IS PARNELL GUILTY?

The scandal about Mr. PARNELL is another set-back to the cause of Ireland's prosperity and Home Rule. Our readers will remember that sometime ago Capt. O'SHEA brought suit for a divorce from his wife on the ground of intimacy with the great Irish leader. It was a serious charge--one that threatened to terminate the public life of Mr. PARNELL and destroy his influence. Mrs. O'SHEA replied to the suit by charging that Capt. O'SHEA and her own sister were guilty of intimacy. When the case came up for trial, much to the surprise of all, Mr. PARNELL had no counsel and made no denial or explanation in regard to the serious charge against him. The evidence offered by Capt. O'SHEA was most damaging to him and unless rebutted will lose him the confidence and respect of his followers and cause him to forfeit his leadership. We trust that he will yet be able to clear his skirts.

This seems to be another case where a great reform movement is retarded and discredited because of the personal vices of its leader or leaders. But history has taught the lesson that no one man is essential to a great movement, and that great reforms never perish because of the unworthiness of a leader. If guilty, Mr. PARNELL has only fallen into sin himself. He has not tarnished the cause of Liberty and Home Rule which he espoused. They are eternal and cannot die, and no man can impart his own impurity to them.

PARNELL may do wrong; GLADSTONE may die; but the cause of Ireland--the cause of the oppressed--will yet prevail.

THE GEORGIA SENATORSHIP.

The Atlanta Constitution says that it is against Gov. GORDON because he was guilty of ingratitude to HENRY GRADY. They isn't that a good and righteous reason for a great paper to own up to! A paper that is run on such narrow personal grounds needs to broaden its horizon and get bigger. HENRY GRADY would not have allowed himself to be guilty of such littleness.

The CHRONICLE is no champion of Gov. GORDON. We vastly prefer to see some younger and more practical statesman chosen, but to send a monopolist to the Senate would be to make the Alliance ridiculous. There are plenty of younger and abler men who are not chiefly known in railroad circles, and elsewhere, for their capacity to organize great railroad syndicates.

If it is to be GORDON or CALHOON, a thousand times let it be the brave GORDON.

They talk about electing SMITH M. WEED as the Democratic U. S. Senator from New York. He is a Protectionist and his election would be as great a blow to the cause of Tariff Reform as the election of PAT. CALHOON Senator from Georgia would be a complete sell out of the Alliance to the railroads. The CHRONICLE believes in sticking to principle and fighting monopoly all along the line. The Democratic party never can win as long as it puts men in high position who are in sympathy with the enemy.

ON TOP again. The Atlanta Constitution keeps up with the procession. Its editor, Mr. CLARK HOWELL, is a strong anti-GORDON man, and says he is against him because GORDON was ungrateful to HENRY GRADY. And now Mr. W. A. HEMPHILL is out for GORDON and says that the differences between GORDON and GRADY were slight, and that he would not be for GORDON if GORDON had wronged GRADY.

Whatever happens, the Atlanta Constitution "gets there" with both feet and on all sides.

PROFESSIONAL fasters have made such an impression upon the editor of the New York Tribune that he gives it out as one of the peculiarities of human nature, that if a man wants to eat and can't get anything to eat he will die in a week, but if he has plenty and doesn't want to eat he can get along very comfortably for forty days without food. The mind is the master of the body in these matters.

"THE old man" JOHN M. PALMER may not get to the U. S. Senate, but the Republicans may strike a buzz saw if they defraud him of his election. The Democrats might take him up and elect him President--and we rise to remark that he would not make a bad candidate for the Democracy. The people believe in him because he is honest.

BULLS AND BEARS.

The recent financial disturbance in Wall street suggests the explanation of why the gamblers are divided into bulls and bears.

DR. WHARTON says the term bear, in this connection, comes from the proverb about selling the bear's skin before the bear is caught, and refers to the contracts made by the speculators who entered into the visionary South Sea scheme of about a century and three-quarters ago. The well known habit with bulls of tossing things up, and with bears of tearing things down, has probably had much to do with the origin and application of the terms.

The Philadelphia Press says Postmaster General WANAMAKER is concerned in a projected enterprise for the manufacture of tin plate and tinware. This may explain Mr. WANAMAKER'S advertisement that "Tinware is advancing in cost and very soon the manufacturers will have their own way and you will have to pay very much more."

A FEW thousand men all over the country are poorer than they were ten or twelve days ago, while JAY GOULD has added 5,000 or 6,000 miles to the railroads under his control, and perhaps a score of millions of dollars to his assets. Otherwise the financial situation is not changed much.--St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Mrs. BENJAMIN HARRISON has been made President of a new society, "The Daughters of the Revolution." No one is eligible to membership except those who can trace their lineage back to an ancestor who was a revolutionary patriot. Mrs. McALLISTER'S "Four Hundred" are the "Daughters of the Revolution."

THE St. Louis Globe Democrat remarks with much truth that Pennsylvania is Democratic on the Quay issue but Republican on the Protection issue.

HOME-SPUN YARNS.

A gentleman from the country met a negro, who is a strong Republican, and asked him what he thought of the great sweep last Tuesday for Democracy all over the country. "Well, boss," said he, "de lasses and granerated sugar is run together for one time."--Tarboro Southerner.

DRUMMER-GRAPHS.

The Election Contributes to the Dime Novel--Expansion of Vance and Shrinkage of Mr. Noble--Quay with Bull Frogs and Alligators.

[Special Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.]

Got there by the skin of my teeth--force-bill-Lodge, or The Last of the Bayonet Tribe; also, Stay at-home-yo-rascal-villain-McKinley, or The Big Indian With a Sore Head, are the names which may richly adorn the front cover of yellow-back fiction. Behind these titles the long-haired, dreamy-eyed dime novelist, invoking the genius of romance, may graphically outline the amours of the wigwag, the mystic gliding of the bark canoe, the thrilling chase of the agile elk, the heartless theft of the beautiful daughter, the perilous rescue by the hero lover, the dying hour of the faithful trapper, and the sudden appearance of the mysterious stranger. But the gain in this field of fiction, so distinctively American, cannot be accurately estimated until the meeting of the Kansas Legislature. Then, it is probable, that the Goggled Eye Wasp, or the Scourge of the Rebel Dead, will boldly walk into our national literature.

Welcome! Welcome! noble Mr. Noble, Mr. Harrison's Secretary of the Interior, is with us. He has selected for his retreat a charming vale in Lincoln county.

North Carolina has ever been an asylum for the stricken. In earlier days, she gave generous soil to the sad-eyed Huguenot, who came from bleeding France. The memories of the cavaliers, when the fortunes of a throne had waned, are vital traditions of old Cumberland and Robeson. True to the instincts and graces of hospitality, she stretches wide her arms, and bids the sad-eyed Republican statesman, Mr. Noble, coming from the bleeding sacrifice of a party, to find a hiding place in the hushed sanctity of a Lincoln county vale. There autumnal foliage, in ample density and spread, yet lingers to screen the weeping statesman from the vile presence of the vulgar man with the returns from McKinley's district.

Until this week, since closing his campaign, Zeb Vance was in Mecklenburg, a county contiguous to Lincoln. It was very annoying to have this fellow Vance pressing the confines of his hermitage of Mr. Noble. I was glad when Vance left and went to Black Mountain, his Buncombe county home. For reasons, palpable to Mr. Noble, Vance really required more room in which to expand, and the illimitable prospect from the pinnacle of Black Mountain barely affords adequate territory. Mr. Noble, a representative Republican statesman, has also a keen apprehension of the adaptation of nature to the wants of man; and I see peculiar fitness in the tiny gem of a vale between two noiseless hills of Lincoln.

There, since the election, instead of grossly expanding, he may shrink beautifully, decently and satisfactorily. What a lesson of modesty and quiet to Mr. Quay, who, plunging into the miasmatic depths of a Florida jungle, escapes the vociferation of the election returns, but to be horrified by the baser thunder of the bull frog, or terrified by the tragic hiss of the swamp alligator.

Welcome, noble Mr. Noble. JOHN R. MORRIS.

THE SUCCESS OF THE

Provident Savings Life Assurance

SOCIETY

NEW YORK

Is attracting wide attention, for the following reasons:

1st. The increase in the amount of new Insurance in 1889 was 66 per cent. over that of the previous year.

2d. New business in 1889 nearly twenty millions of dollars.

3d. The ratios of payments for Death Claims and Expenses to amount at Risk are LOWER than those of the oldest and largest Life Insurance Companies of New York; and the Ratios of Assets to Liabilities in the Provident Savings Life are LARGER, being $206 for every $100 of Liabilities, while in the three largest of the New York Companies the Ratios are as $127, $118 and $108 to every $100 of their Liabilities.

4th. Life Insurance at ACTUAL COST, that brings insurance within the reach of many heretofore unable to carry it.

5th. It never costs one-half the price charged for it in "Best Old Style Life Companies," whose experience proves that hardly 39 per cent. of their Premium Receipts were necessary to insure the lives of their Policy-holders; while the balance was used besides insurance.

6th. Past experience shows that the better the plans of the Society are known, the greater its income becomes.

To know what these plans are, call at the Company's office in Greensboro, N. C., or on any of my Agents in the State.
