Plans for the Santa Fe Railway's Great Five Acre Display at Exposition Now Being Drawn in Albuquerque.

CHAPMAN OF SANTA FE DRAWING THE DESIGNS

Display Will Be Perfect Reproduction of Indian Pueblo and Will Harmonize With the State Exhibit.

Plans for "The Painted Desert," the Santa Fe railway's exhibit at the San Diego exposition, are being perfected in Albuquerque today by Herman Schweizer of the Harvey system, who has active direction of the preliminary work, and Prof. A. M. Chapman, of the School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe, who is drawing the designs. Mr. Schweizer, Dr. Edgar L. Hewett of the Archaeological school and Mr. Chapman have been at work for some time on the general plans, which call for buildings and landscape effects covering five acres and occupying the whole northern end of the exposition grounds, one of the largest spaces in the entire exposition.

The half of the five acre plot fronting on the main exposition boulevard will be surrounded by a high adobe wall and inside will be reproductions of the pueblos of Laguna and Acoma, Zuni and Hopi. These will be absolutely truthful copies and will harmonize closely with the nearby New Mexico state building, which will be a reproduction of the ancient chapel at Acoma. The other half of the plot will be a reproduction of a scene from the Painted Desert as true to life as art and money can make it. The backs of the pueblo buildings will be made to represent the cliffs which look out over the Painted Desert, and the whole effect promises to be wonderful. Mr. Chapman is doing the drawings in colors for submission to the Santa Fe officials for final approval.

The Santa Fe's display, being almost entirely New Mexican, coupled with the state's somewhat elaborately planned display, will give this state a dominant position at the San Diego show.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IS YOUR LAXATIVE

Best Liver and Bowel Cleanser and Stomach Regulator in the World—Work While You Sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach. Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food, and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

LAYMAN-MATLOCK
ROMANCE GROWS
RAPIDLY NO BETTER

Bride to Be, After Spending Night in County Jail on Charge of "Rolling" Intended Husband, Is Dismissed.

LAYMAN WONDERING WHERE HE HAS ARRIVED

The rabid fire romance of Texas and Pacific railroad brakeman, J. A. Layman, of that dear Big Springs, Texas, and Miss Grace Matlock of Albuquerque continues to rush from climax to climax, and still with no prospect of the usual happy denouement supposed to go with all well regulated motion picture romances.

Miss Matlock, the bride-to-be, spent last night in the county jail, charged with having "rolled" her intended husband, for the sum of $50, the total of his remaining wealth, he alleges, after having paid for their marriage license Monday morning.

Said bridegroom-to-be enjoyed another night in the city jail, waiting patiently for a little bird or somebody to bring him $27.50 dollars with which to pay his fine for run toting.

Miss Matlock and Mr. Layman enjoyed a short visit together last night each accompanied by officers.

Meeting at the cell door, the enthusiastic bridegroom enunciated, "Well!"

To which the blushing bride-to-be responded with a shy glance, "Where's the license?" asked the near-bride.

"Where's my money?" responded Layman.

Miss Matlock gently intimated that she didn't have the near-family bank roll.

Mr. Layman said the police had the marriage license, and anyway that he paid for it.

There the conference ended.

This morning Miss Matlock pleaded not guilty to taking her admirer's money and was dismissed, the said admirer being unable to give the court anything to prove that his bride-to-be took it, and being more or less busy about all his movements following the procuring of the license to wed. There was no talk of marriage this morning. Miss Matlock told the court a lot about her brief romance and Layman let out quite a bit concerning love's young dream, as played in Albuquerque.

Miss Matlock went home. Layman went back to Chief McMullin's twelve foot detention room where, as per schedule he has fifty-eight more days to stay beginning at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

REMOVAL OF ARMS EMBARGO WILL HASTEN END

Also Means Increase in Southwestern Business According to Well Known Border Railroad Man.

The executive order removing the embargo against shipment of arms and munitions of war into Mexico, means the speedy end of the present revolution in the republic, according to a well informed Santa Fe official who is in the city today.

"The president's order means that the rebels will now have a fair show with the federals not only in the interior and the open country but in the cities and coast towns, and it means, as nearly as we can see from the border, a speedy end to the revolution and the success of the constitutional forces. It also means a large increase in business, especially in the immediate southwest. The arms embargo has practically stopped all freight movement into Mexico."

"I notice that one Albuquerque house a few days ago shipped a single order to Chihuahua worth $15,000. It doesn't take many such orders to run into a good year's business and many of them will be placed in this section right away as northern Mexico is practically cleaned out of all staple lines."

"We are very hopeful of an immediate improvement in the Mexican outlook and this means better business conditions all over the southwest."

Frederick Howden, bishop of New Mexico of the Episcopal church, is expected to arrive tonight on train No. 1.

COURT REQUESTED TO MAKE ARMOUR CHIEF ANSWER QUESTIONS

Chicago, Feb. 4.—The United States district court was asked today to compel Frederick W. Ellis, vice president of the Armour car lines, to answer questions asked by Interstate Commerce Commission relative to the business done by his company.

The clash between the car line officials and the Interstate Commerce Commission came in the inquiry into private car lines.

The petition recites that it was its duty to inquire into the relations of private car lines and the packing company, to determine whether concessions in rates were being given and received.

ORDINANCES TO PAY SALARIES TO THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL

City Attorney Instructed to Prepare Documents for Immediate Submission With Amounts in Blank.

MAYOR'S PAY TO BEGIN WITH OPENING OF TERM
Councilmen, It Is Proposed, Will Begin to Draw Pay for Meetings After April Sixteenth 1916 When All Present Terms Expire.

Following an hour's executive session of the city council last night, a motion by Alderman John Lee Clarke was carried by unanimous vote, by which the city attorney is instructed to prepare for immediate submission two ordinances, one of which provides for a monthly salary to the Mayor of Albuquerque, on and after April 15, 1914, or the date when the mayor elected the first Tuesday in April, assumes office; the other ordinance providing for pay for members of the city council at the rate of $5 per meeting. The ordinance regarding pay for councilmen becomes effective April 15, 1914, when the terms of the four present hold-over members shall have expired, and limits the number of meetings for which the members shall be paid to three in any one month.

The sentiment of the council is unanimous as to pay for the mayor, and the feeling that the mayor of Albuquerque should be paid for his time and work for the city, which are necessary to a proper fulfillment of his oath of office, is very general among the citizens and taxpayers as a body. Mayor Sellers is but one of a number of men who have given very freely of their time and effort to the city's business wholly without reward, and as a business proposition a salary for the mayor is not regarded as inevitable.

In the discussion in the council last night the sums named for the mayor varied from $50 to $200 a month. The councilmen are divided as to the amount which should be paid and as to what the city can afford. The general feeling is that the pay should be sufficient to justify the man who is elected mayor in giving a large portion of his time to city business. But the question as to what the city can afford to pay is necessarily taken into consideration. There is more difference of opinion as to the pay for members of the council. Several members of the present council have served many years without pay, and these men while none of them desire reelection, feel that the councilman is worthy of his hire. The amount to be paid the mayor and the amount to be paid councilmen will be left blank in the ordinances drawn by City Attorney Lewis and there will be full opportunity for discussion and to enable the members of the council to obtain the views of their constituents in the several wards. That the mayor should be paid, if the present form of city government is to be continued, is generally conceded.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT DISCUSSION IS REVIVED

The question of pay for the mayor and councilmen has brought up this morning a lively discussion among business men and property owners of the wisdom of trying commission government in Albuquerque. This discussion and the possibility of some form of commission government or municipal management in the future is likely to play a part in determining the final form of the salary measures. The question is one which has excited lively public interest and the members of the council will have no difficulty in determining the general public feeling. The feeling among members of the council is unanimous in desiring to settle the question well before the opening of the city campaign and the April election, so that the salary matter may not be a political issue. The ordinance proposed will be drawn so as to be of no possible benefit to any members of the present council, save in the event of their reelection.

AMENDMENT PROPOSED TO END RE-MARRIAGE

[By Lensed Wire to Evening Herald.]
Washington, Feb. 4.—Divorce with the right to remarry would be prohibited forever in the United States and in all places under the nation's jurisdiction by an amendment to the federal constitution proposed today by Senator Russell of Louisiana. Enactment of uniform marriage laws for all states and territories, with provision for separation without permission to re-marry, would be directed by the amendment.

PRISONER SEEKS TO BREAK INTO THE STATE PRISON

Jose Chaves Appears Before Court on Assault to Murder Charge With Somewhat Unique Plea.

COUNTY HAS NO MEANS OF CARING FOR AFFLICTED
Stone Boys Plead Guilty to Burglary Charge and Are Given Suspended Sentences and Lecture by Court.

Jose Chaves, a cripple, appeared before Judge Reynolds in chambers this afternoon and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder. Chaves, it is set forth in the informal report filed by District Attorney Vigil, in some manner obtained a revolver, entered into an altercation with another cripple, and took two shots at his fellow in affliction, one of the balls passing through the pants of the aforesaid fellow. He was injured but Chaves was placed in the county jail, to await the action of the grand jury. He has now been there for some time and desires either to stay there, or to be sent to the state penitentiary where he can be cured for. This was the somewhat unusual statement made to the court this afternoon by the district attorney and seconded by Attorney Lawrence Lee who appeared for Chaves. The court objected to making use of the state prison as an alms house and so stated. It was made plain, in fact, that Chaves, instead of being a criminal, was merely a cripple, of a feeble mind, and with a tale of woe that would make that of the one strapped to the chair with the liver, a comedy. Chaves, however, has the ameliorating condition of inability to his bitter lot. He thinks jail fare is good enough. The man had to be carried to and from the court room, being paralyzed from the waist down.

The court's inquiry into the case brought to light that the county is in even worse fix for caring for indigent and afflicted than is the city. There is no poor house or farm, and seven would make that of the one strapped to the chair with the liver, a comedy. Chaves, however, has the ameliorating condition of inability to his bitter lot. He thinks jail fare is good enough. The man had to be carried to and from the court room, being paralyzed from the waist down.

Stone Boys Go Free.

Marion and Nathaniel Stone, 14 and 15 years old, who pleaded guilty in Judge Craig's court this morning to stealing two saddles from the Albuquerque Carriage company, reviewed their plea before Judge Reynolds this afternoon. The court sentenced the boys to six months in the reform school at Springer, suspending the sentence during good behavior. Judge Reynolds talked seriously to the boys who promised to be good in future. Their father, who appeared in court with them, told the court that he would see that in future their conduct was good and that he believed they now realized the seriousness of the offense committed.

Fred Hitter today pleaded guilty to burglary of a phonograph from an Old Albuquerque saloon and was sentenced to six weeks in the county jail. He has already served about two months in jail.

The court today sentenced John F. Foley to a year to a year and a half in the penitentiary for the robbery of a $1000. Foley, who has a wife and child in Chicago, pleaded guilty.

Reference Hears Stamm Case.
Harry P. Owen this morning heard the evidence in the case of M. P. Stamm vs. the Presbyterian sanitarium and the city of Albuquerque in which Stamm seeks to force the restoration of a street into the Terrace addition which he owns, and which was changed by the sanitarium with the consent of the city, some time ago. The matter is pending in Judge Mechem's court.

Harrison Case Quickly Closed.
The case of Harrison vs. Harrison came to an unexpectedly sudden conclusion late yesterday afternoon when the attorneys for the defense, after having examined Dr. George W. Harrison, the defendant and only witness in his own behalf, announced that even the defendant and only witness. Two witnesses expected to come from Colorado and to testify as to the sale of certain real estate in Santa Fe had not appeared and the plaintiff's attorneys stated they were willing to admit the evidence of these witnesses by deposition. Dr. Harrison was on the stand for an hour and a half.

The plaintiff is allowed until March 1 to file a brief, the defense having twenty days in which to file an answer and the plaintiff an additional ten days for reply. A decision is not expected for several months owing to the mass of detail before the court in the record.

Democrats Take Medicine.
New York, Feb. 4.—Joseph Cassidy, former Democratic boss of Queens county, and William Willett, a former congressman, were sentenced today to serve a year and six months in Sing Sing prison and to pay $1,000 fine. Louis T. Walter, a politician, was sentenced to three months and fined $1,000.

Willett was convicted of paying a bribe to Cassidy for a supreme court nomination. Walter was the go-between.
