Indian School Notes.

Mr. Lillbridge, with a delegation of Laguna children, arrived in the city yesterday and will spend a few days visiting the school. A newly-painted iron fence, recently constructed, adds much to the appearance of the clerk's cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Hase of Chicago, who are being entertained by Miss Norman, are enjoying their visit very much, and express themselves as being highly pleased with the manner in which the Indian youth are instructed. A merry party of little people from the kindergarten, together with their teacher, Miss Nolan, spent a happy day picnicking on the hills yesterday.

MINERS REACH GALLUP.

Brought in From Arkansas to Work in the Catalina Mine.

A telegram from Gallup to the Denver Republican, under date of March 12, says: Thirty-five practical coal miners arrived this morning from Arkansas, and were taken by a special engine direct to the Catalina mine.

Fifty or more Japanese miners from California are expected to arrive this afternoon, and will be taken direct to the Weaver mine, and the Colorado Fuel & Iron company expect to resume operations at this mine in the morning. This means that tomorrow all the mines in this district operated by the Colorado Fuel & Iron company will be in operation.

The California coal company's Thatcher mine still remains idle. The union and the company compromised on a scale of wages, but the company refused to allow the check weighmen to run a check number, which means that the union can draw on the men for any amount they desire, regardless of whether they belong to the union or not, this making it impossible for non-union men to work for the company until they have been levied on.

W. A. Clark's mine is still in operation. Mr. Bretherton, Clark's agent, informed the men that he would be unable to reach Mr. Clark before Thursday. The union has given him until Friday to accept the scale, or they would strike.

Fir's Opera Company.

The coming engagement at the opera house March 19, 20 and 21 of the Andrews opera company is looked forward to with considerable interest by our local music-lovers, as they have always been favorites here, and the fact that they are giving better performance and have a larger and stronger company than ever before, ought to insure an immense business during their engagement in this city. The night reserved for March 18, of opening night tickets for 180.

R. J. Turnbull, the new master mechanic, has assumed responsibilities of his office. Mr. Smith and his assistants having taken their departure to San Bernardino last evening. Mr. Bushy will act in the capacity of chief clerk to Mr. Turnbull, while Charles White will occupy the same position as formerly.

THE LEGISLATURE

The Appropriation Bill Passed Council.

With Few Exceptions, Same as Printed in The Citizen.

Hinkle Water Rights Bill Passed the House After Lively Debate.

COUNTY CADETS APPOINTED.

COUNCIL.

In the council yesterday the appropriation bill was the special order of the day, but time sufficient was taken to pass appropriate resolutions upon the death of ex-President Harrison, resting his friendliness to honor the memory of New Mexico, his establishment of the court of private land claims, etc., and directing that a memorial service be held at the capitol on Sunday, at which two members of each house are to make memorial addresses. There was not much debate over the appropriation bill, and with a few exceptions it was passed as printed in The Citizen yesterday afternoon, although each was carefully considered. Mr. Hughes explained the increase of the appropriation for the university of Albuquerque. A motion by Mr. Fiedler excepting the Agricultural college from the provision that secretaries and treasurers of certain territorial institutions are to serve gratis caused some debate and was defeated. The salary of the superintendent of public instruction was left as at present, at $2,500, the printed bill only giving him $2,000, but Mr. Hughes to raise the salary of the clerk of the supreme court from $900 to $1,000 failed. A motion by Mr. Easley to reduce the appropriation for the salary to be paid the judges of the territorial supreme court by the territory from $1,500 to $1,000 failed, as did a motion by Mr. Fiedler to cut the appropriation for the contingency expenses of the governor from $2,000 to $1,000. Mr. Spless moved that the translation of the session laws and journal be made under the direction of the clerk of the supreme court. Pending this motion the council adjourned until afternoon.

C. B. 5. appropriation bill, 1798 passed in the afternoon.

HOUSE.

The house dispensed with the reading of the minutes yesterday forenoon to gain time. The committee on public institutions reported an amended substitute for council substitute for house bill No. 6, the deaf and dumb asylum, introduced by Speaker Reed. It recommended amendments in place of certain council amendments, providing that the board of trustees of the deaf and dumb asylum at Santa Fe be given power to employ a superintendent and teacher, to provide for necessary additional buildings, and make repairs; that the trustees are each to receive $200 per annum; that the school be permitted to receive in dians and pupils at a rate of tuition fixed by them; and that the superintendent of the penitentiary be directed to furnish labor and material for the erection of necessary new buildings and repairs to buildings. Upon a motion to make the bill a special order for the afternoon, and an amendment to have the amendments printed, Speaker Reed called Mr. Gutierrez to the chair, and made a vigorous and convincing argument for not delaying action on the bill. The bill was laid on the table, as both the motion and the amendment were lost.

House bill No. 207, by Mr. Abbott, relating to evidence, being the special order, it was taken up and passed with a slight amendment. The bill amends section 2016 of the compiled laws.

Mr. Dalles and Mr. Gutierrez, in explaining their vote on the bill, read telegrams from merchants of Albuquerque and Las Vegas, and several stock growers, protesting against the passage of the bill. Mr. Gutierrez, Mr. Sanchez of Mora and Mr. Sanchez of Valenciana spoke eloquently in favor of the passage of the bill. Mr. Taylor, Mr. Slaughter and Speaker Reed spoke against the bill. The bill passed, 15 to 5.

The bill which was introduced by Mr. Hinkle is a very stringent one, and provides for the licensing of peddlers of meat, the license to be $250 per annum, and prohibits railroads and other carriers from shipping hides out of the territory before they are inspected. Considerable feeling was aroused over the bill, and vigorous speeches were made on both sides of the question, but it seems that the stock interests of the territory demanded the passage of the bill.

A motion by Mr. Barnes to suspend the rules to take up house bill No. 52, providing for the establishment of a blind asylum at Springer, Colfax county. The rules were suspended, 17 to 5, and the bill passed, 19 to 1.

A message from the council announced that it had passed resolutions of regret upon the death of ex-President Benjamin Harrison. Council joint resolution No. 10 was thereupon passed upon suspension of the rules.

Upon motion of Mr. Sanchez of Mora the rules were suspended to take up house bill No. 47, an act relative to the peddling of meats. Speaker Reed to the chair. A majority and a minority report were presented from the committee on finance. The majority report in favor of the passage of the bill as amended by the council passed, 15 to 5, the motion of Speaker Reed to adopt the minority report, which advised the tabling of the council amendments, having failed.

CADETS APPOINTED.

Councilman Thomas Hughes has been appointed as cadet to the New Mexico Military Institute at Russell. Lawrence B. Smith of Gallup, son of W.

Little "Chinese Girl" Friday Night at Neher's.

Andrews Opera Company. ROSA BERLINGER. On Friday night, for the second time, "A Hecy Time" company will appear at the Neher opera house. One of the interesting attractions will be the appearance of Miss Rosa Berlinger, who, with her mother, has been stopping at the Grand Central hotel for the past month. A Honolulu paper, in commenting on the young lady, says: "Honolulu has the only American woman who ever played in a Chinese theater in a Chinese drama in the Chinese language. She is Miss Rosa Berlinger, known on the stage as Rosa, and she has appeared in the Chinese theaters of Hong Kong, Singapore, Manila, Macao and Peking. Miss Berlinger drifted into this strange career rather, leader of the circus. She came to Honolulu accompanied by her father and mother, as a member of a U. S. and comedy company by the City of Columbia. The company shared a good deal of the hondo influence which seems to have followed the vessel and Rosa, and she was introduced to the public by the company at a number of engagements, with no way of walking to the next show town. Rosa never lost her confidence in her manager. She thought there was an opportunity for a singer who could sing Hawaiian songs. She put herself under the tutelage of Professor Hinkle, and she has since then been a great hit in all the Chinese theaters."

THE ANDREWS OPERA COMPANY.

To know just what the theater-going public want is a question that causes the manager many an hour of the day. The great production, "The Chinese Girl," has been running up into the thousands, have been withdrawn after a single week's run. And, again, a place not so simply as a makeshift has caught the public eye and run through a whole New York season, incidentally putting cash in the pockets of the manager.

Police Court News.

Richard Hayward, colored, who hit Abraham Miles over the head, the victim of the robbery, was sentenced to the grand jury this morning by Justice Crawford, charged with murder.

William Bennett, charged with larceny, was given ninety days in the county jail yesterday afternoon.

This afternoon William Bennett was sentenced to the county jail with burglary, where he would serve a short term.

Wearily well-to-do, and unable to bear the "Wills" Dundee, the chocolate-colored porter at the New Metropolitan hotel, was held up by a gang of five men and held in a room in the hotel for several hours. The porter, who was named Henry to go to the various apartments in the past few weeks. One day he carried the money box and was held up by a gang of men who had been waiting for him. He was taken to a room in the hotel and held there for several hours. He was released after a ransom of $100 was paid.

A Sorrowful Office.

The district clerk's office in the courthouse would have been deserted this morning by the presence of Judge Sawyer, came to the rescue. The rooms of the railroad offices are undergoing a course of renovation and cleaning. The walls and ceilings are being touched up by the artists and the floors given a generally good scrubbing.

The Grand canyon of the Colorado is becoming one of the most popular places in the west. It is visited by every class of people on the globe, and every one appears well satisfied with the accommodations of the railroads and hotels. Two excursion trains are scheduled to arrive at the canyon next week.

In San Bernardino a couple of weeks ago an engineer, George W. Groat, killed a woman in a railway accident. The woman was the wife of a popular young lady of that city by the name of Miss Lucy Eleanor Harris. Mr. Groat has severed his connection with the railroad and with his wife will reside on a farm near Maine, a little town in California.

The officials of the war department are much disappointed because nothing was done toward building a cable road to the Hawaiian and Philippine islands. Committees of both houses reported favorably upon this project, but the committee on appropriations were opposed to it because of the expense. It has been demonstrated over and over again that a government cable road would be economy, the cable bills now paid being equal to interest upon the cost of a line from San Francisco to Manila, without reckoning the inconceivable.

Territorial road in St. Louis was on yesterday quoted at 11 and 16 cents per pound.

A REPRESHIBLE PRACTICE.

A Censure on Citizens From Retail Merchants' Association.

At a recent meeting of the Retail Merchants' association of this city it was suggested that steps be taken to induce residents of Albuquerque to desist from sending out town for goods kept by the merchants of the city. This provoked quite an animated discussion, and the consensus of opinion among those present was that energetic action was necessary to combat this growing evil. Some of the most prominent citizens are among the worst offenders in that line, and seem unmindful of the fact that it is their duty to spend their money where they make it, and help build up the town by patronizing its merchants. The merchants are justly indignant at this state of affairs, and many expressed themselves in favor of retaining by withholding their patronage from those who persist in sending away for goods.

It was stated that in many cases people actually paid more to out-of-town concerns than the same goods would have cost them right in town. As a matter of fact there is hardly a merchant in town who is not willing and able to meet the catalogue prices of mail order houses and sell the same goods at prices quoted by these houses, plus express or freight charges. Before sending away for goods the people of this city are urged to take these catalogues and prices to the local merchants, and they will find that they can do as well, and in some cases better, right at home. There is always this drawback in buying goods away from home, that the purchaser is never sure of getting what he or she wants, and there is generally no redress in case of dissatisfaction, as these transactions require cash in advance in nearly all cases.

It is to be hoped when these facts are brought home to the people of this city they will realize the necessity of patronizing their home merchant, and discontinue the practice of sending their money out of town.

In connection with the above, the Journal-Democrat makes the following sensible remark this morning:

"In the past it has sometimes happened that the merchant who condones citizens for sending their orders abroad spends his own money in an outside printing office, because he erroneously imagines he can get a trifle more for his money. In every case it pays in dollars and every other way to patronize home institutions first."

The newspapers of Albuquerque have always urged upon the citizens to patronize home merchants and home institutions, but it is a fact that cannot be denied that Albuquerque has some merchants who never patronize a home printing office and their letter heads and bill heads and other job printing
