

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

The Y. M. D. C. meets to-night.

The board of aldermen meets to-morrow night.

A young lady desires a situation as a teacher. See advertisement.

The excursion which left here for Asheville yesterday carried a large delegation of Raleigh people.

Some filling in and grading is being done on the wide street running by Ellington, Royster & Co's shops.

Two very handsome residences are nearing completion—that of Col. Polk on Person street, and Col. Thos. Kenan's on Jones street.

The W. C. T. U., will meet at the residence of Mrs. Jas. A. Briggs on Hillsboro street this afternoon at 5 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

The committee appointed for the purpose is doing tolerably good work with reference to having the State Association of Democratic clubs meet here.

All earnest young Democrats are invited to attend the Y. M. D. C. meeting to-night. Workers are wanted. The club is laying plans for some systematic and vigorous work.

Mr. Haywood Branch, West South street, is in sad affliction. Two of his little children have died within the past two days, and two others are now sick; though these are thought to be improving.

The CHRONICLE is still booming. It is going up, right along. Twenty new daily subscribers were put on the list yesterday, and as many as ten have been put on each day during this week—some days more than ten. It's the paper for the people.

Superintendent Wm. Smith has had some pretty work done on the Raleigh & Gaston railroad property within the last few days. The cotton weighers' office and water tank on the cotton platform have been handsomely retouched with paint, and presents a neat appearance. The work is by Messrs. King & Macy, the painters.

Large numbers of boys and young men continue to pass through the city en route for the various educational institutions. Yesterday a number left Raleigh for the State University. Quite a number came up on the west bound afternoon train, and when those boys saw each other they set up a whoop and a hoop-la that almost raised the hair on the heads of many bystanders.

COMING AND GOING.

COMING AND GOING.

Some of the Folks You Know and Their Doings.

Mr. W. W. Smith went to Clayton yesterday.

W. R. Henry, Esq., of Henderson, is in the city.

Mr. W. J. Peeler returned yesterday from Charlotte.

Mr. John Armstrong, of Columbia, S. C., is here visiting friends.

Miss Clara Hodge, of Little River Academy is visiting Miss Belle Bagley.

Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Bruner and son returned from Blowing Rock yesterday.

Mr. Mamie Speight, of Windsor, is visiting at Rev. T. T. Speight's in this city.

Mr. W. J. Powell, of Henderson, is in the city. He will attend the A. and M. college.

Miss Lillie Bell, of Morehead City, arrived here yesterday to attend Peace Institute.

Miss Grizzie C. Bagley, who has been on a visit to Louisburg and Jackson, returned yesterday.

Prof. E. P. Moses, superintendent of the Raleigh graded schools, arrived in the city yesterday.

Miss Mary Marsh has returned to her home here from a visit to the eastern section of Carolina.

Mrs. Dr. G. W. Blacknall and Mr. George Blacknall have arrived in the city from the North. Mr. George Blacknall has just recovered from an attack of typhoid fever of seven weeks' duration.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Forecast for Virginia: Fair, warmer; southerly winds.

For North Carolina, generally fair, except light, local showers on the coast; stationary temperature; easterly winds.

Raleigh yesterday: Maximum temperature 82; minimum temperature 64; rainfall, 0.00.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity to-day: Fair weather, slightly warmer.

FOR THE CITY'S GOOD.

Will Every Man and Every Woman Tell What Raleigh Needs—And Suggest Something That Would Advance Her Interests?

The interest and growth and progress of Raleigh is one of the CHRONICLE's hobbies. It wants to see Raleigh lead the country in pluck and enterprise.

Are Raleigh people also interested in this way?

It very frequently happens that a suggestion from some one results in something great. Various suggestions have been recently made and urged, but none of them seemed to be popular, because they have not been acted upon.

Now, will the people of the city offer some suggestions for the city's good?

The CHRONICLE will give them the opportunity to make them publicly.

Let any man or any woman who has in mind any suggestion he or she would like to make, write it out and send it to the CHRONICLE. No matter what the suggestion is about—whether a little or a great matter—let it come. Make it short as possible.

The writer must send name with suggestion, but the suggestion will be printed under any signature.

Now let's see who ever thinks of Raleigh's interests. If there be no responses to this proposition, it will appear as though the growth and future of his town is of small consequence to the people who live here. Is that the case? Surely not.

Remember now, that a suggestion may be made about ANYTHING—great or small, and made by men and women.

Lets have a number of them in at once, and see if somebody has been thinking of something which will strike a popular chord, and result in something advantageous.

Make the suggestions short and to the point.

A Young Man Loses His Arm.

Information was received here yesterday of an awful accident at the cotton gin of Watts & Co., near Auburn on Tuesday.

Mr. Peter Pool had his hand and arm torn to pieces in the gin, and the wounds are so violent that it is feared they may prove fatal.

Mr. Pool had just attained his majority, and had begun his first day's work in his own behalf.

For the Soldiers' Home.

Misses Birdie Lawrence and Mabel Ashley, two little girls, yesterday handed Mr. W. C. Stronach $3 which they, with the assistance of some little friends, raised by various means.

If the elder people would do their part toward this matter as well as the little folks, the Home would soon have a sufficient endowment.

THE SECOND DISTRICT.

W. J. Rogers, of Northampton, Nominated for Congress.

[Special to STATE CHRONICLE.]

KINSTON, N. C., Sept. 3. The Democratic convention of the Second Congressional district met here to-day.

W. J. Rogers was nominated for Congress on the first ballot.

Mr. J. M. Mewborne, whose friends have been pushing him for the nomination, withdrew this morning, and his name was not before the convention.

Governor's Guard, Attention!

Annual inspection of the Guard will take place in the armory to-night at 8 o'clock. No excuse for absence will be taken.

STATEMENT OF THE OTHER SIDE.

The President of the Rocky Mount Mills Gives his Position—With Reference to the Mill Operatives Matter.

Nothing is farther from the CHRONICLE than an intention to give a one-sided statement to any question.

A few days ago, this paper published some statements with reference to some cotton mill operatives who came from the Rocky Mount mills to work in the Raleigh mills. The statements were from the operatives who came here.

The president of the former mills takes issue with what was said, and following is a statement from him.

EDITOR STATE CHRONICLE:—Your long article in Sunday's issue about the Edging matter does not show as much fairness as we think ought to be shown us. While all your information is obtained from one side, you profess to give all the facts, and undertake to place us in a bad light.

Surely, it is not fair to adopt an ex parte statement as a basis of an assault on us, ridiculing our position and acts, as if there were not too sides to every question.

We have felt that the trouble in question is a private matter, to be settled by the managers of the two mills, and we have not tried to make our position public.

We claim that there has been actual, legal interference with our hands from certain agents of the Raleigh mills, and we think we have ample facts and proof to sustain us, but while this is a fact in litigation, we do not care to publish a detailed statement of our evidence. We deny each material statement of fact in your article.

It is not true that the Nevills were out of work when they were employed by the Raleigh mills, as two of them were at work in our mills at the time and later.

It is not true that we detained any telegram, for the only telegram ever received by us was delivered in twenty minutes and it was written off by the book keeper for the reason that it came over the telephone.

I regret that your article tends to create personal feeling against us on the part of the Raleigh directors, all of whom I know to be gentlemen of the highest character. I have used to be in Raleigh and called on some of them and explained our position as to the acts of their agent. Certainly nothing occurred between us that could create any misunderstanding.

We think that our position is based on facts, on State law and on sound policy, best both for mill owners and mill hands, and we will not be driven from it by ridicule.

We never try to keep hands against their will, and we are proud to say that the high grade of intelligence and respectability which characterizes our operatives bear testimony to their well being.

We do not care to go into a public discussion and very much regret that duty to ourselves requires us to say this much. Very truly,

THOMAS H. BATTLE, President Rocky Mount Mills.

SOMETHING COMING.

Rumors of an Electric Street Car Line and the Laying off of a New Town.

For some days past there have been rumors and rumblings of something that threatens to happen on a big scale.

It is nothing less than the establishment of an electric street railway and the laying out of a beautiful tract of land, south of the city, into desirable residence lots.

The parties at the head of this enterprise have taken the utmost precaution to keep it secret, and they have succeeded in this, so far as particulars are concerned.

But the main matter was discussed yesterday and some parts of it were overheard.

Something is going to happen—if the people of Raleigh will let it. By this means, if the people of Raleigh will encourage that something and not jump on it and stamp the life out of it by putting property and everything else up out of sight and out of reach. And this is something to be feared. But the CHRONICLE hopes earnestly that no such thing may happen.

It is known that nearly enough money has been secured in the way of stock to carry out the enterprise proposed, and there are plain intimations that it is intended to begin work this fall.

The gentlemen behind the scheme—one of them at least—is connected with strong moneyed institutions here, and is prominent and well known in business circles.

Now let everybody invite and encourage this enterprise. Don't stifle it. Don't cripple it. Whoop it up, and let every man remember that every man can't get a fortune out of this one thing; but if every man will help it forward it will open up other opportunities which will give every man a chance.
