TOOK FAT OFF WITH A KNIFE. The Operation Not Dangerous, a Philadelphia surgeon says.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Dr. W. Wayne Babcock, at the Samaritan hospital, demonstrated yesterday the most up-to-date method of making a stout person slim and slyphic. The technique of the operation performed by Doctor Babcock for the reduction of the abdomen is "resection of abdominal wall for obesity." The patient was a woman. Twelve pounds of fat had been removed. The operation itself seemed to be simple. Doctor Babcock said that with a skilled surgeon such an operation was not dangerous to the patient. Great care had to be exercised so that no muscles were severed.

THE DANGER OF RHEUMATISM

The danger of Rheumatism is in temporizing in the treatment, or in failing to realize the powerful nature of the trouble. If the blood is allowed to remain infected with uric acid, Rheumatism soon becomes chronic, and then it is checked it sometimes makes complete physical wrecks of its victims by permanently stiffening the joints and seriously interfering with the bodily nerve force. External applications will often temporarily relieve Rheumatic pains, but do not reach the blood, where the cause is located, and to depend entirely upon such treatment is a very dangerous thing to do. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by removing every particle of the cause and purifying the blood. It filters out of the circulation every trace of the sour, inflammatory matter, cools the acid-heated nerves, causes a natural and healthy excretion through the blood to all muscles, joints and bones, and perfectly cures Rheumatism in all its forms. S. S. S. does this great work because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, acting directly on the source of the disease. Our special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice will be sent free on all. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Chicago, Ill.

DONT PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying which is, to a great extent, true. If no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that nature needs assistance. It is nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "some tea" which our grand-parents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants. The whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

ROSWELL DESIRES TO BE ON MAP

John H. English Arrives in Chaves County Town in Auto and Encourages Idea of Trans-continental Trail.

Roswell, N. M., Nov. 17.—Roswell's chances to get on some established automobile route, recognized by the A. A. A. blue book never appeared better than right now.

John H. English, representative of the American Automobile association, arrived in the city yesterday after having partially completed the task of logging the route from Las Vegas to this city, a road that will be a branch of the trans-continental route now practically a certainty and practical to tourists who care to branch off the main line and get into the wonderful fertile Pecos valley.

The logging is being done under the supervision of A. L. Westgard, the pioneer coast-to-coast automobile trail builder who passed through the western portion of the state a few days ago, piloting the Raymond-Whitcomb party to the Pacific. Mr. Westgard is traveling under the direction of the American Automobile association, and delegated Mr. English, who is a prominent good roads booster and automobile enthusiast of Colorado to secure such data as would entitle the road to position in the A. A. A. blue book.

To any who might imagine that the breaking of a trail down from Las Vegas, and the securing of logging data on the same is an easy task, Mr. English was prepared when he arrived in Roswell to make prompt denial. The road from Vaughn to Roswell he declared to be in excellent shape, as was also that from Vaughn to Vaughn, but the rest of the trip he prefers not to speak of.

Mr. English says he encountered his worst difficulties in the neighborhood of Santa Rosa, and is quite certain that if ever there is a definite route laid out along the proposed plan it must steer clear of that vicinity.

An amusing incident was encountered on what is known as Pinto Hill, about ten miles south of Santa Rosa. An incline was encountered at this point which Mr. English maintains must have been almost a 50 per cent grade and only a poor trail at that and he began to think that his trip would have to be abandoned.

In vain he sought to find a passable route, and at last brought a Mexican rancher nearby for directions as to how to proceed.

"Straight on up hill," said Mr. Mexican. "But, do automobiles ever go up that thing?" queried the weary traveler, before whose gaze the hill became a veritable mountain, higher and steeper. "Sure things. One, two of him two da go." "But how do they do it?" "The native son looked at the traveler in an expression almost bordering on pity for a few minutes, then he said: "Some try drive up, but no go. Then they take my 'mule yamoose'." The "mule yamoose" was a later invention. It included a team of strong horses hitched on the forward end of the horse-drawn car and slowly but surely it was plied to the top of the hill. After which it was easy going. But the mule team was nearly a hundred miles from the hill at the time Mr. English wanted to use them, who after delaying their return, set out up the hill on his own motive power and by easy stages managed to drive his car over the ridge.

PRINCETON-YALE GAME TOMORROW IS DECISIVE

Result of Clash on Gridiron at New Haven Will Decide Championship of Big Universities of East.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 17.—The football championship will be decided Saturday at New Haven when Princeton and Yale meet in their annual game. The defeat at the hands of the Indians has put Harvard practically out of the running and although Yale has been defeated by the Army a victory over Princeton and Harvard will give them first place in the ranking for the season. Princeton is the only team that has not been defeated so far this season, and the Tigers are going to put up a wonderful game against the Elis on Saturday. For the last eight years the Yale eleven has always managed to win in football against the Tigers. Last year the Princetonians were sure of a victory, but finally lost, 5 to 3. This year the Yale team has not made a brilliant record, but it is much better than last season's and there is no feeling of over confidence at Princeton.

The Tiger coaches are working on a new theory this year and the showing of the team so far would indicate that it has been successful. Heretofore the development of the team has been rushed and the men were working together early in the season and when the big games came along they seemed to have none at all. So far this year a great deal of time has been spent on building up a strong defense and holding development of the attack until the last. The result has been that Princeton has played two tie games—in fact, practically three, for the victory over Dartmouth was hardly earned. Nothing has been shown so far in the line of formations and in the games against Harvard and Dartmouth the Tigers did not use the forward pass at all. A wonderful punter has been developed in De Witt, and he has been responsible for a great deal of Princeton's good showing.

The Princeton coaches have worked out a large number of good plays and formations and if the team can work them with any success there will be some surprises at New Haven next Saturday. There are not men on the Princeton team who ought to use new football for good gains, but so far no one has ever anything and Yale knows absolutely nothing of the Princeton attack. Pendleton was back at quarter back in the game Saturday and Baker was used in his place at halfback. Just what the line up against Yale will be is not known and probably will not be known until Princeton lines up at New Haven Saturday.

So far this season Yale has not developed ends of exceptional ability and unless Sherrill develops a pair of wing men who can stop Baker, Sawyer and Pendleton the Princeton men may score at any time for if they once get a clear field a touchdown will be scored.

At Yale they have a team that is well balanced and depends almost entirely upon team work and Captain Howe is their only star. In the game against Brown the Yale men went into the game for revenge and in the first half they showed a wonderful attack and a number of good plays. After running up a good gain against Brown the Elis contented themselves with giving Captain Howe practice in drop kicking. The Yale captain is expected to do a lot of the scoring with his toe and undoubtedly will be a dangerous man if he once gets within the forty yard line. There are a number of men on the Princeton line, however, who may hurry his kicking and the Princeton coaches have built up a defense against drop-kickers that was successful against Harvard.

The Princeton team and supporters were all too over-confident of a victory against Dartmouth, and, although De Witt rolled a drop kick goal, the Tigers did not find much to be happy about, and there was a general feeling of depression in the Jungle Saturday evening. The drop kick goal that secured the victory was almost weird, but the Princeton men take it as a good omen and are in hopes that the luck will be with them for the time being.

There undoubtedly will be a lot of talk and probably a new rule in regard to drop kick goals, but the football authorities of the east, including Walter Camp, all agree that the score was legitimate. De Witt has never done any drop kicking in the games so far this season and was only called upon as Baker had left the field, and as there are no hopes of making first down Pendleton called upon the punter to try a drop kick. De Witt did not seem to like the responsibility thrust upon him and shook his head as he took his position on the 40-yard line. The ball did clear the line of the line. The ball did not clear the line of the line. The ball did not clear the line of the line. The ball did not clear the line of the line.

STRICT RULES ARE EMBODIED IN THE CONSTITUTION

Young Men's Club Recently Organized Will Not Tolerate Use of Liquors or Profanity Among Members.

The recently organized Albuquerque Young Men's club, which held a meeting last night for the election of officers, will meet again tonight in the Knights of Pythias hall for the purpose of settling various arrangements relative to the establishment of headquarters.

At the meeting last night, the name of the "Two Deuces" club was selected, none but the select knowing the mysterious significance of these words. Earl Pope was elected president at the meeting last night, and Charles Clarke vice-president.

This club is only for the young men of gentlemanly conduct, those who know how to behave themselves in the club rooms and on the streets. A written application for membership to this club must be sent in before the board of recommendation will consider his name.

At the meeting of the charter members last night, an excellent constitution was adopted. There are two exceptionally good clauses in it:

1. Liquors of any description will not be allowed in the club rooms.

2. Profane language will be punished by suspension from the club.

The name of this club is to be "The Two Deuce Club." The name, although borrowed from the game of cards, has nothing whatever to do with a card club. There is no secret to this name.

The new club will move into its new club room on the first of the month. These rooms will be open to inspection to any one, provided he is accompanied by a member. This club should have the hearty support of every citizen in Albuquerque.

HIGH SCHOOL MEN ARE CONFIDENT; SO ARE INDIANS

Red Men and Local High School Lads to Clash on Gridiron Tomorrow Afternoon at Traction Park.

The championship of Albuquerque will be at stake tomorrow afternoon when the teams from the local High School and the Indian School clash on the gridiron at Traction Park. Both teams are confident of victory, and both have a right to a good opinion of themselves. The A. H. S. lads have hustled and worked hard to get their team in shape and have made good under the direction of Coach Alton.

The Indian School boys have worked just as hard, and have put more effort, possibly, into training for their football games than have the High School lads. With the added weight the Indians carry, the result of the game is doubtful to even the closest football student. In any event the contest will be interesting, and those who attend are assured of getting their money's worth.

RACER ADMITS THAT ACCIDENT GOT HIS GOAT

Harris Hanshue, Injured in Phoenix Races, Says "Never Again;" Doctors Say He Will Recover.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 17.—From his cot in the Sisters' hospital, where he was taken on Thursday of last week following his accident at the fair grounds, when his little Mercer machine crashed through the fence surrounding the track, Harris Hanshue, survivor of a score of hair-raising automobile wrecks, announced yesterday that he has handled the wheel of a racing machine for the last time. He reiterates his promise made a few minutes after the accident, when he was visited at the hospital by Leon T. Shettler. At that time he told the well known Los Angeles automobile man that he would never again race another machine.

Hanshue is reported as progressing nicely, and it is expected that he will be able to leave the hospital in a week or so.

Incidentally, Shettler has issued an announcement from Los Angeles, in which he says:

"I will never enter another car in any automobile contest of any kind. I am through with the racing game for good and all. Hanshue's accident is not my mind on that score. There never was a braver man in the racing game than Hanshue. I have grown up with the boys, and I will not and cannot stand to see him take such terrible chances. He gave me his promise that he will stay off race tracks, and I know that he never will break his promise."

Hanshue had intended leaving Phoenix the night of the accident for Salt Lake City, where he would be met by his wife and the two were to have gone east, where Hanshue was scheduled to drive a midget in the Vanderbilt race. But the accident incapacitated him for that event, and now he announces that his appearance on the Phoenix track was the last he will ever make in a racing car.

BULL DOG'S GROWL PREVENTS SUMMONS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 17.—The question whether or not a bulldog's growl and forbidding countenance are sufficient to excuse the failure of a personal summons in a law suit was submitted yesterday to Judge Conroy in the superior court. The suit is that of Charles Lantz, an attorney, against Martha Herbert Leo of Palms, for $1,000 counsel fees in connection with her divorce suit three years ago. Yesterday's hearing was on a motion by George H. Kelch, Mrs. Leo's attorney, to have quashed a publication of summons, which, according to Lantz, was the only method he had to notify his former client of his suit.

In his affidavit giving reasons for the publication Lantz says he sent two persons to Mrs. Leo's ranch at Palms, but they were unable to reach the house on account of a vicious bull dog. Mrs. Leo, in a counter affidavit, says she was seldom away from home and, while admitting that she keeps a dog and displays a "Beware" sign, she says her gate is supplied with a call bell.

FIRE CAUSED A JAIL PANIC.

Chicago Prisoners Frightened by a Blaze Across the Street.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Six hundred prisoners in the county jail were thrown into a panic today by a fire opposite the building. The prisoners, unable to see the blaze, but hearing the engines, became frightened, rattled the bars and shouted for their release. They finally were quieted by the guards.

Mrs. Louisa Vermilya and Mrs. Quinn, both suspected of having killed their husbands, were in adjoining cells, but remained calm.

MONSTER LENS TO BE SAVED YET SAYS EXPERTS

Big Glass, Thought to be Out of Business, is Declared Capable of Being Put Into Service.

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 17.—The 160-inch lens for Dr. George E. Hale's spectro-heliograph at the Carnegie observatory on Mount Wilson—the one which has been pronounced useless on account of supposed flaws—probably will be saved and put to use, according to the report today from the Santa Barbara street laboratory where the mammoth glass is being ground into shape.

For more than a year scientists have been working on the prospective lens, grinding it with carborundum of minute fineness. The last stage of grinding has been reached, and within a few days the huge reflecting mirror will be polished with jeweler's rouge.

"In a few weeks," says Dr. Hale, director of the Carnegie observatory, "we will give the lens its spherical figure."

"By optical tests we will then determine whether it can be used on the mountain. The spherical form will be brought about in a room tempered to 70 degrees. By a refrigerating process we will lower the temperature to 15 degrees, the lowest ever known on Mount Wilson. If the glass maintains its spherical form at both these extremes, we can then put it in place in the 150-foot tower on the mountain."

Dr. Hale is optimistic over the prospects of bringing success out of the supposed failure. No report has been received recently from St. Gobain, France, where a new glass is being cast to replace the one mentioned. It is said there probably will be no need of proceeding further with the casting now under way in the French city, and that a countermand order may be issued.
