S. T. Ellsworth, the janitor of the Commercial club, has returned from a visit to southern California. He says business is dull in that portion of California, and he is glad to get back to this brick city.
R. P. Hall, superintendent of the machinery department of the territorial fair, is figuring on putting up a separate building, adjoining floral hall, for the exclusive exhibition of machinery and hardware.
Joseph Barnett and Miss Mollie Stratton were joined in happy wedlock by Justice Madden on the evening of the 10th. There were no invitations and the well-mated couple have settled down to housekeeping.
On the 10th inst., the infant daughter of Transito L. Matto, the old town attorney, died. The funeral took place this morning, and the remains were laid away in consecrated ground at Santa Barbara cemetery.
Two vags and a drunk were up before Justice Deham this morning and were fined $5 and costs on ten days in the city jail each. The drunk paid his fine, but the vags joined Juan Herrera on the chain gang.
Justo R. Armijo, as administrator and manager of the Nicolas T. Armijo estate, this afternoon ordered off several workmen who were putting up an electric light pole in front of the residence at the corner of First street and Silver avenue.
Charles Sterne will live himself away to the Mogollon mountains this evening, to be absent about two weeks. Charley is interested in several first-class mines near Coonay and makes the trip to see how they are showing up in ore production.
F. M. Mead, of Meadville, Penn., where he taught school and has in his possession certificates of efficiency, arrived here last evening, and will make application for examination before the board of school examiners on the 18th to teach in this county.
This morning, Secretary Carey, of the Maroons base ball club, received very favorable terms from the El Paso club to visit that city and play two games—August 22nd and 23rd. A meeting will be held in due time to consider the proposition of going to El Paso.
The firm of Trotter & Hill will occupy the room on Second street next to Elder & Co., now occupied by Bullock, Baker & Co. The change will be made in a short time. The stationery store will be removed to the building on Gold avenue now occupied by the express office.
The street committee should instruct the street sprinkler to water the trees along the streets in the Highlands. Many trees are dying in that portion of the city for lack of water. F. G. Pratt states that the trees in front of his residence have been watered but once this season by the city water cart.
Charles F. Hunt, Jr., the bright little son of Court Clerk Hunt, met with a painful accident this morning. While out playing he fell on an iron hook, the sharp point passing clean through the lower lip, making a very ugly hole. A doctor was sent for and the little fellow's lip will be all right in a few days, but there will always remain a scar as a reminder of the accident.
Albert and Julius Eisenmann, wool merchants, will leave to-night for the east. Albert goes to New York, where he takes an ocean steamer for Frankfort-on-the-Main, Europe, and Julius stops over in St. Louis to spend the balance of the summer with his brother, Nathan. Louis Haer will have charge of the Albuquerque house, assisted by P. J. Carey, the efficient book-keeper. The Citizen wishes the Eisenmann brothers a pleasant visit.
T. E. De Launay, an old, weak-minded gentleman, all the way from Montreal, Canada, sat dinner at the City restaurant to-day. He told a story of poverty, and stated that he was on his way to Comstock, Oregon, to see the only relative he has living—a nephew. He has a small bundle of outside clothing, besides that which covered his nakedness, and in his pocket book was a ticket via the Atlantic & Pacific to San Francisco and from there to his destination. He also has a greenback dollar bill and a little change. He stated that when he got off the train here last night, he thought that he had arrived at Comstock and wandered away from the depot. Marshal Maston was informed of the condition of the old gentleman, and will see that he leaves the city all right this evening. His nephew's name is Roger De Loynay.

M. T. Moriarty is in from his mountain ranch. Last spring he planted fifty acres of corn, and up to the first of July it was growing finely, with fair prospects of a good crop. Mr. Moriarty had no occasion to make business trips to Indiana, and on his return to the ranch, only a few days ago, he found his crop of corn worthless. The hot winds, coupled with the fact that July was a very dry month, had burned the stalks into a brown color, ruining the crop, and Mr. Moriarty has cut it for fodder. It is quite a loss.

There is a disposition on the part of property owners on the south side of Railroad avenue from First to Second streets to have concrete sidewalks laid before the time of the territorial fair. There is a stone walk in front of the St. Elmo property, but the owner, George K. Nelson, will remove it and put down cement in order to have the walk uniform. Had the spirit of improvement most common.

The coroner's jury, investigating into the death of Mrs. Gaudelupe Mares, in which it was supposed that her husband had caused her death, failed to elicit any evidence showing that the woman had been violently dealt with, and therefore returned a verdict that her death was from natural causes. Mares was arrested by Constable Priest, but was released on the verdict being read.

The committee selected by President Hart to look up rooms and look after visitors at the territorial fair, have lots of work ahead of them which demands their immediate attention. The committee should meet and direct the city, and make a close canvass, so that when the fair begins all those attending the fair can be provided with lodgings.

DE DANTER.
Here to Get Information About this Wonderful Fair.
Dr. J. F. Dantier, first vice president of the American Health Resort association of Chicago, also representing Dr. Dimes, of the Medical Journal, arrived in the metropolis Monday and will remain a few days. The doctor is here to gather statistics relative to the climate, resources of the country, etc., and to gain what information he can obtain from the physicians regarding the Rio Grande valley as a health resort for consumptives and those suffering from kind of weak lungs. Yesterday he called upon several of the physicians and secured a mass of valuable information. Today he is the guest of the Commercial club, and Mr. Burke has given him some well-known facts regarding the unsurpassed climate of establishing sanitariums along the Alamosa, Topoka & Santa Fe railroad, especially in the mountainous sections, was agitated, and the railroad company has offered to put into pamphlet form, for general distribution among the people of the country and the medical fraternity, any information the American Health Resort association can obtain through its officials, who are now visiting various parts of the country. Dr. Dantier has visited Florida, California and other states, heretofore claimed to be the haven for invalids, and finds that they are that failures compared to New Mexico, especially the Rio Grande valley. He says the fruits of this territory are superior in every respect to those grown in California and there is no comparison between the climates. He will favor the establishing of sanitariums at certain points in New Mexico on the Santa Fe road, with small cottages for invalids, with ground for cultivation, instead of whiling away their time sitting out in the sun and dreadingly along out their existence.

Leontine Lands.
J. D. Torlina and P. A. Simpson, of the Tijeras Water company, returned from the territorial capital last night. They found in looking over the mesa land locations in the land office that on August 11 the following Italian citizens, Giovanni Pasterio, Giacomo Selva, Felice Gianotti, Giacinto Serva and Lorenzo Azario, had filed on land in township No. 10, N. range No. 4, E. located near the reservoir site of the Tijeras Water company, and running along the base of the mountains as far as Bear canon for a distance of about twelve miles, which includes valuable building stone land.

Officers Elected.
At a meeting of the Flambeau club, held last evening, Edward E. Medler resigned the position of secretary of the club, and H. D. Lucas was elected to fill the vacancy. The following gentlemen were appointed as auditing committee: Wm. Beckie, chairman; James Murray, Leonard Armijo and L. C. Roy. The club is making all necessary arrangements for the parade one evening, during the fair.

Big Fire.
Last night the large wool establishments of George Osborne & Co., and H. M. Hosick & Co., joining each other in Chicago, were totally destroyed by fire. These firms have branch houses at various points in the wool producing sections of the southwest, their home here doing an immense yearly business. The news was received here by V. P. Eche, local manager for George Osborne & Co.

Mrs. Jones hasn't a gray hair on her head and is over 50. She looks as young as her daughter. The secret of it is, that she uses only Hall's Hair Renewer.

FOUND A MINE.
The Capt. Carr Mine in the Sandia Mountains Re-located.
William Sanguinetti and Joseph Badaracco yesterday morning quietly drove out to the Sandia mountains on the hunt for the old Capt. Carr mine. Mr. Badaracco's father-in-law was in the early 50s a partner with Capt. Carr in the working of the mine, and from him sufficient information and data were obtained to assist the gentlemen in their search.

In those early days the Indians were bad and often times the captain, with soldiers would meet them in battle, driving them back and beyond the Sandia mountains, but the red devils were dauntless and continued their harassing, until finally the mine was abandoned by the captain, not, however, until he had cut a cross on a tree near and erected other signs so that the mine could be readily found in after years. A son of Capt. Carr was familiar with the location, so was the father-in-law of Mr. Badaracco, but they did not possess the money to work it and therefore kept the secret to themselves. On the marriage of Mr. Badaracco into the family, he was let into the secret, told about the cross, a spring of water near by and the lay of the land. Mr. Sanguinetti was also informed, and he and Mr. Badaracco yesterday was fortunate in finding the old mine, which is located in Embudo canon, near Tijeras canon, and in a direct line about fourteen miles from the city. The cross on the tree was found, a spring of pure mountain water was discovered, everything as told by the father-in-law was there plainly to be seen. Several of the old American residents of the city, among them C. W. Lewis, have heretofore made ineffectual searches for the mine and it is said that Mr. Lewis at one time offered a son of Mr. Carr considerable money if he would do just the exact location, but for some reason the son positively refused to divulge his father's secret.

The ravages of time have completely filled the mine, but the gentlemen picked up a lot of samples of ore which they brought back with them and intend to have assayed. Traces of gold, silver, iron and even tin are seen in the samples, and if Messrs. Sanguinetti and Badaracco have not really discovered the Carr mine, they found something which shows up equally as well, and as rich as the old mine was represented to be.

Before returning to the city they located the mine, and this evening the proper location papers will be mailed to the territorial secretary. They intend to at once clean out the mine and begin active development work, which they believe will show up immense returns.

Captain Carr was for years stationed here, and was through the Mexican war with Generals Taylor and Scott. He recognized the old town of Albuquerque as his home and married into a Mexican family. Some of his people now reside near the old town. One of his sons, a reckless young man, got into a dispute with a Colorado miner and gambler in the spring of 1881, who was camped on what is now north First street of this city, and was mortally hit with a Winchester rifle. He was taken to his home on the street car track in Rancho Seco (the house at the lone tree) and a few minutes past midnight on the day he received the wound he died. At the preliminary hearing of his murderer, it was brought out that on several occasions Carr had threatened to kill the Colorado man and he was therefore discharged. His widow, nee Miss Juanita Cardelara, afterwards married Vicente Armijo, from whom she secured a divorce and then married Romulo Garcia.

Captain Carr died in the early sixties.
[From the Daily, Aug. 14.]
B. F. Karriek, president of the Gallup Coal company, is in the city from Pueblo, Col.

Marriage of two handsome young couples are promised some time next month.
Miss Nellie Jacoby, daughter of John Jacoby was a passenger last night for Denver.
Miss Nellie Phelan left last night for Colorado Springs, Col., where she will visit for a few weeks.
Leon Lamun is out on the street again. He suffered several bad hemorrhages of the lungs a few days ago.

E. H. Kent, wife and daughter, Miss Maggie, left last night to spend a few weeks in Santa Barbara, Cal.
As a sanitary measure the board walks on the principal streets of the city should be condemned and either stone or cement walks substituted.
Floyd Jarrott, a ranchman of the Datil mountains, Socorro county, and wife, are at the San Felipe. They are returning home from a trip to Kansas City.

DeWitt Pierce, the coupler of the Las Vegas hose team, who has been sojourning in this city for the past few months, leaves for Las Vegas this evening.
The galvanized iron front is being put on the store building of Jacob Yiszeri, which is in course of erection at the corner of Railroad avenue and Fourth street.
This evening H. B. Ferguson, wife and two babies and Arno and Lena Hunning will go to Santa Monica, California, for a two weeks' outing by the sea shore.

W. Moore Clayton, of Bradstreet, left last evening for a trip through southern New Mexico. He will stop at El Paso. Mr. Clayton will be absent about two weeks.
C. R. Shupe and wife have returned home from their sad mission to Pittsburgh, Penn., where they buried their son Walter, whose death occurred in this city a short time ago.
The Rich Hill, Mo., coal miners, who arrived early yesterday morning at Gallup, for the purpose of taking the place of the striking miners, refused to go to work, and in the evening, bearing aloft the American flag, they with the strikers marched from the mines into the city a distance of a few miles. Last evening was a very lively one for the people of Gallup, but no trouble is feared.

William Anderson, manager for H. M. Hosick & Co., with wife and six little children, to-day moved into the Rosenthal house at the corner of Fifth street and Marquette avenue.
W. F. Trostle will dispose of his photograph gallery and go to Pennsylvania, where he has relatives. His health is bad and his complaint is aggravated by the light air of this altitude.

This morning, Billy Sanguinetti sent out four men to the Sandia mountains, with orders to thoroughly clean out the Capt. Carr mine which he and Joe Badaracco discovered Tuesday.
W. S. Hopewell, an extensive cattle owner of Socorro county, is in the metropolis. He states that the miners of his county are making preparations for a fine exhibition at the territorial fair.
E. T. Sutherland, traveling for Frazier & Chalmers, Chicago manufacturers of mining machinery, is in the city. The gentleman has visited White Oaks, San Pedro and other camps in the territory, and leaves to-night for Prescott. He will be back for the fair.

George Smith, the colored dog catcher, states that the business has fallen off considerably in the past few days. When he first started in on August 1st he averaged more than half a dozen dogs for a week, but the business is now very dull. The dogs had an enthusiastic meeting the other evening in the northern part of the city, and agreed to stay shy of Smith. A killing of the canines now in the pound will take place early to-morrow morning.

The cement sidewalk workmen are experiencing considerable trouble at the Harrison building. They have struck an immense amount of water, which will have to be drawn off by Trimble's excavator. It seems that the tire hydrant at the corner of Railroad avenue and Second street has been leaking for several years without the knowledge of any person connected with the water works and the water formed under Phelan's drug store and the plank sidewalk.

Major D. N. Bash, paymaster of the United States army, stationed at Denver, with his chief clerk, C. K. Lowe, came down from the north last night and will remain here until about the 1st of September. The major is ordered here on temporary duty during the illness of Major Whan, and the absence of Majors Tower and Maynard, the paymasters stationed in this city. This is the first time Major Bash has visited the metropolis of New Mexico, and he is more than pleased with the city.

J. H. Eberhart, wife and child, will leave in a few days for Camp Douglas, Wis. Mr. Eberhart came here last October suffering with consumption, and for a time improved. His wife followed with her baby a few months after, and with the exception of the past month, they resided with N. C. Dennett on his ranch south of the city. Mr. Eberhart returns home on the advice of his attending physicians, who state that he has only a short time to live and that he should die among relatives and friends.

Parties living on the mesa and also those visiting the mountains are vigorously kicking about the garbage and refuse which is almost daily dumped alongside the principal roads going east. On Railroad avenue, just beyond the city limits near the Sharrick residence, the stench which arises from the piles of garbage and manure is sickening and absolutely unbearable. Garbage is also dumped along the Hell canon road beyond the city limits. County Commissioner Hall is at present reading on the mesa, and his attention is called to these nuisances.

James T. Rodgers, who passed through the city the other evening with twenty-eight miners from Rich Hill, Mo., for Gallup is here to-day. He claims that his men signed the company's contract to go to work, but as the others refused, they all agreed not to work. The striking miners threatened to take the life of Mr. Rodgers before he left Gallup, but failed to follow up their threats. He is now en route to Missouri and Kansas, and will return soon with 200 negroes, who will be given work in the mines at Gallup. Mr. Rodgers was formerly a policeman of Kansas City.

A Simple Experiment.
Thomas Keleher, the wool and hide merchant, comes to the front as a benefactor to fruit raisers. For the past few years his apple trees, in fact his peach and other trees, refused to bear good fruit, so badly were they eaten by worms, and finally he contemplated cutting down the apple trees. A short time after the trees began to take on their spring foliage this year, after he had concluded to try them once more, a friend gave him a remedy which would entice the fly which laid the eggs, and thus the trees would bear good fruit. Mr. Keleher tried the experiment and his trees are now loaded with fruit and not a wormy. When the trees were in bloom, he hung up in them several jars half filled with sweetened water, and the flies scenting the water would fly into the jars by hundreds. By this means Mr. Keleher has saved his fruit, and this year he will have plenty of fine apples, pears, etc., for family use and preserving. The experiment is simple, and Mr. Keleher states it is one which catches the egg laying fly.

Preparing for Hot Weather.
The following telegram from White-wright, Texas, indicates that the people in that vicinity do not intend to be caught unprepared:

This is just such a medicine as every family should be provided with during the hot weather. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Thos. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

GUN SPORT.
Program of the First Annual Gun Tournament.
The program for the first annual tournament of the Albuquerque Gun club which will be held in this city Sept. 20th to 22nd inclusive, is now out, and copies will be sent to all members of the club of Denver, Cheyenne, Pueblo, Las Vegas, El Paso and other places. The tournament is open to all. No one barred, and over $200 in cash and prizes to shoot for. A rate of one cent per mile has been made by both the Santa Fe and Atlantic & Pacific railroads to parties attending the fair, and the club have made arrangements to have the tickets extended until Sept. 25. All contests will be governed by the American Association rules, and all shooting will be rapid firing system unless otherwise designated.

Secretary Pope is confident that the tournament will be participated in by at least half a dozen visiting clubs, and they will bring along with them good crowds.
The officers of the local Gun club are A. M. Colington, president; Peter Isherwood, vice president; C. H. Pope, secretary; J. D. Eakin, treasurer.

After the above resolution was adopted, the following one was offered and also adopted:
Resolved, That the street committee be and is authorized to make a demand upon Contractor Rose for the lumber contained in the last estimate allowed, which was procured by said Rose for the purpose of building on the mouth of sewer, and that they be further authorized to obtain bids for the building of a bridge over the acquia at the crossing of First street and Tijeras road and report their proceedings at the next regular meeting of this council.

At their meeting last Monday the county commissioners of Socorro county appropriated $300 for an exhibit for the Albuquerque fair. This will be turned over to Mr. J. J. Leeson, who has already issued a call to the miners to send him samples of their ore. He will pack the mineral exhibit of Socorro county, which is in his possession, and is one of the most interesting collection of minerals and stones in the southwest.

The Las Vegas hose team will enter the contest at the fair. This team is one of the best in the country, and it is predicted by their friends that they will win the medal this year.
Next Sunday afternoon the Athletic base ball club of Santa Fe will play the Las Vegas team on the latter's grounds. These two clubs have been easily defeated by the Maroons this season.

Reinhard Lockner, the wool ruttler for Eisenmann Bros., is back from a trip through Southern Colorado, and a portion of Texas. Yesterday, thirty Texas editors and publishers, with their wives and daughters, were banqueted at Trinidad, and Lockner had a Duesel of fun. The quill drivers were going to Manitou Springs in a special coach.

A committee to-day from the territorial fair association consulted with Manager McCreight, of the Maroon base ball club, relative to a tournament during fair week, and they finally agreed on giving one. Letters will be mailed to the various organizations of New Mexico, Arizona and El Paso, barring professionals, requesting them to be present and compete for the $200 prize.

The Citizen is informed that articles of agreement for the coming prize fight between "Reddy" Welch and Hugh McSparrow's "unknown" will be drawn up to-morrow, at which time Mr. McSparrow will cover the forfeit money of "Reddy" now up. It is claimed by some, and they are parties who interest themselves in the "art of bruising" that the "unknown" is no less a person than McSparrow himself, who has heretofore played in the ring against good material of his weight. Should it be Mac, and he in good condition, "Reddy" will find that he will have a better man than Stack to face him. It is the intention of the backers to have the mill come off in the city or near by in thirty days after the signing of the articles of agreement.

To Be Regretted.
A few days ago The Citizen in a short local notice stated that some of the Sheffield Hook and Ladder company were sickening, vigorously kicking, because the hose running team were using their quarters for training purposes—that is, for dressing and bathing after their practice runs.
The item was gleaned from parties interested, but it was thought the matter had been amicably settled until a notice was published this morning in the Democrat, addressed to the mayor and city council, notifying them of the surrender of all properties belonging to the city and contained in the house of Sheffield Hook and Ladder company, No. 1.
They object to their quarters being "used as a wash house for outside companies and kept in an outrageously dirty condition," as the card stated.

Jacob Korber, foreman; B. Myer, secretary; George A. Blake, second assistant; F. L. Hermann, Eugene Daniels, Chas. Mausard, John E. Conlodon, and A. D. Conlodon, eight in all signed the call.
Messrs. Neeland, Rudolph, Jacoby and many others refused to sign, and The Citizen understands that they, with some members from the hose companies, will join hands and re-organize the Sheffield Hooks in a few days.
This move on the part of the above old and faithful members is to be sincerely regretted, but the Hooks still live.

Indian School Superintendent.
Hon. Daniel Dorchester and wife, of Washington City, D. C., are at the San Felipe. Mr. Dorchester is the superintendent of Indian schools of the United States, and for the past few months has been spending his time among the Sioux of the Dakotas, especially around the Pine Ridge agency, where the trouble of last winter occurred. He came direct to this city from the northwest and states that the Sioux are peaceful and are realizing the importance of sending their children to school. Mr. Dorchester was here fifteen months ago, visited the government Indian school of this city and those of the territory, which he found in a flourishing condition and all manned by good superintendents and teachers. He states that within the past two years the scholarship of Indian children has increased between 2000 and 3000, which speaks well for the services. Mr. Dorchester was appointed May 1, 1880, since which time he has traveled over 48,000 miles in his visits to the Indian schools of the United States. He will remain here until further orders from Washington; in the meantime he will pay his respects to Superintendent Creager.

From San Antonio.
Aug. Hornung, a well known manufacturer of coats and shoes at 820 Nolan street, San Antonio, Texas, will not soon forget his experience with an attack of the cramps, which he relates as follows: "I was taken with a violent cramp in the stomach, which I
