

THREAT FROM STILLWELL IS GIVEN PUBLIC

Contents of Hennessy's Black Book in New York Inquiry.

NO CONFESSION FOUND

Convict Senator Promises to Put Tammany Chief in Jail If Allowed Freedom.

New York, Nov. 1.—The contents of Investigator Hennessy's little black book, as far as it related to his conference at Sing Sing with Stephen J. Stillwell, the convicted senator, were made public here today. The book was placed in evidence at the John Doe inquiry yesterday, but was not made public. It reveals no confession. The names of Charles F. Murphy, Senator Frawley, and others are mentioned. But after fencing for hours with Hennessy, Stillwell refused to accuse anybody flatly of anything, insisting that he first get his pardon. This was refused and the negotiations were dropped. The interview in the warden's office, with a stenographer as eavesdropper, continued for hours. The stenographic report was broken and disjuncted. This, it was explained, was due to noises of passing trains. The dialogue shows a keen verbal duel between Hennessy and Stillwell. The latter was evasive and fearful of betrayal by the former, who was seeking diligently for disclosures he believed might permit Sulzer to challenge the impeachment. The dialogue, in part: Hennessy—"You mean you want a pardon before you make a affidavit?"

Big Games On

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 1.—After he had spent the greater part of the week training a man especially to play full-back against Syracuse, Coach Yost today was forced to send the Wolverines into the game minus the services of a player he had hoped would bolster up Michigan's weakest spot so far this season: Player "Squire" Torbet was injured in Thursday's scrimmage. Torbet's absence and the resulting shifts in the lineup served to dampen hopes of victory among Michigan's followers. Somewhat offsetting the latest mishap was the appearance for the first time this year of Craig, whose great playing was a source of strength on the 1912 team.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 1.—Eighteen thousand seats were sold in advance for today's Minnesota-Wisconsin game. The fact that the University of Wisconsin alumni were celebrating the annual "homecoming" served to augment the throngs attracted solely by the game. Neither coach was willing to predict his men would do better than "hold them to a close score."

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Illinois and Chicago, the two undefeated eleven in the western intercollegian conference, met here today to determine which team must drop from the championship race. Critics conceded the winner will have substantial claim to the championship, as both Minnesota and Wisconsin have been defeated by non-conference teams. Chicago was the favorite. Three thousand rosters accompanied the Illinois team.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 1.—Cornell's chances against Harvard were improved by the absence of three regulars from the Harvard lineup, Left End O'Brien, Left Tackle Hitchcock, Right Halfback Mahan, all suffering injuries. Brickley, the brilliant half-back, was not in the best of condition, and could play only part of a game.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 1.—The Navy will go into today's game with the heaviest and most powerful lot of players that ever represented the academy and with a determination to wipe out the 14 to 0 defeat administered by Lehigh last season.

West Point, Nov. 1.—The Army had the biggest home game of the year on its hands today with Notre Dame. The struggle being intercollegiate, it was of special interest for both teams, splendid representatives of their respective classes.

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 1.—Ideal weather and big crowds for the Ames-Nebraska game. Wormhoudt, Ames' star tackle, injured in the Missouri-Ames game, will not be in the lineup.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 1.—Princeton won the annual cross country meet from Yale this morning, 21 to 34.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 1.—Harvard defeated Cornell in the cross country run, 51 to 56.

TAXPAYERS' BODY UPHOLDS LINDSEY

Committee of Denver Organization Vindicates Judge in Its Report.

Denver, Col., Nov. 1.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey has been fully vindicated by the committee which six weeks ago was appointed by his enemies in the Taxpayers' association to investigate his record. The report of the committee follows:

"Denver, Colo., Oct. 28, 1913.—To the Denver Taxpayers' association: Many rumors came to the ears of individuals composing your committee regarding derelictions of duty and wrong decision of Judge Lindsey, but when asked to submit written reports of the same and evidence in support thereof, none were forthcoming. Most of these related to a previous term of office and were decided by other judges, sitting for Judge Lindsey in his absence.

"The only matter that affects Taxpayers' association your committee deemed pertinent is a question of his absence during this term of office, from March, 1912, to September, 1912, for which you have heard his excuses and reasons. Very respectfully submitted.

"W. F. SYMINGTON,
"BERNARD FORD,
"MRS. VASSA REPLOGE,
"H. S. VAUGHN,
"MRS. R. E. ENGLUND."

The report of this committee is a vindication of Judge Lindsey and his court. It is regarded as evidence of the fairness of the members of the committee and a direct rebuke to those anonymous agents hiding behind the Woman's Protective league and the methods they brought with them from the old days when the "beast" ruled Denver.

Judge Lindsey and the juvenile court have been objects of attack by the circulating Bess-Whitehead-Curtis Protective league. When on Sept. 15, the committee of three men and two women was appointed by the Taxpayers' association to investigate Judge Lindsey and probable charges made against the administration of his court, their anti-Lindsey sentiment was acknowledged.

MESSAGE FOR CONGRESS ON MEXICO NEXT

President Said to be Framing Details of Situation for Report.

NO DAY DEVELOPMENTS

Mrs. John Lind Aids Two Fleeing Legislators by Hiding Them in Stateroom.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—There was discussion today in official circles of the possibility that President Wilson might send a message to congress giving a detailed report of what has occurred since he last informed congress on the Mexican situation. There was no indication at the White house of such a plan. Secretary Bryan said there was no change in the Mexican situation. He conferred with the president, after which he started for Maryland to address the voters.

New York, Nov. 1.—The steamer that arrived last night from Vera Cruz with Mrs. John Lind, wife of President Wilson's special envoy, brought also two Mexican legislators who owe their liberty, if not their lives, to her quick wit and generosity. To save the two Mexicans from arrest at Vera Cruz Mrs. Lind hid them in her stateroom and sat up all night on deck until the officers of the Huerta government had gone ashore and the boat had left port.

A week ago the cables brought word that the liner Morro Castle had been detained at Vera Cruz while Huerta's agents searched for eight rebellious members of the legislature of Vera Cruz. Until the Morro Castle arrived at New York only those aboard knew that two of the eight "deputies" had escaped arrest.

These two, Adolfo Dominguez and Miguel A. Cordera, say they will stay in New York until Mexico becomes a safer home for the opponents of Huerta.

MRS. LIND TELLS STORY.

Mrs. Lind said that her husband had expected to come home after the Mexican election. Now she didn't know when he would come.

"We expected that the Morro Castle would sail from Vera Cruz," said Mrs. Lind, "at 4 o'clock the afternoon of Oct. 23. Then Captain Huff was subpoenaed to testify regarding the flight of Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, who sailed on the Morro Castle five months ago."

"We learned later that the real reason for our detention was that the government wished to search the ship for eight legislators from the city of Jalapa. They arrested six of these men, but they didn't find the others."

"While the search was going on the friends of these two men learned that I was aboard, and they came with tears in their eyes begging me to help them. I said, 'Here's the key to my stateroom. Take it.'"

"That was all they needed. I spent the night on deck and the two men hid in my room until the detectives gave up the search and went ashore. Then the ship was released and we sailed."

AIDED BY OTHER AMERICANS.

Mrs. Lind is a little woman with quiet manners and a low voice; but her eyes flashed as she asserted: "I couldn't bear to think of these men being taken ashore and hanged. I just had to do something for them."

Two other Americans aboard the Morro Castle, George Hebron and John Kane, employees of the American Smelting and Refining company, also had an experience with Dominguez and Cordera. There were rumors that Huerta's agents remained aboard.

The first night out of Vera Cruz, Mr. Hebron said, Dominguez burst into his stateroom yelling in Spanish: "They're after me! They're after me!"

MEXICAN TROOPS ON DECK.

Hebron ran on deck and into the arms of a squad of Mexican soldiers. "Are you an American?" they demanded. Hebron said he was, and they made no attempt to detain him.

"When I returned to my stateroom," said the American, "I found Dominguez inside with the door barricaded. The soldiers left the ship at Progreso. Through L. C. Frisbie, an American who was returning home after thirty years' residence in Mexico, the two Mexican deputies said they owed their escape, also to the fact that the Mexican law does not permit the arrest of a member of the legislature on an ordinary warrant. The six deputies taken off the steamer at Vera Cruz were held on summonses from the district judge charging rebellion, but no such summons had been issued for Dominguez and Cordera and by insisting on their rights they gained time to hide in Mrs. Lind's stateroom."

AGAINST AMERICAN MEDIATION.

These men insisted that while conditions in Mexico were chaotic, inter-

MRS. PANKHURST A CHICAGO GUEST

Next Year's Campaign in England to be Terrible One, Says Suffrage Leader.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst arrived here today to appear at the theatre tomorrow. She will remain in Chicago several days for rest.

She was greeted at the station by delegates from a number of suffrage organizations. Mrs. Pankhurst said the profits from her lectures would be used in next year's campaign in England, which will "be a terrible one." She could see no occasion for militancy in America.

Four Chicago policemen with orders to protect her acted as escorts to Mrs. Pankhurst.

New York, Nov. 1.—Suffragists of Greater New York reinforced by many out of town allies marched two and a half miles through the streets of Brooklyn this afternoon as a pre-election demonstration of their strength. There were 7,000 women and 1,500 men in line headed by an exact copy of the famous liberty bell, whose tongue is tied and is not to be released until women suffrage becomes general in the United States. The parade started from Grant square with several hundreds of the paraders on horseback. Mrs. Catt, one of these, was surrounded by a bevy of young women representing various foreign countries where women vote. Another group of girls in white represented states which have given the women the ballot.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—The names of former Senator Lorimer and Edward Hines were brought into the record at today's session of the court trial of Daniel Donahue and Detective Steffel, charged with conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk. Edwin Slavin, a bellboy, said he was employed by Steffel to testify that Funk and Mrs. Henning registered together at the Grand Pacific hotel.

"He asked me," Slavin testified, "if I had any grievance against Lorimer or Hine. I said I had none. Steffel gave me $25 and said I would receive $1 a week in return for testifying if the Henning-Funk case."

ATTACK CARS DESERTED BY REGULAR MEN

Riotous Scenes Enacted in the Business Section of Indianapolis.

POLICE ARE HELPLESS

Five Hundred of Employes on Strike—Colorado Miners Surrender Their Arms.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Rioting in the street car employes' strike, which started at 11 o'clock last night, broke out in the heart of the business section at 9 o'clock this morning. Cars were held up and trolleys taken from cars, which were left standing in the street.

The police seemed unable to cope with the strikers and hundreds of their friends. It was necessary for police to go ahead of the cars and clear the way.

Strike leaders hurled invectives at car crews and demanded that they join the strike. Few persons patronized the cars this morning. Many cars had been routed through the town district to avoid greased rails.

Nothing like a regular schedule was maintained. Officials declare only 10 per cent of the men are out on strike. Leaders contend 500 are on strike.

After more than an hour of rioting mounted police were called and drove crowds away from the cars.

Rioting broke out anew shortly before noon. Trolley wires were broken and crews taken off of two cars. Valves on a number of cars were opened, releasing the air which worked the brakes. Boys were aiding the strikers.

At noon the company practically abandoned efforts to operate cars. Five hundred strikebreakers are expected from Chicago this afternoon.

STRIKERS GIVE UP ARMS.

Trinidad, Col., Nov. 1.—With the exception of small details left in camps here and at Walsenburg, the entire force of the national guard moved today to the strikers' tent colony at Ludlow. The movement was in conformity with the agreement yesterday between Adjutant General Chase and Organizer Lawson of the United Mine Workers for the surrender of arms by the strikers to the military. It is reported the strikers arranged a friendly demonstration for the troops upon their arrival.

MRS. WAKEFIELD GUILTY OF CRIME

Connecticut Woman, Slayer of Husband, Convicted of Murder in First Degree.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Jessie Wakefield of Bristol, mother of three little children, was found guilty of murder in the first degree for her part in the killing of her husband, William, last June.

Mrs. Wakefield is not the first woman to be convicted of first degree murder in Connecticut, but no woman has been hanged since 1785.

Evidence in the trial showed that Mrs. Wakefield and her paramour, James Plew, conspired to get rid of Wakefield. While Mrs. Wakefield took her children out for a walk Plew partly drugged her husband, took him out for a walk for several miles and then shot him to death.

A knife was driven in the body and a rope placed around the neck to give the appearance of suicide. Mrs. Wakefield then reported to the police that her husband was missing and that she feared he had ended his life.

An investigation resulted in the arrest of the couple and both confessed. It is probable that Mrs. Wakefield and Plew will be sentenced together.
