GLADSTONE AND VICINITY

Well after being on a weeks "vacation" in the field, we'll pen a few items, some of which are not strictly "hot off the griddle"

Its a pleasure to help fill the columns of the S. A., but much more pleasant it would be if we possessed a mite of poetical ability and could shout our praise in rhyme as do the Mills and Mosquero writers. However we have one accomplishment which has brought us local fame namely planting corn and growing Russian Thistles.

Construction work on the Federal Highway which connects Clayton and Springer has been in progress for several weeks on the part in Colfax County and will be completed by fall. The east end in Union County was completed last spring and is in fine condition.

A large crowd attended the singing at the school house last Sunday. Most everyone brought dinners which they spread on long tables and then followed the game of help yourself and all eagerly engaged in it.

Messrs Hunter, Lanier and Jones and their wives spent a few days fishing and sight seeing in the mountains. When they left it was understood that they went to fish for fish but now they insist that they went only to fish for sport. Mr and Mrs Hunter went on to Taos and Santa Fe and returned home via Las Vegas.

Ed. Lanier and Lee Glasgow were business visitors in Roy and Mills last week.

Mrs I. Ogden Jr visited relatives near Abbott the first of the week and had some real Ford experience.

Las Vegas, August 8th. A complete survey of the field before post time is under way at Democratic headquarters.

The state chairman, George H Hunker, today addressed letters to every Democrat in the state who has entered or been mentioned as a possibility in the entries for state office. This survey is being made with the view of definitely establishing before the convention who will be running for what.

Besides obtaining an accurate list of the man who will be abreast the tape when the race for nominations begins, Chairman Hunker will have a comprehensive review of what the aims of each man represents. In all of his correspondence to prospective candidates for nomination, the chairman has asked for an expression of their views of various questions, chief among which is the keynote which he sounded when first selected as leader of the New Mexico Democrats.

When the present chairman took the helm of the Democratic party in this state, he announced the sole aim of his faction would be to select and elect a group of officers whose administration would be one of economy with efficiency. The stand taken by Chairman Hunker received state-wide endorsement and, to obtain the various ideas prospective candidates have for developing this major objective, the present survey is being made.

Several Democratic addresses were in town Thursday attending the County Central meeting. All feel confident of receiving the nomination for which they are seeking and we hope their confidence will not fool them.

THE FARMER'S BOY

It may be the most honorable occupation in the world. The world will give you the most honor if you are the farmer's boy. Without him it would be impossible to progress in any line. The farmer has not always considered his position in the dignified way he should. In fact, it is only in recent years that he has been made to realize the scientific side of his work. Prior to that time he was a robber: an ingrate. He scratched the soil; he mutilated it; he robbed it of its producing power. Any farmer who does not give back to the soil a proportionate part of that which he takes from it is an embezzler, not only of God's Providence, but also of Nature's bounty. The farmer did not have the right attitude toward his own son. He worked him because he was his son. That was unfair and dishonest. He should have considered his son a partner and shareholder in the labors, responsibilities, liabilities, assets and profits of the farm. He should have rendered an account to his son, paid him a just compensation, and given him an honest and equitable share in the profits of the farm. The farmer has not always made the farm attractive to his son. You can't keep a boy at home if you give him a pine knot fire by which to read when the world offers him electric lights, a library, and a reading lamp. The farmer must bring the pleasures, amusements, books, magazines, and attractive things into his home and upon his own farm if he expects to keep his boy and make a great agriculturist out of him. The parcel post, the rural mail delivery, the automobile, the paved highway, and other conveniences, are for the purpose of enabling the farmer to bring the attractions of the world into his own little country home, into his own desolated farmhouse, and so his own fireside. If he will seize the opportunity, fill his table with magazines, papers, and good books, bring in the music box, and the wireless radio and thus make his home attractive, bright, cheerful, magnetic, and fascinating, he will keep his boys and girls around him. This is the day of the farm if the farmer will only realize it. This is the hour when the farm ought to be the most attractive spot in the country; this is the moment when the farmhouse ought to ring with music, and the barnyard ought to be the convention hall of agricultural and political activity. The farmer should make his son the leader in that convention and teach him how to mould public opinion and direct legislation. Let the farmer learn how to be generous and kind to his children and to keep them in the atmosphere of agricultural purity, peace and prosperity.

ATTENTION FARMERS

At last it has come. That long expected rain drenched the larger portion of this county on Monday evening. It now behooves the farmers to get busy and prepare their land for the fall planting of wheat. By plowing or cultivating now a large portion of the moisture can be saved besides a great deal of humus can be added to the soil by plowing under the large crop of weeds for it is an established fact that your soil is more productive when humus is applied. In this country about the only crop that can be used for humus is the ever plentiful weed.

Another reason why you should prepare your land well is the fact that it will be easier for you to procure credit for the purchase of the seed wheat that you need. For in these hard times bankers and business-men are going to be very careful to whom they advance credit for seed. They will not furnish large quantities of seed to an individual in order that he might "hobo" in a large crop and trust to luck that he will make a killing. They are going to furnish only such seed as they know will be properly planted and will insist that it be given the proper care. At all times you should remember the old and true saying. If a thing is worth doing at all, it is worth doing right. If you try to follow this old adage you will soon get the respect and confidence of all those with whom you have any dealings.

The Big Muskeg by VICTOR ROUSSEAU

A ROMANCE of railroad building in the grim reaches of the far North, where love and the passions of revenge and hate flame as quickly over the eternal snows as in tropic isles under the moon. An absorbing story of a man who left to his best friend a legacy not merely of difficulty and strife, but of something infinitely more dangerous and disturbing. A tale of strong manhood and womanhood battling against the forces of nature and against more troublesome forces arising in human hearts.
