ALAMOGORDO.

From the News.
What is the use in having your store stocked with goods that the people know nothing about? If you want to sell your goods you must let the people know what you have for sale and the advantage that can be derived by dealing with you.
Advertising is no experiment or scheme to unload a lot of old stock, but it is a common sense scientific principle that every business man should understand, and as well as he understands his business.
A man may have a thorough knowledge of the goods he has on hand, but unless he knows how to tell the people what he has and what he can do for them, his business will be a failure.
If you want your business to be a business superior to your competitors you must advertise and advertise thoroughly. And the newspaper is the only means of thorough advertising.
The Rock Island's central station at Chicago will be the greatest railroad station built in America. It will be thirteen stories high. The tracks on which the trains will enter the station will be elevated to the level of the union loop of the Chicago railways.

SHRINERS' DAY.

Saturday, October 18, of Fair Week, Has Been Designated.

ALL SHRINERS INVITED.

Saturday, October 18, has been selected and designated as "Shriner's Day" during the fair week festivities. Bailout Abyad Temple, of this city, has begun preparations that will result in one of the best affairs in public and in the walls of the temple's headquarters that has ever been attempted in this part of the country. Coming at the end of the week of the fair Shriners' day will wind up the fun in a manner that will give a fitting climax to the whole. In the morning an elaborate street parade will take place in which the entire membership of the temple will participate, together with a large number of visiting nobles. The candidates who will receive the degree in the evening will be mounted on camels and escorted and guarded by a troop of Arabs. Several features of the parade will be novel and laughable. Good music is to be furnished by the fair association, which will add to the attractiveness of the street display.

In the afternoon the visiting Shriners and their ladies will be taken to the fair grounds and about the city in trolley, under escort of committees. Within the closely guarded portals of the Masonic temple on North Third street at 7:30 p. m. the most interesting portion of the meeting will be begun, and a class of candidates, composed of prominent Masons of this city and other points in the territory, will make a pilgrimage across the hot sands of the desert, and exemplifying their courage in many ways that they may finally secure the much coveted title of "Noble of the Mystic Shrine." The ceremonial session will be one of the best arranged that has ever taken place here, and will be attended by a crowd of Shriners as well as some high officials of the order. A traditional banquet will follow the degree work and rumor has it that no such spread as is promised for that night has ever been prepared in Albuquerque.
All visiting nobles, their ladies and candidates from abroad will be received and cared for by a reception committee composed of Nobles A. Everitt, J. H. Wroth, C. F. Myers, Chas. Mansard, E. S. Stover, W. E. Dame, Thos. Hughes, T. N. Wilkerson and E. W. Spencer.

The parade will be handled by a committee composed of John Borradaile, E. B. Harsch and W. H. Hahn.
L. H. Chamberlain, recorder of the temple, desires to receive the names and addresses of all nobles of sister temples that are sojourning in this city and at other points in the territory, that he may mail them invitations to the ceremonial session.

Advertising Chat Chat.

Every business man is becoming educated to the fact that to conduct business without advertising is like having a store open at night with all the lights turned off.
They have also acknowledged that the newspaper is the best medium that reaches the people and brings with it results.
The newspaper goes into the homes, the stores and the office. People read advertisements as well as telegraph, market, local and business news. They have learned that whenever a merchant has something that he wishes to make a special sale on at bargain prices he will tell his story in the newspaper.
What is the use in having your store stocked with goods that the people know nothing about? If you want to sell your goods you must let the people know what you have for sale and the advantage that can be derived by dealing with you.
