

Weekly Citizen

[From the Daily, April 18.]
W. S. Hopwood, a gentleman from Hillboro, N. M., was in the city today.

A train of eighteen cars loaded with Cerrillos coal, arrived from the north this morning.

Mrs. T. G. Tisdale, wife of a machinist of the Atlantic & Pacific, gave birth yesterday to a nine pound boy.

George Johnson, a bright young lawyer from Missouri, is in the city and may hang out his shingle here.

Captain James D. Reed died at Magdalena last Wednesday evening. He was 60 years old, and was a cattle raiser.

Henry Lockhart has fifteen acres planted in fruit trees. His ranch is east of the Indian school, two miles north of the city.

J. W. Farnsworth has made such an excellent agent for the two railroads here that the reports are universal over his removal to El Paso.

Herman Schultz, the carriage maker and horse shoer on Copper avenue, has just completed a handsome wagon for Undertaker Montfort.

No. 4, last night's Atlantic & Pacific passenger, was three hours and a half late, getting in at 7:55 o'clock. Hot boxes and a poor engine caused a delay.

John Hughes and wife were up before Justice Machien this morning for being drunk and disorderly. They were fined $5 and costs each, which they paid.

Rev. J. A. Pinkerton, a Presbyterian minister, and wife, of Pueblo, Col., were passengers from the north last night and are at the San Felipe. They are here for health.

The low places on the Santa Fe road, where trouble heretofore has been experienced from high waters, have all been repaired and no fears are entertained this spring from overflows.

Ben Johnson, cattle inspector for this district, has returned from a business trip to Santa Fe. Mr. Johnson is a practical cattleman, and the association did well in making him inspector.

T. W. McLiving is now the city jailer, and he had his gang of street cleaners out this morning. His nomination has not been confirmed by the board of aldermen, but will be at the next regular session.

The privileges for the spring meeting of the Gentlemen's Driving association were sold this afternoon as follows: Bar, soda and lemonade, to Fritz Lammann; places for selling post, the St. Elmo, pool seller, Chas. Yonker.

Miss Jennie Chibott, a sweet young lady from Pueblo, and granddaughter of Senator Chibott, of Colorado, who recently died in St. Louis, also niece of P. A. Simpson, of this city, is visiting Moses Mann and Mund Simpson.

W. A. Walker this morning received a letter from A. L. Morrison, registrar of the land office at Santa Fe, stating that all homestead entries filed prior to March 4, 1891, can be commuted after six months residence thereon; after that date fourteen months.

C. L. & W. Eaton, the mine owner who runs a mill at Magdalena, Socorro county, and father-in-law of Judge C. H. Gildersleeve, the Santa Fe politician, with democratic proclivities, is at the San Felipe. The colonel is well known to many of our citizens.

The following real estate transfers are reported by Balloran & Washington: Chas. Whiting to W. O. Sevier, lots 10, 11 and 12, block 23, Highlands, for $1,000; John McDonald and wife to W. C. Leonard, lot 1, block 1, and lot 1, block 5, Bacon's addition, for $2,500.

Tax return blanks must be filled out and returned to the assessor's office by the 30th of this month, otherwise the assessor will clip on the full penalty and make out the return himself. No $300 exemption goes this year; everybody must pay taxes on everything he owns.

Speculation, the sorrel stallion of J. A. Johnson, who was injured at the fall meeting of the fair association last year, will not take part in the spring races. Mr. Johnson believes that his noble race horse will be able to go a mile and repeat as fast as he did a few years ago at this year's meeting of the fair association.

John Eberhart, a health-seeker from Goodyear, Wis., who has been at the ranch of Mrs. N. C. Bennett, is reported quite ill. A few weeks ago his faithful wife, Mrs. Alice Eberhart, arrived and is attending to his wants. The gentleman is a victim of that dread disease, consumption, but is being carefully watched by friends on the ranch.

The remains of Joseph Shotwell were shipped to Richmond, Mo., for burial on No. 2 to day, accompanied by the bereaved father and mother. Short services were held over the body at the residence of Mrs. Hawley on Silver avenue by Rev. Beattie, after which the remains were taken to the depot in time for the east-bound passenger train.

Mrs. Ignacia Aranda, aunt of Manuel Gonzalez, died in old town yesterday morning and will be buried from the cathedral at 10 a. m. Monday. About fifteen years ago she was stricken down with paralysis, and since then was a helpless invalid, crawling on her hands and knees. For the past few months she was totally confined to the bed, and death came no doubt as a happy relief.

John Carroll, a consumptive, died at the Atlantic & Pacific hospital this morning at 10:30 o'clock. He had charge of the section at Rio Puerco, up to the time his health failed, when he was brought to the hospital for treatment. The funeral will take place from O. W. Strong's undertaking rooms to-morrow at 3 p. m., the body receiving burial in the company's lot at Fairview cemetery.

J. C. Vining, who has been station agent at Laguna for the past two years, has resigned his position and Chas.

Reubondale promoted from night operator to agent. Mr. Vining is in the city today, en route to Denver, where he will travel for an eastern road, representing the passenger department. Mrs. Vining is at present sick at Flagstaff and as soon as she regains her health she will join her husband at Denver. With Mrs. Vining absent from Laguna, the only white ladies in the Indian village will be Mrs. Duron and her daughter, Mrs. Edna Runney, the Indian teachers.

The Fair Directors. Last evening the fair association, by previous announcement issued by Secretary Hawley, met at the Albuquerque National bank, and the following gentlemen were selected as a board of directors: C. C. Hall, S. M. Folsom, M. P. Stamm, Chas. Zeiger, H. L. Jones, John A. Lee, C. B. Hawley, W. P. Metcalf, C. E. Hunt, Andrew Smith, Henry Lockhart, F. W. Hoyt, W. L. Trimble, Albert Eisenmann, J. T. Barreclough, M. Mandell, Perfecto Arajo, Chas. Goepp, G. W. Hickox, J. T. Lathey, J. A. Johnson, G. L. Brooks, T. H. Hughes, J. G. Albright and J. E. Saint.

The directors will meet next Saturday night, at which time the officers will be selected. It is understood that there are two candidates for the presidency of the association. J. G. Albright and C. C. Hall. The names of Henry Lockhart, G. L. Brooks, C. B. Hawley, W. P. Metcalf, Chas. Goepp and R. M. Barbour are mentioned in connection with the position of secretary.

This year's fair will be the greatest event of the kind ever held in the south-west, and will be a big advertisement for the territory at large, and there will be a larger attendance of people from abroad.

The Gun Club. The Albuquerque Gun club held a meeting at the St. Elmo last evening. It was moved and carried that after the membership has reached thirty the initiation be raised to $5.

W. T. McCright was accepted as an active member of the club subject to no initiation fees or dues, and a vote of thanks was tendered Tim Critzes for the interest he has taken in the club.

Twenty singles and six pairs double bills to constitute each shoot for club meals.

The best average for one month of four shoots of 128 is hit, commencing first regular shoot in May, to wear the medal one month.

Secretary C. H. Pope reported the amount of debt, with $55 cash in the treasury.

Agjourned to meet first Tuesday in May, at 8 p. m.

On a Visit. A. A. Trimble, father of Will, Noble and John, of this city, and brother of Judge Trimble, the distinguished old Kentuckian residing in the west end, was a passenger on No. 1 last night, quietly appearing among his sons without their knowledge. He is a prosperous, energetic farmer of McCracken county, Ky., a few miles from the pretty little city of Paducah. On his way out he stopped over two days at Garden City, Kansas, where he spent several days with another member of the Trimble family. This morning he visited his brother, the judge, in old town, and was very much interested in the quaint, ancient like appearance of the place. The visitor will remain several weeks in the metropolis.

A Whopper. H. E. Parker, a young man about 20 years old, slightly built and light mustache, who has worked at the I. X. L. laundry for the past two weeks, has proved himself a rascally dead beat and has skipped. He claimed to have hailed from Houston, Texas, where it is understood he secured a fine suit of clothes through misrepresentation. He leaves a number of unpaid bills behind in this city, the price of a fine Winchester rifle at S. E. Rose & Bro.'s, a week's board bill at the Windsor, and other accounts. He is an inveterate cigarette smoker, and is no doubt one of those slick fellows who can get credit just for the asking. He has thirty cents coming to him at the laundry, which he can have provided he personally calls for it.

Little Vivian Dead. Vivian Stivers, the eight month old girl baby of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stivers, is dead, death having resulted from inflammation of the bowels. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 12:30 o'clock from the family residence, No. 204 Lead avenue. Mr. Stivers, the bereaved father, is employed as job printer and occasionally editorial writer on the Democrat, coming here with his wife and precious babe, now dead, about four months ago from Denver. The Critzes extends its heart felt sympathy to the distressed parents.

Who Will Be Foreman? Next Tuesday, as THE CITIZEN understands, the members of the Scott Moore hose company will meet, and the matter of selecting a foreman, now that the old foreman has been made the chief of the department, will be discussed and the foreman chosen. Some of the boys have brought forward the names of Joseph Farr and W. E. Rogers for the position. They are old time firemen, faithful in pulling the cart, good runners to fires, and either would make an acceptable foreman.

Will Go to Work Monday. Civil Engineer Simpson, who has received the contract from the county commissioners to complete the dyke just above Alameda for a stipulated price, will leave the city to-morrow morning to begin work early Monday. He will put to work at once about 200 men, and expects to have the dyke completed by next Saturday afternoon. There is about 9,000 cubic yards unfinished, and when the work is done, ready to turn over to the commissioners, the length of the dyke will be one mile and fifty feet and built substantially to combat the elements for years to come.

[From the Daily, April 20.] Mrs. A. H. Meyers is confined to her bed with an aggravated attack of neuralgia.

The farmers in this portion of the Rio Grande valley are now busy putting in their corn.

Mr. Arthur Ross is just finishing a neat adobe house on his homestead three miles south of town.

The Lutheran church of this city will erect a handsome church building on North Third street this year.

Richard Thomas, a bright young medical student of Kentucky, has accepted a position with W. Y. Walt in the drugstore.

Wm. Farr, counselman from ward No. 1, left on Saturday evening's passenger train for Arizona. He will return to-morrow evening.

Presenting Attorney W. S. Williams, Sheriff C. A. Robinson and Dr. C. J. Duncan, all of Socorro, were in the city yesterday and registered at the Armistice.

Miss Bertha Kuster, a cousin of Dr. Kuster, counselman from ward No. 2, who has been visiting here for about a month, will leave to-night for Los Angeles, California.

The river was falling a little this morning. The weather for the last two weeks has been just such as was needed to dispose of the large bodies of snow in the north without causing unusually high water in the river.

There is room at Tijeras for a town of 1,000 people, but the half dozen residents there do not appear to have elbow room, and are quarreling over petty water rights. Better hold a caucus and decide differences amicably.

Col. Albright, of the Democrat, received a telegram this morning stating that Mrs. Albright, who is in Chicago attending a meeting of the lady managers of the World's fair, was seriously ill, and he left for the east by the noon train.

The new building put up by W. H. Norris, Esq., on Broadway, near Lead avenue, is now finished ready for occupancy, and is one of the handsomest residences in that portion of the city. Its cost, complete, has been about $10,000.

W. T. McCright, the rustling city editor of the Albuquerque Critzes, together with other members of the journal maintains its reputation as the best local paper in New Mexico, and the Los Vegas by his progress this week Stock Grower.

The following names were disposed of by Police Judge DeBham this morning: Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, drunk and disorderly; Jas. Dempsey, drunk; Jas. Hamilton, drunk; John Wilson, vag; E. Mann and John Dow, indecent exposure of person.

Building operations in Albuquerque are seriously retarded by the want of brick. Several large kilns are burning, or about ready to fire, at the different yards, but every brick is already engaged, and those who did not get their orders in on time will have to wait till "next trip."

C. W. Sanders, formerly connected with the Atlantic & Pacific office, this city, and R. Coleman, his brother in law, were passengers from Council Bluffs, Iowa, Saturday evening. They are guests of J. B. Bushnell, and will leave to-morrow evening for either the south or west.

Last night Mr. James Bramlett and Miss Ella Moreland were united in the bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, 734 Armo street, by Rev. M. Jones. The contracting parties are among the best of our colored citizens and they have their best wishes for a happy future.

The Mendelssohn Quintette club appeared at Grant's opera house Saturday evening, showing to a highly appreciative audience. The club is composed of strictly stars in the musical world, and the singing of Miss Marie Bernard surpassed anything of the kind ever heard in Albuquerque.

The Stock Grower says: "Artesian wells are still going down all through the Peecs valley, and in every instance strong flowing wells are struck at a very short depth. The survey for the railroad from Eddy to Roswell is under way, water is now running in the big ditches of the Peecs Irrigating company, and the prospects are that this year will witness a great influx of desirable immigrants into that section, the most fertile and best watered of all the great southwest."

Married this morning by Rev. Father Fede at the Catholic church at 8 o'clock, Mr. Luis R. Tafuya and Rebecca Fetherstone. The bride is a niece of E. P. Tafuya, river commissioner of Bernalillo county. They will give a grand ball at the Nick Sanchez building on Second street this evening. The ball room has been most artistically decorated, and the best of music has been engaged. The Critzes extends its congratulations, with best wishes for the future welfare and prosperity of the happy couple.

The Las Vegas Stock Grower says: Julius Eisenmann, the leading Albuquerque wool dealer, was in Las Vegas this week on a prospecting trip. He thinks the outlook for wool growers is very favorable, and anticipates an active demand for the spring clip, at a possible advance over last year's price. The clip will reach the market earlier this season than usual, and it is expected to be in prime condition, the season having been favorable for growth, and the percentage of dirt will be much smaller than usual.

Yesterday's Game. Quite a large crowd witnessed the ball game yesterday between the old favorite—the Shamrocks and the Santa Fe railroad boys. Seven innings were played, which convinced the railroad boys that they were no match for the Shamrocks. The game was started with Riker and Hazel doing the battery work for the railroad club, while Mandell and Murray were in the points for the Shamrocks. The latter club started the ball rolling in the first inning by batting Riker's delivery for six runs, which rattled the railroad boys somewhat, and from that inning on they played without the spirit they manifested before the game.

The game was the first of the season and was a good starter for the Shamrocks. A little more practice and Albuquerque would have a club that would make any town in the territory play ball to let it.

It is to be hoped that Las Vegas and Santa Fe will organize and arrange a series with our boys this summer. The features of the game yesterday was the catching of Hazel and the pitching of L. Mandell, while Graham distinguished himself by bringing down a line-drive over third base. The score was, Shamrocks 16, railroads 6.

A Type of Western Energy and Courage. The building now going erected in Albuquerque by the Albuquerque Commercial club, is now sufficiently advanced in construction to show that it is to be one of the finest buildings in the territory erected by private means. It is at the same time an index of the public spirit of the town. An earnest of the success of its people in the future, and establishes a standard which will excite emulation in all the towns of the territory in the construction of similar public buildings.

The Albuquerque Commercial club is an organization comprising something over one hundred members, business men of the city representing all its vocations and interests, and the number is steadily increasing. Within their membership a building association is organized, and it is by this latter organization that the building is being erected. The building, with the ground it occupies, is to cost sixty thousand dollars, and most of that amount is already provided by individual subscriptions of five hundred dollars each. The members of the building association.

The building is being erected on the southwest corner of Grand avenue and Fourth street, one block east of the San Felipe hotel. Its dimensions are fifty feet front on Grand avenue, and one hundred and forty feet on Fourth street. The two fronts of Flagstaff red sandstone artistically designed and wrought, and will be the most elegantly massive building fronts, public or private, in the territory, typical of the energy, the confidence, and the courage of the business men of Albuquerque.

The first floor will be devoted to store rooms for rent, the second to the club rooms, and the third to apartments for lease to the members of the club.

The erection of a building of this character for the purpose indicated by its name, and by an association created for the purpose of enhancing the business interests of the town, is a gratifying indication of the confidence of the people of Albuquerque, not only in the continuing growth of their town, and the territory at large, but in its extending commerce as a commercial center, and as an important factor in all the affairs of the territory, commercial, industrial and political, for such Albuquerque has already to a great degree come to be, and that position is destined to be greatly magnified with the lapse of years, and not effectively seconded, as the conditions to that end will be, by her commercial bays. Albuquerque has reason to be proud of this organization, and every man in the territory will do well to follow her example. Deming Head light.

Yesterday morning the Montezuma Gun club, organized with young men residing in the southern part of the city, met on their grounds for practice, and the following is the individual score of those who participated in the shoot at single birds out of twenty: Thorpe, 7; Laine, 6; Cassels, 0; Bartlett, 8; McLiving, 15; Kahns, 15; A. P. Lindsay, 7; Martin, 16; Graves, 8; Bonnell, 13; W. L. Lindsay, 8. The Montezuma club is now a fixed organization and the members practice regularly every Sunday morning.

The Albuquerque Gun club met in the afternoon on their practice ground north of the city and at practice birds out of twenty the following score was recorded: Austin, 6; Biedson, 9; Baldrige, 11; Locke, 6; A. Henry, 16; C. Henry, 8; No. 8, 7; McCarty, 7; Barnett, 15. At double birds out of twelve the following score was made: Austin, 2; Biedson, 2; Baldrige, 7; Locke, 1; Barnett, 7; A. Henry, 7; C. Henry, 5; No. 8, 3; McCarty, 4; Gansley, 4.

The new bridge over the Rio Grande at Los Lunas, which was built last summer by the county of Valencia, has been rendered useless for the present by reason of the fact that the river has cut a channel through on the east side, leaving the east end of the bridge on an island. This is one of the best bridges on the Rio Grande, and it was supposed that the approaches were so well protected that the work could not be interfered with by the changing currents of the river. But the Rio Grande is a difficult stream to deal with, and until the country gets able to put up substantial structures of stone and iron, the best way to provide reliable crossings will be by pontoon bridges. These are cheaper than bridges of any other kind, and whenever the river wants to change its location the bridge can change with it.

New Business Block. The large brick building on the corner of Fourth street and Railroad avenue, used by W. L. Trimble & Co. as a carriage repository, and owned by Jacobo Yrizarri, is to be enlarged and rearranged for general business purposes. It will be made one story higher, the lower floor being used for store rooms and the upper for offices. It will make one of the best business blocks in town.

Major J. W. Clark, a prominent capitalist and mining man, of Denver, Colorado, and Mr. S. N. Large, a mine expert, are at Chloride.

J. E. Collard, a pleasant gentleman from Denver, is looking for a good investment in Mesilla Valley fruit lands.

[From the Daily, April 21.] Dr. A. D. Smith, of the dental firm of Smith & Smith, will be in Flagstaff from April 25 to May 3.

E. R. Smith, representing Porter & Coates, Chicago dealers in school books, is at the San Felipe.

G. W. Mayers, of the San Felipe, left for the east last Saturday a week ago on an important business, got home last night.

Henry Lockhart, late recorder of the city and proprietor of the Armistice National business, will not return until Thursday.

W. E. Saylor and wife, popular and wealthy citizens of Friday, Ohio, are making a tour for pleasure through the southwest. They are at the San Felipe today.

William McIntosh, the Santa sheep raiser, who has been engaging city life for the past few days, got in his buck today this morning and left for the ranch.

The family of James A. Jackson, the gentleman who recently purchased the Phoenix school, have arrived from Japan, Mr. and Mrs. are now permanent citizens of the metropolis.

The ladies of the Lead avenue Methodist church have agreed to repeat "Trade Carnival" the coming fall, probably some evening during far week. The merchants are anxious to have it repeated.

County Surveyor Kilbourne and C. O'Connor have got in from the dyke this afternoon. They report about 200 men at work, and state that Contractor Simpson expects to have the dyke completed by Saturday afternoon.

Gov. Steyer, who is interested in several valuable mines located in the Magdalena, took this morning's early freight train for the south. Magdalena is at present employing a good mining team and the governor wants to see it.

More horses are coming to participate in the spring races, which open here on April 30th. El West, of Trinidad, telegraphs that he will arrive to-morrow with a string of trotters. He will also bring along several good horses for sale.

The mother-in-law of J. F. Will and at her residence in the Highlands yesterday afternoon and was buried this afternoon in Santa Barbara cemetery, the funeral occurring at the old town Catholic church. The deceased was 81 years old.

Perfecto Arajo yesterday was informed by Gov. Prince of his selection as a delegate to the Trans-Mississippi congress, which convenes in Denver, May 19. Rush of business in the assessor's office compels Mr. Arajo to decline the nomination.

Pearce & Behners, civil engineers and surveyors, have established themselves in an office at the corner of Railroad avenue and Second street. They are young gentlemen, strictly competent, and their reports and examinations on work are reliable.

Perhaps it would expedite matters if any members of the New Mexico press association who can arrange to attend the national editorial association of the United States in St. Paul July 14th to 17th, would send their names to either the president in Las Vegas or the secretary in Albuquerque.

Rev. Pinkerton, the Presbyterian minister of Pueblo, and wife, who have been in the city for a few days, left last night for San Diego. Years ago, while a minister in Beloit, Kansas, James Fadden was one of Rev. Pinkerton's Sabbath school boys, and yesterday they were pleased to meet each other.

Chas. Schroeder is proving up his preemption entry, which adjoins Santiago Baca's soda springs, to-day before Probate Court Clerk Harris. E. W. Donovan is conducting the case for Mr. Baca, who is contesting the location.

Gov. Prince and wife, Judge Seeds and wife, Solicitor General E. B. Bartlett, Secretary Thomas, Judge S. L. Hart, Hon. A. L. Hughes and Judge Thornton, of Santa Fe, passed down the road last night and are taking part in the reception tendered President Harrison and party at El Paso this afternoon.

E. R. Wells, who has been with Frank & Eakin for the past year, will leave Friday for Cheyenne, Wyoming, where he will accept a position with the Warren Live Stock company. En route to his new field of duty, Mr. Wells will stop over a day in Denver to see his father who is a real estate agent of that prosperous city.

Judge N. C. Collier, the democratic city attorney who is assisting the new republican administration until an attorney is appointed, and wife are receiving the congratulations of their neighbors over the arrival at their home the other evening of a fine girl baby. The judge is around looking the pink of happiness, and Mrs. Collier and baby are reported doing nicely.

The Albuquerque base ball club, familiarly called "The Shamrocks," will be reorganized on evening this week. There is good material in the city and the exhibitions of the national sport are guaranteed this summer. It is understood that club will be organized in Socorro and Gallup on the south, and Las Vegas, Santa Fe and Cerrillos on the north, and series of games will be arranged. The Albuquerque club will be composed strictly of home players, all amateurs, and will have two batteries—Mandell and Hegal, and Knight and Murray.

There is a certain young gentleman, a bicycle rider, who has been making mysterious calls on a certain lady, and these calls have been made from the rear portion of the house, the young man always leaving his bicycle at the back gate. Several nights ago he was watched and last evening when he rode up to his accustomed place, dismounted, rapped on the back door and was received with a kick from the lady, he had no idea he was being watched. Such was the case, and as soon as he was comfortably inside of the house, two mechanics fellows crept up to the back fence and took the bicycle around to the front gate. It was several hours before the bicycle was found and the man of the house came very near being the finder. It was a narrow escape for the bicycle rider.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Green, excellent citizens residing on the Highlands, last evening gave a delightful party at their residence in honor of their friend, Miss Leanne Brookman. Card playing, interspersed with cake eating and wine drinking, was in order for several hours, and the evening happily enjoyed. The following gentlemen, with ladies, were present: Emmet Davidson, of San Marcial, John McNichols, of La Junta, Vincent Grant and John Neimms, of this city.

The Hebrew Festival of the Passover, celebrated by the Jews for 3,000 years, commences to-morrow evening, the 23d. This commemorates an event in Hebrew history which is a faithful descendant of that race ever fails to appropriately celebrate in what part of the world he may be at the time. The delivery of the Jews from Egyptian bondage, the "passing over" of the Hebrew houses, whose posts were marked by the blood of the lamb, when the first born of the Egyptians were ordered to be slain, the parting of the waters of the Red sea, the safe passage of the favored of the Lord to the holy land beyond the closing of the waters again on the pursuing army of Egypt's king, thus wiping them out of existence, the forty years' wandering in the wilderness of the liberated tribes before they sighted the Promised Land, in which an entirely new generation was permitted to enter, even Moses, the great leader, being taken away and filling an unknown grave in sight of the Promised Land, all these firm scenes of the most interesting chapters in history. The celebration of the Passover is peculiarly appropriate on the part of the Jewish people, who were thus so miraculously rescued from Egyptian bondage.

Tendered a Reception. Mr. and Mrs. Edith S. Clark, citizens of Flagstaff, who have been stopping in the city during the winter, Mr. Clark officiating as book keeper at W. C. Leonard & Co's, will leave the latter part of the week for their home out west. Their departure meets with universal regret from a host of Albuquerque friends. Last night a few of their friends tendered them an informal reception at the "Jolly Ten" rooms. The following ladies and gentlemen were present: Mrs. Bryan, Dobson, Hamm and Bady, Moses Kaster, Gibson, Perry, Bell, Burgess, Hendie, Ray, Stephens, Miller, Josie and Julia Hamm, Messers: Bryan, Dobson, Bailey, Newsome, Erickson, Sabu, Dally, Strong, Byrnes, Mastayon, Burgess, Murray, Chamberlin, Lockhart, Shannon and McLaughlin. Vocal and instrumental solos were rendered by the following parties, which were well received, viz: Mrs. Bryan and Miss Stephens, and Messers: Clark and Dally. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were pleased with the kindness and reception tendered them and with their friends enjoyed a happy evening. Dancing was in order for a few hours.

District Court. M. B. Bowman vs. Buoy & Lail, as suspect; judgment rendered against Cosington, administrator of Buoy, to the amount Buoy is liable for.

Donahue & McCash vs. George L. Brooks, et al., defendant. The two defendants were argued and overruled. Defendant excepts and gives notice of appeal. Plaintiff asks rule on defendant to plead in three days, which was so ordered.

In the case of German American Insurance company vs. Chas. Etheridge, et al., debt on bond, the court sustains defendant to second plea, but overrules as to third and fourth pleas.

The case of Geromimo Candelaria vs. the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company, trespass on the case, was called, the jury empaneled and trial process. It will take all this afternoon.

A Tool Company. The New Mexico Tool company was organized by railroad and business men of San Marcial to manufacture the level square, a valuable invention of Wm. Palmer, jr., who was at one time a Santa Fe employee here, and has invented besides this and other important devices, a self-adjusting windmill, which is meeting with the greatest favor. The directors of the New Mexico Tool company are John P. McMurray, Wm. Palmer, jr., and Jos. Freudenstein, and the officers are Wm. Palmer, jr., president; Jos. Freudenstein, vice president; L. F. Gifford, secretary and treasurer. These gentlemen are well known and reliable citizens. The capital stock of the company is $10,000, shares $10 par value.

Home Industry. Says the Santa Fe Sun: "Now is a good opportunity to speak a good word for New Mexico industry. In Albuquerque some enterprising citizen has started a nursery and seed farm, and from the writer's personal experience we can say that the home raised seeds are better than any eastern seeds. Several beds of peas were planted side by side, in the same ground, and received the same attention. The Albuquerque peas came up sooner and are doing better than any others in the garden. All are early peas. This only goes to show that New Mexico is a better producer than any eastern state, and that instead of the east supplying us with seed we should be supplying the east."

Mrs. A. Stash and daughters, of Santa Fe, will leave during the coming month for New York and will extend their trip to Europe; passage has already been engaged by them on the steamer Werra, sailing from New York on May 27th next. The ladies will be absent during the coming summer, and will extend the trip through continental Europe.

NEW MEXICO ROADS

An Excellent System Outlined by the New Mexicans. The Peecs valley road, a Colorado enterprise in southeastern New Mexico backed by the Hagerman-Eddy syndicate, has planned to build from its present terminus in the Peecs valley, via Roswell and White Oaks, to San Pedro, thence through Tijeras pass to Albuquerque. The Denver & Rio Grande wants an outlet from Denver into central and southern New Mexico, via Espanola, Santa Fe, Cerrillos and San Pedro.

The Union Pacific likewise has a road projected, and partly built, through the Maxwell land grant, to the Mora copper fields at Las Vegas, thence on to White Oaks and El Paso. Now, why could not these companies formulate an agreement that would bring their diverging interests all together at San Pedro? Taken map of the Rocky mountain region and note what a wonderfully productive country such a new system of roads would open up. The Denver & Rio Grande could absorb the Santa Fe Southern and fulfill its share of the agreement by building forty miles of new road to reach San Pedro. The Union Pacific could extend its line from Trinidad and Catskill, via Las Vegas to San Pedro, and the Peecs line from White Oaks to Albuquerque would be met by both these roads from the north-west and east at San Pedro, from that point diverging toward the four quarters of the compass in such a manner as to form a strong combination mutually beneficial to all interested. The suggestion is submitted for the consideration of the press of Colorado and New Mexico, and if the press can be united upon this plan the railroads will be forced in a very short time to show their respective hands.

Postoffice Robbers. A few weeks ago W. A. Walker, formerly postmaster of Albuquerque, wrote to W. T. Sullivan, postoffice inspector at Kansas City, regarding the arrest of the supposed man who robbed the postoffice here last year, and the following letter was received by the gentleman this morning:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 15, '91. W. A. Walker, Esq., late Postmaster, Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Sir—Your letter to Geo. A. Dice, inspector in charge, St. Louis, Mo., giving description of jewelry stolen at your place (supposed to have been committed by Davis, Morey, et al.) has been referred to me, and I deferred answering until I could visit Davis and Morey again in Texas, with the view of getting some information as to the various robberies, as Davis' wife has been asserting that he might disclose valuable information. I recently visited them in jail at Waco, Texas, but the effort to obtain information was fruitless. They disposed of a lot of jewelry at Fort Worth, Texas, in July and August, 1890, but I was unable to get any description of it, but it was something of the kind you lost. There was nothing found on either of them or Mrs. Davis that would answer to the description of your wife's jewelry. Most of the watches found were men's watches, cheap and of little value, and one of the pals who confessed said they were got by holding man up on the streets. One ladies' watch was found, but an affidavit from investigation that Mrs. Davis came by that legitimately.

Davis and Morey got two years at Denton, Texas, for robbery, and were then transferred to Waco, where they are likely to get from three to five years more for a burglary, this to be added to the sentence at Denton. They have other cases in Texas against them as well as six or eight here, so that their chances for freedom are limited, and they have become sullen and refuse to say anything that could do the authorities any good. They are very hard criminals.

Am sorry I cannot give you any trace of your jewelry.

Very respectfully, W. T. SULLIVAN, Postoffice Inspector.

The Artisans' Association. During the recent Arizona legislature the press boys of the sister territory got together at Phoenix and organized an association, just like we here in New Mexico did last January, and the Gazette pays the members of the Arizona Press association the following remarks:

Hartwell made an admirable picture of the Press association; and, taking the terrible subject he had to work upon, he performed a wonderful feat. It would be difficult to find eleven such sickly looking fellows as compose this body, and it is
