MY FRIEND—A WORD WITH YOU.

Do you know that every man who desires to vote at this election must register ANEW? Even if you have REGISTERED and VOTED before, you must register again under the new Election Law to vote this year.

Do you want the Republicans to carry the election and have your neighbors arrested and put in jail as in 1868? If not, REGISTER and VOTE THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Do you wish the negro to get control of your county and State? If not, REGISTER and VOTE for the DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

Do you not know that EVERY NEGRO in the State will REGISTER and VOTE? Then so must every WHITE MAN.

Do you want negro Yankee soldiers with drawn bayonets to meet you at the polls and dictate to you how to vote? If not, be sure your name is on the registration books, and do not fail to vote the straight Democratic ticket.

You can't register after Oct. 24th—so REGISTER AT ONCE. Don't say you have not time—take time—YOUR HAPPINESS depends on it; the GOOD NAME and PROSPERITY OF YOUR STATE depends on it; HONEST GOVERNMENT and WHITE MAN'S CONTROL depends on it. DON'T WAIT. Delay may cost the defeat of the party.

All Democratic papers will please copy and keep at the top of the column of each issue until after the election.

Ed. Chambers Smith, Chm'n. Dem. State Ex. Com.

The issue is made and the contest has begun which is to decide whether North Carolina is to remain under a government of the people, for the people and by the people, or pass into the hands and under the dominion of a gang of revenue bummers and mercenary tricksters, who are striving for dominion, not that North Carolina may be benefited, but that they may put money into their purses and live without honest labor.—Wilmington Star.

Jno F. Stratton & Son, large dealers in musical instruments, send out circulars to all customers stating that the Tarif act adds to the cost of musical instruments from 40 to 100 per cent. above old rates. It is so in everything, and yet some ignorant or corrupt men say that the Tarif amounts to nothing and is but a partial cry.

Lieut. Thos. Washington, of Goldsboro, who is in the Navy and on the Asiatic station, renews his subscription to the CHRONICLE and says: "There are several North Carolina officers on my fleet and the CHRONICLE is a great favorite with them."

Prof. McIver says that he is an Alliance candidate for Congress. The truth is that there was not an Alliance man in the Convention that nominated Prof. McIver. He is ashamed of his crowd!

DR. MOTT AND THE ELECTION LAW.

A. V. Dockery, of Carthage, published in the last issue of the Sanford Express, an open letter to Dr. J. J. Mott. Dr. Mott issued a letter saying that he was just from a visit to J. W. Hardin, of Alamance county, "one of the special committee appointed by the State Executive Committee to encourage registration, and the formation of Republican tickets in all the counties," and adding that "a suitable canvasser for each Township should be appointed at once, and his name and post-office sent immediately to this Committee, who will correspond with him. Let the leading Republicans of the township get together and select a man and not wait for the county and township executive committees to act, unless they happen to be ready to act. The township canvasser should be put to work at once; give name, age and postoffice of every man who has been refused registration, and make report to this committee. The report should also contain the reason given by the registrar refusing to register said voter, and if possible, the names and postoffices of two witnesses to the whole transaction. * * * The Democrats declare that the new State Election law is not intended to interfere with the rights of a voter. It is the duty, therefore, of every Republican to test the matter. And it will be the duty, and should be the pleasure of every Republican in North Carolina, in case of insincerity and injustice on the part of the Democrats in administering this law, to petition and demand of the Congress of the United States an Election law to protect the liberty of its citizens to the fullest extent."

This was Mr. Dockery's reply to Dr. Mott: "A batch of your ill-digested circulars reached me on Friday last. We had a meeting the following day and decided not to run a county ticket. We resent the presumption that there will be no fair election in this county and we shall not be made an evidence-getting machine in favor of the Force bill. It may give you pain to be told that the Republicans of this county are opposed to that bill, and further pain to learn that our legislative candidates will so announce themselves on the hustings."

"Not wishing to aggravate your pain I must assert that if we are spared the advice, the literature so-called, the speakers or other emissaries of your committee we may get along very well, thank you. I do not mention 'boodle' because I presume that will stick where it has come to be thought its proper domicile—in the committee. For all or any part of this pain Dear Doctor, you can please yourself about taking a dose of Bile Beans and Harrison's administration in equal parts; but protect us from the stomach ache consequent upon any other of your visits to J. W. Hardin. His story is neither rich nor racy, but putridly rare, and the people of this State are not supremely interested in the inhaling of the Revenuer called Hardin."

WHY GOOD MEN ARE HATED.

(Richmond Christian Advocate) Human nature is queer. In conversation with a great merchant in this city he remarked that once upon a time a gentleman came to him, and said, "A certain man takes every occasion to traduce you; why is it?" The merchant replied: "I caught that fellow in a piece of rascality. He ought to despise himself, but he hates me." If you trace the reason for ill will, you will find it either in the detection of a secret bad act or in some meanness committed against the man who is hated. Whenever you hear of a fellow's hostility to a decent person, always ask what has the fellow done to the gentleman. If you injure a man, he can forgive you, but you cannot forgive him. You continue to try to make him out an ugly individual in hope and effort to ease your own conscience for one doing him without cause and ill turn. The most unforgiving creature is the Devil. He has done humanity so many wrongs that he cannot pardon them for his own villainies towards them. When a man stabs with his tongue an absent person, everybody knows the deceitfulness and cruelty of the heart, interprets the act as a sign of an uneasy conscience on account of former ignoble behavior toward the victim. The diagnosis is easy, for the symptoms are patent.

IT WAS COWARDLY.

(H. G. Ewart, Radical Candidate for Congress in the Ninth District.) A Republican Senate has deliberately killed the educational bill. It was as cowardly an abandonment of principles as a great party was ever guilty of.

In GRANVILLE BROWER promised a troublesome negro a Federal position if he would get off the ticket. That's the way North Carolina Radicals distribute public positions. A public office is a private snap is their motto.

VOTE the Democratic ticket straight if you love your homes and the peace and prosperity of your State.

HOME-SPUN YARNS.

(Winston Sentinel.) R. N. Hackett, of Wilkes, came down Saturday wearing a pair of "yaller" shoes. He was on his way to Raleigh to join editor Ramsay's Alliance.

The Hansom Place Baptist church congregation in Brooklyn, which has been without a regular pastor since the resignation of the Rev. Dr. J. C. Allen two years ago, has unanimously voted to extend a call to the Rev. Dr. A. C. Dixon, of Baltimore. Assurances have been received from Dr. Dixon that he will accept the call.

GENERAL GRANT'S COURTSHIP.

(Mrs General Grant, in October Ladies' Home Journal.)

"One summer day we were going to a morning wedding, and Lieut. Grant was also invited. He came for us on horse back, and asked my brother's permission to drive me, in exchange for his saddle, to which he gladly consented. The day was beautiful, the roads were a little heavy from previous rains, but the sun shone in splendor. We had to cross a little bridge that spanned a ravine, and, when we reached it, I was surprised and a little concerned to find the gulch swollen, a most unusual thing, the water reaching to the bridge. I noticed, too, that Lieutenant Grant was very quiet, and that the high water bothered me. I asked several times if he thought the water dangerous to breast, and told him I would go back rather than take any risk. He assured me, in his brief way, that it was perfectly safe, and in my heart I relied upon him. Just as we reached the old bridge I said: 'Now, if anything happens remember I shall cling to you, no matter what you say to the contrary.' He simply said, 'all right,' and we were over the planks in less than a minute. Then his mood changed, he became social, and in asking me to be his wife, used my throat as a theme. After dinner that afternoon, Lieutenant Grant asked me to set the day. I wanted to be engaged, and told him it would be much nicer than getting married—a sentiment he did not approve. We were very quiet at the house that evening, and neither said a word of the secret. After supper he went back to the regiment, and a few days later General Taylor sent him to Camp Salubrity, in Louisiana. He was too shy to ask father so he waited till he was stationed and wrote to him. Father never answered the letter. I was his favorite daughter and he thought army life would not suit me.

"Besides," said father, "you are too young and the boy is too poor. He hasn't anything to give you." "I rose in my wrath and I said I was poor, too, and hadn't anything to give him." "The next year he came back on a leave of absence, and I can remember just how he looked as he rode up in his new uniform. Father was going to Washington on business, and we were all on the front porch kissing him good-by and stuffing his pockets with notes of things he was to buy. Lieutenant Grant asked for my hand, and he in a hurry to get off, consented. "My soldier lover was in and about Mexico for four years, including the war. Every mail brought me a letter. Every one of them full of sweet nothings, love and war, and now and then some pressed leaves and flowers. Some were written on drum heads captured from the Mexicans, and others on sheets of foolscap, folded and sealed with red wafers. I read each one every day until the next one came. I have them all."

A CHURCHMAN ON THE CHURCH-EN'S SHORTCOMINGS.

(Bishop Huntington in the October Forum.)

More than half the religious organizations, large or small, are at present practical contradictions of the Sermon on the Mount. It does not need an ostentatious hierarchy to open the door for the "prince of this world," of whom the Saviour said, "he hath nothing in me," letting him in where he does tenfold the mischief he could do by persecutions, seductions, or infidel arguments outside. He buys up the property, holds the keys of the keys of the kingdom, puts rich families in the foremost seats, hires and pays the choir, raises funds by lotteries and theatricals, tells the "lower classes" to stay out in the streets or patronizes them with a mission chapel in the outskirts, makes a fashion plate of the female worshippers, sees to it that parish offices and all other marks of distinction are assigned to prosperous merchants, politicians, and leaders of society—never to mechanics and day laborers who have no qualifications except piety and good sense—suits the preacher to the tastes of the ruling set, and "runs the concern." What is all this parochial mammonism and snobbery but a surrender of the kingdom of the crucified to his adversary? Where is divine brotherhood? Meantime, prudent care is taken to keep the holy language and handsome ceremonial safe, and not to put St. Dives into the calendar.

LIQUOR DRINKING.

Hon. CHAUNCEY M. DEPREW will scarcely be accused of fanaticism on the question of liquor drinking. Here is his experience as stated in a speech of his before a company of railroad men:

"Twenty-five years ago I knew every man, woman and child in Peakskill. And it has been a study to me to mark boys who started in every grade of life with myself, to see what has become of them. I was up in Peakskill last fall, and began to count them over, and it was an instructive exhibit. Some of them became clerks, merchants, manufacturers, lawyers and doctors. It is remarkable that not one of those who drank is dead; not one living of my age. Barring a few who were taken off by sickness; every one who proved a wreck and wrecked his family, did it from rum and no other cause. Of those who were Christians, who were steady, industrious, and hard-working men, who were frugal and thrifty, every single one of them, without an exception, owns the house in which he lives, and has something laid by, the interest on which, with his house, would carry him through many a rainy day. When a man becomes debased with gambling, rum, or drink, he doesn't care; all his finer feelings are crowded out. The poor women at home are the ones who suffer—in their tenderest emotions; suffer in their affections for those whom they love better than life."

MR. GRADY IN MOORE.

Hon. B. F. Grady, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Third district, will address the people of Moore county as follows: Jonesboro, Wednesday, October 15. Carthage Thursday, October 16. Carter's Mills, Friday, October 17. Yours truly, D. E. McIVER, For the Committee.

THE SUCCESS OF THE Provident Savings Life Assurance SOCIETY

NEW YORK

Is attracting wide attention, for the following reasons:

1st. The increase in the amount of new insurance in 1889 was 66 per cent. over that of the previous year.

2d. New business in 1889 nearly twenty millions of dollars.

3d. The ratios of payments for Death Claims and Expenses to amount at Risk are LOWER than those of the oldest and largest Life Insurance Companies of New York; and the Ratios of Assets to Liabilities in the Provident Savings Life are LARGER, being $206 for every $100 of Liabilities, while in the three largest of the New York Companies the Ratios are as $127, $118 and $108 to every $100 of their Liabilities.

4th. Life Insurance at ACTUAL COST, that brings insurance within the reach of many heretofore unable to carry it.

5th. It never costs one-half the price charged for it in "Best Old Style Life Companies," whose experience proves that hardly 39 per cent. of their Premium Receipts were necessary to insure the lives of their Policy-holders; while the balance was used

FOR SOMETHING ELSE besides insurance.

6th. Past experience shows that the better the plans of the Society are known, the greater its income becomes.

To know what these plans are, call at the Company's office in Greensboro, N. C., or on any of my Agents in the State.

Commercial Alliance Life Insurance Company OF NEW YORK.

The Commercial Alliance Life Insurance Company, of New York, offers the best form of insurance extant. Its contract is plain and simple, contains no vexatious conditions. It promises much unrestricted, indisputable insurance in exchange for definite level premiums, usually little more than half the amount of the ordinary insurance of the continued payment of which the insured is to reside over the term of the insurance Department of the State of New York for the security of policy-holders in addition to that afforded by the State.

serve required by the statutes, and by the surplus accumulation. Its financial strength is beyond question. Its annual report showing that it had assets of $820 to each $100 of liability. The Board of Directors is composed of experienced business men and capitalists who personally control the affairs of the Company, thus proving the strongest possible guarantee of honest, economic and successful management. This Company has ten, through local representatives in North Carolina, during the past few months, nearly a quarter of a million of business; and active, energetic and reliable agents are wanted to further extend the Company's interests in all sections of the State. Ample and exclusive territory assigned each agent. Only those desiring unquestionable references as to character and ability, need apply. Address all communications to J. C.
