

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 17.

(1) I would like to become a nurse. Do you think this is a good profession? Is it very difficult?
(2) Must you know Latin?
(3) I have many pimples on my forehead. I have used different kinds of ointments, but they do not help. I wear my hair over my forehead. Do you think this causes it? I eat nourishing food and keep myself clean inside and outside. What do you think is the cause?
(4) How can a girl become more popular?
(5) Why is it that boys do not like girls who act silly? I don't mean hugging and kissing, but little incidents that attract their attention.
(6) It is not an easy profession to be a good nurse, but is one of the noblest professions in the world.
(7) The better education you have the better nurse you will be. It would be better to finish high school. By that time you will be in better condition physically to begin studying nursing.
(8) It is advisable to know enough Latin to understand the doctors' prescriptions.
(9) Girls of your age are often troubled with pimples on the forehead. Take very good care of your health, especially at certain periods, and keep your bowels open. A Hill's peroxide on the pimples two or three times a day might do some good.
(10) Some girls simply have not the power to become very popular. They are nice, modest girls, and yet they do not seem to attract men. To such girls I can only say: Keep your self-respect and you will at least have something worth while.
(11) Because they think such girls are silly, and they're quite sure that these girls are just as foolish with other fellows. A man may encourage a girl in this, but at the same time he is losing respect for her and some day will be sure to "shake" her for a girl who has respected herself too much to be undignified with the boys.

(1) We care for them very much, but they do not believe it. How can we convince them that we do?
(2) One of the girls corresponds with a boy in another city. What shall I do to make her stop it?
(3) Two boys flirt with one of the girls. How can we make them stop it?
(4) I see no harm in going out walking with your girl friends, provided there are no objections on the part of any of your parents.
(5) Of course you like them, and they like you, or you would not care to be friends. You may be sure that the girls believe you care for them, or they would not stay friends. As long as you are gentlemanly and devote most of your spare time to the girls and try to make them as happy as you possibly can, they must be sure of your friendship.
(6) Now, why should you try to make her stop it, my boy? She has just as much right to have another boy friend as you have to have another girl friend.
(7) Boys don't flirt with a girl unless she helps them along. Of course, if you're strong enough you can keep these two boys, but that wouldn't keep the girls from flirting with you, tell her not to notice them and that will keep them from annoying her quicker than anything else.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will (2) solution remove superfluous hair for good, or will it grow out again? If not, is there any sure way to do it?
(3) What should a boy say in asking a girl to dance with him?
(4) I cannot recommend any of the advertised solutions, as I know nothing about them. However, nothing will take out superfluous hair permanently. Even the electric needle has failed in cases that I know of and this has always been considered the sure remedy.

Better Things in Store. There are better things in store for you than you know. In the calendar of your future there are days marked for angels' visits. The angels may come disguised, but come they surely will. Yours be it to have for them an open door and a house where they shall find a home.—G. A. Merriam.

The Argus Daily Pattern

THE FLARE GIVES THE NEW NOTE TO THE SPRING COAT.

Although the sports coat of brightly hued, light-weight wool is still popular, there is a new top-coat, cut on somewhat more conservative lines, fashioned of covert or tweed which promises to be a general favorite this spring. These coats, as a rule, show the raglan shoulder, deep cuffs, large patch pockets and a decided flare at the bottom. They are smart and English in appearance to a degree. For general wear, of course, the almost invisible tweed mixtures and plain covers are the thing, but there are also some unusually attractive colored checks that will be seen a great deal. A single breasted coat with raglan shoulder, broad cuffs, fashioned of plain covert is shown in No. 8320. It requires for size 36 3/4 yards of 42 inch material. The dainty frock of flowered crepe illustrated in the other number, 8326, is suitable for afternoon at the present time or a little later in the season. It would be quite as attractive fashioned of a plain material, and if taffetas were used it would be appropriate for almost any occasion. The straight front and the puffed effect in back is one of the season's new features. This dress requires for size 36 3/4 yards of 36 inch material. No. 8320—sizes 34 to 44. No. 8326—sizes 34 to 42. Each pattern 15 cents. Free—Our Spring Style Book. Send us 2 cents to cover actual amount of postage and we will send you free our forty page book of spring styles, showing about 500 designs in Ladies' Home Journal patterns. Send a two cent stamp for postage.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

THINGS WORTH KNOWING. Cream that is too thin to whip may be made to do so by adding the unbeaten white of an egg before beginning. Dry, hard lemons laid in cold water will be ready for use in a short time. French fried potatoes dipped in cornmeal before frying are fine. Add the grated rind of an orange and a few tablespoonfuls of juice to a sponge cake. It gives it the right flavor and prevents quick drying out. THE TABLE. Jelly Tea Buns—Beat into one quart of bread dough half a cupful of softened butter, half a cupful of sugar, one well beaten egg and five tablespoonfuls of chopped citron; then add a very little flour, knead well and mould into a ball. Set to raise and when it has doubled in size form into small biscuits. Lay these in a buttered tin, brush over with beaten egg and again let them raise for one hour and a quarter. Just before baking make a depression in the center of each with the bowl of a teaspoon and bake in a rather quick oven. When cold fill the depressions with marmalade or fruit jelly. Sherry Charlotte—Turn into a large bowl half a pint of chilled double cream and with a Dover egg beater whip until firm. Sweeten by the addition of two heaping tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, whip again and fold in the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs. Flavor to taste with sherry and turn into slender crystal glasses that have been lined with halved lady fingers. Place on top of each a small macaroon, surmount with a Maraschino cherry and pour over charlotte a tablespoonful of the cordial. Serve very cold. Potato Puff—Boil the required number of potatoes in salted water, and the instant they are cooked drain off the water and mash thoroughly, adding a generous piece of butter, pepper and salt to taste and sufficient milk to moisten them. When every lump has been removed beat steadily with a silver fork until the potatoes are very light and creamy, fold in the stiffly whipped white of one egg and turn quickly into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a quick oven, and when well risen pour over about two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Serve as soon as they are well browned over. Peach Whip—Drain the syrup from a cupful of preserved peaches and chop the fruit finely. Have ready a meringue made from the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs and two

Miss Anne Morgan Acts Big Sister to Poor Girls

Miss Anne Morgan and her girls on S. S. Imperator.

New York, April 25.—The pet philanthropy of Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late financier, is the organization known as the Vacation Savings Fund. Fully two thousand girls whose salaries range from $3 to $50 per week, and who are taxpayers or depositors in this fund, accompanied Miss Morgan a few days ago as she piloted them about the big steamer "Imperator." Never before at one time had the vessel's decks resounded to the tramp of the feet of so many pretty girls as followed in the wake of the "big sister" as she led them about on the tour of inspection. It was the spring excursion of the girls who "do the things worth doing," who sit at the elbows of princes of finance, the stenographers and confidential secretaries, the girls who preside at the counters of big department stores, who make the clothes the people wear, who wait on the tables and do a thousand other things without the doing of which New York's puzzling mechanism would go to smash in a day—and they were out for a good time and to see the inside of a floating palace which typified to them the thing they are most all saving money for just now, vacation. The headquarters of the Vacation association is at No. 38 West Thirty-ninth street, where there is a restaurant and all the accessories that go toward the comfort and happiness of the members. Here the weekly dances are also held. The "dollarers" are the girls who pay one dollar a year for the privilege of using the headquarters as a social
