No Pool Room.
It has been reported that I will run a pool table in connection with my cafe. I take this method of correcting the report, and assure the public that there will be nothing of the kind about my place. Any and all ladies and gentlemen will find it a comfortable and pleasant place where they can get a good meal at any hour.
P. A. RASBERRY.

MR. SNIPES SOLD HIS HOME.—Mr. O. A. Snipes has sold his handsome home on Greenwood street to Mr. J. B. Edwards, who will soon move there and Mr. Snipes will live at the Mrs. Cotten place on Depot street.

FRUIT NOT KILLED.—It is gratifying to note in some of the papers that in other regions of the State the fruit is not killed. And while there have been some pretty sharp nights here recently, it is thought that not much of the fruit has been hurt.

A HIGH CLASS CAFE.—Mr. P. A. Rasberry has rented the store room recently occupied by Mr. W. H. Wadsworth, and will keep a high class cafe where ladies and gentlemen can get good meals at all hours. He will keep a select line of groceries in connection with his cafe.

"WITH PLEASURE AND PROFIT."—One of the ablest lawyers and foremost thinkers in this State, in another county, in sending a check for his subscription writes: "I always read THE COMMONWEALTH with pleasure and profit." We appreciate commendation from such able authority.

LUMBER BURNED.—Tuesday morning the wild screech of a locomotive indicated that something was wrong. The freight train dashed by the depot track to save a car load of burning lumber. It caught fire this side of Tillery and was burning lively when the train reached Scotland Neck. It was soon extinguished by the play of the hose at the cotton mills.

Superintendent C. W. Wilson is making effort for a library at the Graded School, and has a nice nucleus which ought to be enlarged into a good library soon. A few books came to the school from Vine Hill Female Academy; there were some books in the library of the public school taught by Miss Minnie Dunn, and these came to the Graded School when the public school property was sold. Miss Mary Applewhite, one of the teachers, has given $10 for the library; Miss Mary Herbert Smith, another teacher, has donated some good books, and Hon. Claude Kitchin has sent from Washington some valuable books. There is, therefore, quite a nice little start for the library and it is a matter that deserves the attention and the co-operation of the public.

This paper could not get the names of the list takers in time to print them last week. The following is the list by townships as given in the Roanoke News:

A Wonderful Saving.
The largest Methodist church in Georgia, calculated to use over one hundred gallons of the usual kind of mixed paint in painting their church. They used only 32 gallons of the Longman & Martinez Paint mixed with 24 gallons of linseed oil. Actual cost of paint made was less than $1.20 per gallon.
Saved over eighty ($80.00) dollars in paint and got a big donation besides.
EVERY CHURCH will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint.
Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of linseed oil mixed therewith.
Wears and covers like gold.
These Celebrated Paints are sold by E. T. Whitehead & Co.

Summer School at Raleigh, N. C.

The prospectus of the Summer School shows a faculty of forty-four members including officers, and an additional list of forty speakers. The lecturers include the leading educators of the State, the Governor, State Superintendent, Chief Justice Clark and other prominent professional men. The teachers will also have an opportunity to hear Hon. John Temple Graves, of Atlanta, on "The Twentieth Century Woman". Mr. Graves is recognized as the South's most eloquent speaker. Folk Miller, of Richmond, with his banjo on "Old Times Down South", and Dr. Curdell, of Washington & Lee, on "Dante's Divine Comedy". The faculty is composed of specialists educated at the leading Universities in this country and abroad.

The course of study is practical and comprehensive. The Raleigh school offers opportunities to teachers never equalled in the State and at such low rates that all can afford to attend.
A copy of the prospectus will be sent to any one upon request. It is handsomely illustrated and is well worth reading. For prospectus address C. J. Parker, Raleigh, N. C.

A Saturday Night Disturber.

Last Saturday night about nine o'clock some one went to the window of the front room at Mr. R. L. Hardy's home and made a noise as if he were trying to open the window. Mr. Hardy had not gone home from his store, but Mrs. Hardy pluckily used her pistol, firing two shots in the direction of the noise. She thought she heard the window sash rise and fall.

Mr. Hardy says he does not think it was any one trying to break in, but was perhaps a drunken man fumbling around scarcely knowing what he was about. At the same time it was well enough for Mrs. Hardy to have her pistol and use it. It is no poor accomplishment for a woman to be able to handle a pistol well, and it is commendable in her to use it when night prowlers disturb the quiet of a home.

What The Commonwealth is Like.

THE COMMONWEALTH is just like sunshine.
It freshens all the day;
It tips the peak of life with light,
And drives the clouds away.
Its readers grow glad when they read it,
And feel its courage strong—
THE COMMONWEALTH is just like sunshine
For cheering its readers along.

THE COMMONWEALTH is just like music,
It lingers in the heart;
And when its good news is read,
The hills of life depart.
Its many readers grow crowding,
Its joyful news to greet—
THE COMMONWEALTH is just like music
For making living sweet.

M. B. F.
Letter to H. W. Mixon.

Dear Sir: Father and son; one is glad, the other is sad. Devotee; lead-and-oil.

Mr. Charles Hollenbeck, Fair Haven, N. Y., painted his house Devotee three years ago; his father, same time, painted his house lead-and-oil.
The father's house is all chalked-off; the son's is as good as new. They'll paint the same way next time.
Yours truly
F. W. Devotee & Co.

Bowers-Taylor.

Mr. A. L. Bowers and Miss Sallie Bette Taylor were married in Washington, N. C., Wednesday night April 6th. Mr. Bowers was formerly a resident of Scotland Neck. On the day following his marriage he came to Scotland Neck with his charming bride to visit his mother and brothers. A special from Washington to the News and Observer said:

"Decorated in trailing garlands of smilax, stately palms and white carnations, St. Peter's church, on the evening of Wednesday, the sixth, was the scene of one of the most brilliant and impressive marriages, that of Miss Sallie Bette Taylor and Mr. Augustus L. Bowers.

"Soft and low the notes of the grand organ, under the skilled touch of Miss Annie L. Bragaw, accompanied the strains of 'The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden,' beautifully sung by Mrs. John G. Blount Jr., Mrs. Dempsey Grimes and Messrs. Taylor and Pennington.

"As the notes of the hymn died away, the organ glided into Lohengrin's wedding march, and the ushers, Messrs. E. A. Knight, W. N. Cooper, O. F. Bernard, Jr., and Dr. E. M. Brown proceeded up the aisle taking their places on either side of the chancel.

"Gowned in white organdie with white fastened with green ribbon, the bridesmaids, Miss Lucy Taylor, Miss Maggie Bowers, Miss Annie Carrow, Miss Laughlinhouse, Miss Staton, Miss Olive Gallagher, Miss Sallie Myers, Miss Webber, Miss Hargrove, Miss Morton and Miss Bess Nicholson issued from the rectory room, marched down the center aisle to the vestibule. Joining the groomsman there the bridesmaids returned up the center aisle, the groomsman, Messrs. Richard Bragaw, J. F. Taylor, H. P. Bridgman, Mr. J. E. Bowers, Dr. A. K. Taylor, Mr. M. A. Smith, S. G. Taylor, Jarvis Sugg, J. E. Clark, Jr., Mr. Charles Herring and Mr. S. H. Clark going up the side aisle, and the bridesmaids entering the chancel, the groomsman taking position before the chancel steps. Then came little Misses Elizabeth Taylor and Mary Fowle with Master J. S. Bowers, Jr.

"Mrs. David T. Taylor, the dame of honor, in elegant costume of white crepe de chine, carrying white carnations, preceded the maid of honor, Miss Mary Taylor in gown of green crepe de chine, also carrying white carnations, passed up the aisle into the chancel. Entering from the rectory room the groom, with his best man, Mr. B. F. Bowers, awaited the bride at the altar. In an exquisite gown of white chiffon over white satin, and wearing the pearls her mother wore at her own marriage, with veil her sister and dame of honor had worn, carrying a bouquet of white roses, the bride, in the arm of her brother, Dr. Joshua Taylor, advanced to the altar to meet the groom. In earnest and impressive voice, the pastor, Rev. Nathaniel Harding, performed the beautiful marriage service making them man and wife, while the soft notes of 'Then You'll Remember Me,' filled the church with melody.

Swelling in triumphant gladness of Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party passed from the church, the deep toned bell taking up the echoing gladness.
"Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Taylor, where a host of friends called to express wishes for a life of happiness for the young couple. The bride is a stately blonde of charming person, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mary Taylor and the late Dr. David Taylor. The groom has recently made Washington his home and has many friends.

"The bride and groom left on the train Thursday for Scotland Neck, where they will make a short visit to the groom's family.
"Among the out of town people to witness the marriage were Mrs. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bowers, Mrs. W. S. Clark, of Tarboro, and Miss Gertrude Henry, of Bonneton.
