Our Discontinued Story.
FATHER was in a desperate frame of mind. His son, Willie, had just asked the following questions:

"Father, what makes a dog run sideways?"
"Father, what is wood made of?"
"Father, how far off are the stars?"
"Father, how does the meat get inside the egg?"
"Father, what goes with the milk when you eat the doughnut?"
"Father, why don't we fall off the earth when it turns around?"
"Father, what makes you get mad so easy?"

His wife had asked him to please explain the difference between the Republican and Democratic parties, and then told him, after a labored elucidation, that he didn't know anything about it, she believed.

Jumping on his hat, he slammed the door and started down town, murder in his eyes.
At the corner of Second and Central, Smith buttonholed him and said:
"Jones, they say you're pretty well posted; I wish you'd spare me a few minutes and explain the new Currency Bill to me."
(The End.)

COCONINO COUNTY NOT STINGY WITH ROAD FUND

That Coconino county, Arizona, had recently expended more than $25,000 on roads, mostly on the northern Arizona highway, was the statement of J. A. Lamport, supervisor of that county, to Mayor D. K. B. Sellers yesterday. Mr. Lamport declared that an important part of the road work of the county was the recently completed road across Canyon Diablo, which gives the county a complete east-to-west road.

PRESIDENT BOYD OF VARSITY SENDS OUT GREETING

Attractive Pamphlet Mailed to Alumni as New Year's Remembrance From Alma Mater.

Dr. David Ross Boyd, president of the University of New Mexico, has sent out an attractive pamphlet as a New Year's greeting from the State University of New Mexico to its alumni.

Opposite a very good out of the president is the following greeting: "To the Alumni of the University of New Mexico:

"The University of New Mexico wishes its alumni and other good friends a very happy and successful year. At this time, perhaps, more than at any other period of the year, the University feels a concern for the welfare of its alumni distributed in the different parts of the world.

"Your Alma Mater, therefore, sends greetings and good wishes to you in whatever calling of life you find yourselves, trusting that the broader vision, the greater power, and the better ideas that you have gained from the University, may serve you well in your life and work."

A list of the presidents and secretaries of the board of regents, and of the presidents of the University from 1888 to the present follow the greeting, as well as the membership of the present board of regents, the faculty members, student body officers, athletic officers, Rhodes scholars and University publications.

This booklet is a particularly nice way of sending New Year's wishes to former students and it is hoped to make it an annual affair.

The University re-opens Monday. The first semester ends three weeks from Monday and the last week of that time will be spent in reviews and examinations.

The gymnasium is being repaired. Lockers and baths are being installed. The exterior is being painted gray to conform as far as possible with the other buildings.

The gymnasium is to be used by both the boys and the girls. The girls and teachers who spent the holidays at Hekona enjoyed tea at Mrs. E. C. Hodgins' residence, Friday afternoon, followed by a delicious chafing-dish supper at Hekona.

The next edition of the U. N. M. News will be out about January 20th.

ENTERPRISING LAD STEALS SAME DOG FROM TWO PERSONS

William Clark, a youth who has been employed at several places around town, will some day succeed in high finance, if he continues to employ the methods he yesterday put into practice.

William, it is reported by the police, snatched M. F. Myers' handsome collie dog and wandered away with him. Not long after he sold the collie to V. C. Lannon, a visitor from Grants, Ariz., for $5. Lannon forthwith hitched the dog to a lamp post, pool table or other stable and efficient hitcher at First and Central.

Lannon, missing the animal, complained to the police, and Willy was brought to book. He restored the consideration of barrier and the pup Lannon and Myers declined to prosecute.
