Tammany Hall in Power—Population Statistics Just Published.

POLITICAL AND SOCIAL EVENTS

New York, Jan. 2.—After all it seems that New York will not have such a terrible time under the administration of Tammany hall.

One thing is certain and that is that Tammany will have to go slow in the matter of spending money.

A salary raising fever has been raging in the city departments, but it is doubtful if it will last.

There is no truth in the rumor that negotiations to form a strong labor combination in New York are in progress.

Another matter pertaining to drinks or stimulants is also engaging the public attention but in a different way.

Some interesting figures concerning the population of the state of New York have just been published.

It is doubtful if any newspaper woman in the United States was more popular than the late Harriet Hubbard Ayer.

Assisted by a local newspaper many prominent politicians are working as hard as they know how to secure the next democratic national convention for New York.

New York's ray of light is alarmed at the possibility of there being no French ball this year.

excuse given for the discontinuance of the ball is a financial stringency among amusement lovers.

Mr. Graa did not escape censure in respect to this detail, but Mr. Conrad had gained well earned credit as a stage manager and something like perfection was expected.

"New Yorkitis" the victim of which is afflicted with an overcast sense of the importance of New York and New Yorkers is a very common disease here.

The important territory progressed quite satisfactorily in 1903. The crops were fairly good in some places.

from La Junta down into Mexico and from central Texas through Arizona.

He entered the service of the Santa Fe on July 1, 1897, six years ago last July, and during that time his promotion has been rapid and permanent.

Mr. Roe's promotion is rejoiced in by his innumerable friends, but they feel like one man that his good fortune is to the damage of the southwest.

BUSINESS COLLEGE CHANGES

PROF. G. S. RAMSEY FORMER PRESIDENT OF UNIVERSITY SUCCEEDS J. H. HARMS IN MANAGEMENT.

This morning Prof. Geo. S. Ramsey took charge of the Albuquerque Business College, succeeding J. H. Harms.

The deal was made Saturday, as was announced in Saturday's issue of The Citizen, and the transfer took place this morning.

The pupils arrived at the school rooms and took up their studies as usual, no break occurring in consequence of the change in the heads of the institution.

THE WALLACE CASE

BRIEF SKETCH OF ONE OF THE MOST REMARKABLE MURDER CASES IN THE HISTORY OF SOCORRO COUNTY.

The Wallace murder case is one of the most remarkable in the recent annals of Socorro county.

Irwin Wallace, and his victim, William K. McCammon, were stockmen living in the Datil mountain region.

It was on October 1, 1902, that Wallace sold his ranch and stock to McCammon.

THE PAST YEAR IN NEW MEXICO

The year 1903 which closed Thursday, has been one of quiet growth and progress rather than one of remarkable events as far as New Mexico is concerned.

Wallace had his preliminary examination before Judge Green of this city November 9 and was released under $7,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury.

District Attorney A. A. Sedillo was assisted in the prosecution by Attorney Horton Moore of Las Cruces.

INCORPORATION OF OLD TOWN

MEETING OF CITIZENS DECIDE TO DELAY THE MATTER.

At a meeting held at the court house in old town last night, James Romero acted chairman, Gabriel Armijo secretary and R. Crockett, interpreter.

Upon motion a committee consisting of five of those who favored incorporation to act with a committee of three who opposed, and one friend of both sides, was appointed to consult and make a report to the meeting.

Hon. F. A. Hubbard addressed the meeting and it was possibly through his even and well balanced counsel that the incorporation was postponed.

Hon. Nestor Montoya also addressed the meeting and his talk was along lines similar to the disposition Mr. Hubbard took of the matter of incorporation.

It was also evident that the sympathies of those who first started the incorporation movement had cooled and that Old Albuquerque will not become an incorporated city for some time to come.

The following is the report of the committee: Old Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 2, 1904.—Mr. Chairman: Your committee appointed to confer together upon the question of the advisability of incorporating the old town of Albuquerque or precinct No. 15 of Bernalillo county, beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee have deliberately and in a friendly manner discussed the benefits to be derived from incorporation, and also the burdens which might necessarily be imposed upon the property owners in order to maintain the municipal corporation.

It was also evident that the sympathies of those who first started the incorporation movement had cooled and that Old Albuquerque will not become an incorporated city for some time to come.

ing operations to manufacture the timber growing in our territory, and have expended hundreds of thousands of dollars in establishing their mills.

We beg to report that after duly considering both sides we have agreed that it would not be advisable to insist upon incorporation at this time.

We respectfully submit this as our report and recommend that it be adopted: Respectfully, NESTOR MONTOYA, Chairman Committee.

JESUS ROMERO, SEVERINO CROCKETT, CORNELIO D. MURPHY, TOMAS H. DURAN, Old Town Committee, IRA B. BENNETT, V. P. EDHE, R. W. DOBSON, FRANK A. HUBBELL.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON PANAMA CANAL

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SEVERELY CRITICIZES ACTION OF COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The president referred to the legislation by congress concerning the building of an inter-oceanic canal, preference being given to the Panama site, and negotiations leading up to the Hay-Herran treaty in which he says:

"If we erred at all, we erred in the direction of over generosity toward the Colombian government." Secretary Hall repeatedly warned Colombia that grave consequences might follow her rejection of the treaty, and although the administration had special knowledge that such means were necessary in order to appreciate the possibility of revolutionary outbreak on the isthmus.

"I hesitate to refer to the injurious insinuations that have been made of complicity by this government in the revolutionary movement in Panama. They are destitute of foundation as of propriety. The only excuse in my mentioning them is the fear lest unthinking persons might mistake the acquiescence of silence of mere self respect. I think proper to say therefore, that no one connected with the government had any part in preparing the insinuation or encouraging the insurrection on the isthmus of Panama, and that save from reports of our military and naval officers no one connected with this government had any previous knowledge of the revolution except such as was accessible to any person of ordinary intelligence who read the newspapers and kept up current acquaintance with public affairs."

The president says that if ever the government could be said to have received a mandate from civilization to effect the object of accomplishment which demanded the interest of mankind the United States holds that position in regard to the inter-oceanic canal. He referred to assurances of approval and encouragement from all quarters of the globe since the United States announced the purpose of building the canal, the surrender of the rights by England under the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and a resolution of endorsement adopted by the Pan-American conference in the City of Mexico in 1902, when General Reyes the present delegate from Colombia to Washington, voted in the affirmative, in some evidence in the world wide approval. "That our position is mandatory of civilization," he continues "has been by no means misconceived in shown by the promptitude with which the powers have one after another followed our lead in recognizing Panama as an independent state."

The president gives as his opinion that no fair-minded person can fail to feel that Panama had the amplest justification from separation from Colombia and that action to the high end degree is beneficial to the civilized world by giving immediate opportunity of building the canal.

The reading of the message was concluded at 1:45 and discussion followed on the isthmian situation. The Morgan resolution declaring that neither the president nor the president and senate, as the treaty-making power of the United States, had lawful power to wage or declare war against a foreign power without the consent of congress when such country was at peace with the United States, was the basis of the discussion.

BADLY HURT WAS BURT FLAHEVE BY BEING CAUGHT IN A DRILL AT THE GALLUP MACHINE SHOPS.

Burt Flaheve while working at a stationary drill at the machine shops was accidentally caught in the machinery last Wednesday and severely injured. The machinery caught the lapel of his coat and he was choked and his arms were severely strained, says the Republican.

When the Alarm was given and the machinery was stopped by was found to be unconscious. He was taken to the home of his mother, Mrs. M. M. Flaheve and a physician was called. Aside from strangulation, the most painful feature of the accident was the complete paralysis of the nerves of his arms and he seems to have no use of them.

He was taken to the hospital in Albuquerque where he will receive proper treatment. It was a close call for him, and the fact that his clothes were new and strong probably saved his life, for the machinery could not tear the new goods so readily.

Washington Theatre. Washington, Jan. 5.—In the senate today a resolution by Hale, restoring the commissioners of the district of Columbia to report upon the condition of theaters in Washington, was agreed to without debate. Lodge then began a speech on Panama. He quoted a number of authorities in support of the position that the president had not departed from the beaten path in recommending the independence of Panama.

One of the finest musical organizations in the postoffice is the Italian band orchestra, they have played at several dances the past few weeks, and those who danced say positively that the music furnished by the above orchestra could not have been improved on.
