Mr. W. H. Lockwood has been appointed by Gov. Drew, of Florida, a commissioner of deeds for that State.

Mr. M. Pulitzer is loading at his wharf with cotton seed, the Norwegian bark Kalisto, captain Stray, for a European market.

Mr. George Waterhouse cleared last week the British barkentine Forest Princess, captain Grant, for Queenstown, Eng., with 425 tons cotton seed.

Those of our merchants who have any Gulf Railway bills can lay them away, as they are no longer current in Savannah.

Mr. J. W. Keogh has started a shop in the basement of the Stevens House where he is prepared to repair and upholster furniture. Those who have patronized him speak well of his workmanship.

The French bark Massila, captain Got, which sailed from Bull River February 8th, loaded with phosphate rock for London, was abandoned when two days out. The crew was rescued by the bark Aphrodite and taken to Philadelphia.

Probate Judge Addison will be in town on Monday next and will have a busy week, as the affairs in his office have been at a stand still for some time past, owing to the conflicting decisions as to the legality of the election in November last.

The up night passenger train on the Port Royal Railroad was thrown from the track last Saturday night. The accident occurred on a high embankment and it was fortunate that the cars did not go over as some lives would have been lost. As it was no one was hurt, and the track was soon in order for travel.

Mr. Holmes' valuable watch dog "Bruno" was taken up to Alameda last week, and being unaccustomed to Rail Road wandering on the track and met a train, which he tried to escape by running in front of it for some distance but was overtaken and killed.

Port Royal was much exercised last Monday by the actions and speeches of a white man who advised the colored people to arise and exterminate the whites and take possession of the town. The belligerent fellow was arrested and locked up.

The Sea Weed was brought up in tow of the Agnes on Monday and her repairs were completed at the shop of J. A. Whitman. She was beached yesterday to clean her bottom and is now again on the line, to the delight of the officers who make daily trips between here and the fleet.

Two colored men near Lawtonville were burned to death last Saturday night. It seems that they were preparing to go to a dance and becoming overcome with liquor lay down in a fodder house and while there the fodder caught fire. Their cries were heard, showing that they were awakened, but no assistance could be rendered them on account of the heat.

At the annual meeting of the Washington Steam Fire Engine Co., held last Thursday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. P. Boyce, foreman, W. H. Calvert, assistant foreman, J. F. Huchting secretary, and B. S. Sams, treasurer. Ten new members were admitted by ballot.

The Foot Point excursionists had a good time but some of them found a little bitter in the sweet. One of them in his excessive joy walked overboard and narrowly escaped drowning. While Col. McKay and a friend had a smash up on the way to the depot and were tumbled out of the hack and missed the cars.

On Thursday last Messrs. Dick and Small invited several officers on the Russian ship Askold to take a trip on the Agnes to visit the phosphate works on Coosaw river. The following named persons were of the company: Captain P. Toroff, Dr. J. Triebe, Lieut. A. Plaksin, Sub-Lieut. Lushkoff, Sub-Lieut. and Navigator Masimoff, and Asst. Engineers Lovozovity and Tolkaheff. The hosts had provided a lunch and the necessary fluids to assist digestion, and with a few other guests the Agnes proceeded to St. Helena Sound. The first stopping place was on the dredge Coosaw where the elaborate and costly machinery seemed to astonish the strangers. They showed how like other mortals they were by soon beginning a search of the pile of rock for shark's teeth and other ancient fossils of which they secured some fine specimens. The dredge Palmetto State was next visited, more teeth and bones picked up, the officers taking great delight in exhibiting all the wonders of their dredges and washers. A sail up the Coosaw and a visit to the works of the Coosaw Mining Co. gave them a view of this great enterprise and the immense piles of the rock now awaiting shipment. Their inspection was evidently a source of great pleasure and they could not have been more curious and taken more pains to inquire into the working of each branch of the works had they been veritable Yankees.

Messrs. Dick and Small received the cordial thanks of the party for the pleasure afforded them on this occasion which will not be soon forgotten by the gentlemen from Russia.

Mr. Joseph Parcell, who will be remembered as the proprietor of the Mills House, Charleston, died at the Roper Hospital Wednesday, in the 75th year of his age. He had been in the hospital for several months, going thence from the alms house in an enfeebled state of health and mind.

OUR RUSSIAN VISITORS.

The Orient and Occident, together meet, to-day, And Neva's wintry flood is merged in warm Port Royal bay: The Russian Bear—a synonym of ancient majesty—Greeted the young Eagle of the West, the symbol of the free; And clasping true fraternal hands, the new world with the old, Commingling Southern fervency, and zeal, with Northern cold.

From Celt, from Saxon, or from Goth we sprung not long ago; Perhaps—who knows?—within the veins of Muscovite may flow Some kindred blood, a Norman Strain, or sanguine tide of Gael, Or that more generous stream which finds its source in them all, And thus, as from one parent stem, though dwelling far apart, We trace divergent lineage back to one parent heart.

Hail to our Brothers then, who come from lands beyond the sea, An empire boundless in extent, and great in his story; Whose generous sympathy with us in dark and evil times, Preserves chivalry unimpaired by either zones or climes, And that a Kingdom hoar with age, may yet add to its story Of high renown and brilliant deeds, a brighter page of glory.

The labors of Mrs. Goff in the cause of Temperance in Beaufort has resulted in the organization of a Temperance Union with a large membership, among them some who never before were known to resist the temptation of the flowing bowl. The first regular meeting of the Union was held on Monday evening at the Methodist Church. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, officers elected and committees appointed, after which Mr. George Gage and Mr. J. A. Whitman delivered addresses which we regret we were not permitted to hear, as we were not informed of the meeting. The president of the Union is our Intendant, Alfred Williams Esq., and Mr. S. J. Bampfield vice-president.

Another Wreck.

The bark "Leif" captain Marcussen, was wrecked on Hunting Island bar last Friday afternoon. The captain reports that at half past four p. m. on that day while six miles off Hunting Island light his vessel, which he supposed was in deep water, struck on the bank and as a high sea was running the vessel soon began making water. The men were kept at the pumps until 11 p. m. when as there was seven feet of water in the hold mixed with sand it was evident that the bottom was sprung and the hands refusing to risk their lives any longer took to the boats, but were picked up near the wreck by the pilot boat Louly and landed at the Coosaw mines. The captain telegraphed to Charleston for a boat, and the Republic went at once to the wreck and saved the sails and rigging.

The Leif was owned in Tyedstrand Norway, was 296 tons burden, and had a cargo of salt for Savannah which she took in at Liverpool. She was three years old and insured for $18,500, about all she was worth. The captain says his disaster was owing to the incorrectness of the English charts which he was using.

The Division of the County.

Pursuant to public notice a convention of citizens of the upper portion of Beaufort County, assembled at Brunson, (P. R. R. R.) on the 21st inst., and organized by calling James W. Moore, Esq., of Gillisville to the chair, and appointed B. F. Buckner, secretary. The chairman having announced the object of the meeting to be a division of the County, a committee of ten, viz: Messrs. C. J. Colecock, J. H. Ruddell, W. S. Tillinghast, Wm. J. Johnston, Wm. J. Gooding, S. F. Ellis, Henry Goethe, Wm. G. Peoples, Frank Warren, Wm. G. Causey, was raised with instructions to consider and report the boundaries and name of the proposed County. After retiring the committee returned and their report, with some modification proposed by Rev. H. C. Smart, was with great unanimity adopted as follows: That the Northern, Eastern, and Western boundaries of the new County, to be styled "Palmetto," remain as at present and the Southern boundary be the lower line of the right of way of the Savannah and Charleston R. R., from the Sakkehatchie to Savannah River.

The following named gentlemen Messrs. J. W. Moore, C. J. Colecock, W. S. Tillinghast, Wm. J. Gooding, C. J. C. Hutson, were appointed to prepare a memorial to the Legislature, praying the creation of said County—copies of said memorial to be circulated for signatures through the agency of the committee of ten named above. The convention then adjourned.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS.—Do not put off buying your fertilizer until the last moment, but send in your orders at once. Messrs. WILCOX, GIBBS & Co. have only a limited supply of their celebrated WILCOX GIBBS & Co's MANIPULATED GUANO, and if you delay your order you may fail in having it filled, besides transportation may be obstructed; and in waiting for your guano, your farm operation will be retarded. Recollect "time is money" so call on their agent and obtain your supply before it is too late. They are very liberal in their terms guano being delivered at interior depots, and the option given of paying in Cotton on the basis of fifteen cents for middling, delivered next Fall at planters' nearest depot.

Russia continues to make preparations for an aggressive war against Turkey. Her army south of the Caucasus is quite as ready for action, and almost as powerful, as the one in Bessarabia. She has there 150,000 men, 35 field batteries, and 250 heavy siege guns.

D. H. CHAMBERLAIN, Governor of S. C. H. E. HAYNE, Secretary of State.

The Legislature of Georgia at its session in 1875 and 1876 passed a number of acts known as "local option" laws—laws allowing the voters of towns and villages to determine whether liquor should be retailed or not. The Legislature lately in session has gone a step further. It has passed several acts absolutely prohibiting the sale of liquor in certain localities. It is probable that the execution of these laws will be resisted, and that the Courts of the State will be called upon to determine whether the General Assembly had the authority to enact such legislation. In many counties prohibition is an issue upon which local politics depend.

When David Spry the colored man who robbed ex-Senator Owens was sentenced by Judge Carpenter to five years imprisonment in the penitentiary, he burst out crying, drew a knife and cut a terrible gash in his neck, but without doing serious injury. The Judge, who is a very matter-of-fact sort of somebody said that the Court was not often treated to such dramatic scenes—doubtless, it would be better for the community if some of them were more successful.

The Great and Little Disma Swamps embrace above 3,000,000 acres of the richest lands of North Carolina a large portion of which, by a moderate outlay for draining, could be made equal to the most fertile of Louisiana. These lands belong chiefly to the educational fund, but are of no present value to it. Gov. Vance is anxious to have them drained, and has directed a bill to be prepared for the Legislature on the subject.

A party of English and German capitalists have purchased 3,000,000 acres of Florida State lands, and are organizing an immigration company. The money paid for these lands, it is said, will pay off the State debt and leave a balance in the Treasury. Florida since the war has become one of the marvels of the South and the Northern people have found there some of their most delightful hours.

It makes a man lose confidence in human nature to waken suddenly in the morning and find his wife sitting on the side of the bed exploring the recesses of his vest pocket for loose change.
