evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. O. Waha, 412 North Twelfth street. The house was decorated with flags in honor of Washington's birthday and refreshments were served.

Reception to Bishop and Mrs. Howden

One of the most brilliant and well-attended affairs which has taken place in Albuquerque for some time was the reception tendered Wednesday evening by the Commercial club to Bishop and Mrs. Frederick W. Howden.

Many of the business men and their wives and ministers of other denominations and their wives took advantage of the opportunity to meet the bishop and the affair was delightfully non-sectarian and informal.

Bishop and Mrs. Howden are unusually charming people and during their short stay in Albuquerque have made many friends whose earnest wish is that they make their home in this city.

Invitations are out today for a tea which Mrs. Amado Chavez, 561 North Eleventh, is giving Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Frederick Howden, wife of the new bishop of the diocese.

RECEPTION IN SANTA FE. Major and Mrs. R. J. Palen gave a brilliant reception this week at their home on Upper Palace avenue in Santa Fe in honor of Bishop and Mrs. Howden.

The affair was largely attended. The reception began at 8 and lasted until 11 p. m. In the receiving line were Bishop and Mrs. Howden, Rev. and Mrs. Leonidas Smith, Mrs. William C. McDonald, wife of the governor of New Mexico, and Major and Mrs. R. J. Palen. The guests were introduced by Col. Bronson M. Cutting, junior warden of the Church of the Holy Faith. Refreshments were served by the wives of the church's vestrymen who were assisted by the members of the guild.

The house was attractively decorated for the occasion, with pink roses in the dining room and azaleas in the parlor.

A Pretty Colonial Dance

The Weller Ylio club danced last evening in the Elks' lodge room and had a delightful time. The ladies powdered their hair and wore it colonial fashion in honor of Washington's birthday, and the refreshment room was artistically decorated with flags and hunting, and favors of cherries were given to the dancers. Quite a variety of delicious sandwiches and coffee were served buffet style and there was excellent punch throughout the evening.

Music was by the Booster orchestra, which fact speaks for itself. The Jolly Fellows had a very gay and enjoyable evening. Their next dance will be about the middle of March.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meed, Mr. and Mrs. H. Yanow, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Betz, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Powell, Mr. and Mrs. H. Benjamin, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. Avery, Mrs. John McKee, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Summers, Miss Hart, Miss Belle Sowers, Mrs. Margaret Hennessey, Mr. John McKee, Mr. Sam Pickard, Mr. P. J. Lonergan, Mr. Jerry Haggard.

Washington's Birthday Social

A Washington birthday social was given by the Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church at the home of the pastor, Rev. F. W. Longfellow, Mrs. Thomas Passmore and Miss Winifred Doyle gave readings; Mr. W. L. Perkins and Mrs. Brown vocal selections, and Mrs. Edith Joyce and Mildred and Lillian Gustafson, piano solos. Vivian Moser and David Johnson rendered "The Recruiting Officer." The national colors, and the proverbial hatchet were noted in the decorations, the refreshments being coffee and sandwiches, chocolate hearts and hatched cakes. C. T. Moser and Miss Ethel Brown represented George and Martha Washington; Mrs. Ruth Longfellow, Louise Wilkinson, Lillian Booth, Amy Passmore, Jennie Long and Lillian Gustafson wore Colonial costumes, and served. A considerable sum was added to the treasury and the affair was in every way a success.

The Washington's Birthday Fete

Tonight the Washington Birthday fete of the University of New Mexico is taking place in the Economist building between Second and Third streets. This promises to be the most successful and best all-round entertainment which the variety has ever put on. A parade at 5 o'clock started things off with a vim. Sandwiches, coffee, cake, ice cream, soft drinks, and candy are being served and there is a continuous vaudeville program which will be great.

Much energy and ingenuity have been expended in preparations for the side shows and all who attend will get their money's worth.

There is no charge for admission but there are many special chances to spend a little change—and perhaps a little more than that—over an enters. However, it is all good fun and clever entertainment. About 3:30 the Cafe Chantant will close and dancing will amuse the crowd until midnight.

Another Valentine Party

A jolly Valentine party was given last Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Brown. Appropriate games were played. One of them was a very clever guessing game and Mrs. Harry Braun was given first prize for the best answers, and Mrs. R. L. Strove received the consolation prize.

A delicious supper was served and a particularly gay evening enjoyed by all. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Soufa, Mr. and Mrs. John Munn, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Strove, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Braun, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Frank, Mr. and Mrs. T. Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Packer.

In Honor of Mrs. Stonehill

Mrs. E. A. Stonehill of New York and Paris, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ivan Grunfeld, is being widely entertained. All sorts of delightful afternoons, bridges, suppers and dinners are being given and quite a social whirl is the result.

Last Sunday Mrs. Albert Grunfeld gave a family dinner which was a jolly event.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ivan Grunfeld was at home in honor of her sister and in celebration of the eighteenth anniversary of her wedding. About forty guests called and enjoyed the pleasant affair.

That evening Mr. Herman Schwelzer entertained at dinner at the Alvarado hotel, after which the merry party adjourned to the Ivan Grunfeld home. Just as they were about to enter the house the lights flashed on and sixty people shouted gaily to the complete surprise of Mr. and Mrs. Grunfeld.

During their absence the drawing room, library and dining room had been cleared of furniture and all preparations made for a dance. A delicious supper was served at midnight and an entirely happy time enjoyed by everyone, the affair being particularly joyous because it was in celebration of the eighteenth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Grunfeld.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Chadbourne, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Rosenwald, Mr. and Mrs. G. L.
