AT THE ILLINOIS.

The attraction at the Illinois Friday is the new scenic production of "The Winning of Barbara Worth." As ever a million copies of the thrilling novel by Harold Bell Wright have been sold, the advent of the play by Mark E. Swan will be eagerly awaited. The production is said to be as elaborate and a carefully selected company has been known to interpret the many well known characters so familiar to readers of the book. Leona Statter will be the "Barbara Worth." Frank Elliott, the "William Holmes." Charles Douglas has the part of "Jefferson Worth." Miss Margaret Maeder will be seen as "Helen Blair." Graydon Fox will be the sympathetic "Abe Lee." Ralph Earle has the comedy part of "Pat Mooney." Ralph Theodore, the lovable "Texas Joe." Perry P. Hopper has been secured for the difficult role of "Greenfield." Bernard Nankeville has been gaining much praise for his interpretation of the Mexican Pablo.

Johnson's Portrait.

In 1775 Sir Joshua Reynolds painted that portrait of his friend, Dr. Johnson, which represents him as reading and nearsighted. This was very displeasing to Johnson, who, when he saw it, reproved Sir Joshua for painting him in that manner and attitude, saying, "It is not friendly to hand down to posterity the imperfections of any man." But, on the contrary, Sir Joshua himself esteemed it a circumstance in nature to be remarked as characterizing the person represented and therefore as giving additional value to the portrait.

Of this circumstance Mrs. Thrale says, "I observed that he would not be known by posterity for his defects only, let Sir Joshua do his worst," and when she adverted to Sir Joshua's own picture painted with the ear trumpet and done in this year for Mr. Thrale, she records Johnson to have answered, "He may paint himself as deaf as he chooses, but I will not be blinking Sam."

An officer in the British army complains of American beef and would like to do terrible things to the "Chicago meat kings." Is this Spanish war history repeating itself or is it patriotic devotion to the roast beef of old England?

CATCHY MUSIC IS FEATURE OF PLAY

Initial Rehearsals of "Miss Dolly Dimples" Largely Attended.

GETTING EXCELLENT CAST

Committee Will Meet Tonight When Final Tryouts for Various Parts Will Be Made.

Rehearsals for "Miss Dolly Dimples" started yesterday with a vengeance, when several hundred people gathered for their first instructions in the songs and dances which go to make up this entertaining musical comedy. Clever songs, and graceful dances which are pretty and easy to learn make this full of fun for those who participate. The rehearsals will continue during this week. Each chorus meets separately, and practices for only a half hour at a time, so that the demands are not heavy upon any one person. This afternoon, the children who will be in the big "Indian" chorus and the "Tittle Tattle" chorus met at 4:30, or immediately after school, on Wednesday afternoon. The place of the meeting will be announced later.

At present it will be impossible to announce the cast, although a number of prominent young people will take part. The cast committee meets this evening, when final tryouts for the parts will be made, and the different roles filled. Miss Moorehead, who is coaching for the performance and who has coached the show for several years in different parts of the country, says that she is more than pleased with the material she has to work with, and is grateful for the interest and earnestness shown. The indications are that it is to be a big thing.

NOTED DIVINE IS TO GIVE LECTURE

Dr. Ernest Wray Oneal Appears as Third Number of Augustana Lyceum Course.

Ernest Wray Oneal will lecture at Augustana college chapel Friday evening of this week on the subject, "Popular Fallacies." Dr. Oneal possesses a wonderful personality, linked with a delivery and word-phrasing that has placed him in the same line with Russell A. Conwell and other great speakers of the American platform. He has held audiences spell-bound wherever he has appeared.

This is the third number of the Augustana lyceum course, and although practically all the seats are sold, the management is especially desirous that those who have tickets attend each number. Each attraction has been selected with much consideration on the part of the management and is well worth hearing.

The lecture Friday is the last number on the lyceum course before the holidays.

The Syracuse Post-Standard says: "Now that stenographers are claiming the right to correct the English of those whose remarks they put on paper, the need of higher education of employers seems slighter than ever."

Recipe for "Tattlers."

Take a handful of weed called rambout, the same quantity of nimble tongue root, a sprig of the herb backbite (either before or after dog days), a tablespoonful of dant-you-tell-it, six drams of malice, a few drops of envy (can be purchased at the shop of Miss Tabitha Tea-Table and Miss Nancy Night-Walker). Stir all well together and simmer half an hour over the fire of Discontent, kindled with a little Jealousy. Then strain through the rag of Misconception, cork it up in the bottle of Malevolence and hang it upon a skein of Street Yarn.

Shake it occasionally for a few days and it will be fit for use. Take a few drops before walking out and the subject will be able to speak all manner of evil and that continually.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

To extract spots or durable ink, use a little sal-ammonia moistened with water.

If you have a latticed back porch, line it inside with felt paper way down to the floor and as high as your head, to keep out cold and soot.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am invited to a card party, and very much wish to accept, but I am not sure I shall be in town. How late can I defer my answer and not be rude?

BACHELOR.
The thing to do is to write to your hostess, tell her of your desire to accept her kind invitation. Ask if it will inconvenience her to have you defer your answer. Tell her in case it will, you will call this your regrets. It may be that she has some friend who will serve as substitute in case of vacancies. If she has not and must invite someone else, it would put her and the person invited in an embarrassing position if the invitation was sent out much later than the others. That is why an unusually prompt response is due a hostess giving a card party, as the number must be complete.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a freshman in college. I came from a home where there was very little entertaining going on and I am not up in table manners. Please tell me if there is any particular way to use a spoon to eat soup. The boys at our table have been having fun at my expense. It may be I am doing all right and they are hazing me. I want to find this out, if you will be so kind as to tell me. Thanking you, I am,

FRESHMAN.

Yes, there is a prescribed form for the use of the soup spoon. Soup should be taken into the spoon by dipping the spoon into the dish with its back to you. Carry it to your mouth with the side toward you and slip the broth noiselessly from the side. Never put the point of any spoon in your mouth.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can you give me a recipe for date cream?

T. M.
One quart milk, one cup cream, two cups sugar, juice of one lemon and one orange, one pound dates.
Wash and chop dates fine, and run through grinder; blend with milk, add cream beaten stiff, sugar, juice of lemon and orange. Mix well together. Pack in salt and ice and freeze. Nuts may be added if desired.
This recipe will serve a company of thirty and costs 60 cents.

BUEHLER BROS.

1628 Second Ave.

Rock Island

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My husband is a traveling man and therefore away from home a great deal. I am very much alone and am forced to stay at home evenings because I have no lady friends to go out with. There is a friend of my husband's who lives here. He has asked me to go out with him. Would it be proper for me to do so?

YOUNG WIFE.

My dear, I should advise against it. If you can get a young lady or a married woman to accompany you it would be all right. It would be better to go out with some married woman and her husband. Ask this friend to introduce you to some ladies who could accompany you. Such things are so apt to be misunderstood and misrepresented that one cannot be too careful.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I would like to get a recipe for a Christmas fruit cake—one that consists of fruit only and doesn't need baking.

ANXIOUS.

Unbaked Fruit Cake—One pound figs, one pound raisins, one pound dates (put these through grinder), one pound English walnuts broken into small pieces, mix with juice of three oranges, pack in a pan, press with weight for a day.

Steamed Fruit Cake—This cake is steamed two and one-half hours and dried out in oven half an hour. This recipe makes two large loaves: One pound sugar, one pound butter, one pound flour, one pound raisins, one-half pound figs, one pound currants, one-quarter pound citron, one-quarter pound almonds, two teaspoons molasses, one teaspoon each of cloves, mace and cinnamon, one nutmeg, one teaspoon soda, two-thirds cup sour milk. Stir butter and sugar, then add eggs beaten separately, milk spices, and lastly fruit, rolled in flour.
