The victory of Chicago over Wisconsin, 19 to 0, was a fitting climax to the most successful season experienced on the Midway in recent years. The decisive defeat of the Badgers stamped the Maroons as one of the strongest elevens in the central west, without a reverse registered against them, a record shared with Notre Dame, Nebraska and the Michigan Aggles.

That Stagg deserves credit for developing such a strong eleven from the material at hand is the consensus of opinion among football critics in Chicago is entitled to the undisputed championship of the "Big Nine" and the showing is more pronounced when the fact is taken into consideration that the Maroons met and defeated seven conference college elevens. Ohio State was the only aggregation which the Midwayites did not play. If the rules allowed more than seven contests, Ohio State undoubtedly would have been on the schedule.

The phenomenal field goal kicking of Brickley of Harvard gave the Crimson eleven a 15 to 5 victory over Yale and the undisputed championship of the east. Although Harvard won all its games, the team is not entitled to as much credit as Brickley. The Crimson eleven was unable to score against Princeton and Yale except by the air line route, showing it lacked the necessary offense to score when close to an opposing eleven's goal.

If Harvard had been without the services of its great kicker; the Crimson eleven might have been defeated or held to tie scores by the Tigers and Old Ell.

> In a game marked by enthusiasm not seen at Augustana college for almost a decade, the sophomore eleven vanquished the freshmen team Saturday afternoon by a score of 20 to 6. The game proved a royal battle throughout. Both classes were in the contest to win and fought with bull dog spirit. A tremendous crowd witnessed the game, it being the first football game played on the Aggie campus since 1905. The freshman rooters took their stand on the east side of the field, while the sophs were entrenched on the west side. As the game progressed, they cheered their respective teams on and hurled defis at each other across the field.

For the freshies, Koch and Youngstrom played a strong offensive game. Kech got away several times for big gains, while Youngstrom hit the line hard and was almost always sure for a gain. Enstam replaced Nelson at left half in the second half and shortly af erwards scored the freshies' only touchdown, following a sensational 30yard run by Koch. Enstam was particularly strong on the defensive, repeatedly nailing sophs when it appeared certain they would get away. Benson played a consistent game at quarto back for the freshies.

The game opened when Mollander kicked off 40 yards for the sophs. The freshies returned the ball to the center of the field, where they lost on a fumble. The sophs immediately began a straight march toward their goal, Mollander, H. Anderson and C. W. Anderson tearing off good gains, and Houloose finally skirting the freshmen's right end for 20 yards and touchdown. Mollander kicked goal. Score, Sophs 7, Freshmen 0.
