FROM WHICH WE MIGHT DRAW A LESSON
Mr. H. L. Abbot of McKeesport, Pa., has resigned from the common council of that city, saying:
My resignation is purely a matter of conscience. It is my determination to live a life void of offense to God and man. To do so it becomes necessary to obey the Divine injunction: "Come ye out from among them and be ye separate." I have found that in order to be of use to my constituents, to secure needed improvements for my district, I must stifle my conscience, enter into cliques and schemes and become a low politician. I cannot do that and have resigned.
Politics is the most corrupt thing I have ever been mixed up with. I am out of it forever. I have separated myself, and my conscience is satisfied. Others may not agree with me, but I know that no Christian can sit in the McKeesport council and save his soul.
A noble state of affairs that it exists in this state as it does in McKeesport. The only practical mode that suggests itself to our minds for its removal is for the electors to think well of what they are doing and weigh well every step taken, when on the eve of selecting their officers. If men of high character, those whose above contamination are put in the offices of honor and trust in our State, then we may hope to remove this evil, decided by all patriotic citizens, and thereby introduce an era of statesmanship that would redound to the glory of our State and be a means of upbuilding humanity in general. We therefore, as citizens, should avail ourselves of the opportunity that will be presented at the next election and for this old State as in its timble good by setting our backs judiciously. It is a privilege that we have, a duty we owe to posterity.

America's rapid strides towards commercial supremacy have caused a good many European nations to become very apprehensive of the results, and has brought forth expressions from newspapers the world over. But while all this is agitating the minds of people in all parts of the globe, Mr. Alexander Home Ford calls attention to the fact that in the extensive new markets of the east, America herself is being outstripped by Japan. From this it would seem that it is Japan rather than England who is threatening the commercial supremacy of America in China and the far east. It is a state of affairs that might give food for thought to our wisest statesmen.

The court martialing of army officers has become so common in occurrence that it can scarcely be termed a sensation. Only a few days ago several high officials and some of their subordinates connected with the commissary and quartermaster departments, were tried for too lavishly appropriating to their own use the goods of Uncle Sam without his consent. If these offenders should be dealt with as they deserve and in accordance with the precedent recently set in the case of a delinquent Porto Rican official, who was sentenced to thirty-two years imprisonment for stealing $2,000, there would be a less number of court martials for such offenses.

Innocence is not virtue; it is simply the ignorance of evil which virtue recognizes and rejects. In the infant, who is irresponsible for any act of his and wholly unconscious of its results, we find the beauty of innocence, in it's most pleasing existence. Virtue on the other hand has its existence after maturity and enables us to meet the many and stern realities of life, to put down evil, and to build up character for the betterment and ennobling of humanity in general.

AN EDITOR AND A GOLDEN HAIR.
How a Writer Sought to Trap Him by Placing it Between the Pages of a Manuscript.
"One beautiful spring morning an editor found a golden hair lying between the pages of a manuscript," writes Edward Bell concerning "The Case Against the Editor" in the Ladies' Home Journal for July. "The moment he reached the page it gracefully fluttered out. Flushed with excitement, the editor caught it. It was not his hair, he realized, therefore it was not his property. Then, again, he thought, the owner probably lost it and might need it." So he put it back. He was a methodic man and he replaced it exactly as he had found it. He was not many days older when he received a letter proving by the very hair he had so dextrously caught and conscientiously replaced, that he never had read, nor even opened, the manuscript of the writer. Could anything have been a clearer case against the editor? Very certainly not. It was conclusive and final, don't you say?"

Saves Two From Death
"Our little daughters had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung disease yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Cold, Sore Throat, Whooping Cough, and Croup. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by F. B. Gunter, Trial bottles free.

Our Picnickers.
Early yesterday morning, June 25th, the young people of Batesburg could have been seen bustling around making preparations for what was destined to be a very pleasant picnic at Quattabaum's pond. They arrived at the pond in a body, from the north and south, to leave very early in the morning. The young people were seen to be having a thoroughly good time, in the pleasures of the day, while those who wish for quiet nooks to tell their ardent tales of love, can be accommodated at the same time. It was evident that several had the latter feelings, but how could it be helped, with such lovely creatures? We absolutely could not help ourselves.

Dear Editor:
I have recently made a visit to Batesburg and am so agreeably surprised with the growth and prosperity of the town, that I feel inclined to say a few things through the columns of your paper. There is your National Bank, pre-ided over by one of the safest and best men in the state. By the way, I bear his name spoken of in connection with the Governor's office. No man in the state would make us a better Governor, and I would be glad to see him elected.
Then comes the Batesburg Advocate, which, in my judgement compares favorably with any weekly in the state. It deserves a large circulation and I hope it will succeed beyond your most sanguine wishes.
I find, also, that many new stores have been built of brick in the last few years; and others are now being erected. I am told that one of these stores will be filled with general merchandise and the other with a full line of hardware.
The factory, I learn, is running day and night and making a profit. In short, everything in Batesburg indicates thrift, energy, progress, happiness and prosperity.
More anon,
Lupo.

This article should have appeared in last week's issue. We offer this in way of explanation of one of our last editorials.—Ed.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR
"Something New Under the Sun"
All doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, astringents, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up in the mucous membrane causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membrane, that their complete removal is necessary to cure. The ointments cannot reach the diseased area. And old and experienced practitioners have failed to cure. The treatment of Catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures Catarrh by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches affected parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES, THE GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE" and is sold at the extra low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.
"SNUFFLES" is the only CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and distressing disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve Hay FEVER or COLD in the HEAD.
CATARRH when neglected often leads to CONSUMPTION—"SNUFFLES" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete curement which is positively guaranteed to cure cure CATARRH in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay, but send for literature, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "SNUFFLES" CURE.
