THREE DEAD SO FAR

With a Probability of Much More Bloodshed.

ANOTHER KENTUCKY FEUD STARTS

The Turners and Partons Camping on Each Others' Trail with Their Winchester's Full of Lead—Horrible Fate of One of the Latter—Net Results of the First Two Fights—The Wife of One of the Glendale Train Robbers Tell Her Story—Freda Ward's Murderess.

PIKEVILLE, Ky., Jan. 30.—A factional feud that promises to rival in bloodshed the famous Hatfield-McCoy, or any of the other desperate factional wars which have made this section of Kentucky notorious, has broken out in the southern part of this county. The scene is a wild mountainous locality known as South America, and is about eighteen miles from this, the nearest railroad point. Owing to the inaccessibility of the place particulars of the fight are hard to obtain. Three men have been killed since last Saturday. Their names are Manuel Parton, Lee Davis and Will Jones. The fight is between Berry Turner, a notorious outlaw and murderer, who has killed more men than any other one man who has ever terrorized this section, with a strong gang, and the Parton faction.

Peculiar Claim of the Parton Gang.

The Parton side is a strong one and claim to have "the law on their side," but so far they have had the hot end of the fight. Parton was killed Saturday. He had essayed to capture Berry Turner, dead or alive, and posted himself at a convenient distance from a house in which Turner was fortified with a number of his gang. It was probably Parton's intention to shoot Turner at the first opportunity, but the latter had too much cunning. The outlaw discovered the whereabouts of his would-be slayer and at an unguarded moment succeeded in drawing a bead on the latter and sent a ball from his Winchester crashing through Parton's head.

Partly Devoured by Hogs.

The body of Parton was allowed to lie in the woods for four days, his friends being afraid to attempt to rescue it. When it was finally taken away it had been partly devoured by hogs. This murder only fired the Parton faction to more desperate warfare against the Turner side, and on Wednesday they made a bold attempt to avenge the death of one of their men. The fight was disastrous to the Partons, as two more of their number were killed. The Partons had surrounded the Turner stronghold, but instead of taking the army were themselves taken in.

The Turners Are Wide Awake.

They were fired upon from the Turner house, and before they could realize that their presence had been discovered Lee Davis and Bill Jones, two of the leading men of the Parton faction, had been pierced with bullets from the deadly Winchester. More than 100 shot were exchanged, and some of the Turner faction are said to have been wounded. There is talk of organizing a posse of officers from this county and from Clairborne county, Tenn., to attempt the capture of Turner, and a big fight will undoubtedly follow.

MURDER OF FREDA WARD.

Facts that go to show that Alice Mitchell is Insane.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 30.—Public opinion is divided as to the sanity of Miss Mitchell, who murdered Freda Ward. It is learned that Alice Mitchell had asked Freda Ward to marry her on three occasions and at last Freda consented. A day for the wedding was fixed and Alice sent her an engagement ring. The plan of Alice was to elope to St. Louis. The ring was returned by Freda's sister and Alice then swore that rather than live without her she would kill her. The letters written by Alice have been turned over to the state's attorney. They are full of endearing terms. The night after the killing, when Alice was in jail, she asked her attorney where Freda was.

Killed Her Because She Loved Her.

He told her that the body was at the undertaker's, whereupon she implored her mother to take her to see Freda, and said that she could lie down by the coffin and sleep as peacefully as a child.

"Why did you kill Freda?" asked the attorney.

"Because I loved her and I wanted to marry her."

"What would you do if you had married her?"

"Ah, I would have worked for her like a slave."

It has been learned that Alice's mother after the birth of her first child was mentally unbalanced. After the birth of Alice she was also insane for a time. Lillie Johnson is in the same cell with Alice, but her father spends the nights at the jail, fearing that Alice will do her some bodily harm.

Robbed His Employers.

New York, Jan. 30.—Frank C. Collins, 21 years of age, a trusted employe of Traited & Bros., jewelers, of 499 Fifth avenue, has been arrested for robbing the firm of pins and rings valued at several thousand dollars. The stolen property was found in Collins' room. Collins confessed and implicated Albert Harris, a salesman, and John Murphy, a bartender, who were arrested and some of the stolen jewelry was found in their possession.

THE GLENDALE TRAIN ROBBERS.

Maggie Hedgepeth, the Leader's Wife, Makes a Statement.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30.—Maggie Hedgepeth, wife of Marion Hedgepeth, leader of the gang which robbed the Frisco train at Glendale and took $100,000 from the Adams Express car, has made a statement to the police. She says Hedgepeth, Dink Wilson, Jim Francis, Adelbert Slye and herself came to St. Louis and rented a house on Swan avenue. She claims she did not know what business the men proposed to engage in, that their actions were mysterious, but she did not ask questions.

Went Out One Night and Got Rich.

On the night of the robbery they left the house at 8 o'clock and returned at 2 o'clock in the morning. They brought back a lot of money, she does not know how much. She saw it spread out on a table when they were counting and dividing it. The four men left St. Louis three days later. Hedgepeth told her to pack her trunk and express it to Florence Waterman, San Francisco. She was instructed to meet her husband in San Francisco and she did. They rented two rooms there, in one of which they lived and in the other she was to receive her trunk when it came from St. Louis.

Betrayed by Her Trunk.

Her husband gave her $25, and told her to go after the trunk. When she did so she was arrested. When locked up she was told that Marion Hedgepeth had been killed. Mrs. Hedgepeth is a sister-in-law of Slye, who is in jail here. Both Slye and Hedgepeth served terms in the state penitentiary at Jefferson City.

FRIGHTENED HER TO DEATH.

A Tramp's Sudden Entrance Has a Fatal Result.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Emma Shaeffer, of this city, was frightened to death late last night by a tramp who entered her room unexpectedly by forcing open the door. The unfortunate woman was nursing a child at the time Her husband was lying sick in the same room. Before he could reach his wife she had given a dying gasp and the tramp gazed horror-stricken into the face of the dead woman a moment, then fled.

Raped and Murdered Eight Girls.

VIENNA, Jan. 30.—Frank Schneider and his wife, Rosalie, who were charged with having deceived eight young women from their homes on the pretext of employing them as servants, and then murdering them for the sake of their money and of feet, were yesterday sentenced to death. Schneider was also accused of assaulting the murdered girls before choking them to death.

This Judge Wants Mercy Hereafter.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—John Schweitzer, Henry Schweitzer and Robert Shirlock, who several weeks ago picked a quarrel on the street with William Wiley, with whom they had no previous acquaintance, and brutally beat and kicked him to death, were yesterday sentenced by Judge Arnold to imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary for five years each.

MISS. BARTON WANTS MONEY.

It Will Cost $75,000 to Send Relief to Russia.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Miss Clara Barton, president of the Red Cross, has issued an appeal to the American people to contribute funds to carry donations of grain to the starving Russian people. In it she says: "We know positively that these people are needing and suffering in degree and numbers up to the extent of all statements made; that unless greatly helped the worst is yet to come; that every day their present supply diminishes; that winter is upon them and before them; that even their planted seed grain is frozen in the ground; their crop is lost; the spring brings only bare fields and the summer no harvest. We know that our own granaries are filled as never before; Egypt has corn, and that by the freedom of heaven and not by seven years of saving and economy."

Everything Ready Except the Cash.

"Already the free trains wait on the tracks to bear their burdens to the seaboard; the ships are in the harbor; the wealth is with the people; full-handed, laden, and prospered beyond all others, shall the ships be chartered, or shall they wait? Arrangements for receiving, storing, loading, and making up cargoes in New York are already made on the best possible terms with the oldest shipping houses. Accepted agents are ready to accompany or to precede the first cargo that goes out, and aid in the distribution. Our arrangements enable us to say that $75,000 will ship, including all attendant expenses, four cargoes of food from New York to Liban, on the Baltic, which port is open to steamers and rarely closed in any winter."

We Second the Motion.

If a suggestion could be pardoned it would be that of systematic division of the burden of providing this shipment between the great eastern points of Boston, the representative of New England; New York, of New York state, and Philadelphia, for Pennsylvania and adjoining states; $25,000 each would be so light as to scarcely be felt. The grain contributions waiting in the west would be set free; the ships be chartered and on their way, and our people relieved of a perplexing problem. I would add that Messrs. Riggs and Company, Washington, have kindly consented to receive any funds sent to them for account of the Red Cross."

DEATH OF GEN. BARNUM.

He Began Fighting at Bull Run and Stayed in Till the War Was Over.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—General Henry A. Barnum, a port warden of this city, and one of the most distinguished veterans of the late war, who had been ill with pneumonia since Sunday, died at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He was born in Jamesville, N. Y., Sept. 24, 1837. Having ing taught school and practiced law, he enlisted as a private in the Twelfth New York volunteers, in April, 1861, was elected captain of Company I, and went to the front with his regiment which was the first under fire at Blachburn's Ford in the fighting preliminary to the battle of Bull Run.

Left for Dead at Malvern Hill.

He was promoted to be major in Oct., 1861, and after being for a short time on General Wadsworth's staff rejoined his regiment and served through the peninsular campaign. At Malvern Hill he received a wound from which he never fully recovered) and was left for dead on the field. A body supposed to be his was buried and a funeral oration was delivered at his home. He was taken to Libby prison, where he remained until July 18, 1862.

Fought at Lookout Mountain.

In December, 1863, he was commissioned colonel, and led his regiment at Gettysburg and at Lookout Mountain, where he was again wounded, and where his regiment captured eleven battle flags. He was again wounded in the Atlanta campaign, commanded a brigade on Sherman's march to the sea, and was the first officer to enter Savannah. He was breveted major general on March 13, 1863. On Jan. 6, 1866, he resigned, having declined a colonelcy in the regular army.

SHOCKING FATALITY IN MINNESOTA.

A Woman and Three Children Burned to Death.

BRANEED, Minn., Jan. 30.—A shocking fatality occurred four miles west of this city at 11 o'clock yesterday by which four persons lost their lives. The house belonging to George Crainer caught fire, and his wife and three children were cremated. The husband was away, but saw the fire, and found the burned bodies around the stove.

Discrepancies Discovered.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—On the Stock Exchange it is stated that there exists a discrepancy of £80,000 in the accounts of the late Hume Webster, the famous horse-breeder, who committed suicide last week. As the work of straightening out his affairs progresses more discrepancies are discovered. His friends can not understand how he managed to have such a heavy indebtedness, but they are of the opinion that he operated heavily through outsiders.

Secretary Foster All Right Again.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Foster is expected to return to Washington tonight. Friends who left him Thursday report him as in excellent health.

Another of the Scows Found.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The tug Luckenbach, which has been searching for the tug Webster and her tow of scows, has returned to the city with one of the missing scows, which she had picked up far out to sea. This makes three of the four scows which went adrift accounted for.
