

ARIZONA TOWNS

WILLIAMS.

From the News. The local electric light plant is again in operation and the town is therefrom correspondingly bright.

According to the assessment made of the real estate and personal property in the town of Williams, the value ran up something over $100,000.

Gallagher's work train is now scheduled about five miles this side of Willaha. He has a large force of men at work rehabilitating the track.

This week marked the closing of a successful term of the Northern Arizona Normal summer school. About forty people availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the canyon on the special excursion.

Monday an excursion gotten up for the benefit of the Northern Normal students and others was run from Phoenix via Williams to the Grand Canyon. Over a crowd went out.

Sunday afternoon the canyon train had to feel its way over several portions of track in the way out. Conductor Dolan said there was more water than rain in the ravines and along the track than he had ever seen in his experience on the run.

The Santa Fe had just opened its line Wednesday when another wash-out occurred west of Kingman. To cap the climax came the one at the Pecos river through a weakened bridge (no one being hurt) completely blocking all traffic, which it is thought will be resumed this evening.

While the recent rains have been of great benefit, they have also entailed considerable loss. During the past seven days, with the exception of three, it has rained daily, and the country is full of water. It is reported that both of Charlie McHenry's dams have come out, also the Martin dam.

KINGMAN.

From the Miner. It is rumored that the socialists of this county are preparing to resurrect the Arizona Arrow and run it during the campaign, in the interest of the party.

J. W. Gerritt has gone out to the American flag mine to make an inspection of that property. It is one of the oldest of the Wallapai mountain properties and has been a big producer of rich ore.

Fred Sturzenegger, a teamster, had a valuable horse killed by lightning at Gold Road, one day last week. Mr. Sturzenegger was doing some repair work on his wagon when the shock that killed his horse came.

Last night a carload of timber and lagging was received at Kingman station consigned to the Gold Road company. The Gold Road mines require little timbering, only the shafts and winzes being timbered.

Solomon & Co. have been taking considerable gold from the gravel banks west of Boulder springs the past two weeks. Some of the gold weighed as high as two and one-half dollars, while the balance is very coarse.

The road to the Alpha mine from Mineral has been completed and teams are now prepared to haul ore to the railroad for shipment to the Needles smelter. It is proposed to ship the old dumps, which are said to contain much high grade copper and silver ore.

Workmen at Berry station, six miles north of Kingman, building the large ore bins and chutes for the Fletcher Mining company. Owing to the softness of the valley loams have had to haul to Kingman the past few days from the Fletcher mines at Blackfoot Hill.

One of the most damaging cloud-bursts in the history of Cedar occurred there last Monday. The rain struck the top of the mountain and in an incredible short space of time a torrent of water poured down through every gulch and ravine in a scintling mass. The break of water coming down the canyon struck the mill building and completely wrecked at least one half of it, carrying timber and tools far down the canyon.

FLAGSTAFF.

From the Sun. The Mogi snake dance, which is an attraction for many eastern visitors, takes place some time this month.

Miss Ida Reid, of Springerville, Apache county, who has been attending the Northern Arizona Normal, took her departure on Tuesday for her home.

Mrs. F. W. Mission received this week a fine electric automobile. It is a handsome vehicle and is well adapted for the roads in this section. It is the only automobile owned in northern Arizona.

Among those who went out to Oak creek this week to investigate "perked" bonanzas" from the lumpy depths of that stream were Jack Harrington and family, Mrs. J. C. Blake and children, and J. R. Halford.

Dr. Charles M. Shelton, Rev. Fred G. Mitchell, spiritual director of the Young Men's Christian association, and member of Topinka, Kansas, and W. B. Johnson and family left Tuesday on a camping trip to the Grand Canyon of Arizona. They expect to be gone a week, and will view the canyon from the Hance cabin and from Grand View.

HOLBROOK.

From the Argus. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Amado Montano died Thursday night and was buried this afternoon.

The highest flood of the season came down the Little Colorado Tuesday, but outside of settling some of the riprap, it did no damage.

Tom Train, a Santa Fe locomotive engineer running out of Point Richmond, California, arrived here Tuesday and will spend a sixty day layoff looking after his stock interests in Apache county.

A letter received this morning from

...in July, since that her mother had been established by two of the best physicians in Los Angeles, and they say she is troubled with a cancer and they cannot cure her; they will return home next week.

WINSLOW.

From the Mail. The old water tank at Rio Puerco is being torn down this week and will be transferred to Pecos on the Arizona division.

Mrs. G. H. Moore has returned to her home in San Marcel after having visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Slope, of this place.

Mrs. M. Frischar and family recently returned from California, have this morning for Little Rock, Ark., their future home.

Cattle and water tank all that the oil machinery is dead for being complete, arrived the middle of the week and have been placed by Contractor Van Hips, who by the next few days will see the drilling under way.

Colin and Hugh Campbell left Thursday morning for an extended trip through this part of the country to inspect their sheep. They expressed themselves well pleased with the stock prospects and stated that so far they sheep had been doing fine. A few more rains will without doubt give the stock plenty of grass on all the ranges.

Last Monday evening the camp of the local Red Men was alive with many braves and warriors. The "black-muck" in all his glory, was there and his orders were carried out with a vengeance. Two of the tribe of the "male face" were brought into the camp, W. E. Floyd and Wm. Taylor were the candidates and the painted warriors didn't do a thing to them. Floyd scores very emphatically that the goat used by the energetic braves is one of the wildest and most vicious yet brought down from the high places of the Rockies.

Water Rights Controversy. Testimony in Noted Kansas-Colorado Case is Taken at Wichita.

In the suit now pending in the United States supreme court in Washington between the states of Kansas and Colorado, involving the question of water rights in the Arkansas river and the right of the state of Colorado to appropriate the water of this stream for irrigation and other purposes within the limits of that state, which practice is objected to by the state of Kansas as illegal and improper, the taking of testimony will commence on the 15th of August at Wichita, Kansas, before G. A. Richardson, of Rowell, who has been appointed special commissioner for that purpose.

The United States of America has intervened and Anthony C. Campbell, of Rowell, has been appointed special counsel to represent the government in the case. Mr. Campbell who for the past three years has held an important position in the office of the assistant attorney general of the interior department in Washington, has resigned that position in order to act as special counsel in the matter. Mr. Campbell will be favorably remembered by the residents of the Pecos valley where he was for several years attorney for the Pecos Valley and Northwestern railroad, and where he still claims his residence.

Market Letter. Special Correspondence. Kansas City, Monday, August 5.—Cattle supply last week was 27,000 head, quite an increase over previous weeks, and too many to maintain prices. The first straight Chicago grade cattle of the season came in and sold to well around $13.00, and 9500 sound sashable grass cattle sold at $2.25 to $2.50. Stocker demand was weak, and fair to good western steers sold at $2.50 to $2.75. Proeder inquiry was better than that for stockers, but a good many sales were at $2.00 to $2.50 good heavy western or pathfinder steers, 1050 to 1250 pound, suitable for short feed, sold at $2.75 to $2.85. There is plenty of forage in the country, and there is a good prospect for corn in the great feeding section, which leads dealers here to think the demand will improve, and prices make some gains in the near future. The packing situation is gradually clearing, and this should not have any further influence on the stocker and feeder business. The best kinds of killing cattle sold steady last week, and market is steady today on nearly all kinds of cattle, as supply is light at all points, and only 8000 head of calves, Fed western steers sold from $3.75 to $5.75. Extreme top. Grass stock stuff, fair to good, brought $2.15 to $3.00, while canners were hard to sell at all, veal calves dull, up to $4.50. Prospects for this week are good for a steady to strong market.

The sheep that have been coming for some time consist almost entirely of small bunches of natives. Choice lambs sold past week at $6.25. Very few western sheep have made their appearance here, but the market is in condition now to take care of fairly liberal runs of same. Western wethers are quoted at $4.50 to $1.00, yearlings at $4.25, ewes at $3.25 to $2.50, feeding sheep at $2.50 to $3.50, yearlings at $3.75, lambs at $4.00 to $4.25. Orders are held here for a large number of stock and feeding sheep, waiting the arrival of staff suitable to fill them. Markets have ruled strong the past week on all kinds, and is strong and active today.

Return from St. Louis. C. A. Hudson, of the Hudson Hill Posting company accompanied by Mrs. Hudson, returned to the city on the flyer this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson spent the past month in St. Louis and other eastern cities. They attended the annual convention of the National Bill Posters' association and visited the fair while in St. Louis.

Spless Has Turned Farmer. Messrs. Charles A. Spless and Cleofes Romero some time ago became imbued with the idea that beans were the best crop that could be raised this year and concluded that they would go into competition with the fellow who is growing the Boston article and shut him out of the market. They accordingly put in several hundred pounds of seed on a piece of ground near Romeroville and now have a very promising crop in prospect. They say that when the fall campaign comes on that in the absence of the coin of the realm that beans will make a pretty good substitute, but state that this crop will be for experimental purposes, and if it makes good campaign ammunition they propose to run a strictly bean campaign two years hence. Success to the pioneer bean grower!—Las Vegas Optic.

Fusion Completed in Nebraska. Lincoln, Neb., August 11.—After a session lasting all night the democratic and populist of Nebraska completed a state ticket today. The division of offices gives the populists five and the democrats three, namely lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general. The complete fusion is another victory for Bryan. The ticket is as follows: governor, George W. Benge; lieutenant governor, Dr. A. Townsend; secretary of state, R. E. Watzke; treasurer, John M. Osborne; auditor, J. C. Cassidy; attorney general, Edward Whalen; land commissioner, A. A. Worsley; superintendent of instruction, Albert Soffley.

WANTS $50,000 DAMAGES. H. L. ORTIZ DETAINED AT EL PASO ON SUSPICION OF HAVING STOLEN JEWELRY IN HIS POSSESSION. Information was received at Santa Fe to the effect that the Santa Fe lawyer who was lately detained in El Paso was H. L. Ortiz. Mr. Ortiz in a letter to his friends and relatives states that on Saturday last the police of El Paso took possession of his pocket book, his valise and his trunk in order to search them for the diamonds and other jewelry which were stolen from Mrs. Page H. Otero some three years ago. None of the property was found in his possession. Mr. Ortiz after having been detained a few days on suspicion, was discharged by the police department and the detectives who caused his apprehension made every excuse and apology for his arrest. Mr. Ortiz left for Chihuahua on the 30th inst., but before his departure engaged counsel in El Paso, so he reports, for damages in the sum of $50,000 for false arrest and imprisonment.—New Mexican.

Assessment for San Miguel County for 1904. The assessed valuation of San Miguel county for 1904 is $4,423,977, placing that county far in the lead among New Mexico counties as to wealth. Santa Fe county's assessment being less than one-half of that, and Bernalillo county's assessment over a million and a half dollars less. The assessment of Bernalillo county for this year is $2,995,850, or $49,800 less than last year.

The assessment of Otero county for 1904 is $1,603,660, an increase of $258,422 since last year.

Bureau of Immigration Bulletins at the World's Fair. At the request of Superintendent M. W. Porterfield of the New Mexico exhibits at the Louisiana Purchase exposition, the bureau of immigration has sent to that official for distribution at the New Mexico building and at the several New Mexico exhibits 20,000 bulletins containing information concerning the resources, conditions, climate, minerals and industries to the various counties of this territory. The first shipment of 25,000 of those bulletins, which was sent to Mr. Porterfield two months ago, has been exhausted, and hence the request for the second shipment. Mr. Porterfield states that there is much demand for literature concerning New Mexico and that the bulletins go like hotcakes at a breakfast of hungry people.

LIVES DEARER THAN OUR VERY OWN

How many lives dearer to us than our very own have been placed in needless jeopardy by failure to provide against and forestall the great suffering which too frequently accompanies and follows the bearing of children? That we would do anything within our power to obviate the possibility of such an happening is too patent to admit of question; therefore, mark well this fact—a hint.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

By name has been destined, whose function it is to prepare in advance the muscles and tissues intimately associated with parturition. This is not for external application. By its use the parts are relaxed and enabled to withstand not only the actual strain brought to bear on them during encumbrance, but also to rally from it and speedily regain their normal proportions and tonicity. RAILROAD NOTES

The Santa Fe is manufacturing its right of way on Railroad avenue, this city, with white sand, which picked down, makes a fine roadway.

Two more engines have arrived, making a total of ten received. General Foreman Harleigh of the shops states that the motive power is getting in better condition every day, and that the engineers and firemen especially appreciate this fact.—Alamogordo Journal.

Four of the men who have been acting as guards at the Santa Fe round house at Emporia, ever since the machinists' strike, were laid off last night and three old employees of the road were put in their places. The strike in Emporia has at no time affected the business of the company. The men who quit have not applied for their old places.

Care in Railroad Management—The Interstate Commerce commission is carrying on a campaign to enlist public interest in the point of compelling greater care in the matter of conducting railroad transportation. In Europe railroad companies are obliged to take great precautions and accidents are far less common than here. Railroad managers will have to take sufficient precautions to reduce the awful record of accidents. That it is done in Europe proves that it can be done here.

The commission referred to publishes a record annually and one quarterly. In the first quarter of 1903, the 1,140 derailments, involving damage to railway and rolling stock amounting to two and a quarter million dollars. This, evidently, is not enough to secure better management.

During the quarter there were 221 persons killed and 2,797 injured in train accidents, and the total casualties incidental to railroading in ninety days were 13,858.

It is reported that the Santa Fe is back of the project of building a railroad from a point on the Pecos valley line, near Amarillo to Lubbock, Tex., a distance of about 100 miles. It is plan to eventually extend the line further south from Lubbock to a connection with the San Angelo branch of the Santa Fe at San Angelo. An effort is being made by local business men to have it connect with the Pecos valley at Hereford.

W. R. Gardon, superintendent of telegraphs of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, this morning completed an inspection of the local equipment. While in the city he also installed a telegraph and connected the instrument with Alamosa. A test today proved that "the new arrangement will work very satisfactorily. A conversation carried on with the Denver & Rio Grande railroad agent in Alamosa was very distinct. The telegraph is operated upon the same circuit as the telegraph, and neither interferes with the other.—New Mexican.

The Strike Situation. Speaking of the strike situation, says the San Bernardino Times-Index, one of the strikers, formerly a foreman of one of the departments at the shops, states that the strikers all over the system have taken a vote and decided that they will not return to work unless every man who went out with them is taken back. It was also voted to hold out for a contract, in every manner similar to that which obtains on the Southern Pacific. It is presumed that this action was the result of some movement looking toward a settlement, which is said to be now under way. The local boiler-makers have received some sort of an intimation that their strike will be called off within a month. Just what the basis for the rumor is could not be learned.

Several engines were turned out of the back shops this morning, and by Saturday three more will be returned to service. The company has just completed a new furnace on the south side of the blacksmith shops to facilitate the work in that department.

Struck River Qry. The Three Rivers company in the Brazos mountains, struck a big streak of pay ore last week at a depth of 400 feet. It is regarded as one of the most important discoveries made in the camp.—Alamogordo News.

The railways are getting ready to handle the biggest crops in history, and cotton is well up front.
