

WOMAN SHOT DEAD IN CALL UPON DOCTOR

Mrs. William Bailey Fired On Through Window in New York Office.

IS ON HER FIRST VISIT

Husband Expresses Surprise His Wife Is Patient of Prominent Physician.

Freeport, N. Y., July 1.—The authorities today are seeking a motive for the murder last night of Mrs. William Bailey, wife of William Bailey of Hempstead, in the office of Dr. Edward Carman.

The husband of the dead woman is a hat manufacturer in Brooklyn. He was surprised to learn his wife had been a patient of Dr. Carman and declared as far as he knew she had no enemies.

Dr. Carman told the police he knew to cause for the crime or reason to believe the shot was intended for him. Mrs. Bailey was shot through the heart.

According to Carman, she arrived at his office, which is in his home, at 7:30. An hour later she was preparing to leave, when a window pane was broken, a man's hand holding a revolver thrust in, and the shot fired that ended her life. Mrs. Bailey had visited Mrs. John Graham, who is ill at her home in Rockville Center, and on leaving at 6 o'clock announced she was going home directly.

Her First Visit to Office.

The crime has caused intense excitement on account of the social prominence and wealth of Dr. Carman and his family. It was Mrs. Bailey's first visit to his office. Carman said he was not acquainted with her before.

Two men patients waiting in an outer office said they heard no noise until they were startled by the report of the pistol shot. When they entered the consultation room, Mrs. Bailey was dead, and they helped Carman carry her body to a couch.

Mrs. Bailey was 36, small, with a remarkably pretty figure and exceptionally handsome. She was always a leader in the social affairs of her neighborhood. She leaves a daughter of 17 and a son of 12.

Carman's Story Supported.

Evidence was accumulated today to support Carman's story. In the physician's room four feet from the window detectives found an instrument case bearing on the white enamel finish, powder burns and a furrow that might have been plowed by a bullet as it sped toward Mrs. Bailey. This instrument case was so low that had the shot been fired inside of the room the person who held the pistol must have squatted on the floor. It was, however, directly in the path that a bullet would have taken from a pistol shot through the broken pane in the doctor's office.

In the presence of detectives engaged by the county and by the murdered woman's husband Carman today rehearsed the murder scene. He was about to pull aside a curtain to permit Mrs. Bailey to leave his office, he said, when he heard a crash of glass and saw the hand with the pistol poked through the broken pane. He and the patient were two feet apart and he did not know at which the weapon was aimed.

Another Woman in Case?

He ducked behind the operating chair and as he did so the pistol was fired and quickly withdrawn. Detectives learned that a few minutes after he shot was fired a young woman hurried into a railroad station, apparently a great agitation, and took the first train for New York. Although Carman testified he had not met Mrs. Bailey before last night, detectives are working on the theory that a jealous woman is in the background.

TWO UNIONS HOLD BUTTE MEETINGS

Serious Trouble Looked for When Either Asserts Authority at the Mines.

Butte, Mont., July 1.—The two unions of Butte metal miners, after holding undisturbed meetings last night, continued today the enrollment of members in their organizations. The night passed quietly. President Moyer, who with other officials of the Western Federation remain in Butte, has delegated the work of saving the federation's union here to men who have not previously taken active part in the organization's affairs.

Men who claim to know say no more serious trouble is expected here until either faction begins to assert authority at the mines. The federation holds a contract with the mining companies, but so far has not objected to men wearing buttons of the new union going to work.

The Butte local met last night in a hall known only to loyal members. The Butte Mine Workers' union, the new independent organization, met in the largest hall in Butte and held a peaceable meeting. No definite steps toward parting an association were taken for some time.

The county commissioners have offered rewards totaling $4,000 in connection with miners' riots in the last two weeks. A reward of $1,000 is offered for the slayer of Ernest Noy, killed in front of the miners' union hall. There is the same reward for the conviction of the men who dynamited the homes of Patrick Sullivan and William O'Neill, officers of the Butte local.

FIRE TRAPS 5 MEN IN SOUTHERN MINE

Twenty-Five Workers Escape When Alarm Is Given, but Others Are Caught.

Williamson, W. Va., July 1.—Miners worked with feverish energy today digging a shaft into the workings of mine No. 1 of the Sycamore Coal company near here in the hope of reaching five men who were cut off when fire broke out at midnight. Dense volumes of smoke poured from the openings and it was feared the fire was spreading rapidly.

Fire broke out in the fan house, which was destroyed. Alarmed by failure of the air 25 men made their way to the surface, but five were caught in the entries far from the opening.

A government rescue car enroute from Pittsburgh it is believed will reach the mine in time to be of service.

EVIDENCE HURTS CASE OF PETRAS

Witness Sliding on Car With Theresa. Hollander Night of Murder on Stand.

Geneva, Ill., July 1.—In the Petras murder trial today the state introduced Joseph Parlow to prove that Theresa Hollander was clubbed to death in a cemetery in Aurora the night of Feb. 15, between 9:40 and 10. This evidence the state considers highly important, as Petras rode home in the same car as Miss Hollander, leaving it at 9:40. According to his ability he told the police he got home at 10 o'clock. Parlow said he got off the car four blocks from the cemetery, at the corner where Miss Hollander alighted, and ran home past the grave yard, observing the gate of the cemetery open. "The car was running because the night was cold."

CONGRESS TO KEEP ON TILL WORK IS DONE

Final Notice is Served on Business Interests of the Nation.

TRUST PROGRAM GOES

Unless Debates Delay Adjournment Will Be Taken About September First.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—Definite and final notice to the business interests of the country generally that congress will not adjourn without action on the administration trust legislation program was the primary object of a caucus of senate democrats called for today with the president's approval.

The party agreement to pass a trade commission bill and amend the omnibus trust bill and railroad securities bill was discussed at the White House today in a conference with administration leaders, who returned to the capitol with word that the plan carried the backing of the president.

It was said the president would send no message to the caucus; that he had nothing to do directly with calling the meeting.

The conference was called last night by Majority Leader Kern to act upon a resolution announcing to the country that congress will stay in Washington until it has disposed of anti-trust legislation.

Although leaders are not certain what may develop, they expect the resolution announcing it to be the sense of the party in the senate to put through trust legislation before adjournment to be adopted without prolonged discussion. Its adoption will bind the democratic senators.

Surprise For Members.

No attempt is to be made by leadership to outline a plan for legislation. One trust bill still in the judiciary committee, another in the hands of the interstate commerce committee. There is no prospect of an early report on either.

The calling of the conference was a surprise to many members of the senate, for until today several well known democrats had insisted that no party gathering be called for the present. It was believed that the action had been determined upon to make it clear to the country that anti-trust legislation must be expected within the next few months.

The adoption of the resolution is expected to expedite closing the session, and it is predicted that unless debate on the three trust bills is unusually long adjournment may be taken before Sept. 1.

Tilt Over Mileage.

Candler of Mississippi and Morrison of Indiana, democrat, had a lively set-to over the mileage question today that convulsed the house with laughter. Candler was speaking in favor of five cent mileage which the senate is fighting to keep at twenty.

"Have you ever introduced a motion to strike out mileage?" demanded Morrison. "I have been following your mock heroics in contempt, and I will follow you in admiration. I voted with all the cowards every time the question was before the house."

"Then in voting that way," suggested Candler, "the gentleman says he was a coward."

"I did not say so," returned Morrison. "I voted to quit being guilty of grand larceny and to become a petty thief. I want to be honest and want you to make the motion."

$20,000 IS EARNED BY PEN CONVICTS

Madison, Wis., July 1.—Convicts in Waupun penitentiary received $20,000 for overtime for the year ending June 30, 1914, paid by contractors under the Wisconsin contract system on prison labor. The money was all assigned to the individual's account and credit.

ANOTHER RISE IS DUE IN THE MISSISSIPPI

Another rise in the Mississippi is due to start today. As far north as St. Paul the stream is steadily approaching flood stage and with rains continuing in the headwater it is evident that there will be a good stage here for steamboats all summer. Today the river stood at 7.8 feet and there is water enough in sight to raise the stage here as high as at the last rise but not enough, probably, to cause any damage.

IN THE SHADOW

WILSON TARGET IN TEDDY'S SPEECH

Tariff Laws, Trust Program and Foreign Policy Attacked at Pittsburgh.

New York, July 1.—Roosevelt came back from Pittsburgh today after his speech there last night attacking the Wilson administration.

"I feel like," he said, "However, I shouldn't like to deliver another speech tonight."

He visited the progressive headquarters this forenoon, planned to visit a throat specialist, and later to pay a call on Theodore Roosevelt III, who came into the world only recently.

Dr. Holbrook Curtis, a throat specialist, told Roosevelt he would have to rest six weeks. Then after the colonel has made a few speeches as a test, the doctor said he would be able to tell more definitely what Roosevelt could do in the campaign.

"I'll be able to make some speeches, all right," said the colonel, confidently. He agreed that six weeks' sentence was preferable to four months' rest, recently prescribed by another physician.

"Maybe the doctor will let you be a candidate for governor, after all," said a questioner.

"They won't have to let me," answered the colonel. He did not make clear what he meant by the remark.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 1.—Theodore Roosevelt delivered last night the first political address that has come from him since his return from Brazil. It was divided, generally speaking, into three parts—an attack on the Wilson administration, an indictment of "bosses" and an exposition of the principles of the progressive party.

The administration's tariff laws, Colonel Roosevelt hailed as a colossal failure, particularly hard upon the farmer; its anti-trust program he branded as an economic absurdity; its foreign policy he styled as "wretched," but upon this he did not elaborate.

The democratic tariff, he insisted, had brought distress upon the nation, had lowered the cost of living and had chiefly benefited foreign rivals of American business. The solution rest, he argued, in support of the progressive movement and the enactment of laws providing for tariff revision by a non-partisan commission.

Of the "bosses" Mr. Roosevelt said what he has heretofore—that they thwarted the rank and file of the republican party by the nomination of Taft at Chicago, and in so doing "deliberately put the democratic organization and Mr. Wilson into power."

In conclusion the colonel sketched the progressive idea of needed anti-trust regulation by properly empowered commissions, contrasting such proposals with legislation now pending at Washington, which he found woefully inadequate. Such a program alone, he contended, proved the inadequacy of the democratic party. "It is and always will be," he said, "the states' rights party, the 'party-afraid-of-power.'"

Yet the colonel warned those dissatisfied with the administration not through their resentment to throw their support to the leaders he had attacked. To do so, he said, would only insure a continuation of "government

MANY BOMBS SET FOR ROYAL LIVES

No Chance for Archduke Ferdinand and Consort to Have Escaped Death.

Vienna, Austria, July 1.—The conspiracy against the lives of Archduke Ferdinand and the duchess of Hohenberg was so well planned it would have been impossible for them to escape from Bosnia alive, according to some members of the late archduke's suite, who returned today.

Officials declare two clockwork bombs were found beneath a table on which luncheon was waiting the archducal party on its return to the city hall. A similar infernal machine was discovered in a chimney of the room occupied by the duchess of Hohenberg at a watering place a few miles from Sarajevo, and a woman was caught with seven bombs in her possession. The bullet which killed the archduke was an explosive one.

The authorities learned that Prinzip, the assassin, is the son of the proprietor of a hotel at Sarajevo, and past 20, so he may be sentenced to death for the crime.
