Says the Concord Sun: 'There have been found in this county some beautiful specimens of agate and amethysts. Some opal nearly approximating the noble opal have also been discovered. Several young gentlemen here have had these stones cut and set in rings, shirt and sleeve buttons, and other jewelry. They have been found from them. They are very beautiful and the wearers have the satisfaction of knowing that they are in possession of genuine stones and not colored glass or burnt paste.'

The Lincoln Progress records the following distressing accident: 'On last Friday morning, the 8th inst., as the son of Mr. Dixon, who lives about six miles from Dallas, Gaston county, was preparing for the day's work, a most distressing accident occurred. It seems that the young man had taken the mule from the stable, with harness on, and started to the field when the mule frightened and threw him off. His feet became entangled in the harness some way, and not being able to free himself from his perilous condition, he was dragged some distance. When the mule was stopped the unfortunate young man was found to be dying, though he lived about twenty-four hours after the occurrence.'

The mass meeting of the citizens of Boston last Friday in Faneuil Hall, to express their sense of the late action of the Federal Government in Louisiana, was attended by three thousand persons. Every class and condition were present. Merchants, professional men, hoodlums, laborers, Republicans and Democrats, sat amicably together. The proceedings were orderly and resolutions passed forcible and appropriate.

Brooklyn Argus: 'We see it stated that Colonel Sam Pike, of Ohio, has started no less than forty-two papers during his eventful career. Col. Sam Pike, of Georgia, has started about the same number, but in each the Sheriff started so soon for Sam, that he never could tell whether he was meant for a journalist or a flying-machine.'

MATrimonIAL.—The matrimonial fever is still rife and every body seems in a notion to leave the world of "single-cussness?" So much so in fact that the unmarried editor of this paper has a "hanker" now, too, and if there is a young lady in town left who will have him, the Associate will call to see her and arrange the preliminaries at once.

TARBORO CIRCUIT.—The appointments for the Tarboro Circuit are as follows: Rev F. D. Swindell, P. C. Temperance Hall, 1st Sunday, 10 o'clock A. M. Noble's Store, 1st Sunday, 3 o'clock A. WHITAKERS.—We clip from the Roanoke News of the 13th inst., the following Whitakers items: Mr. W. R. Hines of Tolson succeeds Mr. J. H. Overstreet as R. R. Agent at this place. Elias Powell, colored, has been arrested, and committed to jail in Tarboro for alleged complicity in the Cohen murder.

The store of D. Cohen & Co., has been closed since the murder.

The Post office building is closed and the following posted on the door, will explain things: Notice the post office at this place is strayed off. It is stopping at the west end of Mr. J. H. Phippen's store a few days. If a Whitaker on a bob should happen to pass and wish to know where the store is the first idiot he happens to meet will please inform him it is on the west side of the W. & W. R. R. a small red oak in front of the door and a cheap John near the big livery on the left, and oblige, J. H. CARLISLE, P. M.

Ladies, throw aside the idea of being milliners, signs and merchants drays.—Women was intended to do no better service. So you work with a set determination to do all you can to assist your husbands and fathers in curtailing expenses, and remember that dress is not the only thing that constitutes a lady, but a head full of practical ideas, a mind well cultivated, graceful manners, industrious and neat habits, an economical disposition and best of all a pure heart, which will beat as tenderly beneath a calico dress as if robed in a most delicate fabric.

Little Creek Grove.—If you don't believe Dr. Staton sells drugs cheaper than any one else, give him a trial.

NEURO SHOT.—One of the strangest tricks done here a week or so ago by Prof. Sacks was the one in which he allowed a pistol to be fired at him, catching the ball in his teeth. Some darkies are smart enough to discover the "pint" in almost any trick, and so sure was the fellow of whom we are speaking that he hid the whole thing in a nutshell that next day he got one of his friends to stand ten paces off and fire at him, telling the crowd that gathered to see the fun, he could catch the ball like the professor. No. 2 shot as he was directed, but he had no effect. The gaudy gettured regions instead of the dental.—Don't suppose he will be quite so anxious to imitate the next trick he sees.

BEREAVEMENT.—A colored individual whose name I have forgotten, by means of a false key entered the store of Mr. S. Woodland on Water Street one night this week. In divesting the money drawer of its contents, he concluded to appropriate Mr. Woodland's pocket knife which happened to be in there also. Next evening his conduct excited suspicion and in the search which followed, the knife and other articles which were identified by Mr. W. as his property, were found in his possession. Thereupon Justice Taylor committed him to jail to await the coming of his Honor Judge Hilliard, who has little fondness for rogues and who will doubtless give him quarters in the Civil Rights Hotel at Raleigh for a few years. He deserves it.

Bacon, Pork, Flour, Plows, Shovels, Axes and Grab Hoes, just received at Galtin's.

THE LATE W. W. BAGLEY.—Mr. Wm. Bagley, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of this place, died Monday last, after a short but painful illness.

Mr. Bagley was a gentleman of fine character and was much beloved in this community. For a number of years and up to the time of his death, he was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and his constant christian walk through life assures us that he has departed to a land of eternal joy and rest.

His funeral was preached Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, and the remains were carried to Martin County on the same day for interment, his brother-in-law, Mr. Short, of Wilmington, and several intimate friends, accompanying them.

This is broken one of the links that binds us to the past.

HIT THE NAIL ON THE HEAD.—The Piedmont Press gives us its experience in news paper life, and it is about the same thing down here. The Press hits the nail on the head in expressing it as follows: "See here, don't get excited when we send you a statement of your account with the Press, and swear before you think that you don't owe us anything. Time flies my friends! Here is the way they come about—those misadventures. After one or eighteen months he will sing out to you some day, 'Well, old fellow, I owe you $2.00 for your paper, here's the money.' We haven't the courage to tell him its $1.00, since two years subscription is due. So when we send him a bill for the other $2.00 he says: 'Thunder and lightning! I just paid you the other day.' 'Such is newspaper life.' We will have the same thing to do shortly with a good many on our books and hope such parties will read the above and understand.

COMPLAINT.—A gentleman living in the upper portion of the town who does not wish to report the parties to the town authorities, complains to us of the habit gamblers have of shooting birds in the grove on his premises. It is very annoying and we hope they will desist at once.

ADDITIONAL POLICE-MEN.—Mr. Madrid, the warehouse guard at the depot has been also employed by the town Commissioners to do the duty of a police officer in that part of the corporation. He makes the fourth—a sufficient force to keep perfect order.

1105 1-2 Acres.—On Thursday, the 15th day of February, 1875, at "Lynchburg, Va.," being the land above described in further pursuance of the provisions of the Indenture of Mortgage hereinafter referred to, we will as Attorneys at law, sell by public auction for cash the following described property conveying by said Indenture of Mortgage, to wit: to say—52 Acres and more or less, 22 head of cattle, 2 Cotton Gins, 3 Mowing Machines, 2 Horse-Rakes and 2 Reapers, Family Crock, 3 Buzing, 22 Dump Carts, a Spring Wagon, 2 two horse Wagons, 2 four mule wagons, all the other articles, tools and implements on hand belonging to Liepelt, Pines, and four hundred head of Sheep.

WASHING MACHINE.—We learn from the Washington Echo that Mr. Fred P. Hanks, Engineer of the steamer Northeast, while that steamer was within a few miles of this place, was accidentally thrown from her deck, and would have in all probability, been drowned, had it not been for the timely arrival of the Cotton Plant, which picked him up. It seems that the two boats were racing, and had on full steam. The Northeast, being in advance nearly a mile, was going at such speed as to prevent her from turning back, and reaching the unfortunate man in time, and immediately blew four whistles of distress, which was answered by the Cotton Plant, which reached our young friend, and we are rejoiced to say, in time to save him from a watery grave.

PERSONAL.—Our contemporaries have been very generous indeed in their complimentary notices of the new management of the Southern-Enquirer, although some may attribute it to a lack of modesty on our part, we cannot resist the following from our esteemed friends of the News and State Agricultural Journal.
