FOR THE FORCE BILL.

There is manifested here and there among white Republican leaders opposition to the Force bill, and they denounce it particularly in the presence of Democrats and white Republicans. But, with a few exceptions, there is nothing to show that they oppose it when in a meeting of negroes. In the Wake county Republican convention on Monday, which was, of course, dominated by negroes, there was everything to show that in Wake county, at least, the Republican party favors that infamous measure.

Why do we say so? Because the speaker of the occasion was James H. Harris (col.), the old Radical war-horse, whose ringing voice has been the one voice which Wake Radicals have heard and followed unquestioningly. He is living in Washington City now, but the Radical managers, seeing a spirit of independence among the negroes of Wake county, sent for him to come home and point out to the negroes their duty once more. He came, and he spoke, and he was applauded. His speech was in favor of the passage of the Force bill, and when he urged its passage in the earnest way which makes Jim nothing less than an orator, he received loud and continued applause. The speech and the utterance in favor of the Force bill met with great favor, and showed that Wake county Republicans desire its passage.

Every man in Wake county who opposes that bill is compelled to vote the Democratic ticket, for in the convention which applauded the earnest utterances in favor of its passage votes were cast for C. D. Urquhart, J. P. H. Adams, J. R. Rogers and others who ask the suffrage of the people. The same Republican convention which voted for these men as delegates, applauded the sentiment that we ought to have soldiers at the polls.

A REPUBLICAN OPINION.

"I am opposed to the Federal election law," is a private expression of white Radicals who want white votes. But all the same they go into Republican conventions where negro voters declare for the Force bill, and are in close contact and hearty accord with the advocates of that infamous measure.

Ex-Solicitor Lon J. Moore, of New Bern, has withdrawn from the Republican party and says that no respectable white Southern man can longer remain in it and be a patriotic citizen.

The staff correspondent of the Durham Globe, in giving an account of the Alamance county convention says:

Among the delegates present were several men who have hitherto been Republicans, but now are earnest and enthusiastic Democrats, prominent among whom was Dr. G. K. Foust, at one time the Republican candidate for the Senate against Hon. T. M. Holt. Dr. Foust remarked to the reporter, who expressed surprise at seeing him in a Democratic convention, that "the force bill ought to drive every decent white man in the South out of the Republican party."

Dr. Foust is an honorable and patriotic citizen, and has always enjoyed the confidence of his neighbors. He has been a Republican from principle, but he now believes every "decent white man in the South ought to leave it."

The difference between Dr. Foust and Republican office-seekers is this: He speaks for principle and right; they speak for office. Their Republicanism is "office deep and dollar wide."

"Come out from among them." That is the test of a man's real belief. If he opposes the infamous sectional legislation that the Republican party is seeking to enact, he must "be separate" from that party. The people are not silly enough to be cajoled longer by men who have two faces and two sets of opinions.

MR. POU DECLINES.

We publish in to day's CHRONICLE the card of Jas. H. Pou, Esq., declining the nomination for the State Senate from Johnston county. Mr. Pou has represented his county three times in the Legislature with ability and success, and a renomination this year was a high compliment to his past record. He was not a candidate for the nomination and declined to allow the use of his name. On the day of the convention he was at Lillington attending court. In the convention, so a friend informs us, his brother (E. W. Pou, Jr.), the Democratic candidate for Solicitor of the Fourth District) took the stand to place in nomination another gentleman who, it was expected, would be nominated by acclamation. Mr. Ed. Pou made some pointed hits against the Republicans, when some of his friends tried to cheer him, hollered "Hurrah for Pou," etc. The cry was repeated, and soon some of the crowd cheered for "Jim Pou for the Senate." At the conclusion of Mr. Ed. Pou's nominating speech, several took the stand and spoke in favor of nominating J. H. Pou for the Senate, though some of his best friends were trying to keep them back. When the vote was taken Mr. Pou was nominated. This was very flattering to him and he would like to have served but it would have necessitated a reversal of all his plans, and it possibly might have given some dissatisfaction for two brothers to run on the same ticket, though it is certain that he would have been elected and probably without opposition. He therefore patriotically declines the flattering nomination, and the convention will be called September 12th to nominate a candidate.

"Honor to whom honor is due." The CHRONICLE was in error last week in stating that Mr. DAVID ALEXANDER, of Tyrrell, was the author of the bill under which PROFS. McIVER and ALDERMAN are now holding Institutes. He was an earnest advocate of the bill, but the author of the bill was Stanley county's efficient and popular young representative, Mr. W. K. LITTLETON, whose service in the House was highly creditable to him. Next to the bill reducing the cost of the penitentiary, Mr. LITTLETON'S Institute bill was the most important that was passed by the last General Assembly; and the CHRONICLE believes that in the long run the Institute bill will be of far greater service to the State.

ALAS! poor JOSIAH TURNER. The strongest and most useful man in the State when destructive talent was essential, he had no constructive talent when that was needed, and now there is none so poor to do him reverence. The Durham Globe says that Mr. TURNER will be an independent candidate for the Legislature in Orange. We had hoped that he would spend the evening of life in retirement, let the people forget his later mistakes, and allow the estimate of services to be made up from his earlier public career when he did valiant service for the honor of the State. We hope the Globe is mistaken.

A Note From the Mountains.

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.] Go it, Mr. Daniels, victory is in the distance. You are sufficiently generous, while you pour the truth, in generous showers, from the sea to the mountains; and it ought to comfort you to know, that it is refreshing, and vivifying every thing. The Republicans themselves see, that rotation in office, is healthier, and safer. We'll try Cleveland and Campbell next election, and if they don't improve on the blunders of the present administration, we'll go back to the Republicans. Mr. Cleveland's reason (to the Senate) for vetoing a bill, for a certain widow to have a pension, was--First, that she was not the wife of the husband she claimed; and secondly, that the man was NEVER in the WAR. Two pretty fair reasons. Everybody knows that Mr. Blaine is a strong Republican, and as sharp as a briar; and if he objects to the administration, there is some excuse for it; and as no other party can produce the necessary equilibrium, the entire South--Republicans, Alliance-men, Prohibitionists, and all, would save, in peace and prosperity, to try the Democratic party next election. Our State and Congressional elections this year, will be a satisfactory indication of this arrangement. Our worthy, long neglected farmers, are studiously working for the general good; and may be relied upon, as a strong factor, for economy, justice, and GENERAL PROSPERITY. Gov. Vance will do as well as any man we can put in his place; and the General, (a strong Alliance man) will do extremely well, in the House. J. W. V.

A CARD.

Senator Pou Declines the Nomination to the State Senate.

To the DEMOCRATS of JOHNSTON COUNTY: SMITHFIELD, N. C., Aug. 22--On my return from Lillington court on the 8th inst., I was informed that I had been nominated for the Senate. This nomination, coming unsought from the largest convention ever held in this county, was very gratifying to me, and I shall long remember with pleasure the kind words then spoken of me.

To that convention and to every member individually I now return my sincere thanks for the honor conferred upon me; but after a careful survey of the situation and full consultation with the Democrats from all sections of the county, I have decided that it is perhaps best that I should decline the nomination. My brother has been nominated for Solicitor of this district. This nomination was secured only by the earnest and united support of the Democrats of this county, and there is now an opinion entertained by many, that it is not good policy for both of us to be candidates, and that possibly injury might result therefrom to the party.

This opinion may or may not, be well founded, I do not know, but I know that this sentiment does exist, and I am too much interested in the success of the Democratic party and too much devoted to its principles to allow my name to become a cause of dissatisfaction in its ranks.

While I think it best for me not to be a candidate this year, it is my wish and intention to be among the foremost in the fight for Democracy and good government; and I am ready and willing to do anything in my power to advance the interest of the party and to assure its success.

For these reasons I must ask you to allow me to decline your nomination. If this is a mistake I beg you to believe that I do so because I believe it best for the party.

Again thanking you sincerely for the support I have always received from you and wishing your nominee a splendid victory. I am sincerely, JAMES H. POU.

A convention to nominate a candidate for Senator will be held in Smithfield on September 12th.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & CO.

LAST WEEK IN AUGUST, 1890

This month is usually not a very busy one in carpets, but this August is an exception.

If we do not sell a single yard of carpet this week, we can still say Saturday night, when we are through work, that we have done the biggest business in this line of stuff that has ever been done in Raleigh during August.

Some may ask, what is the cause? Early in the month we began showing a line of carpets as large as is ordinarily brought out for regular Fall trade. The completeness of the stock, together with lower prices than the same grades had formerly sold for, caused many to buy early.

Last week was added new attractions. This week we want to close out some patterns that are not brand new, and to do so, we will make it to your interest to buy now.
