rees of the Calumet and Hecla company.
