LOVELY PRINCESS, MYSTERIOUSLY LOST, FOUND DANCING ON THE SHORE AT NICE

Princess Metchersky.

Paris, April 3—The sudden and mysterious disappearance of the Princess Metchersky of Russia has at last been cleared up.

At the time that the "dancing princess," as she is known, vanished, it was rumored that she had been assassinated by Russian Nihilists for some alleged grievance which the supporters of the red flag in Russia were said to have held against her.

The mystery when cleared up proved to be nothing more nor less than the capricious whim of this charming young woman who, when found two weeks ago dancing at the seashore at Nice and told of the worry she had caused her friends, simply shrugged her shoulders and said in Russian, "I should worry."

While her friends were distracted she was thoroughly enjoying the nation-wide hunt for her. The photograph shows the charming young woman, who is scarcely out of her teens, in two of her charming poses. Her lithe, supple body and the grace of her movements have attracted considerable attention from those who flock to her rhythmic recitals, which just now she is holding in Paris.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Quickly Relieved.

Morton L. Hill of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had inflammatory rheumatism in every muscle and joint; her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians, but received no benefit until she tried Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk in three days. I am sure it saved her life." "It is a known fact that sunlight and daylight influence unfavorably the taste and flavor of the beer and care must be exercised in the selection of the bottles."

J. Brand (Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen, 1908, p. 333).

Dr. Robert Wahl, President of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology, quotes J. Brand in corroboration of his own opinion recommending the Brown Bottles.

Derelicts Were 169.—One hundred and sixty-nine arrests under the state laws and for breaking city ordinances were made during the month of March according to the report of Chief of Police Schramm as submitted last night to the city council. Lose $10,000 in Commerce Ruling.—Within the next few days Davenport railroads expect to receive claims from shippers aggregating $10,000 which cannot be honored according to a strict interpretation of the interstate commerce ruling. Local rail officials have received bulletins apprising them of the fact that effective April 1, all claims for loss, damage and delay not filed within four months from time of shipment, would not be honored. A similar ruling was made some time ago, but has never been strictly enforced. Since then the interstate commerce commission has taken the matter up, and decided that all claims dating back more than four months would have to be filed by April 1. Various shippers who have been in the habit of allowing claims to accumulate for three or four years until the amount reached a figure large enough to warrant a suit will be put to a total loss if their claims have not been filed prior to April 1.

Clawtis, proprietor of a Greek grocery at 214 East Second street, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Maines for having goods exposed for sale without proper protection from dirt and vermin.
