VOLUME 11

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1903.

NUMBER 89

Territorial Topics

LAS CRUCES.

From the Republican.

The Liceo Cervantes will give the people of Las Cruces a rare treat by their concert on the 24th. The Liceo is an active Spanish society of the college.

News was received here by H. F. Stephenson of the death of his sister, at Tucson, Arizona. Mrs. James A. Zabriskie has visited in Las Cruces many times, and her many friends here are saddened at the news of her fatal illness.

GALLUP.

From the Republican.

Morello Bros. are putting up a building on the east of their present place of business.

The Santa Fe company is putting up an air compressor at Chavez for raising water from the deep well.

The lambing season has now begun around here and most of the Mexican towns are deserted.

J. M. Jacobson went to Albuquerque Monday, where he and W. H. Wolf were given the chapter degree in Masonry.

At Thoreau there are over seventy-five men working at the grading of the road on which the timber of the American Lumber company will be hauled. Mr. Horabin is doing good business these days.

The Weaver mine, last month, produced 40,000 tons of coal. This is the record breaker of any mine in New Mexico. Some ten years ago all the mines of New Mexico put together would not have reached this figure.

L. L. Henry moved his family to Bluewater Tuesday, where they will make their future home. While we are loth to lose this estimable family from Gallup, we hope Mr. Henry will realize a fortune out of his new business venture at Bluewater.

The curing plants put in at Holbrook, Pinta and other places along the railroad line for the purpose of eliminating the alkali from the water used in locomotives, are not proving a great success. Engineers do not think much of the curing process.

DEMING.

From the Headlight.

Those of our citizens who are now at the celebrated Faywood hot springs are A. J. Clark and wife, J. H. Tracy, wife and daughter, Jack, P. R. Smith, Jr., Louis I. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gleason. Quite a colony of good people from Deming, and they, no doubt, are having an enjoyable time. There is no better place in the west to get away to for a few days' or weeks' rest and enjoyment than this celebrated health resort.

A. D. Chenoworth, of St. Louis, who is a competent druggist, has accepted a position with J. F. Byron & Son, of this city. Mr. Chenoworth comes to our city highly recommended and we bespeak for him the attention due a stranger.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Weed, nephew and niece of Richard and Thomas Hudson, are now journeying this way from their home in New York City and will arrive here in a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Weed will remain in our town for some time visiting their relatives.

SAN MARCIAL.

From the Bee.

Romaldo Joola, a respected resident of the Valverde settlement, is dead of pneumonia.

The saloon at Rosedale has closed its doors for the present, owing to the lack of industrial activity in the pretty little camp.

J. J. Padon, of Palestine, Texas, is in San Marcial on a visit to his sister, Mrs. J. A. McCallum. He may decide to remain in the town permanently.

Word has been received here that Charles Featherstone was married in Texas last Thursday, and after a few days in El Paso will take up his residence with his bride at Rosedale.

A petition was circulated at San Marcial asking for the appointment of Wm. C. Reid, assistant United States attorney, as judge of the Fifth judicial district, in case of a vacancy in that office.

A. B. Baca, who is always watchful for the interests of his friends, discovered about 150 head of H. O. Bursum's sheep going it alone last week over the river. He wired Mr. Bursum where his sheep were to be found, and it was not very long before the proper herders had them in charge.

SOCORRO.

From the Chieftain.

Mrs. Ada M. Morley, of Datil, was a visitor in the city.

J. A. Beal, the hustling and successful agent of the Albuquerque Citizen, spent most of the week in the city in the interest of the paper he represents.

Dr. C. G. Duncan was called to Magdalena to visit Mrs. Fred Thomas, who is reported seriously ill.

Mrs. Joseph Price returned from a visit of several days with relatives and friends in Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Allaire, of San Antonio, will soon depart for a visit in eastern cities, including New York and Philadelphia. The visit will be an extended one.

Attorney James A. Fitch is suffering from another attack of l'itis. This attack is not so severe as the former, and it is hoped that Mr. Fitch will soon be able to attend to business again.

It is rumored that a beet sugar factory will at once be built between San Marcial and San Antonio and that 25,000 acres of land will be planted to beets in that section.

It is understood that the expert accountants that have been engaged for some time on the books of ex-Treasurer Abran Aboya will render their report to the county commissioners next week.

Capt. C. H. Kirkpatrick, of Mogollon, writes that Mrs. H. O. Bursum is visiting her sister, Mrs. Howard, of that place. The captain says, also, that F. X. Eberle, who owns valuable mining property in the Mogollon district, is there with a mining expert and that a big deal is talked of.

C. H. Elmendorf, one of the principal stockholders in the American Valley company, came up from San Antonio with the following persons as his guests: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Allaire and son, Pierre, Mr. and Mrs. Hazzard and J. L. Knapp. The American Valley company is now making extensive improvements on the Bosque del Apache grant with a view to bringing a large area of the tract under irrigation. Mr. Elmendorf will soon go east on a business trip.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Mrs. Carl Metzger, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Neff, left for Altoona, Pa., where they will remain during the summer.

The publication of the paper called The Santa Fe Capital has been suspended indefinitely by its publisher, W. M. Berger, who is ill and unable to attend to business.

Santa Fe valley horticulturists report the outlook for a large crop of fine fruit this year as very good. The unusually cold spring has retarded blossoms and buds, and hence there is very little danger of the fruit being injured by late frosts.

Charles V. Safford, traveling auditor of the territory of New Mexico, will leave for the month on an official trip. He will visit the counties of Taos, Rio Arriba and Colfax while away and may go to San Juan and other counties. He hopes to get back to Santa Fe in time for the visit of President Roosevelt to the city on May 5.

A number of children who were confirmed at the cathedral Sunday were entertained by Mrs. R. M. Foree and daughter, Miss Mary, in the afternoon in honor of the occasion. Miss Mary was a member of the confirmation class.

Thomas Erwin, who attempted suicide last Saturday by shooting himself in the back of the head, is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances and unless unexpected complications develop he will recover.

Two very handsome new book cases have been placed in the office of Col. J. Frank Chavez, superintendent of public instruction of the territory, in the Capitol building. The office library is now being properly arranged and placed in the cases.

Mrs. Stefano Brito de Nieto, aged 59 years, widow of the late Guadalupe Nieto, died at her home in this city Friday night and was buried Sunday morning. The funeral was held at the cathedral at 8 o'clock, interment following at Rosario cemetery.

S. Ortiz, of Pojoaque, was in the city recently and brought with him the skin of a mountain lion recently killed near the Santa Fe Lumber company's saw mill. It measured eight feet from tip to tip, and was shot by Ortiz while attacking cattle belonging to him. He sold it to J. S. Candelario.

Monday afternoon Sheriff Jose R. Lucero, of Dona Ana county, delivered at the territorial penitentiary the following prisoners who were convicted and sentenced at the term of district court which closed in that county on Saturday: Jose Gomez, 19 years old, to serve one year for larceny of a horse; Genaro Molina, 25 years old, to serve one year for larceny of a horse.

Harvey & Eastgate, the contractors, are pushing work on the addition of the hospital at the United States Indian industrial school. The first story is up and they expect to complete the second story during the coming week. The four Ellis cottages on Chapelle street, for which they have the contract, will be completed and ready for occupancy by the first of the month. Two of these cottages are already rented.

Nuptial mass was celebrated at the cathedral at 6 o'clock Monday morning at which three couples were married. The ceremony was performed by the vicar general, Very Rev. Antonio Fourchegu. The contracting parties were: Gaspar Brito and Miss Valentina Medrena, both of Santa Fe; Patricio Jimenez and Miss Maria Sais, both of Rio Tesuque; Francisco Martinez, of Chimayo, and Miss Maria Rivera, of Arroyo Hondo. After the ceremony the happy couples departed for their respective homes rejoicing. A triple wedding is rather an unusual occurrence, but owing to the early hour of this wedding comparatively few people witnessed the ceremony.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Optic.

Preparations are under way for the cavalry dance at the hot springs on the 24th inst., that the boys say will surpass anything yet given.

Dr. Martis, who has been stopping in the city for some six months past, for the benefit of his health, left for Calgary, province of Alberta, Canada, where he will practice his profession.

Miss Eugene Lehman, of Pueblo, Colo., who is visiting in the city, is a sister of Eugene Lehman, who has the honor of winning the first Rhodes scholarship given in the United States and the third in the world.

Invitations are being received in the city by numerous friends of the young couple, to the marriage of Robert Jacob Gross, of this city, to Miss Adeline Anderson, of St. Louis. The date is set for the 29th instant.

The normal band has elected the following officers: President and business manager, Prof. J. G. McNary; vice president, Myron Benedict; secretary and treasurer, Edgar Larson; leader, Ed Lewis; assistant leader, James Hanson; librarian, Eldon Tuttle; assistant librarian, Karl Lehmann.

Many Las Vegas who listened to the eloquent words of Field Secretary Rev. George Eberman, of the Christian Endeavor society of the world, who addressed the Christian Endeavor convention here last winter, will regret very much to hear of the death of the gentleman. He succumbed to typhoid fever this week.

From the Record.

Gussie Rothgeb, while playing ball yesterday, had the misfortune to fall and dislocate his shoulder. The injury while painful, is not at all dangerous and the young man was resting easily today.

At a very enthusiastic meeting of the Elks last night a handsome past exalted ruler emblem was presented to W. B. Bunker. A. O. Larrazola made the presentation speech and it was declared by all present to be one of the finest oratorical efforts ever heard within the lodge room.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trade last night, the reduction plant proposition was modified so as to offer Standish and Matt $1,000 in cash, instead of $800, and a site for the l'ivating plant, and it is very probable that the proposition as now made will be accepted and the work of establishing a copper plant here pushed through to completion at an early date.

Josefita, the 4-year-old daughter of Tranquillino Pacheco, died at Salano of diphtheria.

Fred Higgins, sheriff of Chavez county, came up with a patient for the insane asylum and returned to his native home.

Mildred, the beloved 8-month-old daughter of J. V. Biard, died, and the grief stricken father left for their old home at Paris, Texas, where the interment will take place.

Webster Ballinger, a well known newspaper man and attorney of Washington, D. C., who has been in Las Vegas since last October, left for Denver, where he expects to locate and open offices. He will retain his offices in Washington.

Miss Harriet Lehman, of Pueblo, Colo.; Mrs. William Renshaw, of Idaho Springs, Colo.; Miss Holzman, and Rabbi Lefkowitz, of this city, were guests of Charles Ifeud, who entertained them at the summer home of Max Nordhaus at Trout Springs. On the way up an addition was made to the party at the Montezuma hotel. All experienced a delightful day.

G. A. Gossler, of the Enterprise Cigar store, has again shown his enterprise. This time it takes the form of a long Havana filler, 5-cent cigar, labeled "Clerk's Union Local 812," which is the number of the clerk's union of this city. He manufacturers the cigar here with the aid of union labor and puts it on the market as a first class smoke for all union men. It will no doubt soon become a popular brand.

TOWN OF MOUNTAINAIR.

Special Correspondence.

Mountainair, N. M., April 20.—Mountainair, the new town on the Santa Fe cut off, now has a postoffice which is already doing a good business. It is a great convenience to the grading contractors along the line, as well as the citizens of the new metropolis. Mrs. George V. Hanlon is postmistress.

There are now twelve grading camps scattered along the line between Belen and Willard, and the work is progressing fast. It is the intention to throw up a grade at first just wide enough to support a temporary track and have the steam shovels widen the grade later. The steam shovels will not begin work before August or possibly later, and work on the big cut at the summit will not begin until that time.

Eggleston & Mathews, the first contractors east of Mountainair, received the balance of their outfit the other day and they will soon have the first four miles of their contract done. They will probably do the sidetrack grading at Mountainair. There will be three sidetracks, each 3,200 feet long.

The water problem has been a source of great inconvenience and expense to most of the contractors, but many of them have sunk wells of their own. C. H. Sharp, camped about three miles west of the summit, had to dig over 100 feet deep, but he got good water. The Abo Land company has secured a drill and will sink a well for Eggleston & Mathews.

Mulligan Brothers, who had a big grading contract on the Santa Fe Central, now have a camp on the cut off.

The Santa Fe is now surveying a line paralleling the Rock Island into Kansas intersecting the former's main line west at Syracuse. This looks as if there might be a little fun ahead.

Chief Field Engineer Jones has the work in charge and he sent a force of engineers east of the line the other day to begin work at Llano, the junction of the two roads.

W. R. Green has moved his family from Eastview to Mountainair and will probably put up a blacksmith shop.

Among the new settlers lately located are three brothers named Bird from the Capitan country, who have leased the Chavez saw mill. They are not only good saw mill men but experienced orchardists as well, and will at once plant part of their claims to fruit trees. Experience has demonstrated that this is a good apple country and the Messrs. Bird will be glad to welcome an account of their experience along this line. There are apple trees at Manzano which were bearing fruit when the Mexicans first settled here nearly 100 years ago and no one knows how old they are. They receive no care or attention, yet seem to be enjoying good health with every prospect of living to a ripe old age. On account of the significance of the name a great many citizens would have preferred the name of Manzano instead of Torrance for the new county.

Corbett & Hanlon now have their office in the postoffice building. Since the warm weather came they have been kept pretty busy locating settlers and surveying claims.

B. B. Spencer and Eugenio Romero will both begin delivering ties at Mountainair in a short time. They both have big contracts and between them will clean out the tie timber in the Manzano mountains.

Col. E. C. Manning expects his wife from Winfield, Kan., about May 1, and has already commenced a way of extermination against dust and cobwebs in anticipation of her coming.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitson left Thursday for Denver to reside. Mr. Whitson was with the Baxter engineering corps and both he and his wife made many friends while residents of Mountainair.

F. J. Smith has established the first incubator in Mountainair and now counts his eggs before they make chickens. Mr. Smith is a newspaper man and a philosopher, whose theory of life agrees with the present social conditions existing in Mountainair. His long experience in newspaper work has afforded him opportunities to look at life from many different viewpoints, and he seeks here in a new world what the busy marts of civilization cannot give him, close contact with those restless, energetic people whose fortune it has ever been to pave and make easy the way for the advancing hordes of civilization. Mr. Smith has long coveted this opportunity and if the experience proves too hard he may write a book to get even. By the way, four of the pioneers of Mountainair are, or rather were, narrow chested pencil pushers. They keep a can of printer's ink constantly on hand, which affords the microbe a place of refuge in lieu of the office towel and the seductive influence of the old friend of former days may in time overcome the allurements of the present free and easy life out here. If it does, something starting in the literary world will result. Keep your eye on Mountainair as the future literary hub of New Mexico.

The fact that the old Antonio Sandoval grant, now rejected, is unsurveyed, is retarding progress in this valley. There are perhaps 200 families living on this old grant, many of them having lived there for years, and all of them anxious to secure titles to their homes. Many of the new settlers would prefer localities on this land, but hesitate on account of the uncertainty as to the time the land will be subject to entry. Last December a mass meeting of those interested was held at Manzano and this meeting formulated a petition to the secretary of the interior, asking that the land be surveyed at once without the tedious formality of asking for the survey of one township, at a time. Col. J. Frank Chavez had the resolutions typewritten and sent a copy to Washington, but nothing has been heard from it. The immediate survey of all this unsurveyed land means much to the prosperity of the new county. There is just a faint suspicion in the minds of some that certain influences are at work secretly to prevent the settlers getting a survey, for selfish purposes. Investigations now under way will determine the correctness of this suspicion and there may be more anon.

SILVER CITY.

From the Independent.

Miss Fannie Fleming is ill with an attack of influenza.

Mrs. Jennie Brown, Miss Fe Waters, Mrs. L. B. Morrill and C. B. Morrill spent a day in the Burros, taking a short vacation.

An officers' infirmary will be the first building erected at Fort Bayard. This is to cost no less than $50,000 and will be complete in every way.

Mrs. Harry Dillon, who has been in El Paso for several weeks for her health, has returned. Mrs. Dillon has now thoroughly recovered from her illness.

T. F. Farnsworth returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he has been for some time past undergoing treatment for rheumatic troubles. He is much improved as a result of the trip.

The severe winds of the past few days have been causing a good deal of damage. Telegraph wires have been down two or three days in succession, and trains have been delayed in consequence.

The Silver City base ball team expects soon to be thoroughly fitted out with new suits, bats and balls. The boys have begun to take an interest now and are showing themselves thoroughly in earnest.

A. W. Pollard, who made such a splendid legislative reputation and did so much good work for Luna county, was in the city Friday. Mr. Pollard was one of the most conservative legislators, and nothing but praise is heard in regard to his work last session.

A choir has been organized at the Asbury Methodist church. A new soprano has been secured in Mrs. Grimes of Flint, Mich. The choir has always boasted of an excellent contralto in Mrs. M. W. Porterfield, who has consented to keep her position. Good music can be expected at this church from now on.

HACHITA.

From the Silver City Independent.

Mr. Mallins of Silver City is here looking over "Copper Dick" and other mining properties.

A large brick engine room and pump house is under way and will be finished about the 25th inst.

Will Foster, Luna county's latest sheriff, was shaking hands with his friends, both old and new.

J. C. Maher, El Paso & Southern railway master at Deming, came in and will spend a week at the Daisy mine.

W. M. Hays, of restaurant fame, left for Silver City. A circular has been sent ahead—a word to the wise, etc.

Bayles Baker of Black Mountain drove in to see the sights Thursday. Mr. Baker says the outlook for grass on this range was never better.

Anderson and Weems still continue to ship ore at the rate of twenty-two cars per week. Teamsters say that the supply seems to be inexhaustible.

Cattle shipping has commenced with a rush. The Alamo Hueco outfit came in with a trainload of cattle, and the Hachetas are expected the latter part of next week.

J. B. Taylor and family left for his home in Cincinnati, O. Development work on his property will be continued this summer under the supervision of Harry Armstrong.

GALLUP.

From the Republican.

The Gallup ball team will go to Fort Wingate Sunday if the weather permits.

Those who wish to see the president can make the trip to Albuquerque on May 5 for one fare for the round trip.

A. B. Commons, one of the teachers of Keam's Canyon, fell from a cottonwood tree and broke his arm one day last week.

On account of sickness L. I. Henry did not move his family to Bluewater, but they expect to leave about the first of May.

Paul Canazera, a coal miner at Weaver mine, had his leg broken this morning by a fall of roof rock. He was placed in the C. F. & I. hospital at Gibson.

There is some talk of organizing a base ball league in McKinley county, including the teams of Clarkville, Gibson, Fort Wingate and two or three teams in Gallup.

Wm. Flinn, of Jerome, Ariz., who landed here on the 10th with a mild case of smallpox, has recovered and was turned loose by the town board yesterday.

L. Bajetto, who had the misfortune to receive a broken leg last Friday at Clarkville by a fall of coal, was taken to the hospital at Albuquerque this morning, where he will be able to receive better care. The Italian society, of which he was a member, have interested themselves in his case, and A. Caloni, president of the society, and A. Bajetto, his cousin, accompanied the injured man to Albuquerque. Mr. Bajetto is a married man, having a wife and three small children.

ALGODONES NEWS.

Special Correspondence.

Algodones, N. M., April 22.—Warm weather prevails here at present. All crops are looking well and plenty of water in the river.

The Jemez river is running bank full. The smelter company here is doing a good deal of building, and are now burning a kiln of brick which contains one hundred thousand brick. They are expecting their machinery here in a few days, when business will commence in earnest and we will soon have quite a town here.

New houses are being built right along and everybody is busy who wants work.

Railroad lines have been surveyed from here to the coal mines and to Bland.

Work on the oil well is being pushed as fast as possible.

Good news is reported from the mines in the Sandia mountains east of here and some good prospects are showing up.

Don Pedro Perea paid a short visit here yesterday and returned to Bernalillo.

O. P. Hovey, the new county clerk has bought the Sandoval property here and is making extensive repairs in the buildings.

The assessor is here today making assessments on the property of our citizens.

The farmers are all busy irrigating their crops.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Thomas Erwin, the man who shot himself in the back of the head Monday afternoon, is doing nicely at St. Vincent's hospital.

Mrs. McDonald, of Ohio, Ill., arrived in the city for a visit with her son, Leo McDonald, who is sojourning at St. Vincent's hospital for the benefit of his health. He is doing nicely in this climate.

His friends will be pleased to learn that C. W. Dudrow, who went to Ojo Caliente for his health a few weeks ago and became very sick the first of the week, was better yesterday. Mrs. Dudrow is at his bedside and as soon as he is able to make the trip will bring him home.

District court for the county of Rio Arriba will meet in Tierra Amarilla on Monday next. The court officials will leave for that place tomorrow. Alpheus Hampe, indicted for the murder of Epitacio Gallegos, will be also taken there by the sheriff's officers of this county, as his trial is to take place in that court on a change of venue from Santa Fe county.

The remains of Francisco Griego, who died Wednesday afternoon at St. Vincent's hospital from injuries sustained the same day in the mines of the Santa Fe Coal company, were buried this morning, his brother, Louis Griego, of El Paso, being unable to come to this city for the obsequies account of illness. The funeral was held at Guadalupe church.

MORGAN MYSTERY.

The Morgan problem will be solved, it was the "Hearst Mystery," only in fewer words. J. Pierpont Morgan, the money king of Wall street, did not pass through Albuquerque yesterday, neither was it his family.

The Democrat reporter must have leaned up against the stove and hit the pipe, and the idea that J. Pierpont Morgan, the world's greatest financier, would be a prize to all the reporters at all the towns along the route, whether or not if they were aware of his coming makes a "mystery solver" laugh and laugh. J. Pierpont Morgan has not been interviewed by a reporter for the last twelve years. Ever the accomplished and brainy newspaper man of New York have been denied the privilege. If one of Albuquerque's bright newspaper men had advanced within twenty feet of the "bunch of money," one of his body guards would have caused a slump in the market for newspaper men. Then those intimately acquainted with the Morgan family affairs, would be shocked to learn that Morgan was traveling with his family, since he had not spoken to them for fifteen years. Then again, after you, the Topeka Journal is mistaken for the first time, in stating that Morgan will pass through there today.

The elegant Pullman private car "Olympia," on No. 2, was occupied by four elderly ladies, surely not all were wives or daughters of the celebrated financier. Here is the truth of the Morgan mystery. The four ladies are prominently connected with the Four Hundred and were en route from California to Chicago, where they will be joined by Mrs. Anna Hill, who owns the private car Olympia. The Morgan mysteries have caused loss of money and loss of valuable grey matter, and it is time that the Duke City place strong barriers against being victimized. True, no noticeable damage was done this time, yet such pipe dreams are injurious to a vivid imagination.

Morgan Was Mad.
New York, April 25.—"I would be willing to give $500 to anyone who smashes any camera that holds a snapshot of me," exclaimed J. Pierpont Morgan after he had gone aboard the White Star liner Cedric yesterday by way of a second cabin gang plank in an effort to evade a score of photographers.

Default Against Packers.
Chicago, April 22.—A formal order of default was entered by Judge Grosscup today against the packers who have failed to answer the government's anti-trust bill. The final order of injunction was not entered against the defendants, owing to the absence of District Attorney Bethea from the city. It is expected that the packers will appeal when the final order is entered.

Death at Sanitarium.
Angel Garcia, aged 33 years, died at the sanitarium yesterday morning after a long illness of tuberculosis. Deceased was a member of the Cigar-makers' union, and worked at the trade for a number of years. A mother and brother live in El Paso. Funeral services will be held from the undertaking parlors of O. W. Strong & Sons tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Santa Barbara cemetery.

Gophers will Dine in New York, April 23.—The Smelting Society of New York has visited last for its annual banquet here until last night at the Waldorf. The Magdalen society numbers is manager of the many men in copper mine. Mrs. Christine professor remain in Albuquerque several days.
