Good breaks of tobacco continue daily at all our warehouses, and to-day unusually large sales will take place, at which some fine new crop tobacco will be offered. Let our people visit these sales and see what is being done in our tobacco market and become acquainted with our tobacco farming patrons.

The attempt at robbery at the residence of Mrs. Moncure on North Blount street was a bold affair, and brings to mind the rule adopted in a Western town troubled with house-breaking, that is to say, let every house have in it a good double-barrel shot gun, well loaded with buck shot, and when in the night time you catch a stranger in your house, shoot to kill.

The city tax lists show a footing up on the four items of solvent credits, money on hand, bank stock and stock in incorporated companies as follows:

Married to Avoid Prosecution.

George Haywood, colored, was arraigned before Justice W. Whitaker yesterday upon a charge of seduction. Before trial he consulted with the prosecuting attorney and her father, the result of which the parties requested the Justice to perform a marriage ceremony instead of sitting as a trial Justice. A license was at once procured and in short order Judge Whitaker made the parties man and wife, and the halls of Justice were abandoned. The groom, after walking around the city for some time, carried his bride to her father's house with the loving words, "I will be back to dinner, darling," since which time the whereabouts of George has not been known. He exco-

Trouble Brewing.

Some two hundred delinquents on dog tax may not be surprised should they receive a polite invitation to appear before the mayor to show cause why they should not be dealt with as the ordinances direct for their failure to promptly pay their dog tax. This tax was due July 1st, and since August 1st it has been a misdemeanor to have an unlicensed dog upon your premises. Look to your interests, delinquents, it is only the indulgence of the chief of police which has so far saved you, and this must now cease.

THE INDUSTRIAL PARADE.

The Fever Spreads and Will Become Contagious--More Floats Reported.

The CHRONICLE knew when it started this matter that it would be compelled to devote much space to the subject and to do it daily, but whatever is of good to Raleigh or any of its enterprises the CHRONICLE will now stand ready to take the lead and push as hard as any other.

In addition to those already noticed as favorable to the Industrial parade and who will participate, the CHRONICLE man was told yesterday by Messrs. A. G. Rhodes & Co., "You can put us down for two tremendous floats. We have engaged 90 feet of space at the Fair grounds, and will head your parade with the largest float in the line and bring up the tail end with one with thirteen rattles." Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left on the 4:45 train for Birmingham, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Fleming is in business there as stenographer in the Georgia Pacific railroad office. Y. M. D. CLUB.

The Meeting To-Night to be One of Much Importance and Interest.

The meeting of the Y. M. D. club to-night will be an important and interesting one. The constitution and by-laws will be distributed, and the reorganization for active work will be completed. Several very important committees will be appointed, and it is desired that there should be a full meeting. It is the desire of the club that every Democratic voter in Raleigh township will at once enroll himself in the ranks of this club, and make up his mind to redeem Wake county from Radical rule over any of its offices. This can easily be done by united and determined action on the part of the Democrats of the county. Let the meeting be a rousing one, and let every member put himself in full armor for a fight to victory for the entire Democratic ticket. THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

New York, September 10.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company, in their cotton circular to-night say: The opening market in both Liverpool and New York this morning were well maintained, the former closing firm at one point above yesterday's close. Spot sales were 3,000 bales. Until the publication of the bureau report at noon the trading here was limited and upon about the basis of the opening figures. At noon promptly, the report was received, and while in our opinion this report is very far from justifying the extreme big crop estimates, yet the expectation of the market of the operators had been adjusted to a somewhat lower figure, thus their disappointment became plainly evident in a decline of about the lowest of the day. After the close, however, there was a disposition to cover the theory that after all the report was hardly as optimistic as the bears would have it regarded. Unless Liverpool shows great weakness to-morrow an improvement here is probable. Spot cotton closed weak; middling uplands 10 5/8; sale 210 bales. Futures closed weak at 10 1/2 points lower as follows:

It's Funny When You Feel That Way. When you make a mistake of any kind, even if it's a small one, you feel like you would rather not have made it, but when you make a great big mistake, like wear all liable to do at any time, then we feel funny. There are a great many people who make mistakes who never find it out, some find it out when it's too late to correct it, these misfortunes, but when a man buys a suit of clothes up town for $30 and then comes down to our store and sees the identical goods priced $14.75, he must feel funny you know. We had a case just like the above not long ago, we felt sorry for the poor fellow, he seemed to be in such real distress over his $35.25, that he had thrown away. He swore that the very next suit he wore he would buy it of us, and he did, he bought it yesterday, and he seemed just as happy as he seemed miserable on the other occasion. We can always give you nice goods and for less money than you will get any where else. Try us one time, will you? AT SWINDELL'S.
