THOUSANDS SEE A THRILLING FLIGHT BY CHARLES WALSH DARING AVIATOR

Curtiss Birdman Flies at State Fair at Height of From 500 to 1,000 Feet at Rate of 62 Miles Per Hour.

ABSOLUTE SUCCESS IN EVERY DETAIL

Biplane Remains in Air Fifteen Minutes in Choppy Air Executing Graceful Curves and Entertaining Dips.

ALIGHTS WHERE THE START WAS BEGUN

Mrs. Walsh and Two Small Children See Performance and Are Glad When Machine and Operator Land Safely.

Browsing the fair grounds air which traversed this afternoon, Charles P. Walsh, one of the most renowned of the Curtiss aviators, made the first aeroplane flights in the history of New Mexico, at the state fair grounds this afternoon, the ascent to the higher altitudes being witnessed by thousands of people, not one in a hundred of whom had before seen a real aeroplane, much less a successful aeroplane flight.

Judge Bordwell's first action was the denying the motion by counsel for the defense for a change of judge, declaring that he was not prejudiced in the case.

Charles S. Darrow of Chicago, chief counsel for the defendants, announced that he wished to sever the case and immediately District Attorney John Fredericks chose James E. McNamara for trial.

The prisoner is 29 years old and unmarried. He is charged with causing the death of 19 of the 21 men who were killed in the explosion and fire which wrecked the Los Angeles Times plant.

Not only did Mr. Fredericks elect to try James, rather than his brother, John J., secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, but he decided to go to trial on the indictment charging the prisoner with the death of Charles J. Hageras, a machinist whose body was found closest to the spot at which the explosion is alleged to have occurred.

The site of the old Times building almost within the yet unfinished Hall of Records in which the trial is being held, and the whistles of engineers working on the foundations of the new Times buildings were heard through the open windows of the court room.

Counsel for the defense gathered about the prisoner, headed by Attorney Darrow. Associated with him sat Joseph Scott, Lecompte Davis and John Harriman, all of Los Angeles Mrs. Darrow sat near her husband.

District Attorney Fredericks handled the prosecution, aided by several assistants.

A delay occurred at the opening of court, while a procession of veniremen explained to Judge Bordwell why they should not be asked to serve. This was the end of preliminary hearings in which the judge rapidly weeded out over half the first venire of 125 men before the trial formally opened.

Finally Walsh turned due west, then traveled north and shot over the main gate at the fair grounds, and landed on the baseball diamond between first and second base. Walsh had told bystanders before he went up just where he would alight on the return trip. He proved that he is a perfect master of the biplane by alighting on the exact spot as he foretold.

Walsh made a second flight beginning shortly after 4 o'clock, which was even more thrilling than the first one. The people who saw the flights were elated with the success of the ascent. Walsh convinced the doubting Thomases that a real aviator in a real flying machine can fly in a New Mexico altitude a mile high.

Walsh will make two flights tomorrow and two flights Friday. It is likely it will be a long time before an aviator of Walsh's standing appears in New Mexico again, and everybody who wishes to see successful flights should by all means see Walsh tomorrow or Friday.

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
Carutherville, Mo., Oct. 14.—Two negroes, A. E. Richardson and Ben Woods, taken from the city jail here last night by a mob which battered down the doors, were lynched. The body of Richardson, riddled with bullets, was found at noon today floating in the Mississippi river. That Woods met a like fate is the accepted belief.

JAMES J. HILL IS OUT WITH GLOOMY PREDICTION

Great Northern Railway Magnate Believes Industrial Conditions Will Be Bad This Winter.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 14.—There will be more idle men this winter than ever," predicted James J. Hill, chairman of the board of the Great Northern railway today, in discussing the condition of business over the country and particularly in the west.

"Our capacity for production along industrial lines has grown faster than our consumption along the same lines," said Mr. Hill.

"Business is sound, but no enterprises are in a good position. The politicians and newspapers are to blame. There is too much political ghost dancing. The people are not given the facts."

DETAILS OF AFFAIR ARE BEING RECEIVED

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Paris, Oct. 14.—Communication with Tripoli having been re-established, details of the situation there are pouring in. From today's advices it would appear that Muadher Pasha, commander of the Turkish garrison, until the last moment exempted reinforcements. When compelled to retreat, his force was so hurriedly that of necessity many supplies were left behind.

Monter is now gathering his forces in the Ghurian hills. In this position are all the available Turkish soldiers and armed Arabs from the Jebel region. He has at his disposal provisions for six weeks without including what he expects to obtain by capturing everything that he is able to seize on the Ghurian caravan routes.

It seems to be the intention of the Turkish commander to resist the Bashans as long as possible, out of fear he is not reinforced to gradually retire, following the Ghurian ridge, which will provide him with sufficient water until he reaches the frontier of Tunis, where his forces will cross rather than fall into the Italians' hands.

The president spoke from the vantage point of the Bashans. He chose the tariff rates for his subjects, and explaining how the bills come before him, declared that reciprocity is a dead issue, at any rate a dead issue at present.

"Well, he's your Governor, he can do what he wants," said Mr. Taft with a laugh.

"Yes, sir," dutifully echoed the children.

The president spoke from the vantage point of the Bashans. He chose the tariff rates for his subjects, and explaining how the bills come before him, declared that reciprocity is a dead issue, at any rate a dead issue at present.

The Bashan party arrived in Clayton after spending a busy and pleasant day in Raton and the Blue Mounds. The Bashan people were met at the station by a large delegation of citizens and escorted to the Elks Club hotel. The Republican county convention was held in Clayton yesterday. Republicans from all over Union county were in attendance and all worked together harmoniously for the success of their party. The county leaders reported good in all their precincts and there is every indication of a magnificent Republican victory in this section of the state on November 7.
