CHAVES COUNTY HAS MOST VALUABLE BURROS

Interesting Figures in Tax Rolls of the Richest County in New Mexico. Total Valuation $7,690,000.

[Special Correspondence to the Herald] Santa Fe, N. M., March 24.—The festive burro continues to be the chief sensation of the tax returns that Chaves county has the most valuable burros in the state is indicated by the tax roll for that county received today by Traveling Auditor Howell Earnest.

The total amount returned on the tax roll is $7,690,000; less $179,926 exemption—$7,510,074. The total as shown on the corrected rolls is $25,891,000 short of what the state board of equalization estimated the third value would be.

The following figures are gleaned from an examination of the tax roll which is the last to arrive: Agricultural lands, 147,274.43 acres; value of land, $19,941,221; of improvements, $301,749.99. Pastoral lands, 268,555.86 acres; value, $147,954.00; iron and telephone lines, 250.04 miles, valued at $28,916.00.

TULAROSA COPPER COMPANY WILL START OPERATIONS AT ONCE

[Special Correspondence to the Herald] Alamogordo, N. M., March 24.—Plans for the resumption of operations by the Tularosa Copper company are being perfected and it is now believed that within thirty days full crews will be at work both in the mines and mills of the company at Tularosa. A meeting of the stockholders of the company, which has something like $400,000 invested in the property, was held at Tularosa last week, when plans for the resumption of operations were decided upon.

ROSWELL BRIDE OF 18 HOURS IS DESERTED

Sheriff Armed with Warrant on Trail of Man who Brothers of Victim Believe to be White Slaver.

[Special Correspondence to the Herald] Roswell, N. M., March 24.—Was Dr. Charles H. Hadley, an eighteen-hour groom of Miss Myrtle Kendrick a white slaver? That was the belief of the bride and her four brothers last night. Before he had been in the city several days selling "medicine." Four days ago he met Miss Myrtle Kendrick, Sunday at 11 a. m. they were married by Elder Kilbridge, after securing a marriage license from the county clerk. They then went to the bride house, remaining for the night.

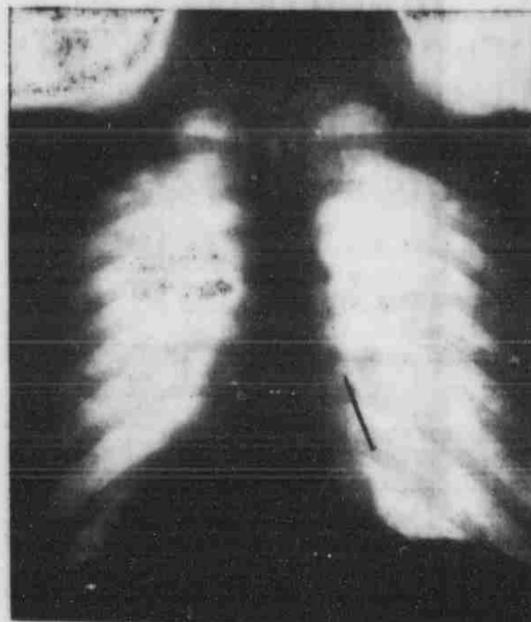

About 4 a. m. yesterday, the bridegroom left. Realizing that her lover was not coming back, the bride swore out a warrant charging him with abandonment. The warrant is now in the hands of the sheriff, but as yet no trace of the man has been found.

It is the theory of the bride and her four brothers that the man was a white slaver. Before she was married, she had seen the man, and if they caught him he would likely be sent up for five years at least. Sunday, the brothers, four in number, did everything to keep her from marrying him, but the girl eluded them. That night he told her that he was going, that he was afraid of being arrested. He left the Ohio house in the morning at 4 o'clock and has not been seen since.

Before leaving he destroyed all traces of identity. They believe he is a professional white slaver and that he has been working this valley. They give no weight to the idea that he has been selling fake medicine, but has simply been using that as a blind. Yesterday they received some mail from a Chicago house which seems to carry out this theory; the contents of it they will not divulge. The brothers are going to leave in different directions this morning in search of him.

The girl does not seem to be worrying over the matter. She does not believe that he will ever come back and does not seem to care if he doesn't.

OPERATION TO SAVE MAN WITH NAIL IN LUNG

Medical Profession Deeply Interested in Case of W. P. Stanley, Patient at Silver City Sanitarium.

[Special Correspondence to the Herald] Silver City, N. M., March 25.—The case of W. P. Stanley, the Soda Lake, Mo., man, who, supposedly suffering from tuberculosis, has a nail imbedded in his lung, has aroused the medical profession and many requests for further information about the case have come to Dr. Bullock and Dr. Twitchell, of the Cottage sanitarium, who discovered the presence of the nail with an X-ray photograph. Stanley is to be saved, it is confidently hoped, by an operation, one of the most difficult in surgery.

Discussing the case with The Herald correspondent today, Dr. Bullock said: "The most interesting thing in regard to the case of Mr. Stanley is the fact that it required so long to make a diagnosis of the actual condition and carry it with it a lesson for doctors, that they should not try to make a case fit their preconceived notion of what it ought to be, as was done in this instance, for though he insisted that he had imbedded the nail, no medical man consulted by him believed him, and it was not until after the nail had caused tuberculosis around it by the ceaseless irritation due to its presence that he was finally sent west and his case adequately studied. At the time of the examination made by Dr. Twitchell and myself, he had become so disgusted with telling physicians about the nail that he never mentioned it to us at all in consequence of which, when we examined him the pulmonary signs were so indefinite and obscure that we did not feel justified in a diagnosis of tuberculosis, especially as the septum did not contain tubercle bacilli. We took his X-ray photograph with the idea of clearing up the case, if possible, and were simply astounded when we saw the negative, which, of course, plainly revealed the nail. We called him in to see the plate, and then he said: 'Why, I have known that nail was there for two years, but nobody would believe me.'"

"The operation required for the removal of the nail is one of the most difficult and delicate in surgery, in which an instrument of great ingenuity is employed, introduced by way of the windpipe under anesthesia, and by means of which the bronchial tubes are illuminated, and if the nail is not imbedded, it will be brought within range of the operator's vision. The instrument is called a bronchoscope and has attached to it a pair of jaws by which the nail may be seized and withdrawn. Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals of Chicago has saved many lives by means of this operation, and we have referred this case to him, hoping that the young man will return to us for the cure of the tuberculosis around the nail. We only determined the presence of the tuberculosis by means of the tuberculin test—applied in the old way hypodermically—and at 10 milligrams he presented the phenomena of a diagnostic reaction. In a letter from Dr. Ingals, he states that without the removal of the nail the young man's chance of recovery is less than one in a hundred; in fact, foreign bodies in the lungs are very fatal indeed, usually causing abscess, tuberculosis, or what the Germans call 'schilff's pneumonia,' or, as we Americans say, a foreign body pneumonia. "The removal of foreign bodies from the lungs is one of the triumphs of modern medicine."

DEAN OF NEW MEXICO EDUCATORS PASSES HIS 84TH BIRTHDAY

[Special Correspondence to the Herald] Las Cruces, N. M., March 24.—Prof. Hiram Hadley, founder of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, and the foremost educator of the southwest, has passed the eighty-first mile stone and his friends and admirers are complimenting him on his successful career. Mrs. Hadley, knowing her husband's fondness for his first student's here, entertained an evening last week and several of the first graduating class were present. Miss Pannell French, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Snow, Prof. and Mrs. C. T. Hester, Mrs. Earl Noyd and Mrs. W. A. Sutherland were present.

Las Cruces college was opened by Professor Hadley on September 15, 1888. The structure used was a small, one-story building and the total enrollment was less than a score. Later the state legislature passed an act assisting the Las Cruces college and changing it to the Agricultural college. It has since been enlarged to two miles south of Las Cruces, and a building erected. Little by little the college grew and became known throughout the state.

Today the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts is the largest and best institution of learning in the state of New Mexico and second to none in the great southwest. It has seven handsome buildings valued at $120,000. There is nearly $100,000 worth of equipment. There are forty instructors, each a specialist in his line. The United States government maintains an experiment station and the students, who wish to study scientific agriculture have the benefit of seeing the experiments performed first hand.

Prof. Hiram Hadley, little realized the great influence the agricultural college would have in educating the youth of New Mexico. From a total enrollment of 15 in 1888, the college now has over a hundred students. Twenty-five hundred students have attended the college since its foundation and today every town in New Mexico has one or more citizens who have attended the institution.

Many of the students who have attended the college founded by Prof. Hadley are now leading citizens in the different communities where they live. Some of the members of the first graduating class are: Gen. C. Snow, president of the First National bank of Las Cruces; Prof. Fabian Garcia, head of the United States experiment station and foremost horticulturist in the state; and Prof. R. H. Larkin, one of the best known educators in New Mexico. Some of the students who have made a marked success in the state and Prof. H. Larkin, one of the best known educators in New Mexico. CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE CURED

There is nothing more discouraging than chronic disorder of the stomach. It is not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle. "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all druggists.

LAS VEGAS ENJOYS AN EXCITING EVENING

Fire at Insane Asylum, Warehouse Burned, Automobile Smash up and Fireman Disabled with $4,000 Loss.

[Special Dispatch to Evening Herald] Las Vegas, N. M., March 25.—Things were doing in Las Vegas for a time last night, especially for the fire department. A small blaze at the state insane asylum called out the fire fighters at 9 o'clock, this proving to be of little importance and quickly controlled. A few minutes later fire in a warehouse belonging to Ludwig lifted on Bridge street called the department again. This blaze destroyed the warehouse and adjoining buildings and for a time threatened to become very serious. The loss is about $4,000. While hurrying to the fire, Leo Herenberg drove his automobile into a boggy driven by Peter Caddo. The buggy was overturned and smashed and the motor disabled. Neither man was hurt. While making the run to the second fire Richard Smith, a fireman, fell off the hose wagon and sustained serious injuries about the head.

BACA HEADS FUSION CITY TICKET IN SANTA FE

Republican Speaker of Late House of Representatives Gets Combination Nomination After Fight.

[Special Dispatch to Evening Herald] Santa Fe, N. M., March 25.—Roman Liberato Baca, speaker of the late lamented Republican house of representatives was nominated as the candidate for mayor last night at a convention of Progressives and Democrats, after a spirited fight in which Baca's heretofore somewhat prominent position in the local Republican party was used as the chief argument against him. The combination ticket is as follows: For mayor—R. L. Baca, Progressive. For city clerk—Arthur E. P. Condon, Progressive. For city treasurer—Jesus S. Candario, Democrat.

For alderman, first ward—Manuel Delgado, Democrat. For alderman, second ward—Charles J. Bacon, Democrat. For alderman, third ward—John H. Walker, Democrat. For alderman, fourth ward, for two years—David Gonzalez, Progressive, for four years, August Reinhardt, Democrat.

FARMERS AROUND SPRINGVILLE ARE PROSPEROUS

Madalena, N. M., March 24.—George Miller has returned from Springville, where he has been employed for several weeks setting up farm machinery for the use of the ranchers in that locality. He says the farmers are preparing for the spring work and that improved machinery to carry on farm operations is in demand. The owners of agricultural land tributary to Springville are going to plant more extensively than ever before and a much larger acreage than heretofore will be put under the plow. There is a large body of good agricultural land tributary to Springville, much of which will be placed under cultivation this year.

Mr. Miller says the people in those parts are considerably enthused over the new highway which is to be constructed from the Arizona state line through Springville, St. Johns and other towns, to the railroad at Holbrook. From the main road there will be several branch roads constructed to points of present and prospective importance. The distance is about 120 miles and $125,000 have been voted to construct this important highway. The road is to be constructed this year and will give employment to a large number of men and teams.

SMUDGE POTS ARE BURNING ON THE BANKS OF THE PECOS

[Special Correspondence to the Herald] Roswell, N. M., March 24.—Alfalfa is up four inches and if no late frosts occur the first cutting will be made in the valley this year the middle of May. This will be some two weeks earlier than usual, the first cutting coming off the railroad at the week in June. The first cutting is going to occur, too, when there is a great deal of second and third grades of hay which has not yet been shipped to the markets. The early cutting this year will be due a great deal to the winter irrigations. Heretofore only a few realized the benefits of the winter watering. This year, the other hay men realized the great advantage and the winter irrigation was general. The fruit men over the Roswell section are now just finishing up their pruning and are getting ready to smudge and spray. Already some have had their oil pots lighted. Captain de Bredmond has had 120 bunches of pruning and getting ready for spraying. So is Zeb Cheyenne on the Owens place. The smudging will be in progress about the first of April, and continue until the first of May, according to the record of other seasons. The oat crop is looking fine. The wheat crop is looking well, owing to the warm weather, but the growers are pasturing it down to keep it back. Apple men are feeling good this year. They expect a fancier crop than big eaters get kidney trouble. The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid, which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Color, Gloss, Thickness. Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.
