Your Good Health

depends upon the food you eat.
Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder adds to the healthfulness of all risen flour-foods.

Not only this, it makes the food lighter, sweeter, finer-flavored, more delicious.

It is worth while to exercise care in purchasing baking powder to see that you get the kind that makes the food more wholesome and at the same time more palatable.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.,
CHICAGO.

NOTE.—There are many mixtures, made in imitation of baking powder, which it is prudent to avoid. They are lower in price than pure powders, but they are made from alum. Alum in food is poisonous.

Jim Berry writes home that the twelve boys who recently left Socorro for Rocky Ford, Colorado, to work for the American Beet Sugar company arrived upon the scene of their labors in good condition, but that hard labor on hands and knees in the hot sun and short rations are rather quelling the boys' ambition.

Nestor P. Eaton visited the mining camp at Rosedale a week ago and gives a glowing description of the condition of affairs he found existing in that mountain town. Some paying mines, much prospecting, good business, a beautiful location, an abundance of timber, a saw mill, fine water, a good place for an everlasting picnic—these are some of the advantages enjoyed by the 300 inhabitants of Rosedale that give them unbounded confidence in the future of their village.

Hon. W. S. George of Cooney writes that business in camp Cooney is increasing and that busy times are looked for this summer; also that Messrs. T. F. Cooney, a nephew of Capt. M. Cooney, and A. G. Morrow have bought the Louis Liot store building, stock of merchandise, and dwelling, that they are enterprising, up-to-date young business men and will continue and enlarge the business at Cooney.

The children's day exercises at the Presbyterian church last Sunday were exceedingly interesting. The regular church services were suspended and the day given over to the children, who acquitted themselves well in an extended program of recitations and singing. The church was profusely decorated with growing plants and was filled with spectators to its utmost capacity. A collection amounting to $10.12 was taken for the benefit of foreign missions. Mrs. Quinlan was elected assistant superintendent to serve instead of the regular superintendent, Professor Phalen, until his return from his summer vacation.

There has been a great dearth of water in the city this week because the water pipe is broken where it crosses the arroyo and a large share of the water that ought to supply the thirsting population of Socorro is running to waste. The fact that many people who pay water tax are deprived of water for drinking and cooking purposes is not the only hardship of the situation. The fire clay works are now running only half-time and one of the homes of the city came near being reduced to ashes a few nights ago because of this same lack of water. Whoever is responsible for this apparently inexcusable state of affairs ought to be held strictly to account.

The county commissioners, who were in session the first of the week, did a wise thing in accepting the road just completed from Escondida to Lemitarcita by the efforts and contributions of John Greenwald and other citizens of Socorro and vicinity. The commissioners did no less wisely in appropriating $100 for the improvement of the road from Socorro to Escondida. The committee appointed to inspect and report upon the condition of the road consisted of A. D. Coon, Eduardo Stapleton, and Eduardo Torres. These gentlemen reported the road in a good and passable condition and recommended its acceptance by the county. There are few greater public benefits than good public roads, and few public roads are greater benefits than this one.
