Class Gives Farewell to Dr. and Mrs. Newland

At the Snyder-Bowen home, 2124 Eighteenth avenue last evening, the members of the Harriet Henderson Memorial class of the First Methodist church and their friends numbering about 100 met in pleasing surprise at a farewell reception to Rev. and Mrs. T. E. Newland. During the evening which was spent in pleasant and in guessing contests, the retiring pastor and wife were presented with a beautiful Morris' chair as a slight token of the very high esteem in which they have been held by the entire congregation. Both responded in a pleasing vein, expressing their high appreciation and love for the people of the First church and their sincere regrets at leaving. Since coming to Rock Island four years ago as pastor and wife they have deeply endeared themselves in the hearts of the people. Dr. Newland has been a great support to the church and community generally. Mrs. Newland, who has given her time and talent without measure to the up-building of the Harriet Henderson class, leaves a place hard to fill and with her as well as with Dr. Newland goes the best wishes of the largest church of the Central Illinois conference. Dr. Newland goes to take charge of the Peoria district as superintendent. In him the First church loses a strong worker and Rock Island a Christian gentleman and wishes for the greatest success following him. After a most pleasant evening spent a flashlight picture was taken of the group.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Nine-Tenths of All Stomach Trouble Said to Be Due to Acidity.
A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure.
A famous physician whose successful researches in the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastritis and somatic ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicines as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his researches have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisulphate of magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the source of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach with acid as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub himself on the foot without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and the stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and the stomach will heal itself. Repeat: let or cold water after meals, repeating in 15 minutes, if necessary, this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.—(Advt.)

taining the secret toast until the last which she read as follows: "Here's a secret to all who are here, mark you it is not a fable. On a pretty day in November, Ralph is going to take Mabel. It has been no hasty conclusion and may not cause any great surprise, for it was seven years ago at camp meeting that their friendship began to rise. Now on Fortieth street, Mollie they will dwell in a little new house painted white, not far from the street car line where you can often see them, or write." Favors were then distributed and were cards bearing the pictures of the prospective bride and groom, tied with yellow and white ribbons. The afternoon was most pleasantly passed in guessing contests, prizes in which were awarded to Misses Florence Whiteside, Maude Shallberg and Ruth Moffit.

The date of the marriage of Miss Johnston and Mr. Crowley was not announced at this time. Both young people are well known in this city where the bride elect has resided most of her life. She is a graduate of the high school and for four years has been employed in the county treasurer's and township clerk's offices. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please give me a recipe for elderberry wine; also tell me how to make sunshine cake.
THANK YOU.
Elderberry Wine—One gallon of ripe elderberries and one quart of damsons or sloes for every two gallons of wine to be made. Boil the elderberries in about half the quantity of water till they burst, breaking them frequently with a stick. Strain the liquor and return it to the kettle. To produce 18 gallons of wine, 20 gallons of this liquor are required, and for whatever quantity the liquor falls short of this, water must be added to make it up. Boil this along with 56 pounds of coarse, moist sugar, for half an hour. Ferment in usual manner when sufficiently cooled, and then put into cask. Put in a muslin bag a pound and a half of ginger bruised, a pound of allspice, two ounces of cinnamon and four or six ounces of hops; suspend the bag with the spice in the cask by a string not long enough to let it touch the bottom; let the liquor work in the cask for a fortnight, and fill up in the usual way. The wine will be fit to tap in two months, and is not improved by keeping, like many other wines. Elderberries alone may be used.
Angel Food and Sunshine Cake—Whites of six eggs, three-quarters cup granulated sugar, one cup flour, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one-half teaspoon cream tartar. Put cream tartar in flour, and sift six times; sift sugar twice. Put a pinch of salt with the whites of eggs and beat very stiff; add sugar in whipped whites by placing it on platter and gradually beating it from below; add flour the same way, and lastly the flavoring. Do not stop beating after the mixing is begun, keep it light. Bake in bright ungreased pan, a pan with a tube is best. Bake in moderate oven 20 or 30 minutes, test with broom straw. Do not jar while baking. Let stand in pan a few minutes; loosen sides and turn upside down. It will fall out. To make sunshine cake add the beaten yolks of two eggs before putting in flour.

at a party of 20 or 30 girls about 17 years of age.
(2) How can you keep hydrangeas during the winter?
ME.
(1) Literary Salad—Cut lettuce leaves from green tissue paper, crimp them to look like lettuce. Write quotations from any authors you choose; pin one to each leaf. After the salad is passed, each rises, reads her quotation and names the author or says, "I don't know." The first person naming the author gets the leaf. The one getting the most leaves wins the prize. You can pass more than once at first or give them second helpings.
What's My Thought Like—One member of the party says, "What's my thought like?" Each answers the first thing that enters his head, as machine, sunset, rain, etc. The leader then tells what his thought really is, and they must say why it is like it. If the thought was a person, he is like a machine because he does so much work; like a sunset because it goes so soon, etc.
Yes and No—The point lies in answering every question without saying: yes or no.
(2) Simply dry them.
Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) When olive oil is taken internally to get fat, how much and how often should it be taken?
(2) Is it possible to make rosebuds of dry petals?
B. E. K.

(1) One tablespoon of olive oil three times a day would be sufficient, but the same amount made into salads would have a more beneficial result because it would be more enjoyable.
(2) Rose leaves for buds must be put through a meat grinder while fresh, in order to make the buds. The dry petals are good for pillow cushions or sachet bags.

Bed Time Tales

By Clara Ingram Judson.
The Poplar's Story

ONCE upon a time, the leaves of the silver poplar were green both top and bottom just like the leaves of all other trees and the poplar tree was a nice proper tree just like all other trees.
Then something happened. Something usually does you know when things are entirely too nice and proper. One day, when the poplar leaves were playing with the breezes, one little breeze said, "Oh, you should see the trees in other countries as we do. Sometimes the leaves are gray, sometimes pale green and some are brighter colors."
"Wouldn't that be queer?" said one of the leaves.
"I think I'd like it," said another. "I'm tired of being plain green like all other leaves."
And though the breeze laughed at them, they wouldn't play because they kept thinking all the time about their color.
And the more they thought, the worse it seemed to be green, just plain green, all their lives.
"Isn't it horrid to be just a plain green leaf?" said one. "I'm so tired of being green."
"I think I'd like it," said another. "I'm tired of being plain green like all other leaves."
And though the breeze laughed at them, they wouldn't play because they kept thinking all the time about their color.
And the more they thought, the worse it seemed to be green, just plain green, all their lives.
"Isn't it horrid to be just a plain green leaf?" said one. "I'm so tired of being green."

as they primped and preened in the sunshine.
"Now that you like your color," said the breezes, "come and play with us again."
"Oh no," said the leaves loftily, "we don't care to play with you any more. We like to have you come and see us, for you turn and twist us so we can see all our pretty colors, but we couldn't just common play any more, we are too fine for that!"
So the breezes came and stayed a little while and swayed and twisted the leaves so that the silver linings glistened in the sunshine—then they went and played and frolicked in the oaks and maples with the leaves who were not so dressed up.
And ever since then, the poplar leaves have been green and silver but the leaves are so stiff and vain that the fairies and breezes play in the old green trees.
Tomorrow—A Butterfly Dandy.

I wish to announce to my friends and patrons that I am now located at 122 Eighteenth street, where I will be glad to welcome all. Let me supply your jewelry needs.
