IMPROVEMENTS AT THE STATE FAIR GROUNDS

Lumber on Ground for Extensions of Buildings, Stalls and Exhibit Pens. Track Being Surfaced.

Extensive improvements at the state fair grounds will start Monday morning, calling attention to the fact that the biggest state fair on record is now little more than a month away.

Lumber necessary for extensions of the exhibit buildings arrived in Albuquerque yesterday and is being delivered today, and secretary Tom Binkert has said that the improvements would start Monday and be finished within two weeks.

The main exhibit buildings are to be extended to provide for the largest agricultural and fruit exhibit ever brought here.

The demand for pens for live stock exhibits is large and has necessitated building many pens not heretofore needed, while the big string of horses now working on the Santa Fe circuit will make additional stable room necessary.

A considerable force of carpenters will be at work on the grounds for two weeks or more.

The grandstand and exhibit buildings are to be painted and generally renovated and the grounds will present a very attractive appearance when the big show starts on October 5th.

While this is going on the racing committee is looking after the condition of the track. Further drainage is being provided and the track will be surfaced and re-banked so as to make fast automobile and motorcycle driving possible, as well as putting the track in first-class shape for the horses.

Racing Outlook Good.

The outlook for the fair race meeting this fall is splendid. From Lamar and Las Animas, Colo., where the Santa Fe circuit entries have been going the past two weeks, come reports of splendid harness racing and exciting work by the ponies.

Horsemen who attended the Lamar meeting say that the circuit this year is attracting the best class of horses, both harness and running, since the circuit was established.

The addition of Denver and Pueblo to the circuit, with the big purses offered by those meetings, and the substantial offerings of the fair commission, are the main attractions to the horse owners.

Last year's race meeting was a success and the fair commission was as quick to recognize the lack of the sport as were visitors to the fair.

They started early to make this year's racing program a success, and from the entries in the harness events they have succeeded.

BOYS WANT WORK AND CHANCE TO ATTEND THE HIGH SCHOOL

Superintendent John Milne of the city schools has on the high school roll two worthy boys who are anxious to attend school this year and who lack the means. These boys, both husky fellows and willing to work, want to find places where they can exchange their work for board and room during the school year.

Any one interested may telephone Superintendent Milne at the new high school building and in the east.

THE MODEL CO. MAKES VOLUNTARY ASSIGNMENT

Retail Dry-Goods and Shoe House Turns Over Stock to First Savings Bank and Trust Company for Benefit of Creditors.

The Model company, a retail dry goods and shoe house, located at Central and Fourth street, made a voluntary assignment last night, turning over its stocks and other assets to the First Savings Bank and Trust company, as trustee, for the benefit of the creditors. The company was established in business by N. M. Cudlack and associates in 1913 being first devoted exclusively to articles of women's wear, later adding a line of shoes. No statement of assets and liabilities has been made and none will be available pending an inventory. The store will be closed Monday for inventory and A. D. Campbell, who has been manager of the store, will be placed in charge by the trust company to make the invoice.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WILL MEET SEPTEMBER 4

The county commissioners will meet September 4th. It will be the first session presided over by Chairman Alfred Grunfeld in several months. The chairman has just returned after an extended trip abroad and in the east.
