

SUNMOUNT TENT CITY.

Located Near Santa Fe—Especially Arranged for Comfort of Guests.

A NEW HOTEL TO BE BUILT

While in Santa Fe yesterday The Citizen representative had a conversation with A. R. Gibson, one of the progressive citizens of that city, relative to the Tent City, and from him elicited the following interesting information:

Sunmount Tent City, the suburb of Santa Fe, is growing. Located as it is with everything easy of access and all modern conveniences and accommodations, it is found to grow and thrive and will at no distant day be recognized as one of the famous southwestern health resorts.

The altitude of the place is exactly that recommended by scientific men who have made tubercular troubles a life study. The water is the purest known of any in this territory. The contour of the country, the mountain surroundings and all go to make the location one of the few absolutely sheltered spots in New Mexico; absolutely free from dust and violent winds it is sure to command the admiration and endorsement of those who know of its advantages.

The cost of living at this outdoor sanitarium alone should make it popular. Heretofore the difficulty has been that in the Rocky mountain region, especially at locations within the proper altitude and having other necessary requirements to make it successful, is that the cost of the sojourner or healthseeker has been beyond the means of the masses, and for this reason thousands of people afflicted with throat and pulmonary troubles throughout the north, east and south, who should make a change have been precluded from doing so on account of the enormous expense of living at such places.

A record the projectors of this enterprise should feel proud of is the fact that not a single occupant or resident of the Tent City, which was opened last July, but who has gained from one-half to two and one-half pounds per week. The improvement seems to be general with the entire population of the place.

These homes in addition to the modern equipment are also furnished with stoves and can be comfortably occupied during the winter months as well as during the summer months.

The majority of those occupying the cottages board at the Administration building, which is also operated in connection with the Tent City. However, those who prefer to live a home life can have their cottages furnished for housekeeping, which enables them to live quietly and enjoy the same accommodations and comforts that they would were they in their own homes.

The Sunmount stables, recently built, are filled with the usual farm yard products and fresh milk, cream, eggs and poultry are furnished the tables.

An attendant is constantly on the grounds and when the mornings are cool, before the occupants of these tent homes arise, a light fire is built, making the temperature comfortable and pleasant to the occupants while they dress.

Everything that can be done by the management is carried out for the comfort of its guests.

The fame of this place is becoming known throughout the United States. Messrs. Gibson & Dow, the owners, while both are engaged in other business have given the proposition sufficient of their time and attention to make every detail perfect.

They have done, and are doing more than any other concern or corporation in this territory to advertise the best climate in the world together with many other natural advantages to be found in New Mexico.

The mail matter requires the employment of two or three stenographers all of whom are constantly at work on correspondence and answering inquiries relative to Sunmount. Their advertising matter is invariably sent out under first class postage with a personal letter to the party addressed. The matter consists of illustrated prospectuses, beautiful views of Sunmount Tent City and surrounding scenery, and various publications touching upon climate and advice to those afflicted with tubercular troubles.

Anticipating the wonderful success which up to the present time has been demonstrated and the increase in population which must necessarily result from such extensive advertising, the management will at once begin the erection of a hotel of dimensions amply sufficient to accommodate those who may prefer hotel life. This hotel will stand on the northwest corner of the grounds. It will be constructed of brick, with hard wood floors, which will be highly polished and in fact the building will be constructed in a manner and with a view to perfect sanitary conditions, and an abundance of sunshine.

Outdoor games and amusements, bowling alley, gymnasium and various other means of exercise and enjoyment will be added as fast as possible.

No pains or expense has been spared to make the place ideal in every respect as regards up-to-date advantages and conditions for the comfort and happiness of its people.

Along Line of Santa Fe Central From reports of incoming travelers

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

the country along the line of the Santa Fe Central is rapidly improving in every element of "prosperity." In the draws along the foothills, there is considerable water, and ducks, wild turkeys, antelope and other game is abundant. Three bunches of antelope passed within shooting distance of the train, there being some seventeen in the largest and three in the smallest. At the latter J. W. Records, master mechanic of the road, took a crack with a .393 Winchester, knocking up the dust under their fleeing heels.

Dieting Invites Disease.

To cure dyspepsia or indigestion it is no longer necessary to live on milk and toast. Starvation produces such weakness that the whole system becomes an easy prey to disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that one cares to eat, and is a never failing cure for indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold by B. H. Briggs & Co., and S. Vann & Son.

"A Line on Him."

C. V. S. Thorne, a rich man, mysteriously disappeared from Oakland, Cal., and a telegram received here says that it is reported he has gone to some place in Oklahoma, possibly Guthrie or Oklahoma City to be married to Mrs. Fannie Crocker. A sensational paper of Chicago would like to "set a line on him," so as to give him a sensational write-up with illustrations. Mr. Thorne is not known in this city, hence no one hereabouts is losing sleep on account of his mysterious disappearance or his marriage to Mrs. Fannie Crocker.

RAN INTO POLE.

Accident to Archie Waidle Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Archie Waidle met with a very painful accident about 6 o'clock yesterday. He was returning from his work at the local railway shops and was about to round the corner at the Lead Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, going west to his home on the avenue, when he turned his bicycle to avoid running into a couple of ladies crossing the street. He escaped the ladies, but the wheel ran into a telephone pole, knocking Mr. Waidle off to the ground. He was picked up and taken to his home near by. A citizen representative called at the Waidle home at noon today and was informed that he was suffering from a bruised limb as a result of the accident. He is compelled to lay off from his work for a couple of days.

MAYOR MYERS PLAYS

Part of Missionary, Showing City's Resources to Visitors From Other Places.

A visitor to this city from other parts of the territory or even if from points without the territory, often goes away with but a dim and indefinite idea that Albuquerque is a growing town with considerable marks of prosperity; but as to the individual items entering into and contributing to this prosperity, such visitor knows little or nothing.

It therefore was real and valuable missionary work, Mayor C. F. Myers was doing today, when he took a newspaper man from another New Mexico city, behind his fine young horse and drove him around Albuquerque, showing him the brewery, the ice plants, the roller flour mill, the wool scouring mill, the cloth and blanket weaving mills, the tannery, the American Lumber company's mills, the beautiful residences, innumerable trees, handsome streets, miles of cement walks, and last but not least, the magnificent gardens of Mann Bros. Herman Bleuber, and those of many others which are on a smaller scale.

That newspaper man will go home with a truer and better idea of Albuquerque than ever he had before.

DEATH SWINGS HIS SCYTHE

Anu Two More Fall Before the Advance of That Inevitable Reaper.

The death of Orval Herbert Stanley of Taos, which took place in this city, yesterday afternoon, was one of peculiar sadness. In his 34th year, strong, vigorous and manly, the picture of health, and with the prospects of a long and happy life, he and a party of friends came down from Taos to attend the fair, and also for the gentlemen in the party to join the Shriners. But in the case of Mr. Stanley, a cold taken while coming down developed into pneumonia, and in a week death ended it all. The friends who were attending him in his illness had no fear of his death up to within fifteen or twenty minutes of the sad event. It seemed unreasonable that one so strong, so vigorous, so full of vitality, should quit the world forever after so brief an illness. But so it was, and tonight the remains will be shipped by O. W. Strongs Sons to Colorado Springs, where the parents of the deceased reside.

Mr. Stanley was a mining superintendent, having, it is understood, some valuable properties in Taos county. He had no family, but was engaged to be married in a short time.

The White Plague.

Max Karnath, a consumptive, died at the age of 25 years, last night after a residence in this city of some six or eight weeks. He was buried at 4 o'clock this afternoon, from the chapel of the Strong brothers' undertaking parlors. Rev. J. M. Mandalari, S. J., conducted the funeral services, and the remains were interred in Santa Barbara cemetery. It is said to die among strangers and by them to be consigned to the narrow house appointed for all living.

GOES TO ARIZONA.

Miner Wilson Sells Out His Interest in Jerome Copper Mines.

Tonight, J. M. Wilson, who was one of the owners and operators of the Jerome copper mines near San Acacia, Socorro county, will leave for the west. It is understood that he "has a rich gold strike located near Winslow;" in any event, he has some rich specimens and says they come from a mine which he located about three years ago and which he will now develop. Mr. Wilson disposed of his interest in the Jerome mines to Col. J. Francisco Chavez, Gen. E. L. Bartlett and R. L. Haas of Santa Fe, and he leaves the city tonight with plenty of money to thoroughly develop his new gold find in Arizona. Mark Thomas, also one of the owners and operators of the Jerome mines, remains at San Acacia and will continue digging out chunks of copper.

KILLING OF M'CAMMON.

Wife Witnessed the Husband Shot Down by Assassin.

According to a letter the wife of the dead man has written to the Socorro Chieftain her husband, William M. McCammon, was killed in cold blood by Irwin Wallace. The Chieftain publishes the letter in full in its issue of last Saturday, and it shows that Wallace was dissatisfied with a business transaction he had with McCammon. He was accompanied by a lady who has a ranch in the neighborhood of the killing, Wallace called at the McCammon house and asked the latter to sign another bill of sale for the E. W. ranch and cattle. Quite naturally, McCammon having purchased the property and paid for it, refused, whereupon Wallace swore vengeance. He carried out his threats a few days later by again calling at the McCammon house and deliberately shooting down the husband and father before the eyes of the wife and baby. In ordering her letter to the Chieftain, Mrs. McCammon says:

"How my little baby escaped the bullets of Wallace's six shooter is a mystery, for it stood in the door screaming during the fusillade while the bullets struck all around it.

"My husband was shot down in his own home in cold blood, simply was assassinated without a chance to defend himself or his family."

W. C. Thompson and J. H. McDanna of Gallup, are in the city.

Tilly and Watson were heretofore sentenced.

Jose Montoya, the fire bug, who said he was throwing away a cigarette under Strong's Sons building when he was caught and charged with arson. The defendant pleaded guilty, and the prosecuting attorney said many fires were attributed to the defendant's careless way of smoking. He told a different tale than that told when he pleaded guilty. The defendant has some of the ear-marks of a crazy man. The court sentenced defendant to eight years in the penitentiary.

Jose Maria Moreno, who was convicted of breaking into the shop of Mrs. Becker at Isleta a short time ago and stealing flour therefrom, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. He said he was 38 years old; and came from El Paso, Texas.

George Wilson, who pleaded guilty to burglary of the house of Jack Finner (and whose companion was declared not guilty by the jury) said he got into bad company and assisted in the crime by standing watch outside while his companion did the business; that he came from Phoenix, and was on his way home, was sentenced to two years and six months.

Luis Jaramillo, who got into trouble with a friend at a ball and was convicted by the jury, was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

Miguel Sedillo was sentenced to the jail for a period of three months for smashing a bottle over a comrade's head while at a ball.

F. G. Middleton, who says he was a Pullman Palace Car company porter, and who stole linen and valuables from one of these cars, was sentenced to a year in the pen.

J. H. Garcia, who came from El Paso and who stole a bike and sold it and had nothing to say, was sentenced to one year in the pen.

Williams, Brannon, Mullien and Jenkins were a trio of warm looking hoboes, and while changing cars here in a hurry broke into and destroyed valuable merchandise in a box car, pleaded guilty. All admitted taking a pair of shoes and overalls and said they were touring south to spend the winter at Santa Barbara. The court sentenced them to five years each. One of the defendants broke down under the sentence, and the court said he would investigate his hard luck story and if he found it true he would intercede with the governor to reduce the sentence.

Las Vegas Ladies Frightened.

Las Vegas had quite a sensation Sunday night, growing out of the attack made by a drunken man on five ladies, at different times but near the same place. The time was between 6:30 and 7 p. m., and the place was near the corner of Sixth and Main streets, where the Baptist church stands. Those attacked were two young ladies, Misses Rotberg and Harrison, and three married ladies, Messdames trash, Newman and Blehl. It was thought the fellow's motive was robbery, but that he was too drunk to be successful. Watches and pocket books were what he seemed chiefly to desire.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.
