TERRIFIC STORM IN NEW YORK

New York, June 12—Five dead, five wounded and at least a million dollars worth of property damaged is the result of the storm today in New York city and vicinity. On the other hand the reservoirs, which have been almost depleted are filled to overflowing and plenty of water is assured the cities dependent on these for their water supply.

At Clason Point on the sound, the revolving Ferris Wheel was struck by the storm and thrown from its axis, and set on fire. The passengers, which were in the cars, were panic stricken, before they could be removed by means of ladders. Several deaths resulted from the accident.

In Jersey City and other nearby towns, a number of houses were unroofed, the streets flooded and the cellars filled. The heat, which has run riot here for days past, has been checked.

Will Urge Statehood

Albuquerque, N. M., June 12—The Board of Trade of Phoenix, co-operating with the Albuquerque Commercial Club, the two strongest commercial bodies in the territories, have taken up the matter of urging all commercial clubs and boards of trade to send messages to W. Alden Smith, chairman of the committee on territories in the senate, demanding that the territories be given statehood during this session.

President Simon Stern of the local Commercial Club has received a message from J. H. McClintock, president of the Phoenix Board of Trade, to the effect that that body will join hands with our local body and push the good work.

President Stern has wired Delegate Andrews, explaining the movement and urging him to co-operate in securing favorable action in the senate.

GANN-LOVE

About one o'clock yesterday afternoon, Elder J. M. Tuttle of the Church of Christ united in bonds of holy matrimony. Miss Ruby Love and Mr. Samuel Gann, both of Albuquerque. The parties drove up from Willard in an automobile, thus enjoying their honeymoon trip before and after.

LORIMER INVESTIGATION

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Subpoenas were issued today and given the special sergeant-at-arms to serve, calling the necessary witnesses in the Lorimer bribery investigation before the committee of eight senators here.

Lee O'Neill Browne, democratic leader in the Illinois house, Ed Hines of the Hines Lumber Company and Ed Tilden, who is said to be connected with the $100,000 fund leak, are among those cited to appear before the committee.

The committee has not as yet set a day for the real hearing, as the members have been busy going over the voluminous testimony taken in the Illinois investigation.

Senator Lorimer was in his seat today for the first time in several weeks, on account of the special call which was sent to all senators, asking that they be present to take the vote on direct election of the senators.

Splendid Show Last night

Beaty Bros. Moving Picture Show last night at Krick's Building was well attended and hugely enjoyed. The room was crowded with men, women and children, and every minute of the program proved interesting. The program consisted of nine separate and distinct numbers, each complete in itself. The new calcium light used is very much superior to that commonly used, the quiver of the picture being almost entirely done away with the result being no aching eyes.

Tonight there will be an entirely new program, every number being a change from those used last night. A laughable entertainment is promised everyone attending. The prices are 15 and 25 cents, and the show is worth every bit of the price asked.

Lady Politician Takes Own Life

Denver, Colo., June 12.—Mrs. Annie Culbertson, republican candidate for Denver County School Superintendent at the last election, today shot and killed herself. She left a note telling that she had voluntarily committed the deed, and apparently wanted no mistake along this line. Mr. Culbertson told the police that he and his wife had quarreled before he left home this morning. Mrs. Culbertson was thirty-six years of age and a native of Ohio.

TAKES EXCEPTION TO EDITORIAL

An editorial in the Estancia News of last week contains what strikes me as an unjust criticism of someone and I take this means of correcting any false impressions this criticism may have made of that one.

In this the writer stated that a lady on the streets remarked that she saw nothing but Yankee flags and asked why someone did not put up a southern flag; which statement he followed with the cutting criticism "She had evidently forgotten that there was no longer a Yankee flag but a Union flag."

If there was ever a time that I did not recognize the banner that bears the stars and stripes as the Union flag, it antedates my memory and I do not remember having said Yankee flag on this occasion, but may have done so as that seems to be the term on which the writer hinged his criticism.

However, I see nothing worse the matter with the word Yankee than it is rather obsolete.

According to my understanding, it was at one time applied to the northern soldier as synonymous with the word Union.

With regard to my remark about the Confederate flag, I was hardly so green as to be surprised that I saw none on this occasion, but thought then and yet think that it would not have been inappropriate as the soldiers of the Confederacy were supposed to have an equal part with the Union soldiers in this celebration.

I do not despise the sight of the Union flag, I think it all right in its place and that it had a place here, but if my criticiser will kindly allow me an opinion, I see no good reason that alone should be used on such occasions as the one mentioned.

If all has been forgotten in the sense that all has been forgiven, I know no reason for those on either side or their descendants to oppose the displaying at these reunions of the flag that belonged to the other side. In fact, I think the displaying of both flags requisite to convey the idea, in the true sense, that these reunions are held by, both the Blues and the Grays; and meant nothing more treasonable than this when I said that I thought they ought to show the Confederate flag also.

I confess with pride that I am the daughter of an ex-confederate soldier, one who as a soldier nobly performed his part. But it does not necessarily follow that I do not appreciate the worth of the heroes of the north. I fully believe that there were noble soldiers on each side.

I am wholly unaware if there is one vestige of bitterness in my heart toward the poor northern soldiers, who in common with those of the south were made to realize to so full an extent the horrible meaning of war.

Moreover, I feel that I am as far from desiring to resurrect that spirit of strife that never should have existed as anyone could be; and, if any have thought otherwise, I hope this explanation will show them my true position, in which I believe that I am right and expect to remain.

In conclusion, to return to the cause of this explanation: I think to publish

ENGINE BOGGS UP

Some people may not believe the valley a wet place just at present, but on Saturday where S. E. Pickens was moving his engine with his drilling outfit from the ranch of Dilley Brothers between Estancia and Willard, the engine mired up in the mud, and it was with difficulty gotten out of the predicament. He was moving to the W. J. Bryant claim northeast of town, where he will drill a deep well. Mr. Bryant has a pit fifty-nine feet deep and in this will sink a good well.

Shaw receives new Engine

The 15 horse power Simple Oil Engine, which J. M. Shaw recently purchased of Neal Jensen, the local agent, came in last night and will be given a try-out on the Shaw farm north of town. This is the first of these engines to be shipped into the valley and its work will be watched with interest by our people.

9 TO 3 IN FAVOR OF ESTANCIA

The Estancia Grays handed it to the Willard sluggers Sunday afternoon to the tune of 9 to 3 on the Willard diamond. The game was attended by a good bunch of Estancia fans as well as a host of Willard lovers of the sport.

Pitcher Johnson was at his best as is proven by the fact that he struck out twenty-two of the batters of the Willard team.

The Estancia boys are loud in their praise of the Willard bunch who played a gentlemanly game, and took their defeat in splendid style. The Willard bunch played a good game but were outclassed and took the beating without becoming sore.

Estancia led off in the first inning with three scores to the good. The sensational play was made by G. Johnson, when with two down, he landed a three bagger and stole home, Pat Sanchez made a good hit in the seventh inning, he landed out a two bagger scoring two runs. Jensen was put out of the game in the second inning by being hit by a pitched ball on the left arm. Scott, who was playing center fielder took his place at once, and Ed Ulibarri played center fielder.

Everyone of the Estancia boys scored except Hanlon, Pat Sanchez scoring twice. Of the Willard boys Howell scored twice and Sears once.

The lineup was as follows:

Estancia	Willard
Comer, c	George
Johnson, G. p	Powell
Jensen, 1b	Tronlen
Johnson, W. 2d	Quinn
Meyer, 3d	Howell
Hanlon, ss	Alter
Sanchez, rf	Sears
Scott, cf	McKinley
Hibler, lf	Donlen

Next Sunday the Willard Espanoles will cross bats with the Estancia Grays on the local diamond, a good game being promised. On July 4th, the Willard Sluggers will try to regain the game lost yesterday, and will put up a stiff effort to carry home the laurels.

Delegate "Lick 'em" is beginning to be dubious about his ability to defeat the Flood resolution in the senate. He wrote those letters about how he would "Lick 'em" in the senate just a few day too soon and before he had time to properly contemplate the beautiful work the Democratic steam roller was doing. Delegate "Lick 'em" is too busy just now getting his flattened form in shape to do much fighting anywhere. By the time he gets himself together again the battle will be over.—Eagle.

Jailer David Sanchez came in yesterday noon from Willard bringing Pedro Aragon an old blind man, charged with attempted rape, whom he lodged in the Meyer boarding house.
