

From Wednesday's Daily. Miss Katie Harrison will leave this evening for Danville, Ill.

Rev. Dr. Trew, Episcopal minister, left Monday night for Los Angeles. Mrs. J. H. Wroth, accompanied by a lady friend, leaves this evening for Denver.

G. L. Brooks, the live stock agent, who has been to Colorado on business, has returned home.

Louis Beer, the wool renter for the firm of Eisenmann Bros., has returned from Santa Fe.

C. Wilber, of Colorado, who visited Albuquerque last week, has gone to Wichita, Kansas, on business.

Major M. A. Lutz and wife will leave this evening for Marion, Ohio, on a visit to relatives and friends.

J. P. Lindlay, superintendent of mail service on the Santa Fe railroad, is in the city to-day. He leaves to-night for Chicago.

Prof. Dr. Mauro, M. C. Zirhut and Mr. Cota will return home from the James hot springs in Keagy's "Tally Ho" to-morrow.

Mrs. Aiken, of Colorado Springs, Col., has arrived and will probably make this city her home. She registers at the European.

Mrs. M. Crisinger, who stops at the Windsor, when in this city, is now on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Reubensdale, of Socorro.

Dr. F. E. Hinch, a brother of Tom Hinch, well-known out on the line of the Atlantic & Pacific, was in the city yesterday from Gallup.

Miss Dickson, who has been visiting Miss Mabel Fox of this city for several months, will leave Thursday afternoon for Emporia, Kansas.

The Postal Telegraph company is fitting up convenient quarters in the building No. 118, Gold avenue, almost opposite the Citizens building.

John G. Wald, of the book bindery, has just completed a Student's register for the University. It is a magnificent piece of binding and ruling.

The new traffic law requires a two-cent stamp on each package of playing cards. The stamps can be obtained on application to the collector at Santa Fe.

The Frigg Jewelry company, occupying the second street store room in the First National Bank building, will be ready for an opening by Saturday.

Major W. H. Whiteman and wife, who have been to southern California on a brief vacation, returned home last night, and both appear as if the trip did them much good.

Mrs. F. J. Basley, wife of the division superintendent of the Santa Fe road from this city south to El Paso, was here yesterday from San Marcial, accompanied by her sister.

E. C. York is here from Las Vegas, arriving last night, and is doing the advance work for the Las Vegas Dramatic company, which appears at the opera house here on Sept. 13 and 14.

Quite a party of Los Lunas people were in the city yesterday, namely, Dr. J. F. Esar, Mrs. Solomon Luna, Miss Maria Romero and Miss Lizzie Doyle. They were here to do some shopping.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson, who assisted in the prosecution of S. M. Polson, returned home last night. He states that Mr. Polson was turned over to the warden of the penitentiary a few minutes before 6 o'clock yesterday.

George Denny, the old town postmaster, and wife have returned from their bridal tour. It was a substantial trip, a visit to the mines of Mr. Denny up in the Cochiti mining district and in Las Huertas canon.

David Strachan and A. H. Hanson, who are mining in Hell canon, drove into the city late yesterday afternoon. This morning they shipped several small sacks of ore from their properties to a San Francisco smelter.

Judge A. B. Fall, United States Attorney Hemingway and Assistant United States Attorney Money passed through the city last night from Santa Fe for Las Cruces. Mr. Money is a new man, and is the son of Congressman Money, of Mississippi.

Last night, about 9 o'clock, the timely discovery of a fire in the tin shop of Mandell Bros. & Co. prevented a serious conflagration. The dinner left some live coals in the fire pot, and the rats knocked over the pot, the coals setting the floor on fire.

Rev. Bovard, the Methodist superintendent of missions for the territory, returned last night from Hillsboro, where he held quarterly services last Sunday. He also held religious services at Kingston. Rev. Bovard states that there is considerable sickness at Hillsboro, but no one dangerously ill.

Last night about 9:30 o'clock a stream of people were noticed coming out of the Office resort. The cause was asked, and it was ascertained that the "Montana family" of acrobats had just concluded a first class show. Mr. Barnett, the proprietor, says he has engaged the acrobats to give nightly performances until after the fair.

C. L. Nicholson, brakeman on the Atlantic & Pacific, returned from the west this morning, after being on the road several days. He lodged at Miss Fletcher's, and when he got in he discovered, for the first time, that his quarters had been visited by a fire. His room was directly over the kitchen, and consequently he lost all his clothing, except the clothes he had on his back.

Considering the fact that the city has already expended several thousand dollars in the opening and grading of Tijeras avenue, it does not look reasonable that it should much longer allow the small portion between Second and Third streets to remain unimproved. Tijeras avenue, for about a mile—from the Highlands to Old Town—is one of the most attractive streets, the finest driveway in Albuquerque, excepting, however, this small portion of about 300 feet which, the latter, is truly an eye-sore, a nuisance, an abomination with its festering pools of stagnant water.

H. M. Stone, who a few years ago was a postal route agent on the Santa Fe road between this city and El Paso, is now the chief clerk of the railway mail service stationed at Kansas City. Mr. Stone's many friends in this city and elsewhere in the territory will read with pleasure this item about his promotion.

Two boys, one about 14 years old and one-legged, and the other about 12, are around town begging. They are impudent little rascals and genuine boys, and the police should ask them to leave town. This afternoon they traced a gentleman for money when he was talking to a lady.

Victor Sais, who once upon a time represented Valencia county in the lower house of the territorial legislature, was in the city yesterday from his home at Casa Colorado. He states that his section of Valencia county looks fine, there being plenty of grass and water.

The frame shanties, back of the Democrat, are now empty, the women being notified to vacate by the city marshal this morning. The Citizens understands that the owner of the houses, J. G. Caldwell, well, requested Marshal Fluke to make the occupants quit his premises.

Henry Carpenter, the hero of Tijeras canon, is in the city to-day, and he is as lively as a young chap. He returned from Santa Fe the other day, and says while in the territorial capital he had the pleasure of meeting a number of his old-time friends.

Any one can get any error in this paper corrected by calling at the office, and stating wherein lies the mistake, but no man now on earth can publish a card in the weekly morning sheet, and expect this paper to go out of its way in rectifying things.

Young Chief Killed. Yesterday afternoon, a young man, about 20 years of age, son of one of the chiefs of the Pueblo Indians of Isleta, was riding around the village in a drunken condition when he fell from his horse, and the animal on whirling kicked him in the stomach, the young chief dying a few minutes afterwards.

Messrs. Purdie, Clever, McGaffey and Wilkerson, and Messrs. Lee, Kent, Ray and Dickson constituted a party that went to Isleta to witness the "war dance," but the unfortunate accident above presented the dance coming off until late in the afternoon.

"Merchant's Police." Seeing the necessity of a "merchant's police," W. G. McCormick was persuaded to hand around a petition asking signatures, and the following merchants willingly affixed their names, agreeing to pay a certain stipulated amount per month: E. J. Post & Co., E. L. Washburn & Co., H. Feld Bros., Simon Stern, J. R. Arujo, Golden Rule Bazaar, Mrs. C. M. Allen, A. D. Whitson, M. C. Nettleton, Lesser & Lewinson, David Lesser, Lowenthal & Meyers, G. W. Hickox & Fox, Jacob Karber & Co., Gross, Blackwell & Co., L. B. Putney, Mandell Bros., Grunfeld Bros., H. Blueher & Co., M. P. Stamm, F. Frank & Co., and THE CITIZEN. Mr. McCormick started on duty on the 1st, and this paper has every reason to believe that Mac will make one of the most faithful night watchmen the city has ever had. He will earn every cent subscribed by the above merchants, and he will watch out for drows, burglars, etc.

The Insurance. It was impossible yesterday for THE CITIZEN to give the actual insurance on the Ruby and Fletcher fire on south First street until to-day. The following are correct figures: On the frame building, No. 621, owned by Mrs. William Ruby, $500 in the Etina, and $750 in the Caledonia Insurance company. On furniture, down stairs, owned by Mrs. Ruby, $300 in the Etina, and $400 in the Commercial Insurance company. On furniture, upstairs, owned by Miss Fletcher, $350 in the St. Paul Insurance company.

Insurance on the Eureka house, (two story brick building), and contents: Building owned by Mrs. Ruby, $1,500 in the New York Underwriter's Agency, and $1,500 in the Continental Insurance company. On furniture owned by Miss Fletcher, $500 in the St. Paul, and $500 in the Traders' Insurance company.

The Etina, Commercial Union and Continental Insurance companies, and the New York Underwriter's Agency are represented by Calvin Whiting; the St. Paul and Traders' Insurance companies are represented by Borradaile & McCallan; the Caledonia Insurance company by J. M. Wheelock. Total amount of insurance, $6,400.

Brave Riley. "Gunny-Sack" Riley, who is one of the children's playmates of the city, informs THE CITIZEN that he did a brave act at the fire on south First street yesterday morning. When Foreman Jacoby was requested to hoist one of the twenty foot ladders in the rear of the two story building (he Riley) was under the impression that some of the ladders were to be rescued and as he desired fame he scaled the ladder himself. At the top rounds, one of the nozzles turned the hose in his direction and he got the full force of the water, thus giving him a first class annual bath. He then rapidly descended the ladder, leaving the firemen to make what rescue was necessary.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used several remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, proprietor.

NARROW ESCAPE.

The Stage From White Oaks was in a Washout. A. D. Whitson, of the Clark Whitson-Leitch Music Co., of this city, returned last night from White Oaks in company with Misses Lillian Stier and Minnie Schuster of Leavenworth, Kansas, and Mr. W. H. Yankos, a Denver mining capitalist, all of whom were on their return home, traveling on the U. O. Ozone stage line. All was well until the muddy Rio Grande was reached when the driver of same was cautioned not to drive through, but having only gone through the river the day before, he thought there was no danger, and started his four horse team through with a rush. The stage dropped at least four feet, right down, and it was then found too late to do anything but push ahead. They had gone, however, only about thirty or forty feet, when the team became unmanageable and commenced to founder around and get all tangled up and two of the horses got under and one of them was held there until drowned. Mr. Whitson jumped out in the stream and made for the shore, where he pulled off his coat and started back to the stage, when he and Mr. Yankos, took the ladies out one at a time and safely carried them to shore, but found it almost impossible to do so on account of the depth of the water and the swiftness of the stream. Messrs. Whitson and Yankos were three hours wet to the skin, before they reached San Antonio and changed clothes. The party don't lay any blame on Mr. Ozone, the proprietor of the stage line, as the driver had, as Mr. Whitson was informed on reaching San Antonio, been instructed to cross the river on the bridge. Mr. Whitson had a good trade at White Oaks, and speaks in the highest terms of the prosperous condition of the country.

"Day for Hypatia." The Wichita Eagle of Sept. 2 contains a long article about the reception given Mrs. Ella Glenn Shields, of this city. The following extract is taken from the article: Last Tuesday afternoon the members of Hypatia, Wichita's great club, gave a reception to Mrs. Ella Glenn Shields, of Albuquerque, N. M., formerly a president of the organization. The reception was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Jackson, and it was decidedly one of the best entertainments ever given in the city. The appointments were superb. Palmis and cut flowers smothered every little nook in parlor and hall, and the dining room was a gem, lighted by gas and beautified by a table laden with the choicest of viands. Miss Woodman and Miss Welles presided over the bowls of lemonade in the library.

The guests were first received by Mrs. Toler, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Freidy and Mrs. Jackson. They were then received by Mrs. Shields, who was assisted by Mrs. Lucien Miner and Mrs. Hersey. Then follows a long list of names, principally members of the above social club. Mrs. Shields arrived home last Saturday night, and she informs THE CITIZEN that the reception was a royal one in every respect.

From Thursday's Daily. George Weimert, traveling for the Germania Life Insurance company, went west last night. Ernest Toll, the St. John's Arizona, cattle raiser, who was her for several days, returned to his home last night. Miss Minnie Peters, a very pretty young lady of Topeka, Kansas, has arrived, and is the guest of Mrs. Alice Shannon.

Mrs. J. H. Wroth and Mrs. H. B. Ferguson left last night for Denver, where they will visit relatives and friends for ten days. Chas. Heisch, a well-known German gentleman of this city, left last night for Las Vegas, where he will engage in the saloon business.

O. M. Dry and Jules Finley left yesterday for the Sandia mountains, where they will hunt and have a general good time for the next week. Judge N. C. Collier, associate justice of the territorial supreme c. r. t. and Judge H. L. Warren returned to the city from Santa Fe last night.

Mike Thyme, better known as "Mike, the manager," who has been sojourning in Las Vegas for the past week, returned to the city on No. 3 last night. Judge T. C. O. Gutierrez, Hon. F. A. Hubbell, W. H. H. Metzger and others, who were at Santa Fe on the Arisco land grant case, returned to the city last night.

Mrs. W. G. Griffin, who returned from California with her system pretty well permeated with malaria, is reported improving and will be all right in a few days. C. M. Baker, construction superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company line, came in from the west last night, accompanied by his wife. They are at the San Felipe.

Sheriff S. Luna and A. M. Bergere, of Los Lunas, came up to the city last night and registered at the European. The sheriff was at the court house this morning, when the territorial and petit juries for Valencia county were drawn before Judge Collier.

W. G. Franklin, of Denver, is at the Hotel Columbus, where he met two old-time friends in Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lockhart. In the palmy days of mining, near Socorro, Mr. Franklin was owner of the Merritt mine, but he disposed of his interests to Mr. Henson and left New Mexico for Colorado. He will remain here several days, and then go up to the Cochiti district.

M. C. Nettleton, the watch inspector for the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe road, has returned from a very successful trip to San Marcial. While there he met Manager Gray, of the San Marcial Blues, and they together saw the members play ball. Mr. Nettleton states that the Blues will take part in the tournament, and he was emphatic in saying that they can put up gilt edged ball.

Conductor Boucher is gallantly personified. The No. 3 passenger train, from the east, last night arrived crowded with passengers, and there were many ladies, with a full of children, aboard. The gallant conductor did not lose his head on the train, but when he got off at the local depot with both hands and arms loaded with packages he actually lost the owners of the parcels. It took half an hour or more before the owners could be found, but Boucher remained at his post watching the goods. Such tender hearted gentlemen make good railroaders. He will yet prove the equal of Conductor Gardner.

There is some person in the city who has a grievance against a certain druggist, doing business on one of the principal avenues, and THE CITIZEN is continuously receiving anonymous notes about him. He is now accused, according to the note, of paying court to a young lady and allowing her to handle the reins over his fast horse. Another gentleman received a note also against said druggist, with the request that he thump the latter for using bad language.

B. F. Davis, manager of the Water Supply company, has received a handsome ink stand—a perfect model of a water meter—as a present from the Thomson Meter Co., of Brooklyn, N. Y. It is indeed the prettiest ink stand the reporter ever saw, and shows perfect workmanship. The local company uses a number of meters from the above New York concern, and find them to work satisfactorily.

A. M. McBuffy, an old Kingman, Arizona, miner, is in the city again, arriving last night from a stay of a week among the mines of the Cochiti mining district. He states that it is the most wonderful mineral district he ever visited, and says that he saw ore from the Iron King that assays 1,000 ounces in silver and twenty-five ounces in gold.

The opening of fine millinery, especially in the hat line, at Mrs. Oake's, this morning, was indeed a success and very encouraging to Mrs. Oake. A number of our citizens called, and the display of elegant hats and bonnets, the finest ever brought to this city, was grand and elaborate in every particular.

THE CITIZEN learns that during a picnic at Belen, the other day, Chris Scheele, merchant, took part in a foot race and while running fell. His left collar bone was broken. He is reported resting easily and will be all right in a few days. Henry W. Guelker, who has a pleasant home on the mesa near the Hospital, has presented this office with sample of his peaches, grown on four-year-old trees. Three of them weighed one and a half pounds.

Chas. Bond, of New York, who has been lying very ill at the Grand house, was removed to the city building this afternoon. Marshal Fluke telegraphed his condition to his father, Edward Bond. A telegram received by Gov. Stover this morning from Prof. Zimmer, of the territorial university, announced the death of his wife at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Ben Barker and Archie Hilton came in from San Pedro last night, where they have been working a placer claim. They have some gold nuggets in a bottle. Geo. Hill Howard will be back here in a short time from San Diego, California, where he is detained on legal business. J. Q. Masters, one of the old timers of this city, is reported quite ill at his room on south Second street.

Col. C. E. Young and wife, and Miss Fuller, have returned from their visit to Juarez, Mexico. Dr. Todd's Death. The Chicago Herald gives the following account of the death of Dr. Forrest B. Todd, brother of Mrs. C. M. Allen, of this city: Young Dr. Forrest B. Todd lay dead in bed beside his friend George J. Rayner, when the latter awoke at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Rayner, who lives at No. 23 Thirteenth street, had occupied with Dr. Todd, a bed in the latter's office at Thirty-ninth street and Indiana avenue. When Dr. Todd, some five hours before, returned from a short absence from the room after once retiring, he had said, in a jocular way, to Mr. Rayner, that he had taken enough morphine to kill a man. The coroner's jury, however, which investigated the case Saturday, brought in a verdict of death from angina pectoris. Dr. Todd was a son of Dr. J. F. Todd, city physician. He was immediately notified of his death, and at 8 o'clock it was reported to the coroner. Dr. Mitchell, after making a post-mortem examination, testified that Dr. Todd came to his death from angina pectoris. From this disease Dr. Todd, Sr., declared his son had been a sufferer for three years. With the exception of Dr. Mitchell's examination Dr. J. F. Todd was the only witness placed on the stand, although Mr. Rayner was present and ready to testify.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

An Old Man at Mesilla Attacked by Midnight Assassins. Mesilla, Sept. 8.—Your correspondent has just learned of an would-be attempt at assassination, which took place at Mesilla, three miles from here. Last night, between 10 and 11 o'clock, the house of Jona Oliver was broken into by six men, whose motives were for the purpose of robbery, even if murder had to be committed. Mr. Oliver is a man 80 years old, has a wife and one child, and is frugal and saving of his earnings. The old man, hearing footsteps, began an investigation, when he was dealt two severe blows across the head, and which may yet prove fatal. He made a desperate fight for his life and managed to get hold of his pistol. The weapon was taken away from him, when he got hold of his knife. This was also wrong out of his hand, as he made a desperate slash at his assailants. He freed himself and grabbed for his rifle. His wife then came to his rescue, when she was struck over the head and bound hand and foot. The rifle was taken from the old gentleman and he was ordered to keep quiet upon pain of instant death. At this juncture the child realized the situation and escaped from the house, followed by one of the robbers. The little fellow was also struck on the head, but he had already given the alarm. The robbers demanded the key to a trunk in which Mr. Oliver kept his money, but the old folks said they would die first. The assassins then left the house. Since then the police have arrested three men on suspicion, as follows: Luis Bastillo, Madron Bastillo and Jose Gutierrez. These men will have a hearing before Judge Pino to-day, and it is thought the old man, his wife and child will be able to testify and probably identify the men as their assailants. Seven months ago Pedro Duhado was murdered and robbed at Mesilla, and the whole community is excited, not only in Mesilla but in Las Cruces.

The Agricultural college opened to-day with an attendance of sixty scholars, many of them being new and from abroad. A notable Theft. C. F. Tondre, one of the successful fruit raisers in the Rio Grande valley, located a little over a mile from Los Lunas, and W. T. Lampe, who is on his way to the Jicarillas, made a pleasant call at THE CITIZEN office this afternoon. Mr. Tondre related a story about a theft which shows how peculiar things will turn up. In February, 1892, a Mexican called at his vineyard riding a horse. The fellow had a first-class cowboy saddle, made by Johnston & Prager, and Mr. Tondre swapped a saddle for it, giving to boot $4. On July 30, 1892, the day Sells Bros circus was here, Mr. Tondre rode into the city, and put his horse up at W. L. Trimble & Co.'s livery stable. Some time during the winter of 1892, and before the February mentioned, a fine saddle was stolen from Alex Crossman. He recognized the saddle in the possession of Mr. Tondre as the one stolen from him, and replenished the property, the warrant being placed in the hands of Constable Priest. Mr. Tondre was taken before the justice of the peace, stated how he came in possession of the saddle, and was released, the saddle being turned over to Mr. Crossman. Day before yesterday Mr. Tondre was informed by one of his Mexican neighbors that the Mexican from whom he obtained the saddle in 1892, resided in Albuquerque, and this morning he ascertained that the man lives in south Albuquerque, and that his name is Jona Andrus Baca. Mr. Tondre states that all he wants is $4 in money and a saddle, or its equivalent, then he will not prosecute Baca.

Here is another indication that business is picking up in Albuquerque. J. G. Butler, superintendent of the local office of the Curvillo Coal Railroad company, states that his sales during last August doubled the sales for the same month last year.

98% of all cases of consumption, etc., if taken in the earlier stages of the disease, can be cured. This may seem like a bold assertion to those unacquainted with the means generally in use for its treatment; as, many cod-liver oil and its fatty emulsions, extract of malt, whiskey, different preparations of hyposulphite, and other medicines, which, although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of cured cases, and the fact that, in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98% of cases, if treated by Dr. F. J. Todd's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the golden rule has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe hemorrhages, cough, and other symptoms, and a general emaciation, great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take your word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have an interest whatever in misrepresenting truth, and who were often personally examined and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it supplies in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines, with which they are acquainted. Many cod-liver oil and its fatty emulsions, and other medicines, which, although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of cured cases, and the fact that, in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98% of cases, if treated by Dr. F. J. Todd's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the golden rule has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe hemorrhages, cough, and other symptoms, and a general emaciation, great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take your word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have an interest whatever in misrepresenting truth, and who were often personally examined and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it supplies in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines, with which they are acquainted.
