

ARIZONA TOWNS

ST. JOHNS.

From the Herald.
W. Sherwood left for Fort Apache where he will look after his business interests.

Arthur Yonney left for Silver City, New Mexico, where he will look after his father, who is working there.

Dr. J. J. Fleming left for Phoenix, where he was called to testify in the case of A. A. Pratt, who is alleged to have raised money orders in the post-office at Wickenburg.

The district schools for Richville and Tule have closed for this term. Miss La Verne Sherwood was teaching the Richville school and Miss Lou Freeman the latter.

FLAGSTAFF.

From the Star.
S. H. Hatfield and wife left for Los Angeles. Mrs. Hatfield, who has been in ill health for some time past, will remain in California indefinitely.

Married, on Thursday, April 14, 1904, in Flagstaff, T. A. Grandon, of Flagstaff, and Miss Mary A. Camp, of Cleveland, Ohio. They will make their home here.

W. F. Falder and John LeBarrow, left for Yuma, overland, where they will overlook the government land recently opened up for settlement in that vicinity.

J. H. Hildford and W. G. Henry returned last week from the Apache country, where they spent the winter trapping beaver. They had a very successful season.

Mr. Schaeffer, of Bowen Creek, has purchased 1,800 goats and placed them in the Verde valley for grazing. He expects to make well out of his investment, as it is a profitable business it will carry for.

Rev. Mr. Florentine, a minister from Michigan, spent a day or two in our city this week and took in the cliff dwellings, and left to visit the Grand Canyon, after which he will visit southern California before he returns east.

W. H. Tipshoff, who has been in business here for several years, left recently for Prescott where he will reside in future, having purchased a pharmacy in that city. Mr. Tipshoff is a gentleman of exceptional business qualifications and enterprise, and that he will meet with success in his new venture is the sincere wish of his many friends here.

WILLIAMS.

From the News.
Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Sherwood departed for a two weeks' visit with relatives of the latter on the coast.

Col. J. G. Albert, representing the great council of the United States of the Improved Order of Red Men, is in the city. He will organize a tribe of that order here.

The past few days the Perrin company has had a force of men engaged in loading six cars with their year's crop of wool, amounting to 147,900 pounds, which was sold to Hollowell & Donald of Boston at a good figure.

Mrs. N. C. Carr, a niece of Mrs. J. K. McDonald, came up from the camps accompanied by Mrs. Mc., and departed for Flagstaff, where she will be the guest of Mrs. D. J. Brennan during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harris arrived here from California. They both look well and report having greatly enjoyed themselves. At the San Jacinto springs were also Bud Emery and T. J. Hesser, the latter of Winslow.

H. L. Arnold received a message informing him of the death of his step father, Dr. N. H. Mates, at New Orleans. The doctor had long been a resident of Tucson, where he was recently interested. As yet no particulars have been received, but as he had been ailing for some time his death was no surprise.

Louis Kinser arrived here from Athens, Tenn., for a visit with his brother, Bob, whom he had not seen for thirteen years. On Sunday the brothers departed for a visit at the canyon and from there to Bob's cattle camp near Anita. Bob says he expects to make a full fledged cow puncher of Louis if the latter doesn't see homestead and stampee.

The two men who decamped with a couple of horses belonging to Martin Huggins, last week, were captured on Wednesday near Pine Springs. They were given their Thursday and held to the grand jury. Phil Butler and Fred McFue were their names, and the former has yet to answer for raising a $4 check to $40, which was cashed by Mrs. Harrell on the day the men disappeared.

HOLBROOK.

From the Argus.
Mrs. Ellen C. Greer of Concho, accompanied by her granddaughter, Myrtle, were here this week visiting relatives.

Robert Scott and W. B. Campbell came down from Show Low and disposed of their spring clip to A. A. Vandewort, agent for Brown & Adams, of Boston, Mass.

Frank Wallace came in from the headquarters ranch. He reports that stock in his section look better than he ever saw at this time of the year, and the feed is getting scarce and if rain does not fall within the next thirty days it will be very hard times for stockmen.

Fort Apache was the scene of a conflagration Tuesday, which destroyed the blacksmith shop, a barn containing a large amount of cavalry equipment, several tons of hay, two granaries with over 100,000 pounds of grain, also several cords of store wood. A number of buildings were blown up to prevent the further spread of the fire.

Joe Knight arrived here, having in charge Grover Bowman, who he turned over to the custody of the sheriff. Bowman is the man who was shot by Jim Burkett at Winslow about ten days ago. After having a long talk with him he left Winslow.

ODD FELLOWSHIP

Tomorrow Anniversary Will be Observed in a Variety of Ways.

EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of American Odd Fellowship. The members of this great fraternity will celebrate the day in a variety of ways all over this country and in twenty-three foreign countries. Just eighty-five years ago tomorrow, Thomas Wildey and four of his associates in the old Seven Stars in Baltimore started this organization which has since grown into such immense proportions as to now number 1,300,000 members.

A prominent feature of the address delivered tomorrow in different parts of the world will be the telling of the story of how the Seven Stars, the birthplace of this great order, was destroyed in the great Baltimore fire of February 8, 1904. And the hearts of all Odd Fellows will be made glad when they learn through the press today for the first time that a committee from the mother lodge of the order, Washington No. 1, of Baltimore, which was born and nurtured in this old cradle, has already secured the privilege of erecting a tablet on the building that is to stand on the site of the old Seven Stars. This property is now owned by Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.

This committee has purchased all the whole bricks from the debris of the original Seven Stars as souvenirs to be sent to the lodges throughout the country, or at least as many as can be supplied, that will unite in contributing to a fund which has been started to erect a memorial building for the old mother lodge, and which will take the place of the old Seven Stars in the heart of the order as well as to memorialize Thomas Wildey, the founder of the fraternity. These bricks will also in a way serve as souvenirs of the great Baltimore fire as the Seven Stars stood in the heart of the burnt district. The committee has expressed a regret that the number of bricks is limited because most of them in the building crumbled because of the awful heat of the fire. But while this is true they have arranged so that individual members of the order who contribute as much as $5 will be given a souvenir, or one will be sent to each individual member on the receipt of $5 as payment for same. A neatly arranged certificate, certifying where the brick is from and printed in colors with a picture of the Seven Stars on it will be given with each souvenir.

John E. Goodwin of Atlanta, Georgia, the Grand Sire and J. Frank Grant, the Grand Secretary of the order, together with many more high officials have already contributed to the memorial fund, the receipts having already reached $1,000. Many lodges in different parts of the country have sent in contributions.

This committee has made arrangements with Mr. Elvin J. Curry of Baltimore, the Assistant Grand Secretary of the order, by which they get the net proceeds of "The Red Book of Odd Fellowship," this book has lately been published by Mr. Curry and has met with universal approval among the officers and members of the whole order. It has already been sold in six foreign countries and in every state, territory and Canadian province in this country. Odd Fellows believe that it will aid greatly to the undertaking of the committee. In fact the largest amount that has been received from contributors thus far has been given by Mr. Curry in connection with the sales of his book.

Leading Odd Fellows in different states have expressed their appreciation of the efforts of this committee and there is no doubt that they will accomplish a great work for their order. They are surely giving their brother Odd Fellows a splendid opportunity to lend their hands to a great and noble undertaking. We think that no good Odd Fellow should hesitate to give of his substance to this noble cause.

Dear Reader, who will be remembered to Albuquerque as the manager of Handler's Comedians, passed through the city this morning en route east. Mr. Handler is now manager of an all star road garden for which he will secure talent at Denver, Chicago and New York.

The chief contests scheduled for the middle west are those of northwestern and Illinois at Evanston, Indiana university and Washburn college at Bloomington, University of Minnesota and Carleton college at Minneapolis, Purdue and Rose Polytechnic at Lafayette, Nebraska and Drake at Des Moines, and Washburn college and Emporia State Normal school at Topeka.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. P. H. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by all druggists.

C. A. Hudson's team of horses gave an exhibition of sprinting on South Third street early this morning. South Headley, who is somewhat of a sprinter himself, ran after the team, jumped into the wagon from the rear, and just as they turned the corner of Third street at Silver avenue the owner of the horses, Captain Hudson, came out of his house and yelled "halt." The horses came to a halt then, and thus knocked the reporter out of a thrilling runaway item.

B. Kappo, the druggist, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. John Tash, who is now at Chicago. She writes that Miss Irma had undergone a successful operation for appendicitis. She stood the operation bravely and her ultimate recovery is now thought certain.

ODD FELLOWSHIP

Tomorrow Anniversary Will be Observed in a Variety of Ways.

EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of American Odd Fellowship. The members of this great fraternity will celebrate the day in a variety of ways all over this country and in twenty-three foreign countries. Just eighty-five years ago tomorrow, Thomas Wildey and four of his associates in the old Seven Stars in Baltimore started this organization which has since grown into such immense proportions as to now number 1,300,000 members.

A prominent feature of the address delivered tomorrow in different parts of the world will be the telling of the story of how the Seven Stars, the birthplace of this great order, was destroyed in the great Baltimore fire of February 8, 1904. And the hearts of all Odd Fellows will be made glad when they learn through the press today for the first time that a committee from the mother lodge of the order, Washington No. 1, of Baltimore, which was born and nurtured in this old cradle, has already secured the privilege of erecting a tablet on the building that is to stand on the site of the old Seven Stars. This property is now owned by Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.

This committee has purchased all the whole bricks from the debris of the original Seven Stars as souvenirs to be sent to the lodges throughout the country, or at least as many as can be supplied, that will unite in contributing to a fund which has been started to erect a memorial building for the old mother lodge, and which will take the place of the old Seven Stars in the heart of the order as well as to memorialize Thomas Wildey, the founder of the fraternity. These bricks will also in a way serve as souvenirs of the great Baltimore fire as the Seven Stars stood in the heart of the burnt district. The committee has expressed a regret that the number of bricks is limited because most of them in the building crumbled because of the awful heat of the fire. But while this is true they have arranged so that individual members of the order who contribute as much as $5 will be given a souvenir, or one will be sent to each individual member on the receipt of $5 as payment for same. A neatly arranged certificate, certifying where the brick is from and printed in colors with a picture of the Seven Stars on it will be given with each souvenir.

John E. Goodwin of Atlanta, Georgia, the Grand Sire and J. Frank Grant, the Grand Secretary of the order, together with many more high officials have already contributed to the memorial fund, the receipts having already reached $1,000. Many lodges in different parts of the country have sent in contributions.

This committee has made arrangements with Mr. Elvin J. Curry of Baltimore, the Assistant Grand Secretary of the order, by which they get the net proceeds of "The Red Book of Odd Fellowship," this book has lately been published by Mr. Curry and has met with universal approval among the officers and members of the whole order. It has already been sold in six foreign countries and in every state, territory and Canadian province in this country. Odd Fellows believe that it will aid greatly to the undertaking of the committee. In fact the largest amount that has been received from contributors thus far has been given by Mr. Curry in connection with the sales of his book.

Leading Odd Fellows in different states have expressed their appreciation of the efforts of this committee and there is no doubt that they will accomplish a great work for their order. They are surely giving their brother Odd Fellows a splendid opportunity to lend their hands to a great and noble undertaking. We think that no good Odd Fellow should hesitate to give of his substance to this noble cause.

Dear Reader, who will be remembered to Albuquerque as the manager of Handler's Comedians, passed through the city this morning en route east. Mr. Handler is now manager of an all star road garden for which he will secure talent at Denver, Chicago and New York.

The chief contests scheduled for the middle west are those of northwestern and Illinois at Evanston, Indiana university and Washburn college at Bloomington, University of Minnesota and Carleton college at Minneapolis, Purdue and Rose Polytechnic at Lafayette, Nebraska and Drake at Des Moines, and Washburn college and Emporia State Normal school at Topeka.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. P. H. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by all druggists.

C. A. Hudson's team of horses gave an exhibition of sprinting on South Third street early this morning. South Headley, who is somewhat of a sprinter himself, ran after the team, jumped into the wagon from the rear, and just as they turned the corner of Third street at Silver avenue the owner of the horses, Captain Hudson, came out of his house and yelled "halt." The horses came to a halt then, and thus knocked the reporter out of a thrilling runaway item.

B. Kappo, the druggist, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. John Tash, who is now at Chicago. She writes that Miss Irma had undergone a successful operation for appendicitis. She stood the operation bravely and her ultimate recovery is now thought certain.

ODD FELLOWSHIP

Tomorrow Anniversary Will be Observed in a Variety of Ways.

EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of American Odd Fellowship. The members of this great fraternity will celebrate the day in a variety of ways all over this country and in twenty-three foreign countries. Just eighty-five years ago tomorrow, Thomas Wildey and four of his associates in the old Seven Stars in Baltimore started this organization which has since grown into such immense proportions as to now number 1,300,000 members.

A prominent feature of the address delivered tomorrow in different parts of the world will be the telling of the story of how the Seven Stars, the birthplace of this great order, was destroyed in the great Baltimore fire of February 8, 1904. And the hearts of all Odd Fellows will be made glad when they learn through the press today for the first time that a committee from the mother lodge of the order, Washington No. 1, of Baltimore, which was born and nurtured in this old cradle, has already secured the privilege of erecting a tablet on the building that is to stand on the site of the old Seven Stars. This property is now owned by Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.

This committee has purchased all the whole bricks from the debris of the original Seven Stars as souvenirs to be sent to the lodges throughout the country, or at least as many as can be supplied, that will unite in contributing to a fund which has been started to erect a memorial building for the old mother lodge, and which will take the place of the old Seven Stars in the heart of the order as well as to memorialize Thomas Wildey, the founder of the fraternity. These bricks will also in a way serve as souvenirs of the great Baltimore fire as the Seven Stars stood in the heart of the burnt district. The committee has expressed a regret that the number of bricks is limited because most of them in the building crumbled because of the awful heat of the fire. But while this is true they have arranged so that individual members of the order who contribute as much as $5 will be given a souvenir, or one will be sent to each individual member on the receipt of $5 as payment for same. A neatly arranged certificate, certifying where the brick is from and printed in colors with a picture of the Seven Stars on it will be given with each souvenir.

John E. Goodwin of Atlanta, Georgia, the Grand Sire and J. Frank Grant, the Grand Secretary of the order, together with many more high officials have already contributed to the memorial fund, the receipts having already reached $1,000. Many lodges in different parts of the country have sent in contributions.

This committee has made arrangements with Mr. Elvin J. Curry of Baltimore, the Assistant Grand Secretary of the order, by which they get the net proceeds of "The Red Book of Odd Fellowship," this book has lately been published by Mr. Curry and has met with universal approval among the officers and members of the whole order. It has already been sold in six foreign countries and in every state, territory and Canadian province in this country. Odd Fellows believe that it will aid greatly to the undertaking of the committee. In fact the largest amount that has been received from contributors thus far has been given by Mr. Curry in connection with the sales of his book.

Leading Odd Fellows in different states have expressed their appreciation of the efforts of this committee and there is no doubt that they will accomplish a great work for their order. They are surely giving their brother Odd Fellows a splendid opportunity to lend their hands to a great and noble undertaking. We think that no good Odd Fellow should hesitate to give of his substance to this noble cause.

Dear Reader, who will be remembered to Albuquerque as the manager of Handler's Comedians, passed through the city this morning en route east. Mr. Handler is now manager of an all star road garden for which he will secure talent at Denver, Chicago and New York.

The chief contests scheduled for the middle west are those of northwestern and Illinois at Evanston, Indiana university and Washburn college at Bloomington, University of Minnesota and Carleton college at Minneapolis, Purdue and Rose Polytechnic at Lafayette, Nebraska and Drake at Des Moines, and Washburn college and Emporia State Normal school at Topeka.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. P. H. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by all druggists.

C. A. Hudson's team of horses gave an exhibition of sprinting on South Third street early this morning. South Headley, who is somewhat of a sprinter himself, ran after the team, jumped into the wagon from the rear, and just as they turned the corner of Third street at Silver avenue the owner of the horses, Captain Hudson, came out of his house and yelled "halt." The horses came to a halt then, and thus knocked the reporter out of a thrilling runaway item.

B. Kappo, the druggist, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. John Tash, who is now at Chicago. She writes that Miss Irma had undergone a successful operation for appendicitis. She stood the operation bravely and her ultimate recovery is now thought certain.

ODD FELLOWSHIP

Tomorrow Anniversary Will be Observed in a Variety of Ways.

EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of American Odd Fellowship. The members of this great fraternity will celebrate the day in a variety of ways all over this country and in twenty-three foreign countries. Just eighty-five years ago tomorrow, Thomas Wildey and four of his associates in the old Seven Stars in Baltimore started this organization which has since grown into such immense proportions as to now number 1,300,000 members.

A prominent feature of the address delivered tomorrow in different parts of the world will be the telling of the story of how the Seven Stars, the birthplace of this great order, was destroyed in the great Baltimore fire of February 8, 1904. And the hearts of all Odd Fellows will be made glad when they learn through the press today for the first time that a committee from the mother lodge of the order, Washington No. 1, of Baltimore, which was born and nurtured in this old cradle, has already secured the privilege of erecting a tablet on the building that is to stand on the site of the old Seven Stars. This property is now owned by Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.

This committee has purchased all the whole bricks from the debris of the original Seven Stars as souvenirs to be sent to the lodges throughout the country, or at least as many as can be supplied, that will unite in contributing to a fund which has been started to erect a memorial building for the old mother lodge, and which will take the place of the old Seven Stars in the heart of the order as well as to memorialize Thomas Wildey, the founder of the fraternity. These bricks will also in a way serve as souvenirs of the great Baltimore fire as the Seven Stars stood in the heart of the burnt district. The committee has expressed a regret that the number of bricks is limited because most of them in the building crumbled because of the awful heat of the fire. But while this is true they have arranged so that individual members of the order who contribute as much as $5 will be given a souvenir, or one will be sent to each individual member on the receipt of $5 as payment for same. A neatly arranged certificate, certifying where the brick is from and printed in colors with a picture of the Seven Stars on it will be given with each souvenir.

John E. Goodwin of Atlanta, Georgia, the Grand Sire and J. Frank Grant, the Grand Secretary of the order, together with many more high officials have already contributed to the memorial fund, the receipts having already reached $1,000. Many lodges in different parts of the country have sent in contributions.

This committee has made arrangements with Mr. Elvin J. Curry of Baltimore, the Assistant Grand Secretary of the order, by which they get the net proceeds of "The Red Book of Odd Fellowship," this book has lately been published by Mr. Curry and has met with universal approval among the officers and members of the whole order. It has already been sold in six foreign countries and in every state, territory and Canadian province in this country. Odd Fellows believe that it will aid greatly to the undertaking of the committee. In fact the largest amount that has been received from contributors thus far has been given by Mr. Curry in connection with the sales of his book.

Leading Odd Fellows in different states have expressed their appreciation of the efforts of this committee and there is no doubt that they will accomplish a great work for their order. They are surely giving their brother Odd Fellows a splendid opportunity to lend their hands to a great and noble undertaking. We think that no good Odd Fellow should hesitate to give of his substance to this noble cause.

Dear Reader, who will be remembered to Albuquerque as the manager of Handler's Comedians, passed through the city this morning en route east. Mr. Handler is now manager of an all star road garden for which he will secure talent at Denver, Chicago and New York.

The chief contests scheduled for the middle west are those of northwestern and Illinois at Evanston, Indiana university and Washburn college at Bloomington, University of Minnesota and Carleton college at Minneapolis, Purdue and Rose Polytechnic at Lafayette, Nebraska and Drake at Des Moines, and Washburn college and Emporia State Normal school at Topeka.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. P. H. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by all druggists.

C. A. Hudson's team of horses gave an exhibition of sprinting on South Third street early this morning. South Headley, who is somewhat of a sprinter himself, ran after the team, jumped into the wagon from the rear, and just as they turned the corner of Third street at Silver avenue the owner of the horses, Captain Hudson, came out of his house and yelled "halt." The horses came to a halt then, and thus knocked the reporter out of a thrilling runaway item.

B. Kappo, the druggist, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. John Tash, who is now at Chicago. She writes that Miss Irma had undergone a successful operation for appendicitis. She stood the operation bravely and her ultimate recovery is now thought certain.

ODD FELLOWSHIP

Tomorrow Anniversary Will be Observed in a Variety of Ways.

EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of American Odd Fellowship. The members of this great fraternity will celebrate the day in a variety of ways all over this country and in twenty-three foreign countries. Just eighty-five years ago tomorrow, Thomas Wildey and four of his associates in the old Seven Stars in Baltimore started this organization which has since grown into such immense proportions as to now number 1,300,000 members.

A prominent feature of the address delivered tomorrow in different parts of the world will be the telling of the story of how the Seven Stars, the birthplace of this great order, was destroyed in the great Baltimore fire of February 8, 1904. And the hearts of all Odd Fellows will be made glad when they learn through the press today for the first time that a committee from the mother lodge of the order, Washington No. 1, of Baltimore, which was born and nurtured in this old cradle, has already secured the privilege of erecting a tablet on the building that is to stand on the site of the old Seven Stars. This property is now owned by Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.

This committee has purchased all the whole bricks from the debris of the original Seven Stars as souvenirs to be sent to the lodges throughout the country, or at least as many as can be supplied, that will unite in contributing to a fund which has been started to erect a memorial building for the old mother lodge, and which will take the place of the old Seven Stars in the heart of the order as well as to memorialize Thomas Wildey, the founder of the fraternity. These bricks will also in a way serve as souvenirs of the great Baltimore fire as the Seven Stars stood in the heart of the burnt district. The committee has expressed a regret that the number of bricks is limited because most of them in the building crumbled because of the awful heat of the fire. But while this is true they have arranged so that individual members of the order who contribute as much as $5 will be given a souvenir, or one will be sent to each individual member on the receipt of $5 as payment for same. A neatly arranged certificate, certifying where the brick is from and printed in colors with a picture of the Seven Stars on it will be given with each souvenir.

John E. Goodwin of Atlanta, Georgia, the Grand Sire and J. Frank Grant, the Grand Secretary of the order, together with many more high officials have already contributed to the memorial fund, the receipts having already reached $1,000. Many lodges in different parts of the country have sent in contributions.

This committee has made arrangements with Mr. Elvin J. Curry of Baltimore, the Assistant Grand Secretary of the order, by which they get the net proceeds of "The Red Book of Odd Fellowship," this book has lately been published by Mr. Curry and has met with universal approval among the officers and members of the whole order. It has already been sold in six foreign countries and in every state, territory and Canadian province in this country. Odd Fellows believe that it will aid greatly to the undertaking of the committee. In fact the largest amount that has been received from contributors thus far has been given by Mr. Curry in connection with the sales of his book.

Leading Odd Fellows in different states have expressed their appreciation of the efforts of this committee and there is no doubt that they will accomplish a great work for their order. They are surely giving their brother Odd Fellows a splendid opportunity to lend their hands to a great and noble undertaking. We think that no good Odd Fellow should hesitate to give of his substance to this noble cause.

Dear Reader, who will be remembered to Albuquerque as the manager of Handler's Comedians, passed through the city this morning en route east. Mr. Handler is now manager of an all star road garden for which he will secure talent at Denver, Chicago and New York.

The chief contests scheduled for the middle west are those of northwestern and Illinois at Evanston, Indiana university and Washburn college at Bloomington, University of Minnesota and Carleton college at Minneapolis, Purdue and Rose Polytechnic at Lafayette, Nebraska and Drake at Des Moines, and Washburn college and Emporia State Normal school at Topeka.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. P. H. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by all druggists.

C. A. Hudson's team of horses gave an exhibition of sprinting on South Third street early this morning. South Headley, who is somewhat of a sprinter himself, ran after the team, jumped into the wagon from the rear, and just as they turned the corner of Third street at Silver avenue the owner of the horses, Captain Hudson, came out of his house and yelled "halt." The horses came to a halt then, and thus knocked the reporter out of a thrilling runaway item.

B. Kappo, the druggist, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. John Tash, who is now at Chicago. She writes that Miss Irma had undergone a successful operation for appendicitis. She stood the operation bravely and her ultimate recovery is now thought certain.

NEW MEXICO TOWNS

San Marcial

From the Bee.
Miss Viola Grace left for her home in Chillicothe, Mo., after spending several months in San Marcial. Jones and King, the surveyors, are in the vicinity of Pecos, with about three weeks' work ahead of them for the grant owners and other large holders of land in that vicinity.

The following brief note was handed to the editor: "Mrs. M. R. Watkins Jones' all charges laid against her; therefore, N. R. Watkins should not have a divorce and the division of property."

After spending several days in Chicago, Dr. C. G. Crutcher, returned to his old home in Canada, with the hope of soon being able to inform his many New Mexico friends of a prolonged lease of life and the restoration of his health to much of its wonted vigor.

The 15th day of May is set for the district conference gathering of the Methodist church. The meeting will last over the 15th. Bishop Kay and a number of ministers from various sections of the territory are to attend. There is to be preaching each morning and evening, to which the public generally is invited.

On Thursday evening, May 6th, a May day ball will be given in the San Marcial opera house under the management of the San Marcial band. The band boys deserve a good deal of encouragement at the hands of our citizens and it is confidently expected that this, their first ball, will prove a great social and financial success.

A Thoughtful Man.
M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an attack of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only 25c. at all druggists.

From the Optic.
Montgomery bell is making a collection of a hundred Rocky Mountain songsters to be shipped in the near future to an eastern concern.

Miss Bessie Maston, daughter of Dr. Maston, at Chino Springs, was married this week to E. R. Griggs of Chino Springs.

The Misses Annie and Caroline Light, cousins of Charles A. Schmitt, are visiting here a few days after a long tour of the southwest including Texas and Southern California resorts. They are now returning to their home in Des Moines, Ia., accompanied by Mr. Lewellyn, who had here two or three years, will be pleased to learn of the death of Mrs. Lewellyn which occurred Thursday at Los Angeles. A message to C. N. Tarkenton gives notice that the body accompanied by Mr. Lewellyn will pass through Las Vegas Sunday afternoon en route for the old home at Albia, Ia.

The Colorado Telephone company is now engaged in stringing its last new cable. The whole city has been electrified and restring with new cables during the last two or three weeks. The efficiency of the company has been greatly improved. While the cables have been all put up, considerable more improvement will be done before the expansion operations are completed.

Ventura Gonzales, a blind beggar of the west side, was assaulted at his home by his nephew, Vitalito Gonzales. Vitalito was accustomed to accompany his uncle on his rounds, and did so yesterday. When they got home the boy asked for his share in the profits of the expedition. His request was granted except in regard to twenty cents. When this was refused he knocked the old man down and treated him badly. The uncle entered a complaint, and the boy had a hearing.

Mr. Jones brings evil tidings from the sheep ranges of the Santa Rosa county. He indicates the case of Mr. McLaughlin, one of the large sheep owners. Lambing has begun and out of an increase of two hundred a day lambs are being saved. In other cases the lamb crop is a total loss. Even should rain come now the grass could not start soon enough to prevent continued loss. However, the sheep themselves are in good condition. The wool clip, however, will be light. The lambing season has not yet begun in the hill country, which stretches eastward from Las Vegas, to the great mesas, where stock is looking well, and if rain comes within a week or two, the greater part of the lamb crop will be saved.

Diphtheria, sore throat, croup, instant relief, permanent cure. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug store.

From the Chief.
Dr. L. E. Kittrell spent two or three days in Magdalena this week on professional business.

W. H. Saunders, one of Socorro county's most flourishing cattlemen, was in town from his ranch near Magdalena.

H. M. Porter of Denver passed through the city on his way to his extensive cattle ranges in the western part of the country.

There are rumors that a Mexican miner was killed in one of the mines of the Kelly camp this week, but the rumors cannot be confirmed.

J. L. Terry returned from the Kelly mining district. He reported the camp doing well. The Grapic mine is now employing about 40 men.

Ralph Thomas and Ralph Hinckley of Rockford, Ill., were in the city on their way home from a visit of several weeks at the A. L. ranch near Magdalena.

Caquito Cartillo, the slayer of Benjamin Garcia, had his preliminary hearing in Judge Green's court. Frank Keoblock and Ambrosio Carrojo were the only witnesses summoned by the territory. Hon. Elfrigo Baca looked after the interests of the defendant, who was released under a bond of $10,000.

The public schools of the city closed Friday after one of the most successful sessions of recent years. The school board and a considerable number of relatives and friends of the pupils were present to enjoy the closing exercises. Great credit is due the board of education and the teachers for the respective parts they have taken in making a success of the year's work.

The county commissioners have just completed the job of putting the judge's room in the court house into first class condition. The walls have been painted, the wood work grained and varnished, the furniture newly upholstered, and new carpets have been placed on the floor. Altogether the room presents a most attractive appearance. J. H. Vigil and Harry Houtwell are now employed by the commissioners in subjecting the clerk's room to the same treatment.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains opiates and will not constitute like nearly all other cough medicines. Refuse substitutes. For sale by J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

SANTA FE
From the New Mexican.
The infant boy of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Rodriguez of precinct No. 3, died last evening. The child was only twenty-four hours old.

Ex-Governor L. B. Prince returned from Denver, where he had been on business in connection with the San Juan Canal and Development company.